Cover Story

Members attending the 87th Continental Congress were greeted by the spectacular sight of the flags of the 50 States and of the District of Columbia. Flown from a specially installed rack on the D Street Ramp of Constitution Hall, the flags provided a colorful and unusual note to a week filled with meetings and festivities. This was the first time that such a display has been presented.

The cover photo, which features the flags, looking toward the Administration Building, is by Betsey Himmel, Advertising Manager.
During the 87th Continental Congress Senator Strom Thurmond, member of the Board of Trustees, Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge, presented the George Washington Honor Medal to the DAR Magazine and its Editor. Senator Thurmond said in part: "... I am indeed honored to be here on this occasion and, as a Director of the Freedoms Foundation, I feel very honored to present to the magazine of the DAR the George Washington Medal.

"I don't know of any finer tribute that could come to the magazine, the DAR Magazine, than this particular medal. It truly represents America. It represents the traditions and the ideals for which this country stands. . . ."

Dear Members:

For the benefit of those unable to attend the 87th Continental Congress, it is a pleasure to share with you the Opening Night Remarks of the President General:

It is with pride and pleasure that I warmly welcome everyone this evening to the First Continental Congress at which I am presiding as your 39th President General.

The welfare and protection of our beloved country and our Constitutional Republic is the primary concern of this organization, as well as our Objectives—Historical, Patriotic and Educational—laid out by our Founders 87 years ago in 1890.

Not as reactionaries but as progressives, we must carry forward the spirit of America, surrendering to no one the sacred trust committed to our hands; a trust we are honor bound to pass on unimpaired to our children. As instruments of service to young and old, rich and poor, native and foreign born, the Daughters of the American Revolution can weave the elements of national life into harmony with the Constitution of the United States for Home, Country and God.

Our progress as the largest and most prestigious women's patriotic and hereditary organization in our country today depends as in the past on meeting current challenges with knowledge and vision. To do so, we must constantly take stock of ourselves and where we are going; strengthen the work through our committees where needed; bring our programs up to date to meet the challenges of the present; modernize without deserting our original objectives. Our todays and tomorrows are not only a continuation of our yesterdays. Although rightfully proud of our records and accomplishments of the past, we must always be in competition with ourselves and project our work into the present and future.

Much of what will be accomplished in the future will be made possible by a spirit of mutual cooperation among the members—a spirit founded on pride in the Society and its potential.

Our values not only prevail but endure. The DAR offers an overall program, the scope of which is so far-reaching and so diversified in its activities, that it would be virtually impossible to find someone whose interests would not lean towards at least one of our objectives and the various committees under these headings.

We have a heritage and we are the richer for it. We, of course, are proud of our beautiful block of buildings, our Genealogical Library, our Museum with its priceless items; but admittedly these are material or physical things. We also have other values, albeit more nebulous, which very definitely have prevailed throughout these 87 years of our illustrious history. For example, as we look at our American Flag we not only see the physical Flag, but we see what our Flag stands for and what it means to us. By the same token, we not only count our members at over 207,000 strong, but we realize what they represent to the National Society—one of its most valuable resources. The strength of our Society, to a great extent, lies with our members. And when you review our objectives, our policies, our ideals, you know that we have steadfastly remained faithful to them. During the turmoil and turbulence of the years, we have not strayed from these objectives and we shall not stray, but continue to pursue them as our Founders would have wished and envisioned. We remain always faithful to our great organization and therein lies our true value.

The motto for this Administration is Strength, Leadership and Growth, words in themselves that denote the tremendous undertaking that has made the National Society what it is today. The record of our history is clear.

We have established great goals for ourselves in this Administration, but no greater than our capacity to attain them and no greater than it is fitting for the DAR with her magnificent past and shining future to reach.

Faithfully,

Jeannette O. Baylies
President General, NSDAR
Tonight I am going to speak to you about what I consider to be several of our problems. We have difficulty today putting our finger on our national policy but we do, in fact, have an official national objective and it goes like this: to preserve the United States, to safeguard our institutions, to protect the welfare and security of our people, and to pursue our objectives as being a leader in the Free World. That is where we stand.

Oliver Wendell Holmes said, "In this great world today it is not where we stand but the direction in which we are moving," and it is this direction which causes me considerable concern and I think if you take a composite view of what is taking place today, there are many rocky shoals around. Washington learned during his first term as President that in a democracy the people can waste and exhaust themselves and he said, "Every democracy we have had in the past has committed suicide." Fortunately, he has been very wrong as far as our country is concerned and let us hope that we can pull ourselves up now and take hold and continue what I consider to be the original head start given by the fathers of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

In order to understand where we are today and where we might be moving, let me go back briefly and recite to you what has taken place over the years. First, historically, national security has always been our primary objective. When our country was first born we were protected by two very broad oceans and while we recognized that most of us came from Europe, we did not want to get involved in any way with the problems of Europe. President Washington warned against entangling alliances, and we were able to stay in that nationalistic posture all during the nineteenth century and we did not get involved in any way with the problems of Europe. At the end of World War II, I think there were three things that hit the American people between the eyes and brought about a change in our policy. One was that we were finally convinced that in the future, no matter where there was a problem—and certainly I think you can see that as being the case in the future—the United States is going to get involved in one way or another. The second thing that hit the American people between the eyes was that no longer could we retreat between two oceans, wait for our allies to fight for a while and then go forward. with our great industrial effort and support them. By this time we were only thirty minutes away from the possibility of a nuclear attack from Russia on the United States, and of course for the nuclear weapon, from the submarine the flight time is much shorter than that, so the nuclear weapon put an entirely new dimension on warfare of the future.

But lastly, and most importantly, before the guns had even stopped shooting it was clear that the Russians had no intention of working for peace. They immediately violated the Potsdam Agreement. They made efforts to get into Iran, into Turkey, into Greece; they tried to seize Berlin as the capital of East Germany; they certainly supported and motivated the Korean War—and there are those today, though, who suggest that it was the United States that provoked these things. I have had members of Congress ask me the question whether this wasn’t so, but it certainly should be clear to all of us that the Soviets were then, and they are now, moving forward with a grand design of conquest which will lead them to domination of the world, and I think those who have not lived through that, and particularly those who suggest that the United States is responsible, make a mockery of history.

It was the strong determination of President Truman, with his Marshall Plan, with the initiation of NATO, that put a stop to this; and then, of course, under President Eisenhower we made all these international alliances: The North Atlantic Treaty Organization, NATO; the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization, SEATO; the Central Treaty Organization, the Australia-New Zealand-American Organization, and we, in good faith, made mutual defense treaties with about forty-two nations and we had a policy in those days we called containment and this was, by large, understood by the American people.

Then when Mr. Kennedy came in, I am sure many of you were present when he made that very stirring statement, "Let every nation know, whether they wish us good or evil, that we will fight the fight, pay the price, make any sacrifice to make certain that freedom is not removed from this globe," or words to that effect.

Unfortunately, some of the people that I think wrote that speech, when the Vietnam War began to boil up, forgot about some of those things and they weren’t quite willing to pay any price or to fight any fight for the support or the stopping of events. In any event, under Mr. Kennedy’s administration, and continuing with Mr. Johnson’s administration, there was, in fact, a flavor of innovation as opposed to containment and we developed the Green Berets and we got involved in Vietnam.

Well, Mr. Johnson then made a speech, I think it was in Houston, Texas, where he said three things: he said, "We will not invade North Vietnam; we will not overthrow Ho Chi Minh, and we seek no wider war," which was an effort to tell China and Russia to "stay out of this; this is really not your problem and we are not going to let this expand."

Consequently, we went into the war and fought with our hands tied behind our backs, because the facts are that the only reason one ever goes to war is to remove the government that is doing something you don’t like, and if you say at the outset that you are going to leave that government in power, regardless, you have really got a problem.

I could talk about this in great detail. I think the fact that we never did go into North Vietnam really explains incidents like my life, because the young American soldier had to identify the North Vietnamese as opposed to the South Vietnamese in an environment, in the jungles where women were carrying hand grenades in their brassieres and in their babies’ diapers, and they never knew just what was going to happen. It was a terrible position to put these young men in, and this situation would not have existed had we gone into North Vietnam.

I know you are tired hearing about Vietnam—so am I—but certainly we are really paying for the folly of that unhappy period in our history.

Toward the end, we had the Cooper-Church Amendment which forbade us to do any more bombing in Southeast Asia, and of course in very short order the North Vietnamese were in Saigon. We passed the War Powers Act which, in effect, makes it very difficult for the President of the United States to make a move on short notice and this in itself constitutes a significant weakening, in my opinion, of our deterrent posture.

When President Nixon came in, I think Mayor Washington has already mentioned the environment. I think it is fair to say that the country was in a period of near anarchy. At least those of us living in Washington thought that things certainly were not normal. At the same time, we had 549,500 men in South East Asia and we had a very difficult time getting them out.

Here again I think you see a perception of the world at large as to where the United States is heading, and I would like now to talk about two areas, namely, the domestic area and the foreign area.

When I became a midshipman I took an oath, and everyone takes that oath who comes into the military organization or into an important position in the Executive and Legislative branches of our government, and it says, in effect, that you swear to protect the United States against all enemies, both foreign and domestic. Let’s see how well we are doing that.

Turning first to the domestic side, I think, first, that the hearings, together with the many, many comments in press, radio and newspapers and magazines that have been made about the CIA, are nothing short of disaster. Whether we like it or not, if we are going to live in the world the way it is and not try to live in it the way we would like it to be, we must recognize—again I go back to the point I made before—that the Soviets are engaged in a grand design of world conquest. Not one time, as I listened to the hearings in the Senate, did anyone point out what the KGB is doing in this country. It was all how terrible the CIA was doing, and most of this was centered down in Chile with respect to the Allende affair, and no one mentioning the fact that Allende was a Communist, that the Russians were planning to set up a naval base in Chile which would have been the first military base that the Communists had down there, and that they had his full support. Certainly it was not in the interest of the United States to have a Communist leader in a country in South America such as Chile.

But I think today we have a situation where young people will be reluctant to enter the CIA because a man must be recognized, he must feel that he is respected by his fellow man, and he will never make the sacrifices and get into an organization like the CIA unless the public at large recognizes that it is mandatory that we have and maintain an organization such as that.

Next, we have the FBI and here, again, in this age of terrorism, I simply cannot understand what is taking place in the many efforts to demoralize and destroy the FBI. It was George Washington who asked the No. 1 question, in my mind. He said, "Why should those who prey on the very vitals of our country be allowed to roam at will when we know that their every effort will go toward attacking the institutions that we love so well?" It appears today that now, because the FBI was doing everything possible to prevent bombing and murder and killing, rather than the targets for their efforts being punished, the FBI is about to be punished, and I think it's crazy.

The next thing I would like to talk about is taxes. Everybody is worried about taxes and today is a good day to talk about that. But here, again, you hear over and over again that we are going to soak the rich and transfer wealth, etc., etc. Well, if one looks at the statistics that are published by none other than the IRS, one will see that 93 percent of the taxes are paid by 50 percent of the people and 7 percent of the taxes are paid by the other 50 percent. You can make quite a political speech about reducing the taxes on the low-income people because if you reduce the taxes of only 7 percent of the federal take, you haven't made very much impact one way or the other, but it is a good way to get 50 percent of the votes for 7 percent of the money.

Next I want to come around to the bureaucracy. Bureaucracy grows and grows and grows. Last year the federal government put out 25,000 regulations. The Ely Chemical Company tried to bring a drug onto the market and it took, I think, 125,000 triple copies that weighed a ton and a half, and I don't think they have authority to sell the arthritis medicine yet. But time and time again you see the government step in. The reports that General Motors has to make on the manufacture of their cars, just the cost of the reports alone, has raised the cost of the car $200 each, and I happen to know a little about the oil companies. One company that I am associated with must spend $1 billion for the next five years on the ecology, and this won't add one cent to the Gross National Product.

You may not know it, but when you get into the clean air problem, people want everything perfect. The cost of raising the clear air capability of a scrubber some 94 percent to 97 percent—that 3 percent costs as much as the 94 percent. In other words, it doubles the cost of the equipment to go from 94 to 97 percent, but yet that is what we are plugging for.

What I am trying to say is that it appears to me that, unlike many countries that I have seen myself, traveling all over the world, particularly Japan and Germany and France and England, and so on, in our country we have an adversary relationship between government and business and every difficulty seems to be thrown in the path of the businessman who is trying to expand his operation and, consequently, create more jobs and more prosperity, more taxes, and less federal deficit.

Finally on this side of the coin, I want to talk about defense. Certainly I began by saying, as I did at the outset, that, historically, security has been the No. 1 objective of this Nation; that if we do not provide for the defense of our country, all other problems will be moot, particularly in the face of what the Soviets are doing. They are building tanks seven times as fast as we are. They have just one shipyard building nuclear submarines that has a capability that exceeds the total shipbuilding capability of the entire United States. If we had the same defense budget they do in terms of the production of material, it would be over $200 billion.

They have many, many new missiles but at the same time, while all of this is going on, we have stopped production of the B-1, we have stopped the development or production of the MX missile; we are now going to hold up on the neutron weapon, and we are just continually stopping our weapon development and production while the Soviets go on and on and on, and I say this is a very dangerous situation.

One other thing I should just like to mention in connection with defense is the military man himself. Traditionally, the military man has been looked on in a kind of up-and-down cycle. As you know, Mr. Kipling said: "It's Johnnie this and Johnnie that, And throw him out, the brute; But it's 'Yes, sir, Mr. Atkins! When the guns begin to shoot.'"

But what I am concerned about is not so much the public attitude, although that is bad enough and I have heard young men tell their uncles, for instance, or their friends that they were going to West Point and the reply was, "Well, what are you going to do that for?" We have a volunteer force but here, again, the question arises whether you can get the personnel of the quality and quantity required in a real emergency.

But even more than that, during the Vietnam War there were so many detailed instructions sent from Washington that the military man today does not know what he can do and what he can't do. In other words, the exercise of initiative was much reduced and timely reaction is almost impossible to visualize today because the people in Washington want to know exactly what he is going to do, how he is going to do it. We have got more field marshals in this town than the Germans ever put together in the entire time that Bismarck was in power.

But the signal today is that if you want to get promoted, you must be willing to "play the game," regardless of the military aspects of the issue at hand, and I have noticed over and over again when the Joint Chiefs of Staff support an issue I hear it on TV every night. When they oppose an issue, not one word.

I think the military decisions should be left to the military people. They should be told what to do but not how to do it, and this doesn't have a thing to do with the issue of civilian control because the entire time I was in uniform, I have never heard one man do anything but support the concept of civilian control that is set forth in the Constitution. It is simply that trained professionals should be listened to for conduct of activities about which they are professionals.

Well, so much for that. There again I hope some of these things can be turned around and we can, hopefully, return to having pride in our country—quit damning our country. Why, some of the comments that have been made on the floor of the Senate in connection with this Panama Canal debate are, I think, certainly unbecoming a Senator, where they have talked about how we have been so cruel and how we have been so unfair and how we have been such an aggressor throughout the various parts of the world, and I say that the United States, having spent about $400 billion in Asia since World War II should not have to apologize to anyone for what we have done for the security and the health and the welfare and the well-being.
of the world at large.

But I am not sure that this has bought us love. What we need is not love; we need respect, and I think that the way to get respect is to be firm and to be determined and demonstrate to the world at large that we intend to safeguard the institutions that our fathers initiated at the outset of the forming of this great country.

Quickly, I should just like to shift over to the foreign affairs side of the coin where we are not doing very well, either. I am thinking of the impact of our withdrawal from Vietnam. Now we are giving serious consideration to withdrawing our forces from Korea. I was in Korea in December, and Japan, too, and I can tell you those people over there are in a state of nervous uncertainty, and the minute they perceive that the United States is not willing to carry out our destiny and our duty as a Pacific Power, you will see right away all of these little countries (to use Henry Kissinger’s word) tilting in a direction we don’t like.

I mentioned briefly Panama. Tomorrow is the moment of truth. I imagine most people know how I feel about that, but I can just say that we are spending so much time in Africa (that I am going to talk about in a minute) in a search for, and certainly the support of majority rule, and I would hope that if that is such a good idea, we could have majority rule in the United States.

Now let me talk briefly about Africa, because what is happening now I think is a very, very serious thing. While there are problems there, of course, with Rhodesia and South Africa, and so on, and many of the black nations, I think the insidious thing is the almost total infiltration of Africa by the Cubans. There are 40,000 Cubans in Africa and they are working for the Russians, and the reason the Russians want this control is obvious—because Africa constitutes a great center of raw materials, critical in nature, and it also controls the flow of oil from the Middle East to Western Europe and the United States.

Make no bones about it, no matter what kind of Energy Bill we pass—if we ever do— the United States is going to be heavily dependent on Middle East oil for years and years to come and if that is interrupted, the standard of living, the way of life, the degree of employment, all these things that you kind of take for granted, are going to go out the window; and yet we don’t seem to get the point as to what is really taking place in Africa.

Over in Ethiopia, the Soviets, having been forced out of Egypt, are now regaining a solid position staring down the throat of the Red Sea and across the Red Sea to Saudi Arabia, which holds 40 percent of the known oil reserves of the world. And don’t think that the Soviets do not have as their primary objective denying the flow of that oil to the United States of America, because that would be one of the easiest ways that they could impact and frankly bring us to our knees—and I think it is high time we get with a program instead of talking about demilitarizing the Indian Ocean and doing all these idealistic and nice things. The Soviets must be just rolling in the aisle with laughter over what we are proposing these days and how we are going to get along with them in various and sundry places, as well as with the SALT Agreement, which is another story I won’t get into but will say simply that it has been my observation that the Soviets negotiate on the basis of “What’s mine is mine and what is yours is negotiable.” I have never seen them make one concession of any kind, and I don’t expect them to.

Furthermore, we are an open society. You can go downtown and buy a magazine for a dollar and get information that we have to run the most expensive systems to get and many times can’t get at all; or you can get the Congressional Record and learn the same thing. But the Soviets will not permit anyone to go to their country and verify what they are doing. They won’t even tell us how many missiles they have got. They say, “How many do you think we have got?” And we tell them and we start from there. So, it is going to be very difficult, I think, to reach any kind of meaningful agreement with the Soviet Union.

Finally, the Middle East. I know all of these ladies in this audience read the Bible, but if you read I Samuel, the 18th verse of the 9th Chapter, which was written three thousand years ago, it says, “And there was war again and David went forward to fight the Philistines.”

The point I am trying to make is that that is a very complex, emotional problem which stems from ‘way back thousands and thousands of years ago, and I don’t think there is a military conclusion to it but I do think that it has got to be solved; otherwise, if it is not solved there will be “and there was war again.”

Finally, let me talk just a little bit about terrorism, which I think, again, is a major problem. It is a problem because the move in the Western World is to appease terrorism. In Russia they don’t have any terrorism, not at all. What they are doing is financing terrorism so as to degrade and damage the democracies, but it is going all over the world and we must put a stop to it. Otherwise, I think it is going to get worse and worse and worse.

Now I have tonight, I know, talked in a rather despondent way, perhaps in a way that you might say that I am the voice of doom—but not at all. I want to say to you that no matter what problems we have, we still have the greatest country, the greatest potential, the greatest future if we recognize these problems and bring to bear on them the great patriotism, the capabilities and the tremendous resources in this great and wonderful country. I think if you look around you, you can recognize what we have, and I think the proof of the pudding is that everyone that gets an opportunity wants to emigrate to the United States. That, in itself, is proof enough of what a great country we have and what we have to offer.

Surely the ladies in the DAR make a major contribution to maintaining the standards and maintaining, I think, the principles and the institutions upon which this country depends; and I think everyone in this nation owes you a debt of gratitude and I know and am confident and am very pleased that you will continue this effort and your influence throughout the Nation.

People say to me, “All right, you have all these problems, what are you going to do about it?” Well, I think that people have got to get involved. We have, as we heard tonight, a government of the people, by the people, for the people, and so on; but the people can’t just go to the polls every fourth year and then expect the government to kick along the other three years and 364 days. If you are going to have a democracy for the people, it must be by the people.

I know I am perhaps in a minority here, but I am a great advocate of what I call a negative poll tax. I think if people do not go and vote, they ought to be fined.

The late Spring and early Summer of 1778 saw the Wyoming settlements along the Susquehanna River in present day Pennsylvania alive with apprehension and anxiety. The fertile valley was the coveted prize in a power struggle which pitted Connecticut Yankees against Pennamites, Colonials against the British, white men against the Indians of the Six Nations. All were destined to play roles in the infamous Battle and subsequent Massacre at Wyoming.

Smarting from the sound defeats of British and Indian troops in upper New York, and fearful of losing control of their vast empire, the Iriquoi Confederacy began to disintegrate, thanks to divided loyalties and a political conflict they could not comprehend. The Onondaga Council threw in their future with the British under the command of the astute Major John Butler. Numerous scouting parties were keeping the Wyoming Valley under close and discreet surveillance during the months of May and June 1778. Occasional skirmishes left several settlers living on the fringes of the Valley victims of the deadly tomahawk.

When Anderson Dana and Colonel Nathan Denison, members of the Connecticut Assembly from the Wyoming settlements returned from Hartford where they had petitioned in vain for increased military aid, they found a veritable tinderbox of emotions awaiting them. Colonel Denison, in command of the 24th Regiment of the Connecticut militia, had received permission to recruit some additional forces. Soon after the return of Dana and Denison, Colonel Zebulon Butler arrived in Wyoming Valley from the Continental Army along the Hudson River. Apparently, his purpose was to appraise the explosive situation. Realizing the impending danger, he immediately left for York, Pennsylvania to request aid from the Continental Congress, meeting there in exile from British-occupied Philadelphia. Not far behind Butler (no relation to Major John Butler) was Lieutenant Asahel Buck with a similar request for aid from Colonel Denison. Consequently, the companies of Captain John Durkee and Captain Samuel Ransom were ordered to be dispatched to the Wyoming Valley immediately. Too anxious for their homes and families to await authorization, the officers resigned from the Army, and followed by a group of assorted “deserters” from the Wyoming settlements, they began the long trek homeward.

Meanwhile in the Wyoming Valley, Colonel Denison was daily organizing scouting parties, and vainly seeking some kind of military aid. People were converging on the colonial forts, taxing both space and provisions, and lending an air of unreality to the daily routine. Colonel Zebulon Butler had been sent to Wilkes-Barre on the East Side of the river to secure the forts and secure everyone’s safety. The Pennamite forces under Captain Clingman in Northumberland County were contacted, but the maze of bureaucracy even in those primitive times prevented a timely response.

One humid afternoon at the end of June 1778, the Harding family was massacred while at work in their fields, a scant few miles from Fort Wintermute. During the panic which ensued as news of the attack spread, the British presented terms of surrender to both Fort Wintermute and Fort Jenkins. Their demands were accepted, and Major John Butler and his Rangers set up headquarters in the former. Early in the morning of July 3, 1778 a similar list of surrender terms was dispatched to Forty Fort, where in an attempt to gain time, Colonel Denison asked that Colonel Butler first be allowed to read the terms. Although Colonel Butler did return, and was unanimously acclaimed as the leader of the resistance forces, another play for time was attempted. Twice a truce Indian fighter, and following the massacre of the Cone-toga Indians in Lancaster, and his attempts to eradicate the peaceful Moravian Indians, the governor of Pennsylvania put a price on Stewart's head, and he became an outlaw. When he arrived at Forty Fort, Stewart proposed assuming the offensive. Quick tempered and often accused of being blood-thirsty, Stewart received little support from those at Forty Fort. A debate as to the most expedient course of action followed. The combined heat of temper, temperature and terror finally resulted in the mobilization of a pathetic force of three hundred old men and boys armed with precious little save the courage of their convictions. About two o'clock in the afternoon of July 3, 1778 this undisciplined group of fated martyrs marched from Forty Fort to the strains of "St. Patrick's Day in the Morning." They innocently and courageously walked forward to a carefully planned ambush by Loyalists, Indians and British numbering in excess of one thousand. The line of battle formed parallel to the present Fourth Street in Wyoming Borough. Once the rout began, the Indians, accustomed to guerilla tactics, quickly cut off any escape save the Susquehanna. Undone by lack of military discipline, the Colonials scattered. Colonels Butler and Denison, both on horseback, and about fifty of the patriots made their way back to the fort, some having endured not only the swift currents of the river but also the fright of being taken alive by the savages who patrolled the shoreline.

Those who were taken prisoner were gathered about what was to become known as the "Bloody Rock" and had their skulls systematically smashed by a half-breed woman, commonly referred to as Queen Esther but who actually may have been Catherine Montour.

The following day, the articles of capitulation were proposed by Major Butler, but because Continental troops were involved, they were unaccountably harsh. Colonel Denison, realizing this, encouraged Colonel Butler and his troops to evacuate the Valley immediately. This being done, Colonel Denison again discussed surrender, and at 4 P.M. on July 4, 1778 Major John Butler and Chief Sayenwaraghton entered Forty Fort escorted by Colonel Denison and Captain Franklin. The group adjourned to the cabin of Thomas Bennett, and signed the Articles of Capitulation as written by Zorah Beach. An integral part of the surrender was the guaranteed protection of life and property. In addition, the seven forts in the Wyoming Valley were to be dismantled.

It soon became evident, however, that neither Major Butler nor the Seneca chief could control the unruly band of Indians, and in an effort to discourage plunder, the two leaders and a large group of their men took leave of the fort. The spoils of war were left to the Indians who carried away everything they could and burned the rest. No one was spared the heartbreak of seeing possessions of a lifetime fall victim to theft or destruction. The Wyoming settlers, weary, frightened and bereaved, stripped of dignity, protection and goods, fled on foot over the mountains to the safety afforded by some settlements to the east. Loyalists and Indians rode northward victorious, and the fertile and beautiful Wyoming Valley lay vacant and in ruins.

Late in August, the state of Pennsylvania dispatched troops to the area, and they began reprisal raids on the surrounding Indian villages. On October 22, 1778, the troops were ordered to recover the bodies of those slain in battle, and bury them. The ravages of the summer left pathetically little in the way of remains, and the greatest number having fallen together, the soldiers dug a common grave, and the bones of the heroes at last found a Christian burial. In the outlying areas, bodies were interred where they were found.

So for thirty-odd years, the heroes of Wyoming slept in peace in unmarked graves which as the years passed, became obliterated, ploughed under in fields and yards of the peaceful settlement for whose future they had sacrificed their lives. The first step to provide a last and fitting resting place was a meeting held at the home of James Scovell in Exeter Borough on November 25, 1809. Three hundred dollars toward an appropriate monument was raised as a result of this meeting. The next recorded meeting was held in Wilkes-Barre, the Luzerne County seat, on July 26, 1826 when a committee was formed to draft resolutions leading to the erection of a monument to the fallen. An uninspired effort was made to solicit subscriptions, but nothing of substance was accomplished until early in 1832. At this time, a concerted drive was made to locate the common grave of the patriots. Through the untiring efforts of Mr. William Swetland, a local businessman and grandson of one of the survivors, the grave was discovered, and on July 3, 1832, fifty-four years to the day of the battle and in the presence of a large group of citizens, many of whom represented pioneer families, the mass grave was unearthed and the skeletal remains gathered and placed in cardboard containers. These were then kept in Mr. Swetland's dry goods store, a short walk from the site of the monument.

As a result of the discovery of the grave, interest in the monument was renewed; a committee was formed and by Mr. Fisher Gay of Wyoming donated the ground for the construction of the monument. Work on the quarrying of local stone began, and the memorial began to take shape. On July 3, 1833 the cornerstone was laid, and June 21, 1978, will mark the 190th anniversary of the ratification of the Constitution of the United States of America, by New Hampshire. Nine states were needed to establish the operation of the Constitution "between the states so ratifying the same" and New Hampshire was the ninth state.

THE 87th
CONTINENTAL CONGRESS

April 16-21 1978
This is a grave time in the history of our nation. Changes are taking place in our way of life and in our national character which have lowered, and will continue to lower, the vitality of our people, the quality of our institutions, and our basic values. The inevitable result is that we will undergo a progressive disintegration and possibly the eventual collapse of our democracy. When sufficiently disintegrated, forces either within our borders of a revolutionary nature or external forces will overwhelm what is left of America. The American Dream will be over.

People tend to believe that America, the invincible, will always be, that generous and stalwart Americans will always exist, that our way of life is forever safe. This is an illusion, a self-deception. An internal process is at work which poses a far greater danger to us than our dwindling natural resources, the energy crisis, our huge national debt, or the trade deficit.

While it is true that technological advances, abundance of natural resources—in short, environmental and sociological factors—have a great deal to do with how far a society advances, personal factors or forces within the individual, that is, the vitality of a people, really make the difference. Social values and traditions channel individual vitality in ways that cause a people to develop into a great society. In America we have had the resources, the technological developments, the way of life, and the individual vitality which have made this the greatest nation of all time.

We are, however, all on a passing train. As we pass through this life, each individual supports certain values, traditions, and institutions and makes numerous contributions to society. Then suddenly death comes and our influence ends. New individuals take our place. But what will these new Americans be like? What values and patterns of living will they support? Will they advance our traditions to new and higher levels of excellence, or will they implement ways of life that lead to disintegration and decay? In my opinion, there is no question about the direction America is taking—we are deteriorating at an alarming rate. I will now explain why I think this is happening, provide evidence for my inferences, make some projections into the future, and conclude by suggesting what must be done.

Individual vitality is not a mysterious phenomenon; we know where it comes from. A newborn child contains great potential, but in order for that potential to be unlocked, evoked, developed and expressed, certain fundamental events must take place early in its life. When these events occur imperfectly or do not occur at all, the developing child will become a social liability in one form or another rather than an asset, or if he becomes an asset he may never achieve his full potential. I have worked as a psychiatrist for 30 years and as a psychoanalyst for nearly 20, and the evidence that I have seen, as have many of my colleagues, is overwhelming as regards what it takes to turn out healthy, mature men and women who can take hold of life, do something constructive with it, and embrace values, traditions and institutions which advance the society.

The crucible from which all life springs is the family. The events within the family can make or break the individual and collectively, civilization. This fundamental unit is the building block and was the building block of all social organizations from the tribe, village, and on to the most highly developed societies and civilizations. Will Durant said the family can survive without the state, but without the family all is lost. Therefore, not only must the family survive, but its internal workings must function in ways that turn out strong men and women—not weak ones who eventually become casualties of one form or another or who may work actively against the best values and traditions of our country.

The underpinnings of personality are biologic underpinnings. None are more fundamental than the biologic imperatives which lead to the psychological qualities of maleness and femaleness. There are, of course, an array of other potentialities. One of the most fundamental functions of parenting is to evoke, develop and reinforce gender identity and then proceed to shepherd the developing child in such a way as to bring his psychological side into harmony with his biological side, and thereby develop a solid sense of maleness or femaleness.

The quality of maleness or femaleness is intimately woven into the overall fabric of personality. Human beings are not biologically bisexual, despite what the gay liberationists would have us believe. The human spirit is greatly impaired when childhood development does not lead to fully developed masculinity or femininity. Fully masculine men and feminine women are by definition mature, and that term implies the ability to live out one’s abilities. These include the capacity to mate, live in harmony with a member of the opposite sex, and carry out the responsibilities of parenthood. Mature people are competent and masterful; not only can they make families but they can take hold of life generally and advance it, and in particular they can replace themselves with healthy children who become healthy men and women. The fate of mankind depends on the durability of the heterosexual relationship.

The correct development of a child requires the commitment of mature parents who understand either consciously or intuitively that children do not grow up like Topsy. Good mothering from birth on provides the psychological core upon which all subsequent development takes place. Mothering is probably the most important function on earth. This is a full-time, demanding task. It requires a high order of gentleness, commitment, steadiness, capacity to give, and many other qualities, too. A woman needs a good man by her side so she will not be distracted and depleted, thus making it possible for her to provide rich humanness to her babies and children. Her needs must be met by the man. Above all she must be made secure. A good man brings out the best in a woman, who can then do her best for the children. Similarly, a good woman brings out the best in a man, who can then do his best for his wife and children.

Children bring out the best in their parents. All together they make a family, a place where people of great strength are shaped, who in turn make strong societies. Our nation was built by such people.

When the personalities of parents are crippled by psychological conflicts, in particular those which impair a clear sense of maleness or femaleness, or when children are deprived of the continuous commitment of mothers and fathers (the mother in particular) during the first few years of life, developmental disturbances occur in children of varying degrees of severity, depending on the time and duration of occurrence of parental absence or the degree of severity of the personality disturbances in the parents. The developmental disturbances in the children may show up in childhood, or they may go underground only to surface years later when life begins to make its demands on them, especially when they attempt to make families of their own.

Those pioneers who developed America possessed great inner strength. They came from strong families. There was no ambiguity about male or female. Their will prevailed because they had been given to generously by their mothers and fathers. America became the greatest, strongest and most generous nation of all time.

Industrialization slowly broke up the close and continuous nature of family life. Incidentally, the marriages of those pioneers who developed America have not ended. The most obvious consequence of disturbed childhood development is the inability to make lasting commitments. Especially fragile is the heterosexual commitment and the capacity to produce children and take good care of them so they will grow up to be healthy men and women. Look at what is happening in our country. The overall divorce rate is now 40%, and 59% of second marriages end in divorce. In California more young people are living together than are formally married. The number of unmarried couples in the United States has doubled between 1970 and 1975. Currently there are 1.3 million such couples. Those who are living together have answered Nature’s mating call but they lack the psychological wherewithal to make the commitment stick. While there certainly are legitimate reasons for marriages to terminate, the vast majority end because of personality difficulties which prevent the couple from living out their love for each other in a committed marriage. Those personality difficulties are directly traceable to their childhood development. The progressively weakening heterosexual bond is an extremely ominous sign.

The children of these incomplete commitments or those from the millions of broken homes become the social liabilities of tomorrow, to one degree or another. Furthermore, the suffering and psychiatric illnesses these individuals will endure defy estimation. Incidentally, the marriages... of the young usually break up with the coming of children. The typical picture is for the children to range in ages from six months to six or seven years, exactly when the developing child needs human input of the highest quality. Think of the millions of children who are being denied good family life but who, nonetheless, will become the adult Americans of tomorrow. Will they be able to commit themselves to high values, high quality and become masterful? Most will not.

The 11 million children being reared by a single parent, usually a woman, provide another shocking perspective on the gravity of the situation. One million of these children are under three years old. One-half of the nation’s annual product of 13.5 million babies who will be born to mothers between 18 and 24 years old will be illegitimate. Unmarried black women of that same age range will bear two-thirds of all the babies, that is to say, 78% of the black babies of the 13.5 million will not have a father. I believe the nation’s overall rate of illegitimacy is around 20%. Thirty percent of the births in Chicago (200,000) each year are illegitimate, 33% in New York City, and 50% in Washington, D.C. It is estimated that 45% of the babies born in 1976 will be living with a single parent before they are 18 years old.

These statistics reveal the obvious failures in family life in the sense of making an established heterosexual commitment durable. There is another form of failure in family life, the extent of which cannot be translated into a statistic. I am referring to those families which do not disintegrate, but within which there are severe strains between the husband and wife. These strains are nearly always caused by imperfections in the personalities of the man and woman, the most common of which are irresponsibility and passivity in the man and domineering, aggressive qualities in the woman. In untold numbers of marriages there is either emotional distance or open warfare or the inability to cooperate with each other. Such patterns in parents always produce children who will have psychological difficulties of one kind or another. To give you an idea of how weak men have become, a recent poll of 10 thousand families revealed that, in 70% of the families, men do not attend to the family finances. As you may recall, CBS radio recently devoted an entire weekend to the question of what is happening to the American male. He is becoming emasculated just as more women are becoming "liberated" from their biological and primary destiny. A recent issue of Newsweek provides a shocking description of role reversal in the home and between men and women generally. In addition, there are 2.2 million men who are homemakers, whose wives are the breadwinners.

There is another social change just as ominous, but which many women believe is the wave of the future that will at last provide the woman her long overdue and just rewards on this earth. I am referring to the mass exodus of women away from the home when they still have small children and the associated belief that it is more worthwhile to enter the labor force than to rear children.

As fewer and fewer families have been able to produce healthy children, these children, when they become adult, must find a way of life which is tolerable to them and which does not include the deep and full commitment to the making of a family of their own. Men who cannot be good fathers have an easy out because traditionally and by necessity they have worked outside the home in order to provide for the needs of their families. While the women’s liberation movement undoubtedly grew because of some genuine social inequities, it is my belief that a large part of perhaps the major motivation behind that movement was and is the impulse to create a way of life which excludes the making of a home and the creation of a family.

It is my impression that some of the more militant leaders of that movement are psychologically troubled and embittered because their efforts at making a happy and successful family failed—and this implicates the men in their lives who were in all probability irresponsible or tyrannical or who simply deserted them. Some of these women are admittedly homosexual. The negative impact of this movement on young women and on the family is enormous. Women who are making families are being told that they can find their true worth and ultimate fulfillment only by taking up a vocation or a profession. Many women heed this call and their children, especially preschoolers, are the losers, and eventually so will be society. Many young women who have not married, but who are struggling with unconscious conflicts having to do with feminine identity and heterosexual commitment, are lured away from the making of a family. Please understand, I do not advocate the making of a family for every woman. But many young women are being lured away from their destiny by the liberation movement, and when they discover their mistake it may be too late to opt for a family career.

I am well aware that many women have to take jobs because of economic need. Inflation is profoundly destructive of family life. I am also aware that when children are well launched into life it makes good sense for a woman to resume working outside the home if she so desires. And, of course, unmarried women must support themselves. Listen to this alarming statistic. Fifty-four percent of women with children up to teen-age are working, and 39% of working women have preschool children. The absence of these women, particularly those with preschool children, will almost always have a negative impact of some degree on childhood development. Small babies need object constancy, that is, the continuous input of good mothering. Some of the most severe damage to human development can be done to the human spirit when the child-mother bond is discontinuous or broken during the first three years of life. Volumes have been written about this. When children are small and the mother is away most of the day, the quality of life in the home changes dramatically; only her presence can fill the void. I wish I could adequately convey to you the enormous importance of good mothering. Only mature women can supply it.

It comes as no surprise to me that suicide is now the second highest cause of death of the young or that loneliness is a national symptom. These youngsters are lost, are filled with anguish, and finally so overcome by despair that they terminate the most precious gift of all—life itself. It is heartbreaking to listen to the outpourings of the young who see what life has to offer but who cannot grab hold and make their own lives go forward. The causes lie within them. Those disturbances were formed by imperfect family life. Loneliness is becoming a national illness. People are not just lonely because they are alone. They are lonely because they are empty inside, and that comes from not having had good family life as children.

Drug usage among the young is not just a passing fad; it is an expression of the inner condition of the user. The user is seeking escape from psychic pain, from loneliness, from life that fills him with anxiety and despair. The excited state gives him courage. Other drugs null consciousness. The end result is a poisoned human spirit which loses its effectiveness. A consistent finding in the drug user is the absent father during the formative childhood years. His absence over stresses the mother who cannot attend fully to her role as mother. Drug usage in America is completely out of hand and will be a key element in our self-destruction. At least 45 million Americans smoke pot regularly. We are being asked to liberalize the laws, and even the psychiatrist-adviser to the president would have us liberalize our laws on pot rather than eradicate this poison.

It is no surprise that the Presidential Commission on Mental Health estimates that eight million American children need immediate help for psychiatric disorders. I have read estimates which reach 30 million. I believe the latter figure. In view of the disintegration in the durability of the male-female bond, the collapse of so many families, and the inability to make a complete bond by those who attempt it, that figure is or surely will be a mere drop in the bucket in the near future.

In view of the deterioration of family life, it is no wonder that, in one year, 70 thousand assaults were made on teachers, that 100 murders were committed in schools, and that a billion dollars worth of property damage was done to schools. Schools in large cities reflect decay. Students in big cities are four to five years behind the level of achievement of children from smaller cities. These children are full of rage as a result of emotional deprivation and lack of authority within the home; they lack the inner controls to abide by external rules, by simple codes of human conduct. How can they be expected to behave in a civilized manner when they were deprived of civilizing experiences at home?

Venereal disease has reached an epidemic level in societies in crisis or in a state of collapse. I have the same compassion for homosexuals as for all others who are bewildered by psychopathology; they cannot help being homosexual. This condition is not freely chosen; it is imposed on the individual by unconscious fears and guilt which are the result of faulty childhood development. I am, however, vehemently opposed to having this condition called normal. We are indebted to persons such as Dr. Charles Socarides and others who call a spade a spade on this issue.

Some of these social phenomena which I have just mentioned are symptomatic of the disintegration of America, that is, they are the glaringly abnormal outward face of an underlying process. In addition there is a more subtle change taking place in the American character although it is exceedingly important. Americans taken in the aggregate do not demonstrate the clarity in sexual identity differentiation as clearly as in the past. Read Charles Winnick’s book, The New People; Desexualization in America, and you will be shocked by what he describes. This trend is obvious in clothing styles, hair styles, etc. As a result, industry and the labor market... in general are being forced to place women in positions which should be filled by men, and men are increasingly filling jobs which women have traditionally filled. The fires of this trend are, of course, being fanned by militant feminists and by many men who have become progressively passive and less responsible to their families and other commitments.

The very fine and democratic concept of equal opportunity (which is backed by the equal opportunity, equal pay, and civil rights acts) is being misinterpreted as meaning that everyone is equal. We are not. Everyone should have an equal opportunity, but as people pass through life, differences in ability and capacity emerge and, as a consequence, some individuals do better in some positions than in others, and so on. The current trend is to consider men and women interchangeable in a vocational sense and even within the family. We are told that men can be mothers while women assume the role of breadwinner. The increasing component of psychopathology which has crept into the American character is causing our society to overimplement social legislation to such an extent that it is rapidly becoming a taboo, if not an outright crime. To acknowledge the difference between male and female. While this phenomenon may seem ludicrous to you, the implications are in fact quite grim. A systematic search is being made in order to purge all "sexist" phraseology—that is, reference to male or female—from all governmental regulations and guidelines. Senator S. I. Hayakawa says the U.S. Civil Rights Commission is printing into the private business of book publishing in order to eliminate from all textbooks what it labels "sexist" bias, that is, words or pictures that assume differences between males and females or show them in traditional roles such as mothering. He believes that the next step will be pressure from HEW to use only federally sanctioned books. Dr. Benjamin Spock has already deleted references to boy and girl in his revised book on child rearing. What utter nonsense!

You are aware, no doubt, that employers at all levels hesitate about hiring a woman for a particular job when they could easily fill the spot with a man who could do the task better. Our service academies now are forced to take women. These academies produce the officer corps for our armed forces and should turn out the most competent, masterful and versatile officers possible, who are adaptable to any or most circumstances. Women officers are not as widely usable as men in the military, especially during wartime. Gym classes are now filled with both sexes. Some zealous HEW officials tried to prevent father-son and mother-daughter school activities and to our former President’s credit he intervened. But think of the implications. It took the intervention of the President of the United States, followed by a Congressional amendment to Title IX, in order for fathers and sons and mothers and daughters to be able to experience these basic and good activities. When laws are passed which prevent individuals having sufficient freedom to find their best fit in the environment, we are in serious trouble. Our way of life is based on individuality, personal freedom, and the freedom to find expression for one's abilities. Personal abilities are related to sex identity; there are fundamental differences between men and women. When the process of selectivity between the individual and society is seriously interfered with by law, an eventual decline is the result, simply because people will be forced to fill positions which would be better filled by others.

Now we come to the Equal Rights Amendment. We have already seen how persons faced with the letter of the law, be it hiring of personnel or enforcement of the law, have overinterpreted and overreacted to the law. This overreaction is based on misreading the concept of equal opportunity for the sexes as meaning the sexes are equal. They are equal in value but they are qualitatively different. The United States Constitution has a far broader and more profound impact on the affairs within our society than specific laws. The Constitution provides guidelines which are subject to very wide interpretation by the Supreme Court. Even carefully worded laws and regulations are subject to widely divergent interpretations. It is my deep concern and firm prediction that, if the Equal Rights Amendment is ratified, within a short time every aspect of our way of life which is structured on sexual differences, be it physical or psychological, would be held to be unconstitutional. The common-sense preferences given to women, some of which are now backed by law, and to men will simply be wiped out as the resourceful and well-financed lawyers for the women’s liberation movement litigate their cases up to the Supreme Court. Furthermore, as more and more individuals with psychological disturbances, sex-role blurring in particular, become lawyers, judges, legislators, and government and business executives, laws will be stretched by extremist regulations to propel us into a "gender-free" society. Our lives will change enormously as those elements in life which are based on the differences between people and men and women are erased and as the heterosexual bond progressively weakens. A weak nation never last long. A stronger power will take us over, or forces within our own society will rise up and change our way of life forever. In either case, America as we have known it will be finished.

Individuals must fight back immediately and vigorously. The key link in the whole chain is the pivotal point around which all societies turn, namely, the family. Everyone must turn attention to the task of making it flourish. Then you must make your voice heard as individuals and as organizations or as coalitions of organizations. We must fight back against the social movements which are destructive to our way of life. We must preserve the vitality of our people and provide these vital and vigorous people a context, that is, a society in which it is possible to find the freedom to express their individuality. This means, above all, preventing the passage of laws which ignore the differences between people, in particular the difference between a male and a female, and which undermine the security and stability of the family and the nation. Strong pioneer families created this country; strong families will save it.

Letters to the Editor

Editor:
The Lydia Putnam Chapter (Maine) suggests that renewal notices for DAR Magazine subscriptions be enclosed with the issues of the second month prior to expiration.

Our members thoroughly enjoy each issue, and when, through a couple of weeks delay in returning renewal, an issue is missed, feel really excluded!

Sincerely,
Mildred B. Pettit
Secretary

Each subscriber to the DAR Magazine receives two (2) notices of expiration: a Green Notice stating that your subscription expires with the next issue, and a lavender notice stating that this is your last issue. Prompt return of the first notice will usually keep your subscription active.

Editor:
Your new page of subscriber question and answer participation, has proven to be helpful and instructive to the membership and the Board of Management of the Washington County Chapter, Washington, PA.

We consider it a worthwhile addition to a fine magazine and wish to compliment this innovation.

However, my husband and I are distressed by the accompanying text purporting to explain the Pony Express. We both are from Missouri.

Where ever did the people in Sacramento get the idea that the Pony Express route ran between Sacramento and St. Joseph, Missouri? Advance arrangements included relay stations, riders and horse. This service operated for about a year and a half, starting in April, 1860. . . .

Yours truly,

Many thanks to you, and to all the others who wrote, for pointing out this error.

Editor:
I heartily agree with Gladys A. Tozier’s letter in the April DAR Magazine concerning her frustration over waiting two years for a Supplemental.

I have been waiting over two years, and if Supplements must wait for new applications to be processed first, I am afraid I may be “under the sod” before my “turn” comes! When one is well along in age, time is of the essence.

There MUST be a better way, such as charging an optional fee for those who do not wish to wait so long. . . . I, for one, would be glad to pay in order to get my Supplemental during my lifetime.

Sincerely,

All Supplements submitted prior to January 1, 1977 have been examined. Hopefully, you’re going to make it.

Editor:
I would like to publicly thank whomever had the bright idea of making the ruling against wearing DAR Insignia on pantsuits for her complete lack of consideration for those of us who wear pantsuits to keep drafts off our legs and to keep our legs warm enough so that we can manage to “live with” our arthritic and/or rheumatic problems! Said ruling surely does show a total lack of kindness and consideration toward others, doesn’t it? Shouldn’t we all be grateful for this?

Just what, pray tell, is wrong with a decent, neat, clean, respectable pantsuit? Isn’t it to be preferred to the stocking-tops and garter-ends exposed by those who wear dresses that ride up into disappearance on bending over or sitting down? Or, to the possible “overflow” of bosom caused by the too-low cleavage some seem to find so attractive? Or to the not-washed-or-dry-cleaned-often enough dress of any style?

I—for one—can stay home; keep my dues and contribution monies for personal purposes; use my time and energy for personal pleasures if that is what DAR hopes to achieve by this so-unfair so biased, so nonsensical ruling, which, in this country, ought to be unconstitutional!!

The only place that I know of, where a decent pantsuit is not accepted is at a nearby racetrack’s clubhouse. Is that whom DAR is trying to emulate with this ruling? If so, who needs DAR?

If I can’t wear any decent, respectable, neat, clean attire with my Insignia pinned proudly upon it to any meeting or function which does not require evening attire (and even then, evening pantsuits are perfectly proper), then there is something radically wrong with DAR!

Thank you for hearing “the other side” of this question.

Sincerely yours,

Marion Moncure Duncan

BY BETTY NEWKIRK SEIMES

HONORARY PRESIDENT GENERAL

Marion Moncure Duncan (Mrs. Robert V. H. Duncan) of Arlington, Virginia died April 15, 1978. She was elected President General of the National Society Daughters of the American Revolution in 1962, one of the few women to run unopposed for this high and most demanding office. She began her active service to DAR in 1932 at the age of 18 and became the youngest Organizing and charter member of the John Alexander Chapter in her home city of Alexandria. She served her chapter as Recording Secretary, Vice Regent and Regent devotedly and efficiently.

Mrs. Duncan had an unbroken record of attending every Continental Congress of the National Society from her initial entry in DAR work and had fully expected that she would be at this 1978 Congress. Always thinking of her beloved Society first, when illness prevented, she prayed that her life would be spared until adjournment as she wanted the Congress to be a happy time with no sadness, but such was not to be.

As President General, Marion, as she was known to her many friends who loved her, stressed interesting young women in DAR work. This met with outstanding success. She also took time from her busy schedule to actively participate and held various offices in the Children of the American Revolution.

In all the years of her membership in the Daughters of the American Revolution she served with ability, diligence and devotion. This willingness to serve earned her the arduous post of Recording Secretary General in the cabinet of Miss Gertrude S. Carraway in 1953-56, and she later became one of the youngest Presidents General of the Society in 1962-1965. She served with distinction and honor and was beloved by all with whom she came in contact.

During her term she inaugurated “Know-Do-Tell DAR” which proved to be excellent publicity as it gave much basic material to our own members, and in turn to the public. She was well qualified and knowledgeable in the field of Public Relations as she had been Chairman of Public Relations for the Women’s Division of the Alexandria Chamber of Commerce, the North Virginia Association of Insurance Agents and the Annual Alexandria Antique Show.

Also during her term the book “In Washington—The DAR Story” was prepared and printed-as a prelude to the Diamond Jubilee of the Society. She was proud of this and called it her “legacy” to the organization.

Always selfless she did not want a project in her name but realizing the need for additional space in the DAR Library, she proposed and had work completed on the balcony of the Library. This extra space has served our members well and improved the appearance of Memorial Continental Hall which houses the NSDAR Genealogical Library.

During her three years of visiting State Conferences, as part of her duties as President General, her forceful talks, her vivid personality and her patriotic themes made all aware of her rare ability to conduct the affairs of the Society with dignity, poise and forcefulness. She endeared herself to the members with her charm, graciousness and excellent speeches.

In addition to her manifold duties in DAR and as President General she was a member of NSDAR National Officers Club and was Vice President of this group at the time of her death. She was a member of the Executive Club and the National Presidents Club. In addition to these organizations affiliated with DAR she held membership and in some held office in the Colonial Dames of America in the State of Virginia, Order of the First Families of Virginia 1607-1620, Daughters of the Barons of Runnymede and Orders of Distinction, Col. Daughters of the Seventeenth Century, Jamestown, Virginia Chapter, National Society Order of the Crown in America, National Society Daughters of American Colonists and Lords of the Maryland Manors. She also belonged to a number of historical societies.

In 1960 she received the Outstanding Achievement Award from the Northern Virginia Associations of Insurance Agents.

She was included in Holiday Magazine in 1963 Portfolio of the 12 leading American Women and in 1964 won the Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge George Washington Honor Medal Award for “Outstanding Achievement in bringing about a better understanding of the American way of Life.”

During her business career she held many important posts, was Secretary to the Director of the American Red Cross, Secretary to the President of American Telephone & Telegraph Co., a Court Reporter, an Insurance Broker and head of the Insurance Department in the Bob Duncan Real Estate—Insurance Co.

In 1966 Marion Duncan was appointed by the Virginia Governor to the first of two four-year terms on the College of William and Mary Board of Visitors. She was one of the first women to serve on the Foundation for Independent Junior Colleges in Virginia.

Mrs. Duncan was a communicant of Christ Episcopal Church in Alexandria where many of her friends and business associates attended services to pay her respect.

She was the eldest daughter of Judge Robinson Moncure and Ida Grigg Moncure of Alexandria, Virginia.

She is survived by her husband, Robert, three sons and one daughter, and a sister Mrs. Clyde G. Lamond, both of Alexandria, Virginia.

Marion Duncan has played a very important role in her many activities, City and State—her many patriotic affiliations and her fine work in all other areas will long be remembered by those with whom she worked and came in contact. Her imprint in many directions will be everlasting.

In the June-July 1963 issue of DAR magazine Marion Duncan ended her message with the following: “Time marches on, Take Time to work—it is the price of success; To Think—it is the source of power; To play—it is the secret of perpetual youth; to read—it is the fountain of wisdom; to be friendly—it is the road to happiness; to dream—it is hitching your wagon to a star; to love and be loved—it is the privilege of the gods; to look around—it is too short a day to be selfish; to laugh—it is the music of the soul.” In her life and work she followed these precepts.

Report of President General

The President General officially visited ten States during her Spring Tour of State Conferences and each State is to be commended highly for the many and varied accomplishments they have attained this past year. The reports of the Regents and Chairmen were enlightening, the publicity was outstanding and everyone was most hospitable.

The Arkansas State Conference took place in Fort Smith, February 15-17, Mrs. James A. Marmouget, State Regent.

The Delaware State Conference was held in Wilmington, February 24-25, Mrs. Joseph M. Wolf, State Regent.

The Mississippi State Conference was held in Jackson, February 28-March 1, Mrs. Monroe T. Thigpen, State Regent.

The Tennessee State Conference took place in Knoxville, March 2-4, Mrs. Wallace A. Berryman, State Regent.

The North Carolina State Conference was held in Pinehurst, March 5-8, Mrs. Martha Goodwin Robinson, State Regent.

The South Carolina State Conference was held in Columbia, March 8-11, Mrs. Fred Walter Ellis, Jr., State Regent.

The Virginia State Conference was held in Roanoke, March 12-15, Mrs. Eldred M. Yochim, State Regent.

The Georgia State Conference took place in Rome, March 16-18, Mrs. Louis Joseph Bahin, State Regent.

The Kansas State Conference was held in Topeka, March 20-22, Mrs. John W. McGuire, Jr., State Regent.

The Missouri State Conference was held in Kansas City, March 22-24, Miss Sandra Johnson, State Regent.

Many fine things happened to the President General while on this tour but two stand out as exceptional—through the efforts of the First Vice President General, Mrs. Richard Denny Shelby, she was invited to say a few words to the Mississippi Legislature in Jackson which was in session at the time of her official visit. She was also asked to speak before the State Senate in session in Columbia, South Carolina, while the State Conference was meeting. In both cases, she was honored by a standing ovation. The newspaper reported in South Carolina that she had achieved a rarity since the Chamber rarely allows anyone except a Senator to address the Chamber in formal session.

During the time between the February 1978 meeting of the National Board of Management and her Spring Tour, she met with members of the staff; some of the outside companies with whom the Society does business; as well as the several National Officers who were in their offices a part of that period. She was the guest of the District of Columbia DAR at their annual American History Month luncheon at the United States Capitol on February 7.

She also attended the first concert of the 1978 spring season of the United States Air Force Band in Constitution Hall on February 5.

April 3, the President General met with Mrs. Katharine Graham, Chairman of the Board of the Washington Post Company, and had a very worthwhile conference.

The President General has been invited to become an Associate Member of the American Newspaper Women's Club by its President. She was interviewed in her office by a reporter of Scripps-League, a nation-wide news service.

The entrance of Memorial Continental Hall was used in a recent Wells Fargo Fire Alarm commercial.

Auditions for the National Symphony Orchestra were held in Constitution Hall during the month of February with members of the Orchestra serving as judges.

The President General wishes to thank these members for their willingness to represent the National Society when it was not possible for the President General to do so:

Mrs. Eldred M. Yochim, State Regent, Virginia DAR, at the commemoration of the 169th anniversary of the birth of President Abraham Lincoln at the Lincoln Memorial, Washington, D.C., February 12; at the ceremonies commemorating the 235th anniversary of the birth of Thomas Jefferson at the National Jefferson Memorial, Washington, D.C. April 13.

Mrs. Coray H. Miller, Organizing Secretary General, at the twenty-ninth Annual National Awards Presentation Dinner of Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge, Pennsylvania, February 22.

Mrs. James L. Robertson, State Regent, District of Columbia DAR, at a briefing on the President's National Energy Plan, in the State Dining Room of the White House, March 16.

In addition to the above, National Vice Chairmen and State Chairmen of the Transportation Committee have attended Regional Meetings of the National Safety Council.

This has been a full three months for the President General travelwise as well as the work involved in running the affairs of the National Society.

On a personal note, I have deeply appreciated the loyalty and devotion displayed toward this administration by the members of the National Board of Management and the members as a whole. It has been most gratifying and has sustained your President General this past year.

She also wishes to express her sincere gratitude to her efficient staff; Jean Jacobs, Administrative Secretary, Mary Jane Stafford, Assistant Administrative Secretary and Joyce Mulligan.

JEANNETTE OSBORN BAYLIES,
President General.

The President General resumed the chair and the First Vice President General, Mrs. Richard Denny Shelby, read her report.

Report of First Vice President General

Following the February Board, your First Vice President General remained in Washington to work on copy for the revision of the Handbook and to include decisions of the Executive Committee and the National Board of Management. Galleys were proofed by Mrs. Mollie Somerville and assistants and also by this officer. The Index was drafted and paged in one week in order to meet the time schedule so that advance copies of the publication could be available for Continental Congress. The Index has been expanded and designed for convenient reference.

The completely revised nineteenth edition includes the National Bylaws which are gratis. The names of the Founders, a list of the National Awards, a complete list of the Committees with a brief description of the duties and goals, and the Administration Briefs of the late Mrs. Henry S. Jones, Mrs. Wakelee R. Smith, and the first nine months of the administration of Mrs. George U. Baylies are current additions. The Protocol section was totally revised and updated by the Protocol Committee. It is most important that this entire section be studied.

In view of the addition of forty pages necessary for the National Bylaws and Handbook the vital tools needed for a general understanding of the work of the National Society. Every member is urged to purchase and read the entire publication. A wealth of new information is available and much correspondence and postage can be eliminated through extensive use and familiarity with the contents. Order from the office of the Corresponding Secretary General: the price is $1.75.

Revising the Handbook has been a tedious work and this officer has been extremely busy trying to meet the deadlines; it has been a rewarding and enriching experience. She has enjoyed all phases of the work and values the learning experience in compilation, content and the mechanics of printing. Sincere appreciation is extended to Mrs. Mollie Somerville for her untiring efforts, expertise and assistance which expedited this publication.

On February 5, this officer accompanied the President General and other officers to the United States Air Force Band concert in Constitution Hall. It was a moving experience to see the United States Flag unfurl from the ceiling of Constitution Hall during the singing of the National Anthem, and the audience was wonder-struck and obviously impressed.

It was a pleasure to attend the Mississippi State Conference as an honored guest; Mrs. Monroe T. Thigpen, presiding. All were honored to have the President General attend this Conference and the members were indebted to the Honorable John L. Pearson III for the introduction of the President General; First Vice President General; Mrs. Max L. Pharr, Vice President General; and Mrs. James House, Jr., State Outstanding Junior Member; to the Mississippi House of Representatives. These members were escorted to the Capitol by Mr. Henry McCaslin, Sr., and Mr. James House, Jr. Mrs. Baylies brought Greetings to the members of the House and received a standing ovation.

Deep appreciation is extended by this officer to the following States for their gracious hospitality during her visit as a guest speaker: to Florida, Mrs. John D. Milton, presiding; to Alabama, Mrs. David U. Patton, presiding; to Utah, Mrs. Franklin D. Maughan, First Vice Regent, presiding; and to Colorado, Mrs. Frederick O. Jeffries, Jr., presiding. Colorado was celebrating their 75th State Conference.

At the February Board, new Personnel Rules recommended by the Personnel Committee, were adopted by the Executive Committee and distributed to the staff immediately. Many hours were spent collecting opinions prior to the presentation. This Chairman of the Personnel Committee is most grateful to the Executive Committee for their discussions, time and cooperation. The new rules are a result of the twelve members of the Executive Committee concentrating and striving to formulate flexible guidelines that serve the interests of the National Society and the employees. The Personnel Committee makes every effort to have direct communication with the staff and they are available to correspond or discuss matters of concern to any employee. Mrs. Coray H. Miller and Miss Martha Cooper have been appointed by the President General as additional members of the Personnel Committee and they have attended the meetings held this week.

PATRICIA W. SHELBY,
First Vice President General.

A rising vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. Shelby in appreciation of the fact that this is the first time the Handbook has been published by the first Congress of a new administration.

The report of the Chaplain General, Mrs. Robert Lacy Jackson, was filed.

Report of Chaplain General

The weeks of February, March and April have been devoted to finalizing and coordinating April 16 Memorial Sunday activities. All devotional materials are in readiness for the week preceding and the week of Continental Congress. The Memorial Service Committee met on January 30 and April 10 at the National Aviation Club, Mayflower Hotel. Assistance from many District DAR is deeply appreciated for their aid “on the spot” is of tremendous importance.
The Chaplain General's Prayer Breakfast, State Room, Mayflower Hotel, April 16, includes a Morning Worship featuring all Past Chaplains General. Also assisting are several State Regents and State Chaplains. Focal points of the Service are a Litany of selected Scripture and Eight Senate Prayers by Peter Marshall, former Chaplain, United States Senate. Special Morning Pages are directed by Mrs. Curtis F. Campagne. Included in this group is the District DAR Outstanding Junior Member, Carolyn Ketterman; this page traditionally assists in placing the wreath at the Tomb of Martha Washington in Mount Vernon. Memorial Service Pages receive instruction from Mrs. Owen J. Keenan, Chief of Pages, with whom the Chaplain General has been in close contact for some time.

National Park Police will escort the entourage first to Arlington Cemetery. Minibuses carrying California DAR will travel to the gravesite of Mrs. Bruce L. Canaga, Past Chaplain General of California, where a brief ceremony will dedicate the DAR marker placed there.

Honored guest at the Breakfast and Pilgrimage will be Mrs. Raymond F. Fleck, Historian General, who will open ceremonies at Mount Vernon with a Military "Call" on her Colonial Drum. Wearing authentic Continental Army uniform, Mrs. Fleck will also perform, as a cornet solo, "Chester," a Revolutionary War marching song, following the placing of the wreaths. At the close of ceremonies at Mount Vernon, the DAR are receiving a lovely courtesy in that they are admitted free to tour the residence and grounds. This is a "first" for the National Society. Other buses will return via Alexandria, Virginia for a sightseeing trip en route to the Mayflower Hotel.

All details for the Memorial Service are complete. Details of the Breakfast and Pilgrimage have been greatly implemented by the capable assistance and tireless work of the Chairman, Mrs. Richard P. Taylor, whose overall organization and direction have been of tremendous assistance in formulating these events. Special thanks go to Miss Jean Jacobs for her unfailing help with information.

The Chaplain General was an honor guest at New Mexico DAR State Conference. She traveled extensively as speaker, musician and program participant. On April 14, it was her pleasure to assist at the Dedication Ceremonies for "A Bicentennial Tribute to America" in the United States Capitol. The "Tribute" is the final major Bicentennial project of the National Society, finalized during the Jones/Smith Administrations. The ceiling murals depicting historic scenes of America's past are the work of Allyn Cox, noted American muralist.

"The Chaplain General's special project, a book of personal devotions based on Psalm-inspired hymns, entitled "Come, Sing His Praise," is now available through the office of the Corresponding Secretary General.

Letters of condolence and DAR sympathy cards were sent to families of known deceased past/present National Board members.

SARAH B. JACKSON, Chaplain General.

The Recording Secretary General, Mrs. Paul Gerhardt Meyer, read her report.

Minutes of the Executive Committee meeting of April 13, 1978 have been written; copies sent to each member of the Committee; copied for the permanent record and indexed. Rulings affecting individual offices and committees were typed separately and delivered or mailed.

Notices of the two Board meetings in April were mailed to the members of the National Board of Management. Members of the Executive Committee were notified of the meetings of that committee.

Letters were mailed to the National Officers, State Regents and National Committee Chairmen requesting advance copies of their full reports to the Continental Congress for the upcoming 1978 Congress Annual Proceedings.

All pertinent letters were written to the candidates standing for election at the 87th Continental Congress as well as letters asking these candidates to notify this office of the names of their nominator and personal teller.

Since this officer's last report to the National Board of Management which met February 3, 1978, 1,436 Membership Certificates have been prepared in this office and mailed to new members.

Following attendance at the Executive Committee meetings and the National Board meeting in February, this officer was the guest and speaker at several Chapter and two Division meetings in Illinois.

The Corresponding Secretary General, Mrs. Carl William Kietzman, read her report.

Report of Corresponding Secretary General

This report covers only a two-month period, January and February 1978. A total of 1,971 orders have been processed and filled. Proposed Amendments to the Bylaws were mailed—making a total of 3,202. A total of 580 scholarship letters were answered relative to Medical Training, Occupational Therapy, Nursing and American History Scholarship.

One hundred and twenty-five letters were answered pertaining to membership. A packet was sent to each giving the necessary information, and their names were turned over to the respective State Regents. A total of 28,893 pieces of mail were opened in this office during the year.

From March 1, 1977 to March 1, 1978, 16,479 pieces of official mail were sent from this office, in six mailings, exclusive of free materials, orders, and hundreds of letters answered. It was the sad duty of this officer, to notify the members of the National Board and National Chairmen of the deaths of Mrs. John B. MacLeod, Vice President General on September 23, 1977; Mrs. Chester F. Miller, Honorary Vice President General from Michigan on January 14, 1978, and Mrs. Henry Allen Ironside, Honorary Vice President General from Georgia on March 8, 1978.

Your Corresponding Secretary General attended the marking of the grave of Mrs. Richard H. Thompson, Jr., Honorary State Regent of Illinois. It was her pleasure to attend the Florida and Ohio State Conferences, and to assist the Mississippi Daughters in receiving at Rosalie.
During the week of Congress a literature table will be located in the corridor of Constitution Hall. We hope that you will take advantage of this convenience, which will save you and the National Society postage.

ANNA RUTH KIETZMAN,
Corresponding Secretary General.

The Treasurer General, Mrs. John Samuel Biscoe, presented the following membership report for the period December 31, 1977 to February 28, 1978:

Deceased: 1,164
Resigned: 389
Reinstated: 120

Mrs. Biscoe moved that 120 former members be reinstated. Seconded by Mrs. Stark. Adopted.

Mrs. Biscoe read her report and submitted the Summary Statement of Current and Special Funds for the fiscal year ended February 28, 1978, and the supporting schedules thereto.

Report of Treasurer General

The Accounting Office has been very busy recording dues and contributions, and making disbursements of our funds to complete and close out our fiscal year. The complete report is in your hands. In spite of the low interest rates in this area, we have cleared $119,612.53 in short term investments.

The Membership Office which handles all changes in membership, strives to get those changes back to the Chapters as soon as possible. The first mailing has gone out for those members whose dues are delinquent. The second notice will be sent out following Congress. Remember, Chapters cannot drop a member for nonpayment of dues. This can only be done by the National Society. A member may resign only if she is in good standing, which means dues for the current year must be paid. Please keep in mind dues are payable by December 1.

The credentials were again compiled on the computer, saving many hours of work. In addition the computer has compiled the totals for membership, deceased and resigned members and delinquent members.

It has come to our attention that many Chapters in filing IRS Form 990 are using the employer identification number for the National Society which is causing considerable confusion with the Internal Revenue Service.

It is mandatory that all Chapters filing Form 990 when their gross receipts exceed $10,000 a year, use their own Chapter identification number, which was issued by IRS when the Chapter was confirmed, along with the National Society group exemption number which is #1050.

Madam President General and Members of the National Board of Management, I hereby submit this Summary Statement of Current and Special Funds for the Fiscal Year ending February 28, 1978 and the supporting schedules thereto.

RACHEL M. BISCOE,
Treasurer General.

Mrs. Martin A. Mason, Chairman, read the report of the Finance Committee.

Report of Finance Committee

The Finance Committee has prepared and presented a budget for your consideration. This is for your study in order that you may understand how your money is allocated. The monies budgeted come from the dues, fees and short term investments. This money is adequate for our needs and gives us a well balanced budget for the present. This is due to our raise in dues in 1974. However, it is well to keep in mind that with rising costs and need to increase salaries constantly, it may be necessary for another dues increase in an upcoming administration.

At the last Board, replacement of the seats in Constitution Hall was approved. The present seats were put in place in 1929 when the Hall was built. This project is on your Honor Roll. Please support it. We are fortunate in not needing to raise the entire amount from contributions due to the foresight of our former Finance Chairman, the late Mrs. Joseph Paul. It was under her guidance that the Property Maintenance Fund was built up. This fund is now able to take the bulk of the expense for this project.

It is with great pleasure that I am able to report that the Magazine is now in the black. They have a good balance. Subscriptions are increasing. The Magazine is the Member’s contact with the organization and deserves our support both in advertising and subscriptions.

Our financial picture is good but requires constant scrutiny. The Treasurer General keeps watch over our monies but we all need to watch our expenditures and support the Society in all projects.

Winnifred M. Mason,
Chairman.

Mrs. Leo W. Utz, Chairman, read the report of the Auditing Committee.

Washington, D.C.

We have examined the financial statements of the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution listed below:

Statement of Current and Unrestricted Special Funds (Page 1) for the year ended February 28, 1978

Statement of Restricted Funds (Pages 2 and 3) for the year ended February 28, 1978

Supporting statements of Current Fund cash receipts and disbursements (Pages 4 to 6) for the year ended February 28, 1978

Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included confirmations from depositaries and custodians of cash and investments held at February 28, 1977, and such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

The financial statements have been prepared generally on the cash receipts and disbursements basis and therefore do not purport to present the results of operations as they would appear had generally accepted accrual basis accounting principles been applied. Cash receipts and disbursements do not include dispositions and acquisitions of securities, respectfully, except for gains and losses thereon.

In our opinion, the aforementioned statements and supporting schedules present fairly the cash balances and investments at February 28, 1978 and the information set forth therein for the year then ended on the basis indicated which is consistent with that of the preceding year.

Report of Registrar General

Following the February Board Meeting, I returned home, this being my first time home since before the holidays. I attended the State Conference in Florida the first week in March and my own Missouri Conference the third week in March. I am sorry I was unable to accept invitations from Kansas, Nebraska, California, District of Columbia and for the Mississippi pilgrimages.

I am very appreciative of the many kind letters, yearbooks, invitations that have been extended to me.

I was honored to place the wreath at the grave of Dr. Anita McGee, first Librarian General, NSDAR, and founder of the Army Nurses Corps; at Arlington National Cemetery, for the District of Columbia State Society.

During the April 3rd Volunteer Genealogist Training Program, we were most fortunate to have Milton Rubincam as our guest speaker, and to have him work with our volunteers and staff members. The Board for Certification examines applicants for specific categories of genealogical work and certifies those who are found to be competent to do professional genealogical work and who are qualified to prepare lineage papers. Mr. Milton Rubincam is Chairman of the Board for Certification. We hope that many of our staff members will work to achieve certification in one of the designated areas. Volunteer Genealogical Training Programs have been held before every National Board Meeting, and I feel have been very successful. We will continue with this program in 1978-79.

During the past year, the Registrar General’s Office has tried to give the best possible service in the processing of application and supplemental papers, and to have a uniform system that every worker understands. However, it cannot be repeated enough; please ask your Chapter Registrars to thoroughly check all papers before sending them to the Treasurer General’s Office. If a paper is sent to the National Society, incomplete, it costs not only time and postage, but also delays the processing and verifying of the paper. We have now purchased an additional microfilm reader and have also purchased a xerox machine which we were leasing. The step by step procedure for preparing application papers which was given to all State Regents to be channeled to their Chapter Registrars, will soon be included with application papers. Many of you have been concerned as to when papers are received by the Registrar General’s Office. If you will enclose in the papers a stamped self addressed postcard we will return this card to you when the papers are received in this office.

We are delighted that so many of our members have turned out to attend one of our Volunteer Genealogical Training Programs. As of this report we have graduated approximately 50 volunteers from our classes. These volunteers are approved by the Registrar General’s Office to verify supplemental application papers. We have one volunteer who has been approved as Research Assistant to work in the Registrar General’s Office in the Clerical Division. Since July 5, 1977, our volunteers have verified a total of 840 papers. I think they are to be commended for their work, as they spend their own money and time to come.

I again urge you not to ask the Registrar General’s Office staff to send application papers direct from this office to the National Lineage Research Chairman’s Office for additional research. A copy of the papers will be returned to the applicant or chapter and the additional research must be done first at the chapter level and then the State.

Please remember that the Registrar General’s Office is only responsible for proving the eligibility of the applicant. The chapter is responsible for the applicant’s acceptability into the Society, or the State Regent for Members At Large. We are a lineal (blood line) organization and to remain so, we must have sufficient proof from the applicant. We are now requiring proof of all generations including the applicant. Papers needed for Honor Roll must be marked in pencil across the top of the application form—“Needed for Honor Roll.” Some attach slips of paper which are easily lost.

We go through many steps to process papers which are as follows. First, papers go to the Treasurer General’s Office, then to the Registrar General’s Office to be checked for authorized signatures (and where three different cards of information are typed). The papers are then sent to the Registrar General’s Office Genealogical Division, for verification. After verification, they are returned to the Registrar General’s Office Clerical Division, to be numbered and to have the National Number recorded on the Ancestor Card, and then sent to the Computer Room to be key punched for the print-outs. The papers are then returned to the Registrar General’s Office, Clerical Division, for filing and filming. The print-out lists are then mailed by the Registrar General’s Office to the Chapters. It has been necessary to close the vaults to help preserve the application and supplemental papers. Therefore, the staff must use the microfilm readers to prove the pending papers except in unusual cases. The majority of these machines have been purchased by the Registrar General’s Office and the Library and general use of them must be limited. I hope this will clear up the confusion about use of the microfilm room.

The booklet “General Information and Requirements for Preparation of Application Papers 1978” is now out and is available from the Corresponding Secretary’s Office. The New Handbook is also available from the office of the Corresponding Secretary.

All State and Chapter Regents are reminded to stop by the Registrar General’s Office to pick up refund checks and application papers which we cannot verify, and which have been held for two years.

To avoid unnecessary correspondence the Registrar General would like to clarify exactly who is eligible to purchase copies of applications and supplemental papers (Fee $2.00). The Office of the Registrar General may furnish photostatic copies without written permission of the member to: (1) members (2) prospective members and (3) Genealogists of the C.A.R. provided no written request to close such papers of an active member is on file in the office. The general public ordering a paper of an active member must enclose written permission of the active member. By Executive motion, permission to purchase papers without written permission of the active member has been extended to official Registrars and official Genealogists of the Sons of the American Revolution and to official Registrars of the Sons of the Revolution. All of the above is by Executive Order dated 1967.

I want to thank Mrs. Marie Bebout again, for accepting the position of Administrative Assistant over the Clerical and Genealogical Division, Jane Fowler for excellent training of the volunteers and Mrs. Cuppett and Mrs. Whitecomb for their fine work, and the staff for their cooperation and splendid work.

Again it is my pleasure to submit the following report of the work of the Registrar General’s Office. Since the February 3, 1978 National Board Meeting all application papers submitted prior to March 14, 1978 have been examined.

All supplemental application papers submitted prior to November 15, 1976 have been examined.

All supplementals received prior to November 15, 1976 that cannot be verified have been either written for more data or returned.

The last National Number is 629,470; Number of Applications received 1,778; Number of Applications verified 2,369; Number of Application papers pending for which additional proof has been requested 1,501; Number of Supplemenals received 579; Number of Supplemenals verified 756; Number of Supplemental papers pending for which additional proof has been requested 728; Papers returned unverified: Applications 506; Supplemenals 21; Duplicates Returned 2,067; New Records verified 218; Permits issued for insignias 1,315; Letters written 6,478; Postals written 784; Photocopies: Papers 5,255; Data 97.

Elizabeth Cox White, Registrar General.

Mrs. White moved that the 2,369 applicants whose records have been verified by the Registrar General, be elected to membership in the National Society. Seconded by Mrs. Fleck. Adopted.

The Organizing Secretary General, Mrs Coray H. Miller, read her report.

Report of Organizing Secretary General

Interest in the organization of new chapters continues and indicates a substantial growth for the National Society. During the past year forty (40) Chapters have been organized and thirty-two (32) Organizing Regents confirmed. Congratulations are in order for all State Regents, State Organizing Secretaries, and Organizing Regents who have established these new chapters.

States which are responsible for the greatest number of new chapters include Missouri, Texas, California and Illinois.

It is of much interest that Organizing Regents are being appointed for new chapters to be organized in Caracas, Venezuela, as well as Iran. We look forward to having chapters formed in these countries. Mrs. Alex W. Boone, National Chairman of Units Overseas Committee, is assisting with the plans for organization.

Orders for Twenty-five, Fifty, and Seventy-five Year Certificates have reached an all time high. Our new Twenty-five Year Certificate is very popular with one thousand seventy-two (1,072) having been issued during the past year as well as for four hundred forty-five (445) Fifty Year Certificates.

Permits were issued from this office authorizing the purchase of seven hundred forty-two (742) Ex-Regent’s Pins, two hundred twenty-four (224) Chapter Regent’s Bars and Chapter Bars, one hundred sixty-two (162) Twenty-five Year Pins, and one hundred ninety-eight (189) Fifty Year Pins, and four hundred ninety-nine (499) miscellaneous pins.

Attention is again called to the necessity for properly completing the DAR Insignia order blanks which are approved by the offices of the Organizing Secretary General, Registrar General, and the State Regent. To save delay in processing orders, the J. E. Caldwell Co., when sending the green confirmation slip must be signed and returned before work can proceed on the order. This officer wishes to remind you it is imperative that the Chapter Officer Form be sent to the office of the Organizing Secretary General immediately following elections in order that the lists can be compiled for all who have need of them.

Your Organizing Secretary General was the guest of the California State Society at their State Conference held during March at the Hyatt International Airport, Los Angeles, and spoke at the “Golden Opportunities” luncheon. She is most grateful for the warm hospitality extended by Mrs. Arthur F. Strelohw, State Regent, and the California Daughters. It was truly a memorable experience for this officer's first visit to the great State of California.

Following the conference this officer and her husband were house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Everett E. Jones, the latter a Vice President General from California.

Much work is necessary in preparation for Congress. The Organizing Secretary General is responsible for the installation of the State Regents elect and the Vice Regents. All involved must be contacted and arrangements made for the service.

We regret losing the services of Miss Maria Gonzalez at the end of this week, but look forward to having Mrs. Gladys Hudson join our office staff next week.

Many thanks go to the personnel of this office: Mrs. Pierce Acor, Administrative Assistant; Miss Maria Gonzalez, Mrs. Elba Ribera, and Miss Sheila Powell, Clerk Typists; whose assistance has been invaluable. We would also include our appreciation to the personnel of the Registrar General's office and the Treasurer General's office for their cooperation and assistance in our associated endeavors in organizing new chapters.

Through their respective State Regents the following members At Large are presented for confirmation as Organizing Regents:
- Mrs. Helen L. Laws McAdams, Eureka, Illinois;
- Mrs. Marjorie Wingo Murray, Brandon, Mississippi;
- Mrs. Jouette Wheeler Graham, Marion, Virginia.

Through the National Chairman of Units Overseas the following members At Large are presented for confirmation as Organizing Regents:
- Mrs. Jo Ann DeBoard Touchstone, Iran;
- Mrs. Anne White Stewart, Caracas, Venezuela.

The State Regent of Wyoming requests the name change of the Davey Jackson Chapter to Davey Jackson.

The State Regent of Pennsylvania requests the location change of the Colonel John Chatham Chapter from McElhattan to Buck Creek, Pennsylvania.

The following Chapters are presented for automatic disbandment:
- Priscilla Abbott, Andover, Massachusetts;
- Abigail Burnham, Plainview, Minnesota.

The following Chapters have met all the requirements according to the National Bylaws and are now presented for confirmation:
- Major General William Moultrie, Bethany, Illinois;
- Brozas Valley, Stafford, Texas.

BETTY B. MILLER,
Organizing Secretary General.

Mrs. Miller moved the appointment of five organizing regents; one name change; one location change; automatic disbandment of two chapters; confirmation of two chapters provided necessary messages of organization are sent by 4:30 p.m. from place of origin. Seconded by Mrs. White. Adopted.

The Historian General, Mrs. Raymond F. Fleck, read her report.

Report of Historian General

The Historian General's office continues to be a very exciting and active office. Since the February Board meeting, permission has been granted to place 67 markers, including members' graves, wives of Revolutionary Soldiers, and historic sites. Reports of markers placed total 275.

Included in reports received was a marker placed at the grave of Mrs. Mary Smith Lockwood, Rock Creek Cemetery, Washington, D.C. Mrs. Lockwood was one of the four Founders of the National Society. Also a marker was placed at the grave of Dr. Anita Newcomb McGee in Arlington National Cemetery. Dr. McGee was the First Librarian General, NSDAR, and the Founder of the Army Nurse Corps. Both markers were placed and appropriate ceremonies conducted by the District of Columbia State Society.

Thanks to the cooperation of all State Historians, progress is being made on the new publication, "Historic and Memorial Buildings of the DAR." Watch the DAR Magazine for publication date.

Since the February Board meeting, this officer has spent many hours in the office; been the speaker at the "Accent on Youth" Luncheon, District of Columbia State Conference, Washington, D.C., Mrs. James Robertson, State Regent; traveled to Dallas, Texas, to speak at the "American Heritage" Luncheon, Mrs. Georgi-Elba Ribera, State Regent; was the speaker at the "Opening Session" of the Louisiana State Conference, New Orleans, Mrs. Catherine Clark, State Regent, and spoke at the "American History Month" Luncheon, New Hampshire State Conference in Concord, Mrs. Raymond Gerrish, State Regent.

Orders for the American History Month supplies totaled 40,926 items; there was an increase of more than 8,000 over last year in the number of contestants; with a total of 72,322. Thanks to Mrs. Edward J. Norris, National Vice Chairman in Charge of the Essay Contest, for her dedicated work.

Mrs. Fleck presented Mrs. Florence Daum, who is retiring after 54 years of service to the National Society, and she was given a rising ovation.

The report of the Librarian General, Miss Martha Ansley Cooper, was filed.

Report of Librarian General

During the period from October 1, 1977 to March 1, 1978 all personnel vacancies for the Library were filled and we now anticipate a stable work force. In filling vacancies special attention has been given to upgrading the qualifications of the Library personnel. The staff of the Library consists of nine full time and one part time employees.

After the February Executive Committee meeting, the Librarian General remained in Washington for a week to attend to personnel matters and also to insure that a backlog of correspondence was disposed of. Special thanks go to Mrs. Benjamin W. Musick, Reporter General, who assisted in opening, sorting, and answering the correspondence and also to the several employees in various offices who assisted in the typing.

Invitations were issued to seven local genealogists to assist the Library staff during the Eighty-seventh Continental Congess, 1978. In the past, the six women and one man have greatly helped the Congress visitors.

Plans are being made to make the balcony area more accessible to researchers, thereby increasing the working area of the Library. Tentatively, the Architect for the DAR buildings was scheduled for a visit in April with sketches to be provided in June.

The purchase of a Reader and 20 rolls of 1900 census were authorized from Library funds for the Semmes Microfilm Room.

The number of books purchased in this period and the fees collected will be included in the annual report.

MARTHA ANSLEY COOPER, Librarian General.

The Curator General, Mrs. Carl Edwin Carlson, read her report.

Report of Curator General

Since the meeting of the National Board of Management in February, the Curator General's staff has been quite busy. Several leaks literally kept them on the move—one in the outer office, one in the storage closet, and the biggest in the Museum Gallery—required the removal of items in one of the display cases on the near North side of the Gallery.

In the front area of the Gallery the exhibit of our collection of Chinese Export Porcelain and British Ceramics of the 18th Century continues to be a favorite of our visiting public. Since this officer's last report the display has one new item—a Chinese Export porcelain butter tub with cover, decorated with a floral design done in the famille rose palette of colors and dates circa 1735-50. It is a purchase through the Friends of the Museum fund and well worth your viewing.

The two exhibits readied for the public the middle of January continue to be on view. One "Overshot Coverlets" in the North and South Library balcony display cases and the second "Keeping in Style, Women's Fashions, 1750-1840" is in the center of the Gallery. The last mentioned exhibit had a recent addition for Congress: a blue silk damask wedding dress given by Mr. Baylies and his sister, Mrs. Schulze, in honor of Mrs. George Upham Baylies, President General; through the Harvey Birch Chapter, New York. The dress was worn by Elizabeth Park at her marriage to Nicholas Baylies in 1738: Elizabeth was from Concord, Massachusetts and Nicholas had just arrived from Shropshire, England. The dress fabric is Chinese silk and features designs in the so-called "chinoiserie" style—pagodas, bamboo shoots, birds, and flowers. Wealthy Colonists purchased these damasks from the East India Trading Company and many of the sales are recorded and advertised in Boston newspapers of the period. The dress has descended in the Baylies family to its present donor. It is in excellent condition.

The celestial and terrestrial silk covered globes made by Elizabeth Stockton at the Westown School in 1822 when she was 16 years old have been restored and are on exhibit in the Museum Gallery in their own plexiglass case inside a display case on the North side of the Gallery. The period of time for the Amelung tumbler to be on loan to us has been extended for an indefinite period of time by the donor.

The Friends of the Museum fund has been doing well with almost $8,000 in contributions having been received for the two months of January and February. This includes 27 Life Members and five Memorial Tributes.

The cover of the April DAR Magazine features the Peter Tondee Tavern Room of the State of Georgia and a story of this interesting room by Jean Federico, Curator. The room, located on the lower level of Memorial Continental Hall has a new addition, a tin glazed earthenware bowl made in England circa 1740, which, with its pseudo-Chinese motifs, adds to the authenticity of our newest State room. The bowl was donated by the Archibald Bulloch Chapter.

Another item received recently is an oil painting completed by Gustave Fursberg before 1883. The scene depicts the Van Ness stables and mansion as designed by Benjamin Latrobe in

Daughters of the American Revolution Magazine
1816. The property of the Van Ness Mansion once extended to where our National Society Headquarters stand, and because of this, the painting is of particular interest to members of the Society. It was donated by Miss Gretchen Hood of Washington, D.C.

With the arrival of Spring, bus loads of children come for tours and Touch Programs. In the last two months 740 students have participated. A new brochure has been designed by our Educational Programmer, Karen Wallace, and was printed in the DAR printing room. A six part elementary level program has been developed and three programs on the Secondary level. Brochures are available on request. Karen welcomes your interest and comments.

The Curator, Jean Federico, has spoken to several Chapters and to quilt groups, glass collectors, and students at Mt. Vernon College; and has published articles on our DAR Museum. These articles include: an article in the April issue of Antiques Magazine which features 30 Ceramics, with pictures from our collection; and an article in American Antiques on our Massachusetts silver.

The Maryland Society recently purchased a Chippendale style easy chair made in the Baltimore area about 1800. At the same time, Mrs. A. H. Hoffman, Jr. gave a Baltimore fancy chair of 1820-30. The woods were examined by the United States Forestry Service in Madison, Wisconsin. They were definitely found to be tulip or the yellow poplar wood of the Baltimore region.

The Michigan room is having its lovely sofa recovered. It's doubtful if it will be ready for Congress, because when stripped to be covered fully and to find why it had collapsed, one end of the frame was found to have been weakened by termites. Therefore, the frame had to be treated before reupholstering could begin.

The Museum Research Library has had a number of books added to it through donations.

The Registrar, Sara Ingram, has been busy cataloguing, answering correspondence, and taking photographs. In the many pages of California ads and photos featured in the April DAR Magazine, the photos were done by Sara Ingram.

Four recent loans from our Museum are on display in New York and Virginia:

2. From our collection of samplers—the early 19th century sampler by Cassandra Hetzel in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania to the Roberson Art Center, Binghampton, New York.
3. To the Yorktown Victory Center, Yorktown, Virginia, the Miniature of Commodore Joshua Barney, a watercolor on ivory, circa 1800 encased in a gold frame, and

The Museum's collection of silver continues to be catalogued by Debra Hashim, Intern.

Susan Pomerleau, intern, is cataloguing the pewter collection, and Intern Holly Haynes is working on the Museum Tour Guide plans.

Fourteen states had deaccessioned objects to be taken from the Repository last April. All states have responded, and with one state picking theirs up this Congress, that project will be completed.

The Curator General attended the United States Air Force Band Concert at Constitution Hall on February 5, following the February National Board Meeting. She returned to her home in Connecticut, and on February 10, she presented a Museum slide set program with commentary at Hannah Woodruff Chapter, Plainville. February 15, she attended the State Council meeting of the Connecticut DAR. She returned to her office on February 23rd, and on February 26, 27, and 28 was a guest and speaker on "Your DAR Museum" at the 86th State Conference of the District of Columbia State Society Daughters of the American Revolution, Mrs. James Robertson, State Regent. March 2, found her going back to Connecticut. March 3rd, 4th, and 6th she presented Museum slide set programs with commentary to three Connecticut Chapters: Esther Stanley Chapter in New Britain, Captain Noah Grant Chapter in Tolland, and General Roger Wells Chapter in Newington.

Friday, March 17, she flew to Chicago for a brief visit with her daughter and family before going to the 79th State Conference of the Missouri State Society, DAR on March 22-24, Miss Sandra Johnson, State Regent. She spent Easter weekend and the following week at home.

Upon her return here she represented and read the message from the President General at the unveiling of a marker in memory of Dr. Anita Newcomb McGee in Arlington National Cemetery on April 4, arrangements having been made by the District of Columbia State Society.

JEAN DE L. CARLSON, Curator General.

Report of Reporter General

In compliance with the Act of Incorporation of the National Society Daughters of the American Revolution, approved February 20, 1896, and by direction of the National Board of Management, on October 6, 1977, four copies of the Annual Proceedings of the Eighty-sixth Continental Congress, reporting the work of the Society accomplished from March 1, 1976 to March 1, 1977, were submitted to Dr. S. Dillon Ripley, Secretary of the Smithsonian Institution. This was the 80th report from the National Society to the Smithsonian Institution as required by Title 36 United States Code, Section 18B.

The Annual Proceedings report the detailed work and services of every State in the Union. It is the conclusive proof of the work and achievement of the National Society and the only detailed published record of the National Society.

On October 25, 1977, Dr. Ripley sent to the Honorables Thomas P. O'Neill Jr., Speaker of the House of Representatives, a copy of the National Society Daughters of the American Revolution "Annual Proceedings" of the Eighty-sixth Continental Congress.

Since the January Board meeting, a booklet listing the Located Graves of Soldiers and Patriots of the American Revolution, March 1, 1974—March 1, 1977, has been compiled and printed in our own print shop by Mr. Gilbert Bennett. It is a beautiful job of printing of which we can be very proud. The booklet is on sale in the office of the Corresponding Secretary General.

The National Board of Management, on February 3, 1978, passed a recommendation of the Executive Committee "That an office be maintained in the Administration Building to provide for a liaison officer, namely the Reporter General, for the Executive Officers and all National Standing Committees except the Children of the American Revolution, the DAR Magazine, the DAR Magazine Advertising, the DAR Museum, Genealogical Records, Lineage Research, Membership, National Defense and Public Relations. She shall further be the liaison officer for all Special Committees except American History Month, Bylaws, Friends of the Museum, Units Overseas, National Board Dinners, State Regents Dinners and DAR Service for Veteran Patients."

An office has been established on the third floor of the Administration Building. Mrs. Mary Jane Lindley was chosen as the Administrative Assistant.

Special thanks to the Executive Committee and the DAR for the equipment and their cooperation and understanding.

Special thanks to Mrs. Lindley in helping beyond the call of duty to facilitate the work in preparing the office.

This officer enjoyed the courtesy and hospitality extended at the Delaware, New York, Missouri and District of Columbia State Conferences for which she is most appreciative.

She has attended meetings of the Finance Committee and all meetings of the Executive Committee and the National Board of Management.

VELMA COTTLE MUSICK,
Reporter General.

Mrs. James D. Eastin, Chairman of the DAR Magazine Committee, read her report.

Report of DAR Magazine Committee

The goal of the Magazine Committee this year was to increase subscriptions by 10%. It is with much disappointment that I have to report that the total subscriptions of $3,855 show a loss of 8.3%, or 4,889. This is doubly disappointing in view of the fact that all but eleven States had an increase in membership but only three States had an increase in Magazine subscriptions.

It would seem that many members subscribed for the Bicentennial year when the subscriptions reached an all-time high of 57,738, but did not renew. It is imperative, therefore, that in the coming year each and every member make a concerted effort to obtain new subscriptions.

The computer print-out of subscriptions by Chapters as of March 1, 1978 has been mailed to all Chapter Regents. These should be given to the Magazine Chairman at once for checking. It is suggested that a card file be set up from the print-out for each subscriber and filed by month of expiration for easy followup.
Again the DAR Magazine and its Editor, Miss Mary Rose Hall, have been awarded the Freedoms Foundation George Washington Honor Medal for Nonprofit Publications. Miss Hall and Mrs. Florence Checchia, Circulation Manager, and the entire Magazine Staff are to be commended for giving us such an outstanding magazine.

BETTY A. EASTIN,
Chairman.

Mrs. Bernie Chesley McCrea, Chairman of the DAR Magazine Advertising Committee, read her report.

Report of DAR Magazine Advertising Committee

A total of 755 Chapters from 19 States in three Divisions supplied revenue of $45,365.00 for the March, April and May issues. This is a decrease of $3,015.00 from the same period last year.

Deadlines are extremely important in Magazine Advertising, as late copy throws our entire schedule off and results in a delay of the Magazine going to press and to YOU. Please remember that all copy and photos must be in our office no later than the first of the month, TWO MONTHS PRIOR TO PUBLICATION.

Although we no longer have the ½" $10.00 ad, none of our other prices have changed. The DAR Magazine offers very reasonable rates which are attractive to commercial advertisers, so PLEASE try to increase the amount of commercial ads that your chapter sends in.

We have been having a problem with illegible hand-written ad copy being sent in for publication. In the future, please be sure to send typed or clearly printed ad copy. This will help save a great deal of time.

We have a new staff in the Advertising Office: Betsy Himmel is our new Advertising Manager and Lee Rose is our new Advertising Assistant. They will be happy to help you with any questions or problems.

Revenue for the March, April and May issues came from the following:

We think this is a fine report, but our members always contribute generously when made aware of a particular need . . . such as the funding of the new home economics building at Kate Duncan Smith School. Gratitude is also expressed to our administrators at both schools. Every effort is being made to keep expenses to a minimum and still accomplish all that must be done, such as repairs to and maintenance of all buildings. During January and February Tamasssee had unexpected expenses—one deep well pump was replaced and a new oil furnace placed in New Jersey cottage. Kate Duncan Smith had similar repairs to their equipment, caused by the cold winter weather. Also, many students and staff members were sick with viruses at both schools.

Tamasssee reports insurance premium notices mailed to all State Regents whose States have buildings on campus . . . they become due May 1, 1978. Kate Duncan Smith plans to do likewise. It is hoped that the various States will pay all or a portion of the premium, thereby helping the schools financially. You should be advised that this is not an executive ruling. Our President General, realizing the increase in insurance premiums, agreed that the schools could request financial assistance from those states affected, but stressed it is not incumbent upon them (State Regents) to comply.

Your Chairman feels it is important that you know how our National DAR school project is progressing. For the most part, Dr. Edmonds and his staff, have concentrated much time and effort since October 1977 in finalizing plans and continuing with the first phase of construction of this new building, and the Jeannette Osborne Baylies Home Economics Building is well underway.

Plans are to use the additional classroom space, as planned, for classes for which there is not room in the Seimes-Thomas Classroom Building.

Another important factor is: because the school is acting as its own contractor, a general contractor will not be employed; thereby saving a substantial amount in contractor's fee. Also, there will be a substantial savings as sales tax will not have to be paid on most items, since the school is acting as its own contractor . . . in total sum this will be quite a savings.

Tentative plans are to dedicate this completed building on Dedication Day, October 16-17, 1978. This is contingent on available funds and number of working days required. You are urged to contribute generously, summer months are near and most of us are ready for a vacation . . . but this year, please remember our schools must have revenue or our school programs will suffer . . . your contribution, large or small, will be greatly appreciated . . . and, it's tax free!

ANNE THOMAS JAMISON, Chairman.

Mrs. Eloise T. Jenkins, Chairman of the Building and Grounds Committee, read her report.

Report of Buildings and Grounds Committee

Since the February report given by this Chairman, the following has been accomplished toward the ongoing care of our buildings and grounds.

A new air conditioner was purchased for the Baylies Centre which necessitated installing a new power line. All other air conditioners have been taken from storage and placed in windows. The air conditioner in the O'Byrne Room was moved to a center window for better cooling.

New fluorescent lights were installed on stairways leading to the Lounge and Men's Room in Constitution Hall.

The sidewalk leading to steps to the main entrance of the Administration Building has been repaired.

Outside lights on Constitution Hall were repaired.

The Keypunch office was moved to quarters in Treasurer General's office. The Central Committee has been moved into this vacated office with refurbishing in progress. A larger desk was purchased for the Treasurer General and her former desk was transferred to the Central Committee office.

Air conditioners have been rearranged including installation of new plexiglass in the Magazine offices. Walls were repainted and new shades and draperies have been hung. The Treasurer General accounting offices also received new shades.

New permanent Flag racks were installed on the D Street ramp to fly the State Flags during Continental Congress.

Repairs are currently being made to the roof of Constitution Hall, the roof of the Museum Gallery, roof areas over the office of the Curator General and Program Committee.

Plants and shrubbery killed by the past two winters bad weather have been replaced in many areas of the grounds.

A contract for new seats in Constitution Hall has been signed, with installation to start this summer.

This Chairman is most grateful for the cooperation and assistance of members of her Committee. Each one has exhibited so many capabilities and has given untiring hours to fulfill the many obligations met. Appreciation is also extended for help from the Business office, the Manager of Constitution Hall and other members of the staff for their support.

ELOISE T. JENKINS, Chairman.

Wyoming Valley

the following December, the remains of eighty-three bodies were deposited within the monument. Unfortunately, toward the end of June 1834, the monument then being about twenty feet high, funds were depleted and the work on the monument came to a grinding halt. Although a proposal for funds was presented to the Connecticut legislature in 1839 and again in 1841, no money was forthcoming. During the interval when work was halted, a group of women from the general area organized under the name of the “Ladies’ Monumental Association.” Fund raising of varying natures were undertaken and enough money was raised to not only complete the monument, but also to erect a protecting fence and provide for planting on the grounds.

The monument, chosen from three prospective drawings, is a plain obelisk in the dark grey stone native to the Valley. It stands sixty-two and one half feet high and is erected precisely over the spot where the slain were originally buried in 1778. The group of indomitable ladies, whose organization’s name was changed to the Wyoming Monument Association, were incorporated in April 1860, and by a special act of the legislature of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, were given title to the monument and its grounds. There is reason to believe it is one of the oldest organizations in the country today which has met continuously since its inception over one hundred and thirty years ago.

Located on U.S. Route 11 in Wyoming Borough, the Wyoming Monument is not only a year round tourist attraction but also is the scene of an annual commemorative service held to honor the memory of those who so valiantly fought and died to preserve home and country in the face of almost unsurmountable opposition.

From the Desk of the National Chairman . . . .

It was wonderful to see so many of you at Continental Congress. Our office was a bee-hive of activity with queries of the grandparent file. Using our cross-indexing by Grandparent and by Revolutionary Ancestor we were able to assist 87% of those making requests. Our first six months with grandparent indexing showed retrieval of 50%. These "lazy-hazy days of summer" would be an ideal time to finish preparing your grandparent forms and help make 100% assistance a reality.—Sue Eileen Walker Muldrow.

MATINECOCK (Flushing, New York) held its American History Month meeting on February 24th. The meeting was the culmination of Matinecock’s participation in the National Essay Contest and included the Good Citizenship Awards on the High School Level. Invitations had been extended to the parents of all winners in the Essay Contest to be Matinecock’s guests at the luncheon preceding the ceremonies, as well as the award presentations to the young essayists.

After the opening ceremonies conducted by Mrs. James W. Hughes, Regent, Mrs. Powell introduced Miss Mary Bromham, Chairman of American History Month Essay Competition, for presentation of awards to Matinecock winners of the National Essay Contest. Miss Bromham said that ten schools had participated in the essay contest, which included Grades 5 to 8, and that hundreds of fine essays had been submitted on the topic “Growing Up in Colonial Times.” She thanked Mrs. John Stevely and Miss Marjorie Wilmot for their assistance in the judging of the essays. Two principals of the schools involved, who were present, had gone to much trouble to attend on a day when the schools were closed.

Miss Bromham called on the winners of the Essay Contest to come forward to accept their awards. On each of the four grade levels there were two prizes awarded; the first prize was a ten dollar bill, the second prize a five dollar bill. In addition each received a small American flag on a stand together with a leaflet, “The Flag,” describing its proper display and handling. Miss Bromham explained that the essays of First Prize winners had been sent to the State Chairman for further consideration in the national contest. The second prize winner on the 5th grade level read her essay aloud, as did the one on the 6th Grade level.

Mrs. Powell called upon Miss Marjorie Wilmot, Matinecock Chairman of Good Citizens, to present the four high school seniors participating in the award program. Each was nominated by his school as the best in his class for possessing qualities of dependability, leadership, service, and patriotism.

Then Miss Wilmot presented to each a gold Good Citizens pin and a copy of “Washington Landmark.”

Mrs. Powell then presented the speaker for the day, Carl Sferrazza, Jr. of Bayside, Queens. He is a freshman at the State University of N.Y. at Buffalo, and had flown down from Buffalo in order to be present at the Matinecock meeting. His talk, “The Wives of the Presidents,” was illustrated by costumed clay models of all the “First Ladies” and their illustrious husbands. These models were fashioned by Mr. Sferrazza and make an impressive collection. His talk included some fascinating anecdotes and was an original and interesting presentation well suited to both the adults and to the children present in the audience that day.—Mary Bromham.

REELFOOT (Union City, TN). The December, 1977 meeting was a Colonial open-house, held in a reconstructed log cabin located on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. David Gunn Critchlow in Obion County. The unusual two-story cabin, originally constructed in nearby Gibson County, was a stop-over for President Andrew Johnson on one of his visits to West Tennessee.

Special guests were the four DAR Good Citizens and their sponsors. American Heritage was emphasized in a variety of ways—from refreshments and decorations, to the program of folk music played on a dulcimer crafted in the Appalachian highlands of East Tennessee.

Then Miss Wilmot presented to each a gold Good Citizens pin and a copy of “Washington Landmark.”

Mrs. Powell called upon Miss Marjorie Wilmot for their assistance in the judging of the essays. Two principals of the schools involved, who were present, had gone to much trouble to attend on a day when the schools were closed.

MOSELEY-BRIGHT (Kinston, N.C.) was organized on October 20, 1926. We are proud to honor Mrs. George Washington Knott, sole surviving Charter Member.

Mrs. Knott was born in Lenoir County and still lives in the same County. She attended Woman’s College, married, and has two children. She has always been active in Patriotic Organizations and still keeps up this interest. In the DAR Mrs. Knott served as State Museum Chairman in North Carolina. She is a member of United Daughters of The Confederacy; the Huguenot Society; Founders of Manakin, Virginia; Daughters of The American Colonists, of which she was Organizing Regent and Regent of the Queen Anne Chapter, and Past State First Vice-Regent in North Carolina.

Mrs. Knott is a member of The Daughters of The Colonial Wars, and has served as Frontier Nursing Service Chairman. She is a member of The National Huguenot Society and was a Representative to The National Society; a member of The North Carolina Society for the Preservation of Antiquities; National Historical Society; National Trust for Historical Preservation; and a member of the Lenoir County Historical Association.

Mrs. Knott was the Guiding Light behind the Richard Caswell Memorial Park in Kinston, and was appointed by Governor Umstead to the Richard Caswell Commission. She was Regent of the Moseley-Bright Chapter from 1957 to 1960, and at present is Honor Roll Chairman for North Carolina and for the Moseley-Bright Chapter.
FAIRFAX COUNTY (Virginia). A recently published book, "The Diary of Robert Rose, A View of Virginia by a Scottish Colonial Parson, 1746-1751" was given to the DAR Library in Washington by Mr. and Mrs. Murray F. Rose of Falls Church, Virginia.

The book was presented on behalf of the Fairfax County Chapter of which Mrs. Rose is a former regent. It was accepted by Mrs. Eldred Yochim, the State Regent of Virginia, for presentation to the library.

The Reverend Ralph E. Fall of Port Royal, Virginia, edited and annotated the book which is the first publication of a document over 225 years old. Parson Rose immigrated from Scotland to Virginia in 1724 and served as minister in Essex and Albemarle Counties for twenty-six years.

The diary is 108 pages and the volume also contains over 200 pages of annotations identifying and locating 1,500 names mentioned in the diary, 2 indexes and 40 photographs. Also included with the book is a large tri-color map produced by Murray Fontaine Rose, a seventh generation descendant of Parson Robert Rose. The map is unique in that authentic records for several hundred plantations, towns and other sites were used to plot locations on present-day topography by the U. S. Geological Survey.

MME. ADRIENNE DE LAFAYETTE (Vallejo, CA) presented a bronze plaque to the Naval Support Activity, Mare Island Naval Shipyard, honoring St. Peter's Chapel as the oldest Navy Chapel on the west coast, still serving the military families. St. Peter's Chapel was the second Chapel to be built on Navy property and the first Chapel on any Military reservation to be used for both Protestant and Catholic Services. This Chapel is of California Redwood and attractive as its exterior may be, the interior is more so. The ceremonies took place February 21, at the chapel.

A warm welcome was given to members and guests by the Chapter Regent, Mrs. Joseph Guerin. Presentation of the Colors was by the Hogan and Vallejo High Schools Navy Junior R.O.T.C. Color Guard. The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was led by Mrs. Ivan Luce, Chapter Flag Chairman, followed by the National Anthem accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Gladys Baillehache. The Invocation was given by Capt. Robert H. Warren CHC, senior Chaplain at Mare Island.

Guest speaker, Mr. Ernest Wichels, recalled the early days of St. Peter's Chapel and of Chaplain Adam A. McAllister, who with the Honorable George C. Perkins, United States Senator, appropriated funds of $5,000.00 for the building of the Chapel, first dedicated October 13, 1901. Chaplain McAllister's grave lies in the historic cemetery on Mare Island.

Mr. Wichels also spoke on the plaques placed in the ceiling of the Chapel, all of one size and hand carved of wood. All plaques and medallions lining the walls of the Chapel were given in memory of individuals, organizations and events, highlighting the history of the Navy and Marine Corps. One of the most outstanding features of the Chapel are the beautiful stained glass windows. Nine of these windows are Tiffany glass and all were given as memorials.

The blessing of the plaque was given by Mrs. Charles Gearhart, Chapter Chaplain. The dedication and presentation of the plaque were given by Mrs. Guerin. Capt. Nunneley accepted the plaque on behalf of the Naval Support Activity. Mrs. Strehlow spoke briefly on the objects of the DAR and emphasized the National Theme. Closing remarks were given by the Chapter Vice Regent; Mrs. Grace Haas. The benediction was given by Mrs. Gearhart and the Colors were then retired.

Following the ceremonies, members and guests enjoyed a luncheon at Mare Island, where the chapter then presented Mrs. Strehlow, Mrs. Wilbur and Mrs. Morgan each with a plate imprinted with a picture of St. Peter's Chapel.

Serving with Mrs. Morgan on her committee were: Mrs. Guerin, Mrs. Haas and Mrs. Winsor with Mrs. Gearhart as advisor. Corsages and decorations; Mrs. Haas, Phone committee; Mrs. Frank Fowler and Mrs. Winsor, Publicity; Mrs. Haas and Mrs. Morgan.—Betty J. Morgan.

Mrs. Morris Young, Chairman of the Regents' Round Table and Regent of New York City Chapter, called the meeting to order. The Invocation was given by the Chaplain, Mrs. Robert N. Dunton followed by the Pledge of Allegiance led by Mrs. Albert Kasluskly, Secretary.

Mrs. McArthur graciously thanked us and said she would keep it on her table awhile and then send it to the museum in Norfolk where the awards given to her and General McArthur were on display. She also told us she was a member of the DAR in her mother's Chapter.

Mrs. Young after introducing Mr. Drew Middleton, Military Editor of The New York Times, author of thirteen books, was the Times Bureau Chief in Russia, Germany, England, France, Brussels and the U.N. then presented him with an award for his patriotic contributions.

EZRA PARKER (Royal Oak, Michigan) celebrated with a luncheon meeting for ninety-one on the fiftieth anniversary of the organization meeting of November 15, 1927. Four charter members were present, Mrs. W. Clarence Hudson, Mrs. Eldon B. Flu from California, Mrs. John E. Fleming and Mrs. Hessel Tenhave. Four were unable to attend. Mrs. Fleming, also organizing member, was presented with her Fifty-Year Pin and ribbon by Mrs. Roy Barnes and received her Fifty-Year Certificate from the presiding Regent, Mrs. James J. Reeves.

Honored guests included the State Regent, Mrs. Eldon A. Behr, who gave the program entitled, “First Ladies of the DAR,” Mrs. James D. Eastin, Vice President General and Honorary State Regent; Mrs. Roy V. Barnes, Honorary State Regent; Mrs. John R. Williams, State Regent of Ohio; nine members of the State Board, two State Chairmen and thirteen past Regents. The honored guests were each presented with a gold velvet and satin corsage. Every person present was given a rolled copy of the November 15, 1927, minutes, tied with a ribbon, also a hand-lettered program. The charter members were entertained by a skit about 1927 and a song with words written for the occasion.

On display were the charter, two bound volumes each containing twenty-five year books, fifty years of scrap books, accumulated awards and memorabilia and three gavels used by the regent during the meeting. The chapter gavel is made of white oak from a gun carriage mounted at Fort Stevens during the Civil War. The gavel used by Lexington Alarm Society, C.A.R., was made from one of thirteen Chestnut trees planted by George Washington.—Geraldine Reeves.

MARY PENROSE WAYNE (Fort Wayne, IN). On July 24, 1977, the Mary Penrose Wayne Chapter conducted a memorial service at the grave of Mrs. Grace Barnett Wren at the Catholic Cemetery, 3500 Lake Avenue, Fort Wayne, Indiana.

Although a native of Fort Wayne, Mrs. Wren spent most of her life in Washington, D.C. She was a member of Constitution Chapter in that city. Mrs. Wren served as Vice President General, 1958-61, and State Regent of the District of Columbia, 1956-58.

Present at the service were a nephew, Edward Barnett, Washington, D.C.; a niece, Mrs. Virginia Bennett, Frankfort, Kentucky; Indiana DAR State Librarian, Mrs. Robert Welker; 20 members of Mary Penrose Wayne Chapter; and friends.

RICHARD DOBBS SPAIGHT (New Bern, North Carolina), observed its Charter month with Miss Gertrude Carraway, Honorary President General, telling of the organization of the Richard Dobbs Spaight Chapter. The Chapter was organized March 29, 1921 in New Bern, with 15 Charter Members. Richard Dobbs Spaight, Sr., was one of North Carolina’s three Signers of the Federal Constitution and the first native Governor of North Carolina.

Miss Carraway told of some of the outstanding records of historical, educational and patriotic services that have been made through the years. Innumerable genealogical records have been sent to National Headquarters, as well as local histories and traditions, and lists of local objects of historical importance.

Toward the restoration of Tryon Palace, North Carolina’s Colonial and first State Capitol, the Chapter paid for the surveys on the original Palace Square, and has made other gifts of furniture and silver.

An American essay Contest of New Bern and Craven County 5th and 6th grade students on “Growing up in Colonial America” was sponsored in February. The essays were judged by a panel of three Chapter members: Mrs. Robert Broeck, Mrs. J. T. Hollister and Mrs. Douglas T. Horner. From the 47 entries, the panel selected two winners, and eight for Honorable mention. First prizes were signed copies of the DAR publication “Washington Landmark.”

A program on Genealogy Research was given by Mrs. Fred Whitty, Sr., Treasurer of Eastern N. C. Genealogy Society. She said research requires perseverance. She read some interesting letters written in the 1770s.—Ruth H. George.

LADY KNOX (Rockland, Maine) celebrated its eightieth anniversary at its January 10, 1978, meeting held at the Farnsworth Museum. On January 17, 1898, twelve ladies met at the home of Mrs. Eva Arey Butler, 5 Beech Street, for the purpose of forming a local chapter of the DAR. It was the unanimous wish of this group to be known by the name of Knox, as General Henry Knox was the first Secretary of War under President Washington. General Knox’s name and that of his wife, Lucy, had been chosen by other chapters, thus the name of Lady Knox was decided upon.

Since that first meeting the chapter has conducted and sponsored many events of a patriotic, educational, and historical nature. Lady Knox Chapter has grown and is now proud to be one of the oldest and most active chapters in the state.

Four former Regents, Mrs. Charles Beals, Mrs. Roland Berry, Mrs. Fred Lindsey, and Mrs. George St. Clair, were guests of honor at this anniversary celebration. As a memento of their years as Presiding Officers, the Regent, Miss Lela H. Gildden, presented each with a gift of a miniature gavel, decorated with red, white, and blue bows.

A history covering the eighty years of the chapter, compiled by Mrs. Albion Bartlett, was presented. The early history was read by Mrs. George St. Clair, and the review of the activities of more recent years was read by Mrs. Roland Berry.

An anniversary cake with a patriotic motif was made for the occasion by Mrs. George Luce.

An auction followed the historical part of the program with Mrs. Earle Paxman acting as auctioneer.

The hostesses for the anniversary Tea were Mrs. George Luce, Chairwoman, Mrs. Earle Gammon, Miss Lela Gildden, Mrs. Robert Meehan, Mrs. Edward Moffett, Mrs. Dana Smith, Mrs. Oscar Simmons, and Mrs. Byron Weatherbee.

MILDRED WARNER WASHINGTON—HEARTS OF OAK (Monmouth, Illinois), observed its 75th Anniversary with a blue and white tea, at the home of Mrs. James O’Daniel. The chapter was chartered, April 2, 1902. Actually its records and application paper date back five years earlier to the Warren Chapter, which was disbanded.

The name chosen, Mildred Warner Washington—Hearts of Oak, paid tribute to the grandmother of George Washington and to Mrs. Matthew T. Scott, Past President General, who had this lineage. Hearts of Oak was taken from the family crest of Miss Mary Desha of Washington and Kentucky, one of the four founders of NSDAR, who had been very helpful to the members of the chapter. The names of Mrs. Scott and Miss Desha were placed on the roll of membership.

Ten of the thirteen living past regents were present for the celebration. They were presented a blue carnation tied with crystal ribbon by the Regent, Mrs. William Hunter. From left to right in the picture, front row: Mrs. Scott Shrode, Mrs. Finley Angell, Mrs. James O’Daniel, Mrs. Ralph Killey, Mrs. Wray Watt, second row: Mrs. Paul Warfield, Mrs. Glenn Seaton, Mrs. Boyd Wilkin, Mrs. William Hunter, regent, third row: Mrs. Mary Jane Uddin, Mrs. Edgar Saville.

Mrs. O’Daniel read cuttings from Ben Hur, written by Lew Wallace in 1897. Mrs. Killey gave a history of the accomplishments of the chapter. She concluded with these words: “As we celebrate our 75th Anniversary, it is vital that we look ahead with enthusiasm toward the future activities of our chapter and the national society. There is much interesting work to be done. As the Bible says, ‘The harvest is plentiful, but the workers are few.’ Let us work together, using our motto, ‘Home and Country.’”

MISSION HILLS (Mission Hills, Kansas) celebrated the Twentieth Anniversary of the Chapter’s founding with a tea at the home of Mrs. Frederick A. Titus.

The guest speaker, Mrs. John W. McGuire, Jr., Kansas State Regent, spoke on “Strength Through Unity and Service.”

Awards were given to Linda Jean Rowe, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Milton L. Rowe. Linda who is a senior at Shawnee Mission South High School, received a DAR Good Citizens Award.

The American History Essay Contest, Silver Medal Award, was given to Tia Tilson, District winner, daughter of Mr. J.B. Tilson. Tia is an eighth grade student at Indian Hills Junior High School. Shirley Harper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Harper, was a Bronze Medal winner in the eighth grade of Old Mission High School.

The essay subject chosen by the National Society for the year was “Growing up in Colonial Times.” (Circa 1760–1790)

Meeting guests included all State Officers, State Chairman residing in the area, the Area Regents Round Table, Medal winners and their parents, and Mr. David W. Wolfe, Unified Studies Director for Shawnee Mission School District.

JAMES MADISON (Hamilton, N.Y.) recently donated a spotting scope and tripod to the Rogers Conservation Center at Sherburne, N.Y. The scope is located in the upper area in the Interpretive Building’s Viewing Gallery. Each year thousands visit the Center to enjoy overnight camping, to enjoy the nature trails and to study the birds common to Central New York. In the picture Mrs. David D'Alrymple, right, chairman of the Conservation Committee is seen presenting the donation certificate to John Kiernan, Center Director. To the left is Mrs. William Cassel, Chapter Regent.

MINISINK (Goshen, New York). A special feature of Minisink Chapter’s 75th Diamond Jubilee Celebration at Goshen, New York, during their December meeting, was the presentation of a book, a monumental work prepared by Registrar Elizabeth Horton and Historian Gertrude Gray. The book, “Abstract of Wills of Orange County Surrogates Court, June 6, 1787 to December 31, 1839” contains 1,375 wills and over 12,000 indexed names and is a valuable source of information for those seeking to trace their ancestry. Copies of this book have been placed in local libraries and sent to National Headquarters.

BLUE SAVANNAH (Mullins, SC) presented handsome United States and South Carolina flags to the Mullins City Recreation Center in a formal ceremony on February 23, 1978. Shown above are: Mrs. E. P. Rogers who presented the flags to the DAR; Jesse Irby of the City Recreation staff; Allen Floyd city recreation director; Mrs. Maxie K. McMillan; Mrs. Paul V. Hardy; Mrs. Frank Parrish; Mrs. George W. Dudley; Mrs. Lawson Jordan; Mrs. W. Glenn White; Mrs. L. B. Dunn, Regent; Mrs. Marion E. Gambrell; Mrs. R. E. Southwestern Ohio has played a great part in the development of the State. Since colonial days when pioneers first left the flat boats on the Ohio River, the area has prospered. Both farming and industry have assisted in making Ohio the third greatest industrial state in the nation. This area includes both state parks and roadside parks. Many historic memorials may be found, such as prehistoric Indian mounds, scenic rivers and forests. Unusual museums include the Air Force Museum, the Christian Waldschmidt House, and Ohio's oldest inn, the Golden Lamb. Famous Ohioans include Ulysses S. Grant, William H. Harrison, Benjamin Harrison, Orville Wright, Wilbur Wright, and Lowell Thomas. Institutions of higher education are prevalent among the 104 in the state, among these are Miami University, Wright State University and the University of Cincinnati.

The Ohio Society DAR Chapters of the Southwest District continue to participate in the three-fold National objectives: Historical, Educational and Patriotic.

MRS. WALTER FYSH, STATE DAR SCHOOL CHAIRMAN

THE RESIDENCE OF MICHIGAN’S GOVERNOR CHARLES MILLER CROSWELL
Two Terms, January 3, 1877 to January 1, 1881

THE GOVERNOR CROSWELL HOME, ADRIAN, MICHIGAN

This excellent example of Greek Revival architecture was the home of Charles Miller Croswell, seventeenth governor of the state of Michigan, since 1927 has been the home of the Lucy Wolcott Barnum Chapter, DAR.

Charles Croswell was born October 31, 1825, at Newburgh, Orange County, New York, son of Sallie Hicks and John Croswell. Orphaned at seven, he went to live with an uncle, Daniel Hicks, and his wife Mary, and came with them to Adrian, Michigan in 1837. The Croswell House was built about 1841-1842: young Croswell is supposed to have helped his uncle build it, and in 1853 became its owner by deed from his widowed aunt.

At the age of twenty-one Croswell began to study law. In 1854 he took part in the formation of the Republican son in that year. In 1855 he formed a law partnership with Party, and was the secretary of the convention held at Jack Thomas McIntyre Cooley, which continued until Judge Cooley moved to Ann Arbor to become one of the first three professors in the law department of the University of Michigan.

Croswell filled many city and county offices, as well as serving in both the Michigan House of Representatives and Senate. He was elected to his first term as Governor in November of the Centennial Year of 1876. Between the two terms he dedicated the present Michigan State Capital building. After Mr. Croswell's retirement he became president of the Lenawee County Bank, and also purchased a controlling interest in The Opera House, since which time it has borne his name. The Croswell Opera House, the third oldest continuously operating theatre in the United States, has just completed a million and a half dollar restoration and will be dedicated in this hundredth anniversary of Governor Croswell's Governorship.

Two brides came to Croswell House: Lucy M. Eddy, in 1852, who bore five children and died in 1868; and Elizabeth Musgrave, whom he married in 1880, and whose one child, born three months after Croswell's death in 1886, lived to be just sixteen.

It was Elizabeth Musgrave Croswell, later married to Thomas Merrill, who negotiated with the Lucy Wolcott Barnum Chapter, DAR, to make the house a memorial to Governor Croswell. Mrs. Merrill restored the house and endowed it.

In the years since, the chapter has added a small auditorium wing to the house; the room has seen constant use for chapter and regional DAR meetings and community events. The State Executive Board, DAR, held its October, 1965, meeting in the house to commemorate the seventy-fifth anniversary of the National Society. The Opera House Association holds its annual meeting there.

The house and its memorabilia of the life and times of Governor Croswell have brought history to life for 6000 junior high school students; taking young people back through the pages of community and state history.

The Chapter House is listed on both the State and National Historic Registers.

In Grateful Appreciation

Piety Hill Chapter of Michigan honors with grateful appreciation, the memory of Mrs. Royce L. (Helen James) Beers, eleventh Regent during 1955-1957. She joined DAR in 1929 as a member of the Louisa St. Clair chapter.

Mrs. Beers died August 1, 1975 leaving a custodial bequest to Piety Hill for use at the DAR "Mountain Schools" in memory of her mother, Mrs. Delbert C. (Maude Parker) James, a charter member of Piety Hill (1935), formerly with Louisa St. Clair since 1922.

Kate Duncan Smith received money for the conversion of the Old Church to an Activities and Kindergarten building and a section of the Covered Walkway to the Doris Pike Gymnasium.

Tamiassee was given the funding for the new air conditioning and heating system on the lower and upper levels of the Smith-Mettetal building.

For many years Mrs. Beers was a generous contributor with special gifts to the DAR Schools, the Michigan Indians and the Veterans Hospital at Allen Park, Michigan.

Piety Hill Chapter has been privileged to honor this bequest of such a friend as Helen (James) Beers.

MRS. CARL W. KIETZMAN
Corresponding Secretary General
1977-1980
This picture was taken at the home of General Horatio N. Curtis which was built in 1825 along the Maumee River in Paulding County to be used as a trading post for the Indians and early settlers of the region. The site was once part of a town named Cranesville and Curtis was the first postmaster of that village. Some former residents even say the mansion is haunted. Stories, whether fact or fiction, are numerous about the brick structure done in the style of the early 1800's. At one of the 6 fireplaces where Ottawa Indians were said to have gotten warm on overnight visits, Johnny Appleseed also is said to have retired there. General Curtis was also the first Paulding County Recorder. His distinguished trading post remains a dignified monument to his memory.

Perry’s Victory and International Peace Memorial National Monument is located at Put-in-Bay on South Bass Island in western Lake Erie. Built of pink Milford granite, it is 352 feet high, 45 feet in diameter at its base and topped with an open air promenade.

During the War of 1812, Commodore Oliver Hazard Perry commanded the American fleet, consisting of the Lawrence, the Niagara and seven smaller vessels, which had been assembled with great difficulty on the British-controlled lake. On September 10, 1813, after he met the British fleet, defeated it and forced it to surrender, Perry sent his famous message to General Harrison, “We have met the enemy and they are ours.” This victory made possible the recapture of Detroit and General Harrison’s invasion of Canada.

One of the most magnificent memorials in the country, it not only commemorates the Battle of Lake Erie, but also all of the ensuing years of peace between the United States and Canada.

The Mississippi Delta Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution of Rosedale and Bolivar County, Mississippi, with great affection and pride, honored much loved former members by unveiling DAR markers at their grave sites in two separate ceremonies. These ceremonies took place in two different cemeteries in two different towns in Mississippi with the space of five years between the occasions.

It was in December of 1972 that a marker was unveiled at the grave of Helen Fox Spinks in Lake Park Cemetery in Laurel, Jones County. Conducting the memorial service were Mrs. Douglass Vardaman, Chapter Regent and Mrs. Joseph Yates Jr., Chapter Historian. Many friends of Mrs. Spinks and members of Nahoula Chapter DAR of Laurel attended.

Flowers symbolic of the Christmas season, given by Mrs. Spinks' family, were placed on the grave. Family members present included her sisters Mrs. Ernest Jones, past regent of Nahoula Chapter, Mrs. Dorothy Fox and Mrs. Estelle Fox White member of the Mississippi Delta Chapter and brothers David Burney Fox and Major William Henry Fox.

In September of 1977, members of the Mississippi Delta Chapter gathered in the Beulah Cemetery in Bolivar County to honor twelve former members buried there. State Historian, Mrs. D. Rayburn Fraser of Columbus was a special guest and participant in the observance.

Taking part in the impressive ceremony with Mrs. Fraser were the following Chapter officers: Mrs. Delbert Farmer, Regent; Mrs. C. B. Black, Second Vice Regent; Mrs. Percy Hawthorne, Chaplain; Mrs. J. R. Snyder, Historian and Mrs. F. R. Armstrong, Flag Chairman and Mrs. LeRoy Jones who placed a lovely flower on each grave.

Many family members and friends of honorees were present to pay their respects.

Past members thus honored were Anna Bell Shelby Bolls, Jeanette Echele Bolls Shelby, India Merchant Shelby, Bess Walton Smith, Rosa Belle McQuire Shelby, Dot Lottie Montgomery, Florence Sillers Ogden, Lorine Rush Goza, Lillian Lobdell Nobles, Frances Rae Wolfe, Mable Dixon Dosset and Dorothy Rae Ramsay.

The Mississippi Delta Chapter expresses appreciation to the following sponsors: Rosedale, Miss.—The Valley Bank, First National Bank, Cleveland, Miss.—The Cleveland State Bank, Shelby, Miss.—The Bank of Bolivar County, Dr. and Mrs. R. Old Ridge Road Chapter
Wake Up, America

I have one more plank in my platform, which I am never going to use, and that is that I think that the term of the President of the United States should be six years—one term. If you look back over the difficulties that the Presidents get into, almost invariably they are associated with efforts to make certain that they get back for the second term.

So, ladies and gentlemen, as your President General said, I am retired, I am not representing any particular group; I am just a concerned American and I did not intend my comments to be critical of any one individual, but I do think that the time has come for us to pull ourselves up by our bootstraps and do something about the national debt, the deficit, the taxes, the bureaucracy, the FBI, terrorism, crime, etc., etc., so that we can, in fact, preserve this great and wonderful country of ours.
The National Genealogical Society is a nonprofit organization established in 1903 to collect and preserve genealogical, historical, and heraldic data, to encourage interest in research, careful documentation, and scholarly writing, and to issue publications relating to the field of genealogy. NGS is now the largest nonsectarian genealogical organization in the United States.

Society membership benefits include:
— four issues yearly of the 80-plus page Quarterly indexed in the Genealogical Periodical Annual Index. The Quarterly contains previously unpublished source material and publishes articles of genealogical interest and reviews of genealogical publications.
— four issues yearly of the Newsletter, containing timely information on happenings in genealogy in general, and in the Society in particular.
— discounts of 20% on the many special publications of the Society.
— use of the Society library while in Washington, DC, with 20,000 volumes, pamphlets, manuscripts, records, tapes, and microfilms.
— use of circulating material through the Library Loan mail program.
— access to the ever-expanding “great-grandfather” file containing varying levels of documentation for more than 30,000 ancestors of members.

If you would like to grow in genealogy along with NGS, send a long SASE for membership information to:

... because no other organization is more dedicated to preserving the America our colonists fought for ... the land our pioneers settled!

Of course, those amber waves of grain and purple mountains are part of "America the beautiful." But NWF is especially concerned about America's inspiring wild heritage. The wonderful animals and birds ... the forests and fields of flowers ... the scenic splendors and natural resources.

Without protection and planning ... unless they are watched over carefully ... bald eagles, cardinal flowers, grizzly bears, wild rivers and so many, many more of America's treasures may not make it through another hundred years!

But the National Wildlife Federation is working every single day to see that this does not happen. Through projects such as our Eagle Data Bank* and our Backyard Habitat program,* we are striving to assure that there will be room for wildlife to survive and flourish.

However ... we need the continued support of concerned people like you to help us keep up this tradition. And that's why now is the perfect time for you to become a member. It's a wonderful opportunity for you to take an active part in America's very special celebration.

As an NWF Associate Member, you give your country the best birthday present of all. For only $7.50 a year — just 63¢ a month — you help to protect and preserve America's priceless wild heritage!

To learn more about the National Wildlife Federation, to get your copy of our Backyard Habitat brochure, and to find out how you can become a member, write to:
