In this day when desecration and disrespect for the Flag of the United States of America seem to abound, it is refreshing to see young members of the National Society, Children of the American Revolution pause to show it the proper respect. Only by instilling in our young people, by precept and example, the basic principles of patriotism will we be able to preserve the traditions that have enabled America to become a great land of opportunity and promise.

Flag Day and July Fourth are two holidays that are the very heart of the American dream. Our forefathers were willing to sacrifice even their very lives to found this Country. What are we willing to do to keep it?

The President of the United States Richard M. Nixon and Mrs. Nixon and Mrs. Erwin Frees Seimes, President General, Constitution Hall, April 19, 1971.
DEAR DAUGHTERS:

In this, my first message, I want to share with you the thoughts of your newly elected President General immediately after her installation:

May God grant us Vision, Courage, and Strength to fulfill our Pledge to you and to our Society. With your support and active participation, we shall work to justify the faith our Founders bequeathed to us. I add a new pledge. I pledge to you my daily acceptance of whatever task is placed before me.

Collectively, we have great power and a great potential, if individually, we accept the challenge and responsibility; our horizon is truly limitless. As we approach the celebration of the Bicentennial Observance of the American Revolution, may our Society strengthen the spirit upon which this representative republic was founded and upon which it depends for survival. In today’s world of unrest, uncertainty, and concern, we need to present a strong society—ready to act with reason and courage to any threat. We must be informed citizens.

The vision shown by our Founders in adopting the three objectives for the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, set the goals for healthy growth, positive influence, and sincere work. We must not fail. People fail when their eyes do not focus on the seemingly impossible. Where there is a lack of vision, the people perish.

Let us, united and unafraid, look toward the horizon of tomorrow with a vision of confidence—not only for our Society, but for our nation and our world.

With these thoughts I would like to express my deepest gratitude and that of the entire Executive Board for your support. Words are inadequate to express our appreciation.

Faithfully,

Mrs. Donald Spicer
President General, NSDAR
ADDRESS

By The President of the United States,
Richard M. Nixon

The 80th Continental Congress
National Society Daughters of the American Revolution

Madam President General, Mayor Washington, Dr. Ellison, all of the distinguished guests here on the platform and here at this Congress today:

I first want to tell you how very much Mrs. Nixon and I appreciated the fact that you were able to visit the White House today. We hope you enjoyed your tour.

I knew you were there because I had a rather long day and about six o'clock, as I finished a meeting in the Cabinet Room with a group of men, we walked into the Rose Garden, which is now a tulip garden at this time of year, and I looked at the window and you were all waving. So I waved at all of you at that time.

And at this time, too, I know that this is, of course, a special occasion because I understand your President General, Mrs. Seimes, finishes her three-year term, and you have a one term-tradition.

So, I congratulate her and her successor.

I do want to say that, as I appear here in Constitution Hall, that there are a number of things I want to say to this group. But particularly Mrs. Nixon asked me to express appreciation for the many, many occasions in which this great Constitution Hall has been used for state events.

We think, of course, of the symphony. I remember the Inaugural Symphony that was held here, but through the years, the number of times that we have been here. And the nation is most grateful and the Nation's Capital is most grateful that you have made it available so generously as you have.

I am sure you know this is a very special day, not only for your organization as it begins this Congress, but it is a very special day for America, because in Massachusetts, where the first shots of the American Revolution were fired just 196 years ago today, April 19th, is celebrated as Patriots Day.

So I think it is most appropriate for a President of the United States to greet the Congress of this great society of women who are descended from revolutionary patriots, and who are patriots, all of you, in your own right as well.

I addressed this Congress, some of you may remember, on several occasions when I served as Vice President of the United States. But in checking the record, I find that it has been 17 years since a President of the United States—and it was then in that year, 1954, a beloved American President, President Eisenhower—came across the Ellipse to this splendid hall of yours to pay his respects to the DAR I felt it was high time another President did so.

Now, as the man who proposed a new American revolution, you will recall, in the States of the Union, to the 92nd United States Congress earlier this year, I have looked forward to talking with the 80th DAR Congress since I know you are always receptive to the subject of America's revolutionary heritage. When I think of the principles that the Daughters of the American Revolution stand for, the fine work you do, I like to recall—and all of you will remember—Benjamin Franklin's reply to a Philadelphia lady, who asked him what kind of government the Constitutional Convention had given America.

"A Republic, Madam," he replied, and then he added, "If you can keep it."
For more than three-quarters of a century now, beginning with Benjamin Harrison, whose wife was your first President General, 15 Presidents of the United States have known that they could count on the dedication of the DAR to this continuing challenge of keeping the American Republic strong and free.

Government by the people depends on education, and responsible citizenship of the people. And this is where the DAR has made, in my view, its most important contribution.

I think many Americans are not aware of that contribution. You are. I would like to remind the whole Nation in my remarks today of what you have done and what you are doing.

I know about the fine grade schools, the high schools, that you support across this country, including schools for Indian children and schools in Appalachia, which you founded long before it became fashionable to be concerned with the needs of Indians and the needs of Appalachia.

And I know about the millions of citizenship manuals that you have provided to those immigrants who have come here over the years seeking a share of the American dream. I know about the hundreds of thousands of boys and girls who are benefiting from the activities of your Junior American Citizens Clubs.

For all of this, the nation is in your debt. Your constructive service in the present does great credit to your patriot forebears of the past.

The American Revolution of 1776 was a permanent one. The nation to which it gave birth has been an enduring and phenomenally successful vehicle for human happiness and progress. The American system has adjusted and grown in pace with the changing times. It has given more freedom, more prosperity, to more people than any other system in the history of the world. And let's never forget that.

And certainly, we have every right to take very great pride in this permanent American Revolution of which we are all a part.

Then why call, as I have done, for a new American Revolution? Because the work of keeping the Republic requires more than just preserving the past. It also calls for renewing in order to meet the challenges of the future. As a patriotic heritage society actively engaged in bringing new generations and new citizens into the mainstream of American life, you know this very well.

Now, let's look at government in this country today. You know what you hear on all sides—discouragements, disgust, which so many Americans feel about all government, Federal Government, State government, local government. We can sense the urgent need when we hear those feelings expressed for government renewal on what I call a revolutionary basis. The federal system was brilliantly conceived, and it was erected in a way that we can all be very proud of.

But what has happened in recent years, particularly over the past 40 years, is that it has become seriously imbalanced. Political power, tax revenue, have flowed increasingly from the States and from the communities and from the cities to Washington, D.C.

What is the result? The result is the State and local governments which, by rights, should be vigorous instruments of the people's power, have fallen into disrepair. At the same time, the rapid and largely unplanned expansion of the Federal Government has resulted in a structure so complicated, so confused, so contradictory, that it can neither serve the people well, nor respond reliably to the direction of the people's elected representatives.

In short, what the time call for now is decisive action. They demand a New American Revolution, a peaceful revolution, to move us by giant steps toward Lincoln's ideal that America should have a government of the people and by the people and for the people.

Now, what are those steps?

First, you will recall that I have proposed a program of $16 billion. The amount is not important; it is what it does, the purpose, in revenue sharing, which will be a continuing Federal investment in revitalizing State and local government. Revenue sharing would give the cities and States where the people have the best chance to make their wishes felt both the money and the authority they need to govern effectively.

Second, I propose a sweeping reorganization of the Cabinet departments here in Washington. This plan would trim and streamline the Federal executive branch. The new departments would be organized to serve broad public purposes rather than narrow, special considerations. They would be planned not just for the next few years, but planned as those Revolutionary forebears of ours planned for the entire century ahead, and even beyond.

As heirs of the first American Revolution, you are in an excellent position to appreciate the pressing need for a new one. You know that the Declaration of Independence remains a living force in this nation. You insist, and you should insist, than government derives its just powers from the consents of the governed.

And so you will not tolerate, and you should not tolerate, just as the founding fathers would not tolerate these circumstances—now I am going to quote directly from the Declaration of Independence—

—circumstances which "erected a multitude of New Officers, and sent . . . swarms of Officers to harrass our people, and eat out their substance;"—

—circumstances which altered "fundamentally the forms of our governments;"—

—circumstances which weakened our legislatures and imposed burdensome taxation.

All of those circumstances happen to be from the long train of abuses and usurpations which Jefferson listed in the Declaration of Independence against the King of England.

But all of them, when you stop to think about them, add up to a not very exaggerated description of the current of the Washington bureaucracy, the Federal system, and the State and local tax load here and now. And they convince me that the time has come now for a new American revolution, a peaceful revolution, to set things right, a peaceful revolution which will return power to the States, to the local communities, and to the people of America where it belongs.

Now, I hope you will agree, and that each of you in your communities will help us achieve this great goal; working together we can breathe new life into the ideals of the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution.

Now I would like to turn briefly just for a moment to another subject, which I know is of deep concern to this Congress of Patriots: America's mission of assistance to the country of South Vietnam. From the beginning, this Nation, as all of you know, has had a keen sense of worldwide responsibility.

Listen to Thomas Jefferson 196 years ago: “We act not for ourselves alone but for the whole human race.” We have always sought to set an example as a free people. We have always felt a strong kinship with other peoples struggling to be free.

Four times in this 20th century, World War I, World War II, Korea, now Vietnam, Americans have gone to war far away in defense of human liberty and national self-determination for other people. And this long and difficult and agonizing conflict in Vietnam over the past 10 years, a conflict in which the American role is now rapidly ending, is part of our national tradition of standing shoulder-to-shoulder with free nations menaced by outside aggression.

I say tonight—and I think it should be said—that we can be proud of the more than two million brave and honorable American men who have fought in Vietnam. War is always a terrible experience for a nation, and particularly difficult for those who participate in it; and particularly this war, where a nation seems to be and has been divided about it. But these men—and I have seen them there time after time by their humane conduct, their personal integrity—they have done credit to America’s highest principles.

We can be especially proud tonight of another group of men—hundreds of courageous soldiers and airmen missing in action throughout Southeast Asia, who are enduring years of brutal captivity in enemy prison camps.

And we can pay especial and admiring tribute to the wives of those prisoners.

Mrs. Nixon and I have had the privilege of meeting them on several occasions. I recall particularly a year and a half ago at Christmas time. What really extraordinary women they are. When you talk to them, when you realize what they have sacrificed, their courage, each time it inspires me again to keep full faith with American prisoners of war, and to end America’s involvement in this war, and end it in a way that can best provide the opportunity for a lasting and a just peace.

We hear it said very often these days that ours is not an age of heroes, and yet anyone who has talked with the POW wives knows this is not so. America has a long heritage of heroism, a deep-rooted tradition of greatness, and I do not believe that the flame of the American spirit can be extinguished even by so dark a nightmare as the Vietnam war has been for all of us.

The killing in Asia, the war in Asia, must stop, and it is being stopped. All of us want that desperately. That fervent desire unites this Nation, whatever else may divide us. But the verdict of history will hinge upon how we stop it. Ending a war is not the problem. We have ended wars in the past. Ending a war in which we have a chance to build a lasting peace—that is our responsibility.

And shall we move now in a way that ends the death toll only for Americans and then only for a brief time? Or shall we act in a more difficult but a wiser way, to leave behind South Vietnam able to defend itself against Communist aggression and a Southeast Asia and a Pacific where peace is possible over the long term?

I believe that Americans will support the wiser course, and I will tell you why I believe it: Because we want our grandchildren to remember the 1970’s just as we remember the 1770’s, as a decade of honor, of hope, of new birth for America.

And so the question we ask ourselves tonight: Can we arise to the challenge of these times which seem so difficult? Can we make a new revolution at home? Can we build a full generation of peace for America and the world? I believe we can.

Night after night on your television, and day after day in your newspapers you see and you read and you hear those things so often that are wrong about America. We should hear about those things. But we should recognize that the greatness of this country is that we have a system which allows us to correct what is wrong. And I would also remind us all that as we hear and as we read of what is wrong about America, let’s not overlook—as a matter of fact, let’s put more emphasis on—what is right about America.

I have many visitors in the White House, and to see anyone is a very special experience. I particularly remember—as a matter of fact, I don’t think I will ever forget—a lady from Virginia who came to see me at the White House last September. She brought a gift to me. It was a 3 by 5 foot American flag which she had made herself. As I thanked her for it, and as I looked at it, I remarked what a lot of work it must have been, because I remember when my daughter Julie made a very small Presidential seal—crewel work—and how much work it was for her.

And she said, “Yes, Mr. President, it was a lot of work.” She said, “There are 78,000 stitches in that flag.” And then she added, “But it was all worthwhile, because I remember when my daughter Julie made a very small Presidential seal—crewel work—and how much work it was for her.

And so this evening, I would only say that I am deeply thankful that such a spirit of love for this country is still alive in America today. It was in that lady’s heart, it is in all of yours, and it is in millions of hearts across this land.

With that kind of patriotism, that kind of love of country, we shall never lose sight of the American dream. And with that spirit, we shall make that dream come true.
NEW ADMINISTRATION AT WORK: Mrs. Donald Spicer, newly elected President General of the National Society Daughters of the American Revolution, met with her Board of Management the afternoon of the very same day that she was installed in office. Customarily this meeting takes place on the day following, but because of the march scheduled in Washington for that day, the National Headquarters buildings, which were in the direct line of the marchers, were closed for security reasons. Early the following week, Mrs. Spicer and her Executive Committee immediately began the tasks of the new administration. Once again the transition was smoothly accomplished and the groundwork laid for the activities of the Society for the next three years.

PRESIDENT NIXON'S LOYALTY DAY PROCLAMATION: A signed duplicate original of the Proclamation by President Richard M. Nixon designating May 1, 1971 as Loyalty Day has been added to the Americana Collection. The accompanying letter from the White House noted that the document was sent because of the NSDAR's "important activities to foster patriotism in our Nation."

RECENT DAR MUSEUM ACQUISITION PUBLICIZED ABROAD: A very beautifully illustrated book, in Italian, "The Life and Times of George Washington," has just been received by the DAR Museum. The book is one of the series subtitled "I Grandi della Storia" and is published in Milan. The DAR is credited for the book's frontispiece, a photograph of the bronze bust of George Washington that is a recent gift in the Virginia Room at Memorial Continental Hall. The bronze is one of three copies cast by the sculptor Clark Mills from the original clay bust of Washington sculpted by Antoine Houdon in 1785 at Mount Vernon.

AWARD WINNING NEW MEMBER: The 1970 National Good Citizen is Margaret Lee Dooley of Poultney, Vermont. Miss Dooley, who became a member of the NSDAR at the October 1970 Board Meeting, is the daughter of Mrs. Bernard D. Dooley, Honorary State Regent of Vermont.

THE VERY YOUNG AND THE VERY OLD AMONG REVOLUTIONARY SOLDIERS: On this page in the June-July 1967 issue of the DAR Magazine, mention was made of Nathan Futrell, age 7, a drummer boy with the North Carolina Continental Militia, as probably the youngest soldier in the American Revolutionary War. Here is a sequel to that comment. Matthew Williams, born 1690 in Wales, enlisted in the Revolutionary War at age 86 and served in the Continental Line. He died February 1814, age 124, at Frankford, Sussex County, N.J., and so possibly was the longest lived of the men who served in the Revolution.

IN THE MAIL AT NATIONAL HEADQUARTERS: "I attended the Flower Show in Chicago. I was given a brochure about your organization and am interested in how one becomes a member of it. Will you tell me what the qualifications for membership are?"

"Recently I became an American citizen, and what a moving experience it was, for me and approximately sixty other 'immigrants'. I want to give special thanks to the Daughters of the American Revolution, who through their comprehensive literature really helped me on the road to citizenship. I learned quite a lot about the American heritage, the Constitution and the 101 questions that I had about naturalization, court proceedings, etc. Most of all I want to give thanks to a nation and its inhabitants that, even in troubled times, still thinks it is important enough to make it possible for me, a poor girl from a defeated country, to become one of their citizens."

(Somerville)
The 80th Continental Congress convened on April 19, 1971 with more than the usual pomp and splendor: the Opening Night speaker was the President of the United States Richard M. Nixon. Equally as important as the ceremony and pageantry, were the reports and business to be presented to the Congress. At left, the registration line forms on C Street outside of the Administration Building as official delegates of the nearly 3000 Chapters throughout the country prepare to pick up their credentials. Just below pages (Junior members) carry flags in the formal procession which proceeds each evening session of the Congress. Bottom left, Mrs. Mathon B. Dunn, Junior American Citizens National Vice Chairman in Charge of Contest, points with pride at the display of entries from JAC Clubs throughout the United States. This is just one of many fine accomplishments presented to this Congress. Below, Mrs. Erwin Frees Selmes, President General, poses with Mrs. Donald Spicer, newly elected President General.
Tuesday Evening of Congress Week is devoted to a program on National Defense. Below, Mrs. Henry Stewart Jones, First Vice President General and National Chairman, National Defense, discusses last minute details with Mr. Dan Smoot, the featured speaker. Mr. Smoot, author, lecturer, and Editor of the Dan Smoot Report, spoke on "The Landmarks Our Fathers Have Set." At top right, the representatives from the children of the American Revolution pose with the President General. Left to right are: Mrs. Robert S. Hudgins, Senior National President; Sharon Jean Fleming, John Marks Society, Virginia; Mrs. Selma; Stephen Duane Fleming, John Marks Society; Lance David Ehmcge, National President. The three other pictures features choirs that provided musical entertainment during the week.

The C.A.R. representatives.

The College of William and Mary Choir directed by Dr. Carl A. Fehr sang on Wednesday Evening.

Thursday Morning featured the Bacone College Choir, Miss Jeannine Rainwater, Director. As the Choir sang, the song was translated into Indian sign language.

The All-American National DAR Chorus, made up of members from throughout the Chapters, provided music for the Thursday evening program. Mrs. Anson H. Russell, IV, is the Director with Mrs. W. R. Burns as Accompanist, and Mrs. John S. Buchanan, Assistant.
Miss Susan Linda Schulze of Albany, Oregon, the National Winner of the DAR Good Citizens Contest, is presented to the Congress by Mrs. Maxwell M. Chapman, National Chairman. Miss Schulze received a $1000 scholarship to the college of her choice.

Dr. Kenyon Cull, Headmaster of St. Mary's School for Indian Girls, along with his wife and a student from the school, present Indian bead work to the President General.

An annual feature of Congress Week is the Pages Ball. This is the National Society’s way of saying thank you to the many Junior Members whose efficient efforts make Congress Week run more smoothly. At left, Miss Liberty, Queen of the Ball, dances with Lance Ehmeke, National President, C.A.R. She is Sandra Righter of South Bend, Indiana, chosen at random during the festivities. Below, Mrs. Dudley W. Pierce, National Chairman, Junior Membership, poses with members of her committee at the Junior Bazaar. An outstanding and popular feature at each Congress, this booth carried handmade items and jewelry. The proceeds are used for various Junior projects, including the Helen Pouch Memorial Scholarship Fund.

On Wednesday Evening, Mrs. Seimes presented the Dr. Anita Newcomb McGee Award to Brigadier General Anna Mae Hays, Chief, Army Nurse Corps as the outstanding Army Nurse of the Year. Established in 1967, the McGee medal commemorates an early DAR member, Dr. Anita Newcomb McGee, who organized and administered an Army Nurse Corps numbering over 1000 women.

Miss Julia Ann McBride, Senior student at KDS, DAR School, presents pictures of the Seimes-Thomas Classroom Building, recently completed on the campus, to Mrs. Seimes and to Miss Amanda Thomas, National Chairman, DAR School Committee.

During the traditional Installation Ceremony held on Friday Morning, Mrs. Seimes and Mrs. Spicer exchange the ribbons of office. Mrs. Seimes has been officially named Honorary President General.

The DAR Genealogical Library, located in Memorial Continental Hall, is always a busy place during Congress week. Pictured at left are members hard at work on application papers. The Library is open to DAR Members only during the entire month of April so that visiting Daughters may take full advantage of the wealth of material to be found on the shelves. These working sessions result in many new members for the National Society. This year membership has reached an all-time high of 193,345.
The Real Crisis In American Life—A Disease Of The Spirit

By Mrs. Dorothy A. Faber, Editor

The Christian Challenge

Throughout history there have been cruel and despotic men. Many of these have gained enormous power—some by sheer force, and others by deluding the people with promises of reform, social improvement, or even the overthrow of another tyrant. Some men will join forces with a revolutionary because of their own desire for power; others do so through fear, thinking to save themselves if the revolution is successful.

Perhaps just as many are sympathetic to the revolution because they have been deluded by promises of a coming Utopia, a social millennium glorified by the theorists and guaranteed by the agitators who seek to overthrow the existing government by force of arms.

Unfortunately, history also shows that in a time of revolution, no life is safe, and that it is most often those who have chosen to cooperate with the despot who are the first to be sacrificed for the great and noble "cause."

There is a theory held by many respected Biblical scholars that Judas Iscariot, the betrayer of Christ, was a member of a fanatical group of Jews known as the Zealots. The organization came into being in the time of Cyrenius for the purpose of resisting Roman aggression.

Some scholars theorize that Judas became a follower of the Nazarene only because he hoped to convince Him to take a leading role in the Zealots' revolutionary plans to overthrow the Roman government in Israel. When Jesus showed no interest in the scheme, the theory goes, Judas—witnessing the ability of the Master to draw great throngs of people to hear Him speak—decided to make use of Him without His knowledge.

While Judas was trying to determine how best to manipulate the Master for his own purposes, the members of the Sanhedrin—in which all temporal and spiritual power resided in the nation of Israel—became convinced He represented a threat to their exalted position over the people. Probably because of the arguments put to them by the leading high priests, Annas and his son-in-law, Joseph ben Caiaphas, they were persuaded that Jesus must be arrested and put to death before the Israelites could make Him their spiritual leader.

It is not unlikely that the Master Himself may have convinced them of the need for such action when He drove the money-changers from the Temple, declaring they had turned it from a house of prayer into a den of thieves, because many of these were important and powerful people who had great influence with the Sanhedrin.

Learning of this situation, Judas seized his chance, believing that the arrest of Jesus would trigger a revolution by the Israelites, who would rise up in their wrath and overthrow the forces of Rome and declare Jesus to be their king, in spite of the fact that He had refused all offers to become a temporal ruler. Since he himself was so hungry for power, it was impossible for Judas to believe that Jesus might refuse a kingship if it were handed to Him and it probably was inconceivable to him that the Master might actually be put to death.
Too late, he discovered that the crowd could be manipulated into demanding the release of a thief and murderer, Barabbas, and the crucifixion of the sinless carpenter. Too late, he discovered he had betrayed the long-awaited Messiah for thirty pieces of silver—and for a revolution. Blinded by his own desires, Judas failed to see that Jesus had actually realized the extent of his betrayal—that it was the Son of God in whose death he had played such an important role.

The Bible is unclear on the point, so it is not known whether Judas hanged himself because he lost hope when his plan failed, or whether he actually realized the extent of his betrayal—it was the Son of God in whose death he had played such an important role.

But the Zealots went on to become more than a mere political movement. In time, they turned into killers and destroyers, and history shows it was their lawless violence that precipitated the great war with Rome (66-70 A.D.) which resulted in the destruction of the Jewish nation, a destruction so complete that archaeologists have found no material evidence of Israel's existence in Palestine after the year 70—not even a tombstone with a Jewish inscription.

Despots and tyrants of one kind or another have left their footprints in all of history since the time of Judas, and the Zealots were far from being the last of the revolutionary groups. One of the most dangerous of these appeared in Russia in the 19th Century. Called Nihilism (from the Latin word "nihil," meaning "nothing"), it claimed to be seeking social and political freedom for the individual through rejection of all forms of authority and traditional moral obligations.

The Nihilists were characterized by their total skepticism, coarseness of speech and behavior, a dedication to materialism, and utilitarian and agnostic approach to everything. A typical summation of the Nihilist creed is found in an essay by Dmitri P. Pisarev, written in the 1860's: "What can be smashed must be smashed; whatever will stand the blow is sound, what flies into smithereens is rubbish; at any rate, hit out right and left, no harm will or can come of it."

Some Nihilists joined revolutionary groups, such as the one which assassinated Czar Alexander II, but many others were principally occupied with the development of their own personalities without interference from any outside group. At first academic in character, Russian Nihilism rapidly became an anarchistic revolutionary movement. University students appear to have been particularly susceptible to the ideas of the Nihilists, and they became easily identifiable by their slovenly attire and their ridicule of the social and modes of their day.

Young men of the movement permitted their hair to grow long, and their female counterparts responded by cutting their hair quite short so that it became difficult to determine which sex was which. The University students were among the first to call for the abolition of religion, family life, private property and the government of that time. Free love was to replace family life, and collectivism was to be established in place of private ownership.

Rather than a centralized government, the Nihilists called for a federation of communes, and religion was to be supplanted with the exact sciences. It is of particular interest to find that an unusually large number of young men and women from wealthy families left their homes to join the movement.

In her authoritative book, World Revolution, first published in 1921, the great British historian Nesta Webster described the Nihilist-turned-Anarchist as one who wished to give all men unbounded liberty to develop along whatever lines they please:

"The idler should be free to idle and live on other men's labour, the drunkard to drink himself into a condition of maudlin inebriety, the murderer to cut throats until he weary of the pastime, the thief to continue helping himself to other people's goods until he has accumulated enough to satisfy him. Exaggerated Individualism is the keynote of his system: Liberty, not equality, is his goal.

"His belief in the amiability of human nature endows him with a bonhomie (affable manner) not to be found amongst the communists, who regard their fellow-men as creatures to be dragooned into obedience to the dictates of the State, by which, of course, they mean themselves. The difference between the two is that which exists between the amiable eccentric who, believing in the innate benevolence of the entire animal kingdom, wishes to open all the cages in a menagerie and leave the wild beast free to roam about the world, and the lion-tamer who loves at the crack of a whip to see king of beasts and performing poodle alike meekly rotating on a merry-go-round."

Although it may be difficult for the average person to understand, there are those individuals in every generation who love violence for its own sake, who will burn, murder and destroy on any pretext or with no excuse at all. Such as these were the leaders of the Nihilist movement, their excuse being revolution. Two of these men—Michael Bakunin, a member of Russian nobility, and his cohort Netchaieff—wrote a Revolutionary Catechism in which they stated:

"The revolutionary must let nothing stand between him and the work of destruction. . . . For him exists only one single pleasure, one single consolation, one reward, one satisfaction—the success of the revolution. Night and day he must have but one thought, but one aim—im placable destruction. . . . If he continues to live in this world it is only in order to annihilate it all the more surely."

One of the fundamental doctrines of the Nihilist movement was "equality of the sexes" because it would aid in the destruction of family life. The men and women of the movement lived together in small groups where everything was held and used in common. Generally speaking, they believed that when all institutions had been destroyed, humanity then would develop new institutions that would be more appropriate for existing conditions.

Unquestionably, the Nihilists of the 19th Century were the philosophical forebears of the Bolsheviks who led the 1917 Russian revolution, but it is obvious that Nihilistic revolutionary thinking has now invaded the United States in this last half of the 20th Century.

The members of the Sanhedrin at the time of Christ may not have been the first ecclesiastical dignitaries to ally themselves with a revolutionary for their own purposes, and they were far from being the last.

For some inexplicable reason many present church leaders appear to be condoning the 20th Century Nihilists, paying lip service to them, and —what is worse—urging their own church people to give sympathetic support to such revolutionary groups.

What strains the credibility of most American churchgoers is the possibility that their leaders might be sympathetic to the New Left and many militant groups out of sheer lack of information when facts about them have been printed far and wide, for those concerned enough to become informed.

For instance, most of the Nation's newspapers reported in mid-July (1970) that Eugene T. Rossides, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, had told an investigating committee of Congress that Government figures show that there were 4,330 bombings in the United States between January 1969 and April 1970. There were, in addition, 1,475 attempted bombings, and 35,129 reports of threatened bombings. The great majority of these have been reported in the press at the time they occurred, making it clear that the use of terror as a political tactic—heretofore not a part of the American tradition—is becoming commonplace.

Two days later, on July 17, Assistant Attorney General Will Wilson told the same investigating committee that much of the bombing "is the result of fanatics who are politically motivated and insist upon their own viewpoint being accepted." He also emphasized that "suppression of terrorist tactics is not a repression of free speech or the right to dissent or protest, but a punishment for crime." This, too, was widely reported in the Nation's press.

On July 23, the Associated Press quoted from testimony by Charles A. O'Brien, California's chief Deputy Attorney General, who told the committee that large scale thefts of United States military munitions bound for Vietnam have fed the arsenals of violence-prone revolutionary bands in California. Thefts from Army posts in California, he said, have included machine guns, dynamite, rifles, pistols, ammunition and explosives, and one stolen machine gun was recovered by police after a shootout between Oakland police and persons reported to be members of the Black Panthers. Similar thefts have been reported from various parts of the Country over the past three years, including one of a National Guard Armory in Michigan from which a rocket launcher was taken.

During the uproar that followed the tragedy at Kent State University (KSU) in 1970, it is possible that many Americans chose to overlook the fact that Kent State has been a target for campus militants for some two years, and that the first riot there was staged by members of the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) in November 1968. Things got so bad at KSU that Ohio Governor James Rhodes described those responsible for the violence at the university as part of "the strongest, most well-trained, militant revolutionary group that has ever assembled in America."

But since the unfortunate deaths of four Kent State students, a number of newspaper columnists have commented on the fact that: Mark Rudd, organizer of the Columbia University uprising, has visited Kent State repeatedly over the past two years; it was at Kent State that New Leftist Jerry Rubin gave his now-famous advice to the students to "kill your parents . . . and I mean that quite seriously, because until you're prepared to kill your parents you're not really prepared to change the Country, because our parents are our first oppressors. . . . Quit being students, become criminals. We have to disrupt every institution and break every law."

These same writers have commented extensively on the fact that Terry Robbins, one of the four members of SDS who blew themselves up while making bombs in a New York townhouse in March 1970, was involved in the 1968 riots at KSU and co-authored a tract entitled The War Is On At Kent State.

Columnist Victor Riesel was one of several newspaper writers who explored the fact that Kent State may have become a target of the New Left because it houses a unique laboratory where scientists have conducted elaborate experiments with liquid crystals which are so sensitive that in reaction to the slightest increase in heat, they change color vividly and immediately. Devices containing liquid crystals can detect the presence of enemy troops at night, can guide rockets to targets such as tanks and jets, and are useful in electronics and cancer research.

According to Riesel, the Soviet Union is intensely curious about Kent State's liquid crystals laboratory —so much so that the Soviet Academy of Science recently invited the director of the KSU laboratory to visit the USSR.

It also has been widely reported that FBI Civil Rights Division agents had confirmed the story that at least two instructors at KSU had been teaching the art of making Molotov cocktails and guerrilla street tactics in their classrooms.

All of these are facts which seem to have been ignored by many church leaders, who are so quick to side with the militant forces and so eager to condemn anyone who represents law and order.

As for the Black Militants, the sympathetic attitude by many church leaders toward them is incomprehensible, especially since it is no secret that they maintain control of certain areas in some of our largest cities through the use of fear. They preach and teach their revolutionary tactics to the young, and they do not hesitate to kill their own should this become beneficial to the revolution.

Baron Howard, a former Black Panther, not only has testified as to Panther connections with particular individuals in the Communist Party, but he also stated that the Panthers seldom solicited funds from Negroes "because blacks know each other and it is harder to give them a line of bull, so there was only one way to go and that was through white youths because they were easier to brainwash."

In July 1969, the Panthers held a national conference in Oakland, California, which they called "A United Front to Combat Fascism." Out of this much publicized meeting there came a reported plan to step up attacks on police throughout the Nation, and the number of policemen killed or wounded from ambush has been increasing for the past year.

But the more militant and insulting and threatening such groups become, the more sympathy and tolerance is extended to them by much of the current church leadership. Indeed, tolerance seems to have turned into a besetting sin in the United States because it is so seldom used with common sense. Forgetting that one definition of the word is “the natural or developed ability to endure, or resist the harmful effect of, the continued or increased use of a drug or a poison,” we have become over-tolerant of criminals, juvenile delinquents, rioting, pornography, godlessness, drug addiction and all manner of undisciplined behavior. And any and all of these contribute to a chaotic situation which is necessary to the revolutionary.

Arrogance and ignorance often walk side-by-side. But churchmen have a right to expect those in decision-making positions in their Church to be literate—to be capable of reading and becoming informed. Church leaders have acknowledged the fact that there is a “Crisis in American Life”—but it is a disease of the spirit. All around us we are witnessing the divisions and conflicts that are the result of a master Strategist of Evil at work.

The Church, instead of being a coming together of a body of believers to worship God and to love and help one another, has become more and more divided since it began the vain attempt to compromise with the social order, and finally become the instrument of it rather than transcending it.

In such a time of crisis, an informed, realistic leadership is needed desperately. If those presently in key positions are too naive, too busy, or too disinterested to become adequately informed, then they should at least refrain from passing judgment or making pronouncements on involving the Church as a whole in issues and matters that may serve to polarize further the people within the Church and within the Nation.

Violence begets violence. Call it by any other name and condone and excuse it for whatever reason, it is still violence—and it will lead to more violence and finally to repression. Wherever and whenever revolutionaries have plotted against the State, history shows the State will defend itself with repressive laws. For the Church to play a part in such a madman’s game is obscene.

At this moment in history, it would be well to recall that Isaiah warned the Israelites: “For the nation and kingdom that will not serve Thee shall perish; yea, those nations shall be utterly wasted.”

But the Prophets also said that the nation which would fall on its knees and call on the name of the Lord, seeking His help, would be blessed.

The First Vice President General, Mrs. Jones, took the chair, and the President General, Mrs. Seimes, read her report.

Report of President General

February 5th, the President General was the guest of the Samuel Chase Chapter, Salisbury, Maryland, at their George Washington's Birthday luncheon. She returned to Washington on Monday, the 8th, to complete as many pending items as possible before beginning her final tour of State Conferences.

On February 10th, the President General emplaned for Honolulu to attend the Hawaii State Conference. On arrival, Mrs. Harold H. Mitchell, State Regent, and a group of Hawaii Daughters met her and extended a real Hawaiian welcome. Included in this group were two mainland Daughters, Mrs. Henry C. Warner, Honorary Vice President General of Illinois, and Mrs. D. Edwin Gamble, Past Vice President General of Arizona.

Prior to the State Conference, Mrs. J. Blair Menardi, Conference Chairman, hosted a tea on Friday. Also that evening Mr. and Mrs. Harold H. Mitchell entertained at dinner in their beautiful home.

The Fifty-fifth Hawaii State Conference was held the next day, Saturday, at the Ilikai Hotel. The Honorable Frank F. Fasi, Mayor of Honolulu, delivered the welcoming speech. The President General gave her formal address, "Citadels of Patriotism," during the afternoon session. While in Honolulu, she participated in a television interview with Mr. Joe Rose over Station KGU, and a radio broadcast with Mr. Jim Ownby for Station KNDI.

The President General was the house guest of Mrs. B. Howell Bond at her Honolulu town house prior to and during the Conference, and afterward Mrs. Warner, Mrs. Gamble and the President General went to Mrs. Bond's home in Molokai for a short but delightful stay.

On February 17th, the President General returned to Honolulu to emplane for the mainland. That evening, she arrived in Portland to attend the Oregon State Conference, opening on February 19. During the morning meeting, the President General gave her informal talk "Activities at Headquarters" and was made a member of the "Mystic Order of the Rose" by Mrs. W. R. McFarland, Women's Advertising Club of Portland. It was a pleasure to attend Oregon's Diamond 75th Anniversary luncheon at noon and to listen to the fine reports of the State Chairmen during the afternoon session. The President General gave her formal address at the Banquet that evening and assisted the State Regent, Mrs. Ira J. Seitz, in presenting an Americanism Medal to Mrs. Ina Randolph. Later in the evening, she, Mrs. Randolph and the State Regent were guests of honor at a reception.

While in Portland the President General was interviewed by Mr. James Newman for television and by Mr. Dave Jones for radio KOIN News.

The President General had to leave early in order to reach Juneau in time for the Alaska State Conference which began February 20th.

That afternoon Mrs. Warren C. Metzger, State Regent, formally opened the Alaska State Conference at the Hotel Baranoff. An informal, potluck dinner was enjoyed by everyone that evening.
On Sunday afternoon Conference sessions began and the President General gave her informal talk. That evening, at the Banquet, she gave her formal address.

On February 22nd, she was taken on a tour of Juneau. The President General was interviewed on two radio stations during her stay in Juneau, over KINY by Mr. Bill Walley, and over KJNO by Mr. Bob Reed.

On February 23rd, the President General arrived in Seattle to attend the 70th Annual Washington State Conference, Mrs. Ned L. Hiatt, Jr., State Regent. On arrival the President General was taken to the Rainier Chapter House to attend the tea in her honor. That evening, the President General was the guest of the State Officers' Club at their dinner prior to the formal opening of the Conference. A reception honoring her followed the dinner.

The President General gave her informal talk after breakfast the next morning. At the National Defense luncheon she presented the “Letter Writers Award” and that evening she gave her formal address at the Official Banquet.

While in Seattle, the President General was interviewed by Mr. Howard Hall on his Telescope Show; radio interviews were conducted by Miss Laurie Borger, Stefanie Shorer for radio station KEKE and Pat Furrow for radio KJR.

The evening the President General arrived in Las Vegas, after attending the Officers Club dinner with most unusual entertainment, she was taken to the Casino of the Desert Inn and on a borrowed quarter she won $113.

The Forty-sixth Nevada State Conference was opened by Mrs. Clarence J. Thornton, State Regent, at the Desert Inn the next morning, February 26th. The President General gave her informal talk at the luncheon that day and the welcoming address was made by the Honorable Oran Grason, Mayor of Las Vegas. The President General gave her formal address at the Banquet that evening. After the closing of the evening session, she was shown the “strip” and other interesting places in Las Vegas.

After Brunch the next day, the Nevada Society honored the Junior American Citizens, DAR Good Citizens, American History Contest winners, C.A.R., and gave medals, pins and awards, at which time the President General spoke briefly.

The Sixty-third California State Conference took place in San Francisco March 1-4. The President General arrived on Sunday afternoon, February 28, in time to attend the Regent's Dinner that evening.

On Monday, the President General and State Regent, Mrs. LeRoy Conrad Kaump, participated in the Dedication of the Azalea Garden in San Francisco's Golden Gate Park. The luncheon of the California Chapter, Daughters of Founders and Patriots of America followed. The Memorial Service included the placing of a DAR marker on the grave of Lt. Rossell G. O'Brien, patriot. A press conference, during which the President General and the State Regent were interviewed, resulted in fine coverage for the Conference on numerous radio broadcasts on several stations and in other media.

The President General gave her formal address at the evening session, followed by a reception honoring her. She met the recipient of a recent DAR Occupational Therapy scholarship, Miss Linda Arndt, at that time.

The next morning, March 2nd, the President General was a guest at the California Past and Present Regents Association breakfast, and later, at the morning session, she gave her informal talk. She enjoyed the American Indian luncheon where Mr. Kenyon Cull, Headmaster of St. Mary's School for Indian Girls, was the speaker.

The President General had to leave the meeting early in order to attend the Idaho State Conference, the seventh State on her official visit. She was now at the halfway mark in her itinerary.

The Idaho State Conference, Mrs. John Charles Horn, State Regent, was held in Boise March 3-5. The President General arrived in Boise early the afternoon of March 3rd, and was guest of honor at the no-host dinner and reception that evening.

During the morning session on March 4th, the President General gave her informal talk and at the banquet that evening, she gave her formal address.

While in Boise, the President General was on two ten-minute appearances on KBOI-TV.

March 5th, the President General emplaned for Salt Lake City, to attend the Utah State Conference, Mrs. Franklin David Maughan, State Regent. On arrival in the city, she had the privilege of seeing the Latter Day Saints Granite Mountain Vault.

On March 6th, the President General gave both her informal and formal speeches during this one-day Conference.

Mr. Bob Simmons, director of “Public Pulse,” a program on KSL radio, interviewed the President General.

Prior to leaving on Sunday, she had the privilege of seeing the broadcast of the Mormon Choir and toured the building. She was interviewed by Mr. and Mrs. Maughan before they took her to the airport.

Next on the President General's itinerary was the Sixty-eighth Montana State Conference, held at the Northern Hotel in Billings. She arrived on Sunday afternoon, March 7th, and that evening attended the Past Regents’ dinner as a special guest. The first event of the Conference was the Regents' breakfast called by the State Regent, Mrs. Floyd Robinson, at which time the President General spoke informally at the conclusion of the Chapter Regents' reports.

At the luncheon on Monday, March 8th, the President General gave her “Activities at Headquarters” talk, and at the banquet that evening, she delivered her formal speech.

Following adjournment of the Conference, she was taken on a sightseeing tour of the surrounding area to see some of the beautiful country.

On March 10th, the President General emplaned from Billings for Wichita to attend the Kansas State Conference. That evening, the President General was the guest at dinner of the Kansas Daughters of Colonial Wars.

The Conference opened the next morning with Mrs. Bertram J. Lemmeneau, State Regent, presiding, and the President General gave her informal talk. Following the business session and Memorial Service, members gathered at the Awards and Regents’ dinner. It was interesting to see the recognition given the DAR Contest winners and Gold Honor Roll chapters. The next day, after the morning session, the President General attended the “Home on the Range” luncheon with Mr. G. Robert Gadberry as speaker. There was a lovely reception that afternoon and at the banquet that evening the President General gave her formal address. Adjournment took place at noon on Saturday.

The President General arrived in St. Louis on Sunday, March 14th, in time to attend the State Officers Club dinner. The next day she gave her informal talk, following the National Defense luncheon. Mrs. Charles C. Barnett, Jr., State Regent, presided at the opening of the Conference that evening, followed by a lovely reception.

It was a pleasure to attend the Awards luncheon on March 16th at which time the DAR Good Citizens winners were presented. That evening the President General gave her formal address at the Conference banquet.

The President General arrived in Enid on Wednesday, March 17th, to attend the Oklahoma State Conference, Mrs. Fred H. Gates, Sr., State Regent. That afternoon she was interviewed by the Editor of one of the Enid newspapers. That evening, Mrs. Larry Black and wife of the Mayor, gave an informal dinner honoring the President.
General at the Country Club.

The State Officers Club dinner, at which the President General was the guest of honor, preceded the formal opening of the Conference, on March 18th. At the conclusion of the session, the President General gave her formal address.

She gave her informal talk at the Awards luncheon the next day, and attended the Chapter Regents' dinner that evening where she spoke briefly.

An interesting sidelight occurred during the President General's visit. In spite of gale-force winds which broke 30 flagpoles, the American Flags were flying in Enid in honor of the State Conference and the President General on the opening day of the meeting.

Travel conditions made it impossible for the President General to reach Iowa that night so she stayed in Kansas City and left for Cedar Rapids, Iowa, the next morning. Between the Oklahoma and Iowa State Conferences, the President General had a few days to catch up on mail from national headquarters—six large manilla envelopes full. She was the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Sherman B. Watson at Cedar Rapids during this time.

On March 24th, Mrs. Watson drove the President General to the Savery Hotel in Des Moines, to attend the Iowa State Conference, Mrs. Ray H. Gruwell, State Regent. They arrived in time to attend the State Past Officers' dinner that evening.

The Iowa State Conference opened on March 25th. That morning the President General was welcomed to the State by Governor Robert Ray in his office at the State House. The State Regent accompanied her as did Senator Charlene Conklin, a member of Iowa DAR, and an invited group of Iowa members.

The President General gave her formal address at the Chapter Regents dinner the evening of March 25th. This account of the President General's official visits to 13 State Conferences took her on a 16,000-mile trip and covered a six-week period. During her visits to these distant States, she enjoyed the fine reports of the many accomplishments of the Daughters living in these States, and would like to take this opportunity to formally, and for the official record, congratulate each and every one of you who are participating in furthering the objectives of our Society in all the 51 States as well as Mexico, France and England, to all of which I have been during my three years in office as your President General.

The President General has not stopped since returning to Washington the evening of March 26th, but did take time to attend the VAVS National Volunteer Recognition Ceremony at the Sheraton-Park Hotel on March 31st with our First Vice President General, Mrs. Jones.

On Saturday, April 3, she attended the Cherry Blossom Parade with Mrs. Stanleigh Swan, Chairman, Buildings and Grounds Committee, and later that afternoon, they enjoyed the Ballet Africains at Constitution Hall.

The weekend of April 10th, she returned home briefly to pack the necessary clothes needed for the Post-Congress trip to England, Scotland and Wales.

The meetings of the Executive Committee occurred April 14th and 15th. It was a pleasure, on the 14th, to attend the special event in the Museum Gallery, at which time the two portraits recently added to the Museum collection were formally accepted. Two other beautiful gifts, a settee given by Mrs. Harry Clark Boden IV, of Delaware, and desk given by Mr. and Mrs. John W. Gatland of North Carolina, were also shown to the assembled group.

Appreciation is expressed to the following who represented the National Society so ably:

Mrs. Eloise T. Jenkins, State Regent, District of Columbia, at the annual meeting of the National Organizations Committee for Savings Bonds, Washington, D.C., February 2nd, and placed a wreath at the Thomas Jefferson Memorial on April 13, during ceremonies held by the District of Columbia Sons of the American Revolution.

Mrs. William Henry Sullivan, Jr., Honorary President General, at a panel discussion at the Edgemont High School, Scarsdale, New York, March 23.

Words could never express my appreciation for the work accomplished, and the wonderful cooperation and kindness extended by you, the National Board, and all the Daughters of our fine Society.

Betty Newkirk Seimbis, President General.

The President General resumed the chair.

The First Vice President General, Mrs. Henry Stewart Jones, read her report.

Report of First Vice President General

This report covers the period since the February National Board Meeting. Following the meeting, the First Vice President General remained in Washington until March 2nd, when she flew to Durham, North Carolina where she was the banquet speaker at the North Carolina State Conference, the State Regent, Mrs. W. Dillon Chambers, presiding.

On the following day this officer left for Chattanooga. On the evening of March 4th, she was the speaker at the opening session of the Tennessee State Conference, Mrs. Walter Hughey King, the State Regent, presiding.

On March 5th, this officer returned to Washington where she remained until March 16th, on which date she left for Milwaukee to attend the Wisconsin State Conference, Mrs. James S. McCray, State Regent, presiding. While attending the Conference, the First Vice President General assisted in the discussion at the National Defense breakfast.

On March 17th, she left Milwaukee for San Antonio, Texas. On March 18th she was speaker at the Texas State Conference, Mrs. Ford Hubbard, State Regent, presiding.

This officer spent the following weekend in Mobile, Alabama and then proceeded to Sarasota, Florida, where she attended the Florida State Conference, Mrs. Harold R. Frakenberg, State Regent, presiding. On March 23rd, she was the speaker at the Florida State Conference National Defense luncheon. The following day she returned to Wash-

Appreciation is expressed for the generous hospitality and many courtesies extended at each of these five well-planned State Conferences.

On March 31st, this officer accompanied the President General in attending the National Volunteer Recognition Ceremony of the Veterans Administration Volunteer Services at the Sheraton Park in Washington.

The only official duty of the First Vice President General is to revise the Handbook. This has long since been completed but it is reported with pleasure that the sales have now covered the printing costs.

During all of the three years of this administration, the First Vice President General has served as National Chairman of National Defense. Gratitude is expressed to the staff of the National Defense Committee for their unfailing assistance and continuing devotion to the best interests of the National Society.

Most of this officer's time has been spent in Washington during these three years. It has been a privilege to work with the staff at National Headquarters and to assist the President General whenever called upon to do so.

At the February Board Meeting, it was this officer's pleasant privilege to present the Board's gift to the President General. It was found that the bracelet needed two additional links. These have been added and the bracelet is now returned to the President General with the affection and admiration of the entire Board for her leadership and devoted service to the National Society during these past three years.

Madam President General, our thanks for all you have done for the National Society and our good wishes for the future.

SARA RODDIS JONES,
First Vice President General.

The Chaplain General, Mrs. Ralph Allen Killey, read her report.

Report of Chaplain General

The Chaplain General has completed plans for Memorial Sunday. The Chaplain General's Breakfast will be held at 7:15 in the Mayflower Ballroom. Tickets are available in the Committee Room at noon today. The usual Pilgrimage will be conducted to Arlington and Mt. Vernon. Mrs. Erwin F. Seimes, President General, will lay the wreath at Arlington. Mrs. Donald Fleshren, outstanding Junior of the District of Columbia, will place a wreath at the grave of George Washington and Miss Karen Kiser of Illinois will place a wreath at the grave of Martha Washington.

The Memorial Service for members of the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution will be held at 2:30 P.M. at Constitution Hall. Will the State Regents please fill their State boxes and urge all members to attend?

Good results have been reported from the presentation of Certificates of Honor to the families of deceased soldiers of the Vietnam War. Families are appreciative of our sympathy. Relatives have indicated a desire to become members and in some instances have already joined.

The Chaplain General has spoken to several chapters and gave an address at the DAR Good Citizens Luncheon at the Illinois State Conference in March.

She will perform her usual duties at the Continental Congress, concluding her term of office with the installation of George Washington and Miss Karen Kiser of Illinois will place a wreath at the grave of Martha Washington.

Chaplain General.

The Recording Secretary General, Mrs. Lyle Johnston Howland, read her report.

Report of Recording Secretary General

The minutes of the February Board meeting were prepared for publication in the DAR Magazine and proofread. Minutes and verbatim transcript were recorded and indexed. The amendments to the Bylaws proposed by the National Board of Management were prepared for distribution to the chapters.

Motions adopted by the Board were typed and copies were sent to the other offices; also typed for the statute book and indexed.

Minutes of the Executive Committee meeting have been written; copies sent to each member of the committee; copied for the permanent record and indexed. Rulings affecting officers and committees were typed separately and delivered or mailed.

Notices of the two Board meetings in April were mailed to the members of the National Board of Management. Members of the Executive Committee were notified of the meeting of that committee.

Letters were mailed to National Officers, State Regents and Committee Chairmen, requesting advance copies of their full reports to the Continental Congress for the Proceedings.

All necessary letters were written to the candidates for election at the 80th Continental Congress.

Since my last report to the Board 3,674 membership certificates have been prepared and mailed to members.

Since last Board meeting this officer has been the guest at six chapter meetings, being the speaker at two and bringing greetings at the others.

She has attended the State Conferences of North Carolina, Tennessee, Connecticut and New Jersey. The State Regents of these states, Mrs. Chambers, Mrs. King, Mrs. Morriss and Mrs. Griswold, are all fine presiding officers and the work accomplished for the National Society reflected their leadership.

This report would not be complete without thanking Miss Adaline Thornton and Mrs. Helen Ball for the conscientious manner in which they have carried on the work of this office. We are also deeply grateful for the services of Mrs. Floy Swanson.

MARJORIE S. HOWLAND,
Recording Secretary General.

The Corresponding Secretary General, Mrs. George Jacob Walz, read her report.

Report of Corresponding Secretary General

This was a busy year for the Office of the Corresponding Secretary General. During the short period since the February report, 1,910 orders have been processed and filled; 3,130 copies of the Proposed Amendments to the Bylaws were mailed.

A total of 1,296 "In Washington" books was sold. Many letters were answered and included approximately 700 from prospective members.

In addition to the regular duties of this office, we also assist the Honor Roll, Membership, Patriot Index and Student Loan and Scholarship Committees. For the Honor Roll, 2,099 Honor Roll Certificates were typed and arranged alphabetically by chapters in order of states. Appropriate Gold and Silver Award ribbons were attached, envelopes prepared and certificates enclosed for distribution and mailing.

In January I attended the dedication of the Rose Garden in Independence Mall, Philadelphia, and the luncheon following at Bookbinder's. On January 30th I travelled to Berryville, Virginia for the dedication of the marker placed on the grave of Mrs. William D. Cabell, President Presiding, NSDAR. The tea that followed at the delightful home of Mrs. Charles McIntosh was thoroughly enjoyed.

To Mrs. Eldred M. Yochim, Marie, goes my everlasting and most heartfelt gratitude for going way beyond the call of duty to keep the work in the office moving the way she has done. I am happy to report that letters and orders are being answered and processed as received.

To you, Madam President General, my deep affection. You have been an inspiring and a magnificent leader.

JUSTINA B. WALZ,
Corresponding Secretary General.

The Treasurer General, Mrs. Nile Eugene Faust, read her report.

A. The Current Fund balance at February 28, 1971, included 578,165.49 received for 1971 dues which are not available for use in operations until March 1, 1971. In addition approximately 28,401.00 in dues and fees had been received from applicants and will not be available for operations until the applicants are admitted to membership.

B. The total of the Current Fund and the Unrestricted Special Funds represent those funds which are readily available for Society use. Other Special Funds listed on the following page are derived from bequests, gifts, etc., and are restricted as to the use to school contributions, scholarships, books for library, museum purchases and other special purposes. These Restricted Special Funds are merely held as an accommodation. The Golden Jubilee, Investment Trust, and Julia C. Fish Funds are shown above only to the extent of income received which is available for general use. The principal portion of these three funds are shown as restricted funds on the following page.

Washington, D.C.

The Registrar General, Mrs. Richard Denny Shelby, read her report.

Report of Registrar General

The week following the meeting of the February Board, your Registrar General remained in Washington to attend to duties pertaining to this office as well as the Microfilm Center.

Your Registrar General and Librarian General are delighted to announce that a portrait of our President General now hangs in the Betty Newkirk Seimes Microfilm Center. We cordially invite the members to the center to view this lovely addition to the Microfilm Center.

A motorized Reader Printer had been leased for three months. It was necessary to lease this machine (which photostats from reels) to determine if efficiency could be increased in processing requests for copies of applications and to compare the quality of the photostats with our large copies, which photostats from the original papers.

Binders for verified applications and supplementals were purchased and all current papers are filed and stored in the vault.
Again, it is necessary to tell you that the office of Registrar General does not have the staff to prepare applications or supply needed proof for verification. The genealogist examines and evaluates the material accompanying the papers. Proving the lineage and the relationship of each generation is the responsibility of the applicant. The paper which has accurate proof and documented evidence is verified quicker than an incomplete paper. Much time and money could be saved if all applications were properly prepared, and thoroughly checked by the Chapter Registrar.

You are reminded that all correspondence pertaining to reinstatements, resigned and transferred members must be directed to the Office of Treasurer General. This information is not on record in the Office of Registrar General.

Requests for permits from the J. E. Caldwell Co. are processed daily. Members who have any difficulty securing Insignia, Ancestral bars or Recognition pins are requested to write the Office of Registrar General.

It is a source of great pride to announce that the membership count of every National Board Meeting this year has resulted in a net gain in membership.

In February, your Registrar General was one of the guest speakers for a Genealogical workshop sponsored by Boca Ciega Chapter, Florida, under the direction of Mrs. Richard H. Thompson, Honorary State Regent of Illinois and National Vice Chairman of Lineage Research. It was my pleasure to be house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Thompson while in St. Petersburg, Florida.

The Registrar General attended the informative Colorado State Conference under the capable direction of Mrs. Bernard Waldman, State Regent. This officer spoke on "Responsibilities of Women Today." A tour of the Air Force Academy was an additional highlight of the Conference.

The Librarian General and Registrar General are most grateful for the enthusiastic support and contributions to the Microfilm Fund. We are especially pleased that 5 additional chairs have been donated and each is listed in her report.

All DAR are cordially invited to attend the meeting of the Membership Commission on Monday, April 19th at 10:15 a.m. in the National Officers Club Room.

All applications received in the office prior to April 13th have been examined. All supplementals received in the office prior to June 1970 have been examined. State Regents are requested to encourage members to submit supplementals.

The staff deserves much credit for the following report submitted: Number of applications received, 1,670; Number of applications verified, 1,812; Number of supplementals received, 529; Number of supplementals verified, 373; Total number of papers verified, 2,185.

Papers returned unverified: Originals, 75; Supplementals, 0; New records verified, 148; Permits issued, 779; Letters written, 4,478; Postals written, 384; Photostats—papers—1,728; Data—pages—139.

Mrs. Shelby moved that the 1,812 applicants whose records have been verified by the Registrar General be elected to membership in the National Society. Seconded by Mrs. Parr. Adopted.

The Organizing Secretary General, Mrs. Wilson King Barnes, read her report.

Report of Organizing Secretary General

The resignation of Mrs. Janet Loftus Naslund as Organizing Regent in Lockport, New York has been received. Through their respective State Regents the following members At Large are presented for confirmation as Organizing Regents:

Mrs. Helen Orne Mercereau, Williamsport, Maryland; Miss Nell Beasley, Crockett, Texas;
Mrs. Shirley Bellows Hughes, Lovingston, Virginia.

The following authorization has expired by time limitation: The State Regent requests reauthorization:

Glennie, West Virginia.

The State Regent of South Carolina requests that the organizing regency of Mrs. Joanne Greene Turner be changed from Mauldin, to Travelers Rest.

Through the State Regent of Tennessee, Reverend Philip Ausmus Chapter requests permission to change its location from La Follette to Knoxville.

Due to lack of signatures requesting official disbandment of the Manzanita Chapter of California, on February 1, 1971, the motion for disbandment shall be declared null and void.

The following chapters are presented for official disbandment:

Rachel Marx Graydon, Pennsylvania;
Havana, Havana, Cuba.

Mrs. Barnes moved confirmation of three organizing regents, reauthorization of one chapter, change of location of one organizing regency, change of location for one chapter, cancellation of disbandment of one chapter, and disbandment of two chapters. Seconded by Mrs. Faust and Miss Gallaher. Adopted.

It was announced that the Manzanita Chapter in California has not been disbanded as the motion to disband was made in order according to the Bylaws. This chapter remains in good standing.

The Historian General, Mrs. Donald Spicer, read her report.

Report of Historian General

Nearly all efforts in the office of the Historian General in these last two months have been concentrated on the completion of the projects undertaken at the beginning of this administration.

We are proud to report the successful accomplishment of that aim, as well as maintaining the heavy seasonal office routines.

The most significant accomplishment of this period is the completion of the extraction of all names from every document for genealogical purposes. Nearly 30,000 cards (one for each name) have been typed and indexed with cross reference to the documents from which they were taken. (Ledgers and similar book-length collections of names remain to be extracted.) The supplemental list of errata and additions to the reported marked graves of Revolutionary Soldiers and Patriots is in the hands of the printer and it is expected that it will be published beginning with the May issue of the DAR Magazine. The original list, completed in January, is still bringing in letters of inquiry, corrections and additions, which will further augment our records.

The cross indexing of the file of markers placed by DAR over the years is also complete. This covers historic sites, graves of members, Revolutionary Soldiers and Patriots, their wives and daughters (including Real Daughters). Formerly these were filed only by States and Chapters.

The cataloging of the Archives of the Society is complete with cards on 17 drawers of materials of all kinds, letters, clippings, articles, pamphlets and pictures, arranged chronologically.

The Presidents' Book is also complete. This consists of photographs and signatures on original documents, of every President of the United States. The First Ladies' Book is nearly complete. We lack four signatures, and have only copies of two others. Those missing are: Martha Wayles Skelton Jefferson; Margarey Mackall Smith Taylor; Eliza McCardle Johnson; Jacqueline Lee Bouvier Kennedy. We have copies of the signatures of Rachel Robards Jackson and Elizabeth K. Monroe.

Efforts are still being made to find and mark the graves of the First State Regent and State Vice Regent in many of the States. In half of them this project has been completed. It is not always an easy assignment.

On January 30, the National Society dedicated the marker on the grave of Mary Virginia Ellet Cabell (Mrs. William Daniel), the only officer to serve as Vice President and then President Presiding. Members and friends of the Cabell family and many of the National Board of Management attended the ceremony held in the Green Hill Cemetery in Berryville, Virginia.

We had the pleasure and privilege of explaining the indexing of the Americana Collection to the docents, and orienting them to the Collection itself so that the Archives Room may become an interesting part of their tours.

Permission has been given to place 79 markers; reports have been received on the placement of 160.

Distribution of American History Month supplies and American History Medals: Certificates of Award, 2857; Certificates of Appreciation, 14,569; History Stickers, 12,310; Posters, 306; Spot Announcements, 235; Bronze Medals, 2127; Silver, 528; Gold 1.

It was most interesting and enjoyable to visit eleven State Conferences. The gracious hospitality of the State Regents and the Conference Committees is deeply appreciated.

This officer is grateful for the many state proceedings and newsletters that she has received.

Appreciation is extended to the State Regents and State Librarians for spreading word of the needs of the Library.

Five chairs have been given to the Microfilm Center, as follows: One from the Massachusetts Daughters in memory of Mrs. Hamilton H. Sweet, State Regent, 1968-1970; one from Mrs. Edgar Vail of Continental Chapter, New Jersey in memory of her mother, Mrs. Carlton W. Bradbury; two given by the Colorado State Society in memory of Mr. Joman, State Regent, and one from the Wayside Inn Chapter of Massachusetts. Through the kindness of the President General, a portrait of Mrs. Seimes now hangs in the Betty Newkirke Seimes Microfilm Center.

A portrait of Dr. Anita Newcomb McGee, the first Librarian General, has been placed in the Library office. This has been made possible by the Armed Forces Institute of Pathology.

Many inquiries have come regarding acquisition of the material being filmed by the Mormons. The Library will only have one copy of this film and it will be some time before any of the material is indexed. At this time there are no plans for the National Society to obtain further copies for sale or rental. It is the policy of the Mormons that they shall not furnish copies of the microfilm to other organizations or persons without first receiving the written consent of the records custodian or other official responsible for the records. In other words, the National Society will have to grant permission to have further copies made available.

A portrait of the Conference on the Limitation of Armament which was held in Memorial Continental Hall February 6, 1922 has also been placed in the Library office. In a box underneath the painting is a replica of the pen used to sign the Treaty.

Since the February Board the Library has received 191 books, 102 pamphlets and 11 manuscripts.

This officer is grateful for the many state proceedings and newsletters that she has received.

Appreciation is extended to the State Regents and State Librarians for spreading word of the needs of the Library.

Five chairs have been given to the Microfilm Center, as follows: One from the Massachusetts Daughters in memory of Mrs. Hamilton H. Sweet, State Regent, 1968-1970; one from Mrs. Edgar Vail of Continental Chapter, New Jersey in memory of her mother, Mrs. Carlton W. Bradbury; two given by the Colorado State Society in memory of Mr. Joman, State Regent, and one from the Wayside Inn Chapter of Massachusetts. Through the kindness of the President General, a portrait of Mrs. Seimes now hangs in the Betty Newkirke Seimes Microfilm Center.

A portrait of Dr. Anita Newcomb McGee, the first Librarian General, has been placed in the Library office. This has been made possible by the Armed Forces Institute of Pathology.

Many inquiries have come regarding acquisition of the material being filmed by the Mormons. The Library will only have one copy of this film and it will be some time before any of the material is indexed. At this time there are no plans for the National Society to obtain further copies for sale or rental. It is the policy of the Mormons that they shall not furnish copies of the microfilm to other organizations or persons without first receiving the written consent of the records custodian or other official responsible for the records. In other words, the National Society will have to grant permission to have further copies made available.

A portrait of the Conference on the Limitation of Armament which was held in Memorial Continental Hall February 6, 1922 has also been placed in the Library office. In a box underneath the painting is a replica of the pen used to sign the Treaty.

Since the February Board the Library has received 191 books, 102 pamphlets and 11 manuscripts.

from Hawaii, most interesting of which is an 18th Century porcelain bowl, and a handsome 16th Century Ming child's suit made of silk. This suit was worn by Edward Lyde, Jr., an ancestor of Mrs. McCleery's husband. Mrs. Greeneville Stewart Emery of Martha Devotion Huntington Chapter in Ohio donated a charming painting of four children, honoring the memory of her husband whose grandfather is the second oldest child in the picture. This painting dates in the 1840's and is therefore hung outside the Museum on the first floor landing. An early sugar bowl with lid, and a silver milk jug, both of exceptionally fine quality, came to us from Florida, the gift of Mrs. Geneva Dillon Wagner.

A Museum Event, at which only the members of the Executive Committee and Museum people were present, was held to welcome the new acquisitions, particularly the Gatling desk and the Courtney portraits, on April 14. Mrs. Harry A. Councillor and her committee were in charge of the event, assisted by Mrs. Swan, Chairman of Buildings and Grounds.

As you can see in the report of the Treasurer General, the Museum Fund stands, as of March 1, at $28,742.62, and the Museum Air Conditioning Fund has $49,174.22 as a balance. It is hoped that both these Funds will receive your attention in the future as they have in the past.

Thank you, Madam President General, for your help and hospitality during the past three years.

The Reporter General to the Smithsonian Institution, Mrs. Lawrence Russell Andrus, read her report.

Report of Reporter General to the Smithsonian Institution

You have heard all the reports of completed work. This officer will be unable to leave Washington next week with her report completed. It will be several months before all the information presented to the Continental Congress can be assembled.

In addition to preparing a readable and factual report of DAR activities to the United States Congress, it is also the responsibility of this office to prepare a list of newly reported graves of Revolutionary Soldiers. We are most grateful to the State Historians for supplying this information, and are particularly appreciative of some who have gone far beyond reasonable expectations in correcting their State records and bringing them up to date.

Although the Reporter General cannot prepare her report until the end of the year, there is nothing to prevent her talking about DAR in the meantime. Since the last Continental Congress, she has spoken 31 times about DAR and about the Smithsonian Institution. Although she does not expect to continue speaking so frequently, the Reporter General will never stop reporting to all who will listen the amazing achievements of our State and National Societies.

JUNE-JULY 1971
DAUGHTERS OF THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION MAGAZINE

• and Mr. John W. Johnson, principal of the elementary school. It is hoped contributions to this fund will increase.

DAR School Committee, including National Vice Chairmen, all members of the National Board of Management, the Board of Trustees, with Mr. W. L. Jones, Business Manager, and Mr. John W. Johnson, principal of the elementary school.

The Seimes-Thomas Classroom Building at KDS is in use. It has been a fine experience to work with the Tamassee Work scholarships are put to good use at Tamassee, and it is hoped contributions to this fund will increase.

It has been a fine experience to work with the Tamassee Board of Trustees, with Mr. W. L. Jones, Business Manager, and Mr. John W. Johnson, principal of the elementary school.

The Seimes-Thomas Classroom Building at KDS is in use. The enormity of this undertaking is revealed in the fact that the building cost $355,000, of which $150,000 was paid by the State of Alabama. DAR has underwritten the remaining $205,000. There is no worry about leaving an unpaid balance for the next administration.

This chairmanship has been a real joy for me and I thank our President General for the opportunity to serve. In addition to our President General, I am most grateful to all members of the National Board of Management, the DAR School Committee, including National Vice Chairmen, State and Chapter Chairmen.

You all have been magnificent in supporting our school program, and do tell the world what DAR has done and is doing for the education of youth.

AMANDA A. THOMAS
Chairman

Miss Dorothy V. Smith, Chairman, DAR Magazine Committee, read her report.

Report of DAR Magazine Committee

It is gratifying to report the following achievements for the DAR Magazine: the subscription total has soared to an all time 79-year record of 51,357 paid subscriptions; another George Washington Honor Medal Award from Freedoms Foundation to the Magazine has been announced by the Foundation; and the Magazine's financial situation is also noteworthy.

Articles from the Magazine are being indexed and abstracted in "America: History and Life A Guide to Periodical Literature" and "Historical Abstracts." This is part of a world wide bibliographical service covering more than 1500 periodicals published by the American Bibliographical Center Clio Press in Santa Barbara, California.

Subscribers who have been annoyed and frustrated by the more than late arrival of their April issue of the Magazine are due an explanation. The reason is a dual one: negotiations for labor contracts in the Washington, D.C. area held up McCall's presses more than a week. And then a tremendous backlog of Easter mail added to the unfortunate delay.

On March 9, 1971 a complete subscription list was mailed to each of the National Society's 2927 chapters throughout the country with the request that it be checked for accuracy and returned.

The March and April Magazine covers: a jet of a well-known air line that has carried her more than 100,000 miles through the skies, and a color photograph of the Delaware Room, were subtle and warm thank yous to our President General from the Magazine Committee and staff.

Many are the letters received in the Magazine office every day—this one from a third grader in the Cleveland Hill Primary School, Cheektowaga, New York we share with you, along with its P.S.

P.S. Dear Miss Dorothy Smith,

Thank you. I appreciate what you have done for us. We are grateful for your cooperation. Thank you for publishing my letter and poem. I was very surprised to receive the books. We could not find the page, but we did and we were sure were surprised to find it too!

Your friend,

Kelly Jarowzewski

The letter refers to the Frontispiece of the April 1971 issue. Winners of this year's Spectacular Subscription Contest will be announced at Congress.

DOROTHY V. SMITH,
Chairman.

Mrs. Frank L. Harris, Chairman, read the report of the DAR Magazine Advertising Committee.

Report of DAR Magazine Advertising Committee

The results of the DAR Magazine Advertising Committee for the 1970-71 term have been more than satisfactory. The revenue for the 12-month period amounted to $106,289.63—the highest amount of revenue for this period in the entire history of DAR Magazine Advertising. This chair- man is grateful to National Vice Chairmen, State Regents, State and Chapter Advertising Chairmen of the 50 States, District of Columbia, France and Mexico. Without this outstanding team work, this could not have been accomplished.

For the 3-year term 1968-71, the total amount of revenue was $297,037.48. Each year all states participated in the program. Good and interesting advertising copy has been the goal of this committee, all portraying some phase of our DAR objectives, Education-Historic-Patriotic endeavor. The number of States having 100% chapter participation or for Honor Roll this year is 23, a few less than last year. Perhaps this was due to the new 28 State Regents and Chairmen and one new National Vice Chairman; however, the record is excellent. Our regular advertisers were greatly appreciated, both with the amount of commercial ads and the amount of revenue sent in.

Of the total number of chapters 2928, February 1971 count, 2506 chapters earned point #8 on the Honor Roll and 2536 chapters participated in DAR Magazine Advertising.

Advertising for the February, March and April issues was our largest during the year. The month of March submitted revenue of $26,634.04. This was mostly due to election year of two slates of Executive Officers and the regular Vice President General announcements. I am sure we are all well acquainted with our Candidates for 1971 election. This Chairman highly commends the States for their outstanding advertising copy.

Coronado, California
Mrs. George Baylies, State Vice Regent; Mrs. Francis Kughler, Chapter Vice Regent; Dr. C. Casesa, Brooklyn VA Hospital; Mrs. Edward Reilly, Vice President General; Mrs. Dorothy Sebastian, Chapter Regent; Mr. GringoId, Bronx VA Hospital; are shown at the Manhattan Chapter Christmas meeting.

MANHATTAN (New York, N.Y.). Historical Fraunces Tavern, the famous inn where George Washington bade farewell to his generals, was the scene of the Christmas meeting held by the Manhattan Chapter of the NSDAR on Dec. 1, 1970.

Since the luncheon was to benefit Veterans Patients in N.Y. Hospitals, 2 Veterans Hospitals—the Brooklyn Veterans Hospital and the Kingsbridge Veterans Hospital—had sent representatives, Dr. P. R. Casese, Director of his Hospital and Mr. Ben Gingold, Director of Volunteers at his Hospital, who gave most elucidating talks on the myriad types of treatments for rehabilitation their Veterans Patients undergo. Their talks were eye openers to the members of the Chapter.

The Regent, Mrs. Dorothy Sebastian, was able to turn over $100.00 to each of the two Hospitals as their share of the benefit.

The Hospitals wrote back and said the patients had been issued 100 Stamp Books which they could use for their purchases.

Mrs. Edward G. Reilly, Vice President General, and Mrs. George U. Baylies, N.Y. State Vice Regent, were among the prominent guests at the affair.

Manhattan Chapter celebrated its 72nd Anniversary Tuesday Nov. 10, 1970, with a reception and Tea, at the home of Mrs. John W. Finger. The original Charter No. 437, issued Nov. 5, 1898, was beautifully preserved and on display for all to admire.

Distinguished guests included Mrs. William H. Sullivan, Jr., Hon. President General, Mrs. Frederick Griswold, Jr., Regent of the State of New Jersey; Mr. Donald Tansill, Past President, Sons of the American Revolution; Mrs. Elizabeth Dunton, Governor General, Sons and Daughters of the Pilgrims.

Mrs. Sullivan spoke on the finding of the body of our Naval hero, John Paul Jones, in France.

The anniversary cake was served by the Regent, Mrs. Dorothy Sebastian.

CAPT. HENRY SWEETSER (Santa Maria, California) has had a very active month of April 1971. The organizing regent, Mrs. A. E. Stoskopf, who recently received her 25 year pin, reports that in April the chapter not only honored three DAR Good Citizens but they presented certificates to 50-year members of the chapter. The two are: Mrs. Ralph Lidbom and Mrs. David Bedrick. Also in April the chapter entertained at an afternoon reception approximately 100 newly naturalized United States citizens. Invited to receive the guests along with the Regent, Mrs. Paul Warnick, were the mayors of the surrounding areas and the commander of the Vanderberg Air Force Base. The candidates for citizenship from this area must travel 75 miles to Santa Barbara (county seat) to take their tests and then later must travel that distance to attend naturalization court. It has been a dream of this chapter since its organization in 1966 to honor these new citizens in their own community and this is the culmination of a dream. Capt. Henry Sweetser Chapter, in particular, and DAR in general has been complimented over and over for calling attention in the community of these new citizens.

STONES RIVER (Smyrna, Tenn.) was confirmed January 31, 1970. There were 14 organizing members, we now have 20 members, 1 a Junior member.

During this first year, five of us attended the March 1970 State Conference at Gatlinburg. One JAC Club has been organized. We gave the ROTC medal to the outstanding Cadet at Smyrna High School and presented a
REBECCA STODDERT (El Paso, Texas) is enjoying a most rewarding year. We have just celebrated American History month in this border city. The highlight of the observance was a George Washington Tea on the afternoon of February 20th which was attended by 150 members and guests. Setting for the event was the beautiful drawing room of Radford School for Girls. Arrangements of fresh flowers in red, white and blue, and glowing candles in silver candelabra graced the room. Guests were received by the Regent, Mrs. H. P. Ehrlinger, Vice Regent, Mrs. C. C. Wood, and the principal of Radford, Miss Majorie Graham, who is a chapter member. Past regents presided at the tea table. An added pleasure was a tour of the rooms holding a fabulous collection of porcelain figurines of the Napoleonic era, rare Indian artifacts and other fine displays to delight the eye. Mrs. Ralph Hamilton, American History Month chairman, awarded nineteen medals to winning students. Pictured above are Mr. Oliver Goodman, executive assistant to Mayor de Wetter, displaying the mayor’s proclamation and the regent showing a History Medal.

In November, nineteen “Good Citizens” were feted with a holiday tea following the presentation of the gold pins. Many were accompanied by their mothers and school counselors. The certificate to a young woman who’s husband was killed in Vietnam. We had our flag day picnic with the “John Nolen Chapter” of Nolensville. Three of us went to KDS in October. We have given two books to our library in memory of two members’ husbands. Also, two books for essays written during “Constitution Week.” Six attended the District meeting in Tullahom.

In December, eight of us went to the VA Hospital at Murfreesboro and gave a party for fifty of the patients, singing Christmas carols and serving punch and cookies.

As school is starting, we plan to help at one of the local school’s library. Two of our members are trained librarians; they will set up and supervise this library with the help of the other members.

ST. LOUIS (St. Louis, Missouri) celebrated a very important anniversary this past winter.

On October 17, 1970, St. Louis Chapter was seventy-five years old, having been organized Jan. 31, 1895, by Mrs. James O’Fallon. Our program for this occasion was entitled History of St. Louis Chapter, which was compiled by Mrs. Walter Fabricius, Miss Mab Mulkey, and Mrs. John Sabin. It was read by Miss Mab Mulkey.

Slides were shown, which had been previously taken at our sixtieth anniversary party. The committee and members had donned their beautiful gowns, worn by them through the years at various important functions of DAR. Some of them were wedding gowns of members.

TARRYTOWN (Tarrytown, New York) held its 45th Anniversary Celebration at the Tarrytown Historical Society Museum on October 20, 1970; when members and guests joined in saluting the Charter Members and Past Regents, who found and carried forward the aims of the National Society. Patriotic corsages were presented to the Organizing Regent, Mrs. Leslie V. Case, and the following Charter Members—Mrs. Charles J. Husted, Mrs. Charles MacDonald, Miss Catharine Beatrice Suydam and Miss Edith Suydam. Mrs. George F. Brött, Regent welcomed Past Regents who attended—Mrs. Frederick J. Elder, Mrs. Herbert V. A. Hall, Mrs. Theodore Gommi, Mrs. William H. Shriver and Mrs. Eldon L. Wetmore. Guests from Mohegan, General Jacob Odell and Pierre Van Cortland Chapters joined members on this day in celebration of Tarrytown Chapter’s Anniversary.

Mrs. Leslie V. Case, Organizing Regent, gave a brief history. Mrs. Case was first a member of David Craig Chapter, DAR of Brownsville, Tenn. After her marriage when she came to Tarrytown, N.Y. she became a member of Mohegan Chapter in Ossining, N.Y. before she organized the Tarrytown Chapter, DAR on October 25th, 1925. Assisting her were Mrs. Frederick Merriam, Miss Helen Blake, Mrs. Theodore Ward and Mrs. Earl E. Beyer (now of Dallas, Texas). Since they were from other areas, it was decided to invite ladies of historic Tarrytown families to join the new Chapter. They were crowned with success—42 Charter Members comprised the names signed on the framed Charter, and now hung in the Tarrytown Historical Society Museum. The Chapter has a roster of 82 members in 1971. Mrs. Case, the Organizing Regent, is a woman of note—being the former Curator of the Tarrytown Historical Society Museum, and a writer of distinction. This very active Chapter owes much of its success to her charm and unfailing devotion.

MISSION CANYON (Santa Barbara, California) was co-hostess for the biennial visit of the State Regent, Mrs. LeRoy Conrad Kaump, at the Santa Barbara Inn on East Beach. Honoring the National Society’s 80th Anniversary a playlet by the regent, Mrs. Victor S. Whitman, “The Founders of NSDAR” was presented by chapter members in period costumes. Special attraction was Ward B. Jenks, President, Santa Barbara Chapter, Sons of the American Revolution, who played the role of William McDowell, first registrar of SAR. The manuscript has been submitted to the National Program Review Committee for use by other chapters, at the suggestion of Mrs. Kaump. A “sneak preview” by a cast in the San Fernando Valley Area preceded the opening in Santa Barbara.

“Do Your Own Thing” was the theme of our American Heritage program attended by the State Chairman, Mrs. Nelson Hull, who brought her mother’s quilt of hand painted silk linings from gentlemen’s top hats. A delightful exhibition of members’ handwork was on display. The State Chairman of National Defense, Mrs. Joseph Visnak, attended and gave us an inspiring message.

Junior members in Pilgrim costume and new members were honored at a tea held in the historic Covarrubias Adobe, briefly the capitol building of California under Governor Pio Pico. Special color slides were shown by the regent in the world premiere of “New Things About Old Pilgrims” with a tape recording of the lecture by Richard V. Humphrey, Curator of Research and Exhibits at Pilmoth Plantation, the recreated village in Plymouth, Mass.

The program was planned under the U.S.A. Bicentennial committee’s theme of “Our Colonial Beginnings,” and community rapport was established by inviting the executive boards of such groups as the Society of Mayflower Descendants, Women Descendants of the Ancient & Honorable Artillery Co., National Society Colonial Dames XVII Century, Daughters of the American Colonists, U.S. Daughters of 1812, Native Daughters of the Golden West, National Society Magna Chariot Dames, Daughters of the Union Veterans of the Civil War, and many DAR State Officers, State Chairmen and area Chapter Regents. —Wilbera Ellis Finley

WAIGHTSTILL AVERY (Brevard, North Carolina) celebrated its Fiftieth Anniversary recently with a Tea in the home of Mrs. Alfred Weiss. The Chapter was organized March 24, 1921 by Miss Annie Jean Gash and was named for her ancestor, Col. Waightstill Avery, who was very prominent during the Revolution. He was a Signer of the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence and an author of a clause in the Constitution. We have a newly established “Annie Jean Gash Memorial Fund” which will be used currently for scholarships to DAR related schools. We strive to give each year, a scholarship to deserving student in Crossnore.

Each year we award two DAR Good-Citizenship pins to Senior girls in our two High Schools. We gave six History Medals and fifteen certificates of appreciation to boys and girls for outstanding work in American History and we presented six pictures of the Signing of the Constitution to schools participating in American History Month. In addition, we awarded 14 Good-Citizenship Medals to boys and girls.

Each summer we have a booth at the Fair held in Robin Hood’s Barn, Sherwood Forest, members handling homemade articles and food which we sell.

We sponsor Dessert Bridge parties whereby we benefit substantially from tickets sold. We collect Discount Merchandise Coupons and these are redeemed for cash, the money used by our Chapter.

We are making every effort to locate and mark all Revolutionary Soldiers’ Graves and placed a Marker on one here several years ago.

We have the co-operation of our local Radio Station and members are heard frequently when they discuss DAR work and problems of National interest.

As we celebrate our Golden Anniversary, we hope to go forward each year toward the goals set by our National Society in the fields of Culture and Patriotism.

CAESER RODNEY (Wilmington, Del.) celebrated its 75th Anniversary on Dec. 5, 1970 by holding a luncheon in the Du Barry room of the hotel DuPont. The chapter was founded on Dec. 7, 1895. Dec. 7 is also proclaimed “Delaware Day.”

Mrs. Fred A. Brunck, Chapter Regent, introduced the guests and Honorary State Regents, among those present were: Mrs. James H. Scott, Mrs. Charles I. Hoch, Mrs. L. Lee Layton, Miss Helen Scott, Mrs. Erwin Frees Seimes, our present President General.

Past Regents present were: Mrs. James H. Scott, Miss Helen Scott, Mrs. Ernest R. Caro, Mrs. Charles I. Hoch, Mrs. Ralph McCloskey, Mrs. Paul K. Lawrence, Mrs. Robert V. Dannehl.

Our Present State Regent, Miss Anna E. Gallaher, brought us greetings.

We were highly honored to have as our Guest of Honor and Speaker, Mrs. Erwin Frees Seimes, President General. Although not a member of our Chapter, we are very proud to claim her as a Fellow Delawarean. She brought a message of profound truth and soul-searching in an age of ever increasing awareness of the world around us.

A lovely musical Interlude was presented by Mrs. E. William Coleman, vocalist and member of our Chapter. She was accompanied by our First Vice Regent, Mrs. J. Armin Poehler.

There were many artifacts, programs and mementoes of former meetings on display. Among the collection was original copy of our state song “Our Delaware.” Needless to say, these objects were very much enjoyed by those present.

The Chapter was proud to present 50-year pins to 4 Chapter members, namely Mrs. Austin V. Myers, Mrs. Massey Paul, Mrs. Walter S. Williams and Miss Alfreda Hance. Mrs. Erwin Frees Seimes presented one to Miss Alfreda Hance; the chapter Regent delivered the other 3 pins to those, who were not able to attend the celebration.

Mrs. James H. Scott, Honorary State and Chapter Regent, had the honor of cutting the first piece of the birthday cake.

Members in charge of the celebration were Mrs. Ralph A. McCloskey, chairman, Mrs. Fred A. Brunck, Miss Helen Scott, Mrs. Earl J. Helmbreck and Mrs. Joseph J. Massara.

The decorations were made by the Juniors under the direction of Mrs. John R. Dudwitt as chairman.

Pennsylvania Regents. At the close of the 74th Annual Pennsylvania State Conference in Harrisburg, the Regents of the Southeastern District began making plans for a surprise luncheon to honor Mrs. James M. Anderson, Jr., the Southeastern Director for the unbiased and constant assistance she had so impartially given the Regents in her District.

On a beautiful day in November, Mrs. Ashmead White, Honorary President General NSDAR of Lubec, Maine; Mrs. F. A. Paul Ziesmer, State Regent; Mrs. George Clinton Custer, State Registrar, gathered with the Regents in the Radnor Room of the Pennsylvania Suite at the Treadway Inn, St. David's, for a luncheon party for Mrs. Anderson. The uniqueness of the occasion was the fact that the affair was unprecedented. The complete surprise of the guest of honor set the stage for the relaxed gaiety of the party. In appreciation for her friendship and the guidance she has given to the Chapter Regents, Mrs. Anderson was presented with her past State Officer’s pin, which was inscribed “from your District Regents.”

At the Elizabeth Benton dedication are pictured: Mrs. Arthur D. James; Mrs. Howard L. Kipfer, Regent; Mrs. J. Howard Hart; Janet Doubleday; Mrs. John C. Stapels, Vice President General.

Elizabeth Benton (Kansas City, Mo.). The Regent and Past Regents of Elizabeth Benton Chapter assembled for dedication of a flag and pole at historic Wornall House, October 4, 1970. The flag and pole a gift from Elizabeth Benton Chapter are in memory of Mrs. B. Webb Strain, deceased, a faithful and beloved member.

Mrs. J. Howard Hart in her dedicatory address spoke of the three characteristic phases or qualities of Mrs. Strain’s life: Her belief in God; love of her home; and devotion to the memory of her forebears.

North Riding (Great Neck, N.Y.) celebrated American History Month with a Proclamation issued by the County Executive, which resulted in county-wide publicity. The Proclamation was on view during February in the Manhasset Public Library as part of a display marking AHM. Checks in the amount of $60 covering the purchase of 14 history books for young people plus one Patriots Index and 4 Supplements were presented to 4 area libraries. The Chapter also had a display in a bank window to publicize AHM. The American History essay contest which was conducted in 4 schools resulted in 8 first and second place winners and one honorable mention. 9 American History Certificates of Award and 76 Certificates of Appreciation were handed out, with the Regent and Historian visiting an assembly at the school with the most participants to make the presentations. First place winners and their Mothers were invited to the March Chapter meeting where each student received an engraved bronze medal and a book based on local history, “Cow Neck Rebels,” autographed by the author.

Another Chapter event occurred in February 25 when 175 students of the Great Neck Adult Basic Education classes (many foreign-born preparing for citizenship) were entertained at an annual party following their evening classes. A program of magic put on by the husband of a Chapter member and singing by “The Mutual Funs,” a Long Island Ladies Barber Shop Quartet, provided the entertainment. Chapter members served homemade cake and cider to the guests.

Dodge City (Dodge City, Kans.) honored its organizing regent, Mrs. J. C. Denious, at the George Washington Tea and guest day on February 27, at the parlor of the First United Methodist Church. The honoree was presented a gold and blue 50-year DAR membership pin by the chapter regent, Mrs. Gerald Bailes.

Mrs. Denious was first a member-at-large, joining NSDAR April 17, 1920, on the Revolutionary War services of her ancestor, Corp. John Reaugh of Pennsylvania. Her National Number is 154506. Both the planning meeting on LONE TREE (Greensburg, Ind.). The accompanying picture shows Mrs. Wilbur Ford, regent of Lone Tree Chapter at the left, Mrs. Charles Osburn, chairman of library project, at center and Miss Martha Samuels, librarian of Greensburg Public Library, right, at the presentation to the library of the first book, DAR Patriot Index, for the Genealogical Memorial Library.

Mrs. Ford holds a hand-carved cherry wood plaque, carved by Charles Osburn and presented by him to the Chapter to hang in the library. The name of a deceased member will be inscribed on the plaque at the time of her death and her family will be notified that a sum of money has been placed in the Genealogical Memorial Library fund in her memory.

In the photograph, are shown the Regent, Mrs. A. B. Augustin, Ohio Northwest District Director, Mrs. Ralph E. Nicoll of Marysville; and five new members of our chapter, Mrs. William Haley, Mrs. Robert Miller of Crestline, Mrs. Eddie Shelton, Mrs. Thomas Kightlinger and Mrs. Steven Lemke.

All new members are descendants of the Revolutionary War soldier, John Irey, who was born Jan. 1 1759, at Loudoun County, Virginia. His wife was Sara Ann Pool. He served under General Lafayette at the time of Lord Cornwallis' surrender at Yorktown. He came to Marion County in 1830 and settled in Claridon Township where he died in 1837. He is buried in the old Caledonia cemetery.

Also honored at meeting was the former state treasurer, Mrs. D. J. M. Sansotta.

Arrangements were in charge of the Social Committee: Mrs. George Rinker and Mrs. A. M. Young, Co-Chairmen; assisting: Miss Margaret Topffiff, Mrs. W. P. Schott, Mrs. Ralph W. Williams, and Mrs. Carroll M. Elsey.

GOVERNOR EDWARD COLES (Mattoon, Illinois). Dinner was served on Thursday, March 18, 1971 to celebrate the Golden anniversary. Two living charter members were honored, Mrs. William H. Roney (Mabel Wamsley Roney) descended from Daniel Linder, and Mrs. Harold Popham (Bennetta Capen Popham) descended from Benjamin Capen.

Mrs. Roney served as Regent of her chapter in 1933-35, and in almost all of its offices and committees, with dedicated service and devotion. Mrs. Roney was further recognized at the dinner by unanimous vote to sponsor her eligibility to receive the award of merit, the fifty-year pin. To honor her membership of fifty years, Mrs. Roney has placed in the Mattoon Public Library two books: Lewis and Clark, Pioneering Naturalists, by Paul Russell Cutright, and Expeditions of John (Continued on page 622)
Introduction to Parliamentary Law

The following subjects will be included and discussed in the parliamentary articles during the next three years: Presiding; Duties of Officers; The Secretary and the Minutes; Treasurer and Financial Reports; Order of Business—Introduction of Business—Conducting a Meeting; Classification of Motions; Budgets; Committees; Rules of Order, Special Rules of Order, Standing Rules; Bylaws—Adoption, Amending and Revision; Convention Rules; State Conferences; Nominating Committee, Nominations and Election, Tellers Report; The Role of the Parliamentarian. There will also appear questions and answers.

These articles will be designed to aid the officers, chairmen and members who wish to preside effectively, and expedite the business of the society, quickly and efficiently in a gracious, courteous, and considerate way. It is important that not only the presiding officer, but all officers and members should be informed as to the basic rules of parliamentary procedure. There is a worthwhile reason for each parliamentary rule.

It is intended that the articles will be informative as applied to procedure in conducting the business of the society. The prime purpose being to instruct members in the use of parliamentary procedure, and to encourage the study of parliamentary law. Also, to urge the study of the State and National Bylaws, to be informed as to their rulings and comply with them. In addition, a careful study of the DAR Handbook should be made.

Robert's Rules of Order Revised, adopted as its parliamentary authority by our Society, is the general rules of order, and the rules contained therein govern except where the rules are not consistent with or in accord with the bylaws. The bylaws supercede the parliamentary authority. Parliamentary Law, by Robert, is most valuable as a source material for the proper interpretation of parliamentary rules, and for research in the solution of problems. General Robert says in the preface to Parliamentary Law, "The two books are in complete harmony; one is adapted to the needs of societies as their rules of order, and therefore is condensed and easy of reference; the other is not suited for such a purpose, but, since it abounds in illustrations, can be read without difficulty by one not informed as to parliamentary law."

Both Robert’s Rules of Order Revised and Parliamentary Law written by General Henry M. Robert should be purchased by every organization for use by the presiding officer and should be acquired by members for use in the organization. A careful reading of these books is highly recommended.

A parliamentary authority, which constitutes the general rules of order should be adopted by every permanent organization and having adopted one the society should conform to the rulings of their authority, and should adopt such additional rules as are required for its special use, under Special Rules of Order and Standing Rules. (R.O.R. p. 268) When these rules of order have been adopted, they are binding upon the organization and constitutes the Society's rules of order.

Parliamentary Law comprises the rules and customs governing deliberative assemblies in cases not covered by their own specific rules and bylaws. An orderly method of procedure provides for the right of the majority to rule or to decide, for the right of the minority to be heard and for the right of the absentees to be protected. Presiding officers should see that these precepts are carried out in the deliberations of the assembly, and that the rules are enforced. Every member of a society should be familiar with the rules and customs of deliberative assemblies. (P.L. p. 3; R.O.R. p. 13)

This is the purpose of parliamentary law, which provides a way of bringing basic principles and essential rules into practice. Rules that are to be applied in the correct procedure in expediting business in proper order, with care and efficiency. Our parliamentary rules direct the course of action for an orderly approach towards carrying out the will of the society.

The bylaws and rules adopted by the local chapters and state organizations should conform with the bylaws of the National Society. What we need to know to solve most of our problems can be found in the state and national bylaws, the parliamentary authority, and the DAR Handbook, by reading the provisions applicable to the specific problem. There is no doubt that an answer may be found. Parliamentary law plays such an important part in the decisions we make on the local, state and national level.

The following quotation is from Robert's Rules of Order Newly Revised, "Where there is no law, but every man does what is right in his own eyes, there is the least of real liberty."

NOTICE: For the last two years now Mr. Hartline has been collecting information on Soldiers of Marion County, Ohio and their immediate families. The period covered runs from the War of 1776 up to and including the Spanish American War. My goal is to compile this material into book form and to have it published in time for the Sesquicentennial celebration in Marion County in 1972.

If there is anyone who has information on an ancestor who was a soldier of Marion County for this period, he would be very happy to publish any extra pertinent data they might have to offer. This would serve to clarify any mistakes which might have been made in previous editions and reports. There would be no charge for the publishing of this additional information. Please write to Mr. David L. Hartline, 1002 Fairwood Ave., Marion, Ohio 43302. Thank you.

Wisconsin: This casualty List is from the Quebec Expedition and is one of the very few compiled for the Revolutionary War. It was compiled from General Arnold's report to General George Washington. This record comes to us from Earl J. Tower National Revolutionary Graves Committee of the Sons of the American Revolution.

The Glen Sanders Mansion located at the Gateway to Scotia, New York was built by Alexander Leanderste Glen in 1713. Incorporated in the house were the massive beams and wide board floors salvaged from the former Glen House built in 1658 near the present site. The first Glen House was demolished due to erosion caused by the Mohawk River. Deborah Glen, daughter of Alexander Leanderste Glen was given the mansion as a wedding gift upon her marriage to Glen Sanders of Albany, N.Y. The Mansion remained in possession of the family for over 250 years until the death of J. Glen Sanders in 1960. The priceless Glen Sanders collection of more than 200 items of silver, china, paintings and furniture is now in the Colonial Williamsburg Museum. The present owner, Arthur K. Olsen is restoring the Mansion for a museum housing paintings and antiques:

This building, typical of early country churches in Western New York, was built in 1834 with cobblestones from the fields nearby. An inscription on the stone tablet over the door reads: “Erected by the First Universalist Society in the year 1834 A.D.”, followed by the words “God is Love.” Now owned by the Cobblestone Society, Albion, New York, the church is situated on the north side of Ridge Road, a few miles north of Albion. Its type of stone masonry was the work of masons who had settled in the area after helping to construct locks and bridges for the newly completed Erie Canal. The church and its museum, and a cobblestone schoolhouse, restored by the Cobblestone Society, are open to visitors at stated times.
TEA PARTY BREWS WOMAN’S RIGHTS
Waterloo, New York, July 13, 1848

This stately mansion, now minus its east and west wings, was where a husband’s words, “Why don’t you do something about it?”, led to the plans for the first Woman’s Rights Convention. Over Mrs. Richard P. Hunt’s tea table came the call for woman to take her rightful place beside man, not behind him. The Hunt homestead was a center for social and civic events in and around Waterloo, making this Quaker family leaders in the development of the area. They were constantly helping the needy and became a driving force in the cause of Abolition.

Mrs. Lucretia Mott, long an advocate of the underprivileged, and Mrs. Elizabeth Cady Stanton of Seneca Falls were the guiding hands in writing the call, the Declaration of Sentiments and the Resolutions to be acted upon at the Convention. Two others, Mrs. Martha C. Wright of Auburn, who was Mrs. Mott’s sister, and Mrs. Mary Ann McClintock, another Quaker, of Waterloo eagerly joined in the plans to right the wrongs and humiliations long suffered by women.

So, as eventide fell, the Mills of the Gods were once more set in motion for their slowly leveling grind. The Convention was called for the 19th and 20th of July 1848 to take place just two and a half miles to the east in the Wesleyan Chapel of Seneca Falls, New York.

The Hunt homestead at 401 East Main St., Waterloo, is now owned by Mr. and Mrs. Irving Greenwood.
Pieter Lefferts settled in Flatbush in 1660 and a year later was given a deed to the property in parchment by Peter Stuyvesant. The original house burned during the Battle of Long Island, August 27, 1776. John Lefferts, who had inherited it, salvaged what he could and rebuilt this Dutch Colonial structure. It was acquired by the City of New York in 1918 and removed from its original location at 563 Flatbush Avenue to its present site. It is entrusted to the care of Fort Greene Chapter, NSDAR, and serves as their Chapter house.

The Lefferts Homestead is open to the public from 1:00 to 5:00 p.m. Sunday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday except the second Saturday of the month from November to May.

MRS. GEORGE UPHAM BAYLIES

The WESTCHESTER REGENTS ROUNDTABLE
New York State is proud to Honor
Jeannette Osborn ("J.O.") Baylies
State Regent of New York

- At the Local Level—Mrs. Baylies, a third generation DAR, was Regent and a Director of Harvey Birch Chapter.

- At the State Level—She was State Director of District IX, State Recording Secretary and State Vice Regent.

- At the National Level—“J.O.” was a National Vice Chairman and Chairman of Membership, and organized and was National Chairman of the DAR Speakers Staff.

- At the Personal Level—She has long devoted her talents and energies to DAR. Starting as a member of the Children of the American Revolution from Massachusetts she, upon transferring to DAR, served as a State and National Page, and organized the first Junior DAR Motor Service, subsequently serving as its Chairman.

In 1966, on the occasion of the Diamond Jubilee Administration, she presented through Harvey Birch and New York State, twin flagpoles which flank the entrance of Memorial Continental Hall. One is in memory of her mother and the other honoring Mrs. William A. Becker, Honorary President General.

ST. ANDREW BAY (Panama City, Florida) climaxed its History Month observances by entertaining Mrs. Lawrence R. Andrus, Reporter General to the Smithsonian Institution, at their February luncheon-meeting. Mrs. E. W. Van Horn, Regent, presided and Miss Catherine Martin, past State Registrar, introduced the honor guest, Mrs. Andrus, who gave a very interesting and informative talk on the Smithsonian.

History Month was a very active period for the Chapter beginning with the proclamation by the Mayor in late January. Early in the month winners of the American History Essay Contest were presented with their awards by the Chapter Chairman, Mrs. M. M. Traxler. All the 196 pupils who participated in the contest were given certificates of appreciation and money awards were given to the four County winners. The chapter Historian, Mrs. D. C. Campbell, and Mrs. Traxler arranged an attractive display of copies of historic paintings and documents at the Public Library, which is also, the Northwest Regional Library.

Two local radio stations, the TV station, and five High Schools cooperated in the Month’s observance by giving daily announcements over the air and at School assembly meetings. Historic material was supplied several schools for their bulletin boards. Excellent coverage of all activities was given by the press.

History Month observances acted as a lever to re-activate, the Apalachee Society, C.A.R., and it is gaining members and interest under the Senior President, Mrs. Neil Carr, vice-regent of the chapter.

Also, during the month new Junior American Citizens Clubs were organized. Mrs. Marvin McCain, chapter chairman of J.A.C., has ten Clubs in six schools and interest is growing, she says.

During History Month the names of the Chapter's four Good Citizen High School Senior girls were announced. Their awards were presented at the regular March luncheon when they and their mothers were entertained. Also, medals for outstanding work in American history will be given in each of the County's High Schools.

ELIZABETH CASS (Grosse Pointe Farms, Ml.). Rain and the storm-tossed waters of Lake St. Clair just outside the meeting rooms of the Elizabeth Cass Chapter, made the perfect background for their November 1970 program.

Their 28th Birthday-Luncheon program was based on the 350th Anniversary of the Mayflower Adventure. Mrs. Urban W. Boersch (Program Chairman) was able to obtain a film from the British Travel Authority which depicted so beautifully the historic places in England today that are in such splendid state of preservation and restoration that the evidence of the faith, courage and power of that small group of Pilgrims still leaves its imprint... not only on the New World, but also on England and the whole modern world.

The film was followed by a luncheon based on foods probably available to the Pilgrims in 1620, with tables decorated with dried-flower arrangements, dried and arranged by a chapter member, and a replica of the Mayflower. (Continued on page 631)

A local historian dramatized the history of the Pilgrims and their determination to be free.

The members and guests sang a hymn of the period and together read the Mayflower Compact. We adjourned with the recitation of the American's Creed, which seemed to take on renewed significance.

Other programs this year have covered the National Motto: "When Law Ends, Tyranny Begins"; two historic book reviews, "Those who Love" by Stone and "The Music Merchants," by Goldin; DAR Schools; American Indians, and our own Award-winning slide program "Birds of North America."

Our State Lineage Research Chairman, Mrs. Neil Ring, assisted our Chapter Chairman, Mrs. Cyrus Weatherby, in a most successful 3-day Genealogical Workshop, with an enrollment of 30, including an all-day trip, by chartered bus, to Detroit's Public Library, Burton Historic Collection, for a conducted tour of and personalized instruction in the use of the genealogical facilities. A second trip was made upon popular request.

We presented Certificates of Honor at our Community Memorial Day Services: ten Good Citizen Awards; two Good Citizenship medals; four Certificates of Award and eight Certificates of Appreciation, and two books for the American History Essay contest; two displays in our local library dramatized Constitution Week and American History Week.

The sale of American flags, calendars, jewelry, and a "Talent Table" enabled us to fulfill all our Honor Roll requirements and to contribute to twenty other DAR areas.

—Archie Marie Reed.

MERION (Bala, Pennsylvania). On October 28, 1971 a milestone was passed by the members of the Merion Chapter, climaxing their 75th Anniversary year with the marking of the grave of Louisa Heston Paxson, a charter member of the Chapter. Mrs. Paxson was a "Real Daughter" of the American Revolution and is buried in the Union Cemetery, Schykill Haven, Pennsylvania.

Louisa Heston was the 14th and youngest child of Colonel Edward Warner Heston. Her mother, Sarah Hall

BUCCLEUCH MANSION
NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J.

Buccleuch was built in 1734 and occupied until 1774 by Anthony White whose wife was Elizabeth, daughter of Governor Lewis Morris. Their son was Gen. Anthony Walton White, Commander of the 1st Regiment of the Continental Army.

It was occupied by a British General during the Revolutionary War. Later in 1820 it was owned and occupied by Col. Joseph Warren Scott, who named it Buccleuch in honor of the Duke of Buccleuch, and later by his daughter Lavinia, Mrs. Richard Dey, and his grandson Anthony Dey.

It was given with its land to the City of New Brunswick in 1911, with Jersey Blue Chapter DAR given custody of the home as a museum.

FLEMING CASTLE
FLEMINGTON, N. J.

Fleming Castle, the oldest house in Flemington, was built in 1756 by Samuel Fleming as an inn and home. In contrast to the few log cabins in the area it was considered to be magnificent and people came from far and near to see it. Early residents wrote of sitting by the upstairs windows and watching packs of wolves go by in the moonlight. There was a village of friendly Indians not far to the west.

Both Samuel Fleming and his son-in-law, Colonel Thomas Lowrey were close friends of George Washington.

In 1928 Fleming Castle was purchased, restored, and presented to Colonel Lowrey Chapter, DAR, and a second marble tablet placed on the house at the dedication. The DAR uses the rear wing as its headquarters, with the upstairs room a library and museum, and the downstairs used for meetings.

ABRAHAM CLARK CHAPTER HOUSE
ROSELLE, N. J.

The Abraham Clark Chapter House is owned and used jointly with the Abraham Clark Chapter #14 SAR. It was built in 1940 on property once part of the farm of Abraham Clark, a Signer of the Declaration of Independence. It is a replica of the farmhouse where he was born and it stands near the location of the original house. The ground floor has a meeting room and museum containing many memorabilia of the Revolutionary period.

BOXWOOD HALL
ELIZABETH, N. J.

The Boudinot Chapter DAR is privileged to hold its meetings in the beautiful old, restored home of Elias Boudinot at 1073 East Jersey Street, Elizabeth, N. J., through the courtesy of the State of New Jersey which restored the house.

The home called Boxwood has borrowed from Mount Vernon planted along the front entrance walk. Elias Boudinot was an American patriot, statesman and first president of the Continental Congress. George Washington visited and had luncheon at the home on his way to his inauguration in New York City. was his second wife. She was born in the Philadelphia area on November 25, 1801 and died in Schuylkill Haven on March 26, 1899. She was 93 years old when she joined the Daughters of the American Revolution as a Charter member of Merion Chapter, together with Miss Ellen Heston and Mrs. Florence Heston Jones, also descendants of Colonel Heston.

On February 16, 1895 when Merion Chapter, NSDAR was organized, Louisa Heston Paxson became one of the thirteen Charter members. One of the projects during that first year of the Merion Chapter was to make a 13 star flag by hand. Mrs. Paxson cut the first star for this flag which is still well preserved after 75 years and is put on display in a local bank every year for Constitution Week and for the Martha Williams Society C.A.R. for Patriotic Education Week. During the Dedication ceremony this old flag was held for all to see by two of Mrs. Paxson's great-great granddaughters, Mrs. Edward Fenimore, a member of Merion Chapter and her sister Mrs. John H. Truxton, and a great-great-great granddaughter Julie Gill.

The marker placed on the grave of their Real Daughter by members of the Merion Chapter was unveiled by her great-great-great granddaughter Marni Lynn Gill. Marni Lynn and Julie are daughters of Mrs. Ronald Gill and granddaughters of Mrs. Paul J. Feeser. A large group of Mrs. Paxson's descendants were present for the impressive ceremony.

Mrs. Edward Hungerford, Regent of Merion Chapter, presided at the cere-

OUR HERITAGE – STABILITY AND STEADY GROWTH

Founded in 1819, the University of Cincinnati has demonstrated stability and steady growth through dedicated leadership. The first Colleges of Medicine, Law, Music, and Pharmacy outside the thirteen original colonies were established at UC.

A measure of a university is its alumni and UC counts among its sons William Howard Taft, Champ Clark, Nicholas Longworth, Charles Gates Dawes, Willis Van Devanter, and others.

Through its professor, Dr. Albert B. Sabin, UC gave the world its safest and most effective polio vaccine.

Mrs. Ralph B. Ashenfelter, who dedicated the marker. Mrs. Russell J. Wittmer, Chaplain, gave the Call to Remembrance. The Pledge of Allegiance was led by Mrs. Calvin C. Wigginton, Chairman of National Defense. Mrs. James M. An’-erson, Jr., South Eastern Director, introduced Mrs. F. A. Paul Ziesmer, State Regent, who graciously greeted visitors and members and commended the Chapter for this endeavor.

Following the unveiling and the benediction, all participants and guests were invited to the family homestead of Louisa Heston Paxson where they were delightfully entertained at Tea by her great granddaughter Mrs. Paul J. Feeser.
