FOOD MERCHANT
to four generations

The other day when 4-year old Elizabeth toddled into an A & P Store and reached her small fist up over the counter to give the manager her shopping list, she was following in the footsteps of her mother, grandmother and great-grandmother.

For a moment there wasn't any further business done in that store. There was a lull while everybody stopped to smile and admire the little girl.

Elizabeth's mother knew that she would get what she'd sent for—the right food at the right price. She could trust A & P for that.

Elizabeth's family is only one of the many American families who for generations have found their A & P Store a friendly and dependable store.
