JEWELERS SINCE 1839

CHESTNUT & JUNIPER, PHILADELPHIA, PA 19107 (215) 864-8829
The cover photo provides a sampling of the 14 powder flasks in the Mount Walla collection. These flasks dating from mid to late nineteenth century are made of metal alloys consisting of differing amounts of copper and zinc, which, result in various "shades" of brass and copper. Although many flasks were plain, stamped designs of hunting dogs, game, birds, foliage and shell motifs reflected the popular taste.

As the name implies, powder flasks were manufactured as containers for gun powder. British flask-makers dominated the market, but a few American makers became prominent in the industry.

In the cover photo by Gloria Allen, moving clock-wise from center, eight flasks represent popular designs: (1) small "BALL" flask with foliated motif, possibly American; (2) "Dead-game hung up" design, possibly American; (3) Deer design in circular panel, with smaller dog design, probably Birmingham, England; (4) "Sunburst", probably English; (5) Shell design, possibly American; (6) "Stars", by James Dixon, England; (7) Design of running-hare, probably American; (8) Hunting-dog design by James Dixon, England.

Mrs. Walter Hughey King, President General, greets the President of the United States, Ronald Reagan, in her Reception Room.
President General’s Message

Dear Daughters:

On July 6th we sat in the Chateau at Lake Louise and watched a beautiful snowstorm as we dined cozily within. The Calgary Stampede in Canada, during our official visit, paid tribute to our Society and a beautiful white Stetson hat was presented to the President General.

The official visit to Alaska included each of the five Chapters there. We also flew north of the Arctic Circle in search of a Chapter at Fort Yukon before dashing “down under” for the confirmation of a new Chapter in Sidney, Australia.

The western trip provided an opportunity to visit Daughters in Washington State and to be briefed at Fort Lewis and have lunch with the Rangers—the brave soldiers who participated in the invasion of Grenada.

October 11 marks the 94th Birthday of our Society. As a result of the foresight, energy and initiative of our Founders, we number 212,000 with more than 686,000 members joining over this period. One wonders if our Founders could have envisioned the growth, accomplishments and influence which have resulted from their efforts. Our strength today is a result of their legacy and of our faithfulness to the objectives they established. Through the turmoil, confusion and vicissitudes of these years we have continued to heed the words of Ellen Hardin Walworth, “To preserve the dignity of virtue, to rescue a noble sentiment from degradation is a worthy task, and when considered in its relation to the safety and welfare of our country, it should stimulate the highest action.”

October is a special month to us this year. The Comte de Grasse Chapter of Virginia has the distinction of serving as hostess for the annual celebration of the surrender of Lord Cornwallis to General George Washington at Yorktown. On October 19th, the National Society is dedicating two bronze tablets—one on each side of the Yorktown Victory Monument. On the left, we have placed a replica of the Marker presented to the City of Paris and dedicated to the Peacemakers. On the right, the tablet will be dedicated to our long-standing friendship with Great Britain.

The President General will place a wreath for the Society and that afternoon, will give the principal address of the Yorktown Day Celebration. Those on the School Bus Tour will participate in this memorable day at which the DAR is honored every nine years. Hopefully many of our members will join us there—and others, not able to be present, will hold us in their minds and hearts.

We serve and we move on—the Society prevails!

Faithfully,

Sarah M. King

igh on a hill, near the James River, are fifteen lovely tree and flower covered acres known as Mount Walla Farm. Mount Walla is an Indian word which literally means “High place looking over a valley.” It is located at the northernmost site overlooking the horseshoe bend in the river. Mount Walla is believed to have been built between 1770 and 1780 by James Scott, the owner of the ferry at Scott’s Landing, on land which is part of the original Jefferson tract. Shown is a photograph of an oil on board painting of Mount Walla, an artist’s conception of how it appeared in the 1790s. The painting shows the main house, kitchen, smoke house and spring house.

Mount Walla today looks very little changed from that early rendering. The grey and white buildings are still there. The kitchen, which burned, has been replaced by a guest house on the same location. The chimney stands on the same spot where meals were prepared for the Jefferson family over one hundred and ninety years ago. The Jefferson family burial ground is located just beyond the herb garden.

For the past fifteen years Mount Walla Farm was home to Mildred C. Brown and her Scottie dog, Jimminy Cricket. Together they enjoyed the antique furnishings and their home. Millie Brown was a “collector” and surrounded herself with beautiful things, old and new. She had an eye for the unusual and lived with her collection day in and day out. She entertained frequently and loved to set her table with a vast assortment of ceramics and a few simple foods.

Ten years ago Mrs. Brown decided to make provisions for what would become of Mount Walla, Jimminy Cricket, and her other possessions. She wanted Jimminy Cricket to be with someone he knew and loved, and she wanted Mount Walla and its furnishings to provide the greatest good for the most people. She gave careful consideration to several possibilities and her solution was logical and generous. Jimminy Cricket was to live permanently with his breeder and trainer and Mount Walla and all of its contents were to be given to her DAR Chapter, Albemarle, in Charlottesville, Virginia. In February, 1984 Millie Brown died at age 85.

Through the thoughtfulness of Albemarle Chapter, the DAR Museum was invited to select anything in Millie Brown's home for inclusion in its collection. What an exciting opportunity! Members of the Museum staff called this occurrence different things—Curator’s dream was heard the loudest. Did someone say Registrar’s nightmare? If she did, it wasn’t very loud, and it wasn’t for very long. And so it was, with a great deal of enthusiasm, that the entire staff became involved with the selection, identification, recording, photography, and transportation of this splendid gift.

The excitement mounted as each day passed. Preparation for such a task was awesome. Other registrars, manuals, photographers, and lawyers

A remarkable real-life drama took place in seven American cities during March 1984. Hundreds of parents traveled to one of seven locations, from Seattle to Washington, D.C., to testify at U.S. Department of Education Hearings on proposed regulations for the Protection of Pupil Rights Amendment.

More than 1,300 pages of testimony were recorded by court reporters as parents, public school teachers, and interested citizens spelled out their eye-witness accounts of the psychological abuse of children in the public schools. They related how classroom courses have confused schoolchildren about life, about standards of behavior, about moral choices, about religious loyalties, and about relationships with parents and their peers.

These grieving parents are angry and disappointed about what is going on inside public schools today. Their authentic testimonies revealed parental love overlaid with indignation at what is being done “in the name of education.”

These Hearings explain why the American people are so dissatisfied with schools today. These hearings explain why we have 23 million adult illiterates who graduated from public schools, and why young people are experiencing such high rates of teen suicide, loneliness, premarital sex, and pregnancies.

These hearings explain how schools have alienated children from their parents, from traditional morality such as the Ten Commandments, and from our American heritage. These hearings explain why children are so emotionally and morally confused and why, in the apt colloquialism, they need to “search for their identity.”

These hearings explain what children have been doing in their classrooms instead of learning to read, write, spell, add, subtract, and the essentials of history, geography, and civics. These hearings explain how children learn in school to repudiate their parents, be “sexually active,” take illegal drugs, and rationalize immoral and anti-social conduct when it “feels” good in a particular “situation.”

These hearings speak with the thunderous voice of hundreds of parents who are angry at how their children have been emotionally, morally, and intellectually abused by psychological and behavioral experiments during classroom hours when the parents thought their children were being taught basic knowledge and skills. Parents are indignat at the way that educator “change agents,” spending federal tax dollars, have used children as guinea pigs for fads and experiments that have been substituted for real learning.

Education As “Therapy”

These Department of Education Hearings provide page after page of documentation for the foresightedness of former educator and U.S. Senator Samuel I. Hayakawa, who warned the Senate in 1978 that the schools have become vehicles for a “heresy that rejects the idea of education as the acquisition of knowledge and skills” and instead regards the fundamental task in education as therapy. He said that such inquiring into attitudes, beliefs, and psychic and emotional problems is a “serious invasion of privacy.”

This “heresy” is what has resulted in the schools replacing cognitive education (which addresses the child’s intellect, and teaches knowledge and skills) with affective education (which addresses the child’s feelings and attitudes, and spends classroom time on psychological games and probing personal questions).

In practice, this “therapy” education is a system of changing the child’s values by techniques such as attitude questionnaires which dig into the privacy of the child and his family, psychological games in the classroom, and forcing the child to make adult decisions about such matters as suicide and murder, marriage and divorce, abortion and adoption.

“Therapy” techniques used in the classroom include violent and disturbing books and films; materials dealing with parental conflict, death, drugs, mental illness, despair, and anger; literature that is mostly negative and depressing; requiring the child to engage in the role-playing of death, pregnancy, abortion, divorce, hate, anger, and suicide; personal attitude surveys and games (such as Magic Circle) which invade the private thoughts of the child and his family; psychological games which force the child to decide who should be killed (such as the Survival Game); explicit and pornographic instruction in sex acts (legal and illegal, moral and immoral); and a deliberate attempt to make the child reject the values of his parents and his religion.

The promoters of this strange “therapy” education speak in a jargon designed to prevent parents from understanding either the purpose or the methodology. It’s a sort of Aesopian language which means one thing to the “therapy” professionals, but another to parents who don’t suspect or understand what is happening.

The jargon includes “values clarification,” “behavior modification” (“mastery learning,” etc.), “moral reasoning,” “decision-making,” “higher order critical thinking,” and “humanism.” These phrases identify “therapy” techniques which are generally integrated throughout the school curriculum, but are especially evident in courses such as “sex education,” “death education,” “drug education,” “family living,” “parenting,” “citizenship and character education,” “global education,” and “talented and gifted programs.”

The originators of “therapy” education began peddling their notions in the 1930s about the same time that the teaching of reading started its steep decline. This psychological experimentation existed only in spots here and there around the country until 1965 when federal funding through the Elementary and Secondary Education Act began to finance curriculum and teacher training for the entire country.

Child Abuse in the Classroom

The parents who spoke at the Department of Education Hearings gave authentic accounts of what has happened to their own children in the classroom. The major kinds of psychological courses inflicted on children include the following:

1) The personal attitude questionnaires and diaries. These are outrageous invasions of the child’s privacy which force the child to reveal to the school, and often publicly to the class, the child’s most private thoughts and his family’s behavior and attitudes.

2) The survival games. In these games, elementary school children are required to “play God,” as it were, and decide who should live and who should die from among a dozen different types of individuals. This “game” is played in different hypothetical situations such as a lifeboat or a fallout shelter.

3) The sexuality curricula. In these coed classroom courses, the child is taught how to engage in various sex activities, and is taught to be tolerant of acts which most people... believed are wrong or unnatural. The lessons and materials are often too indelent to describe in this Magazine.

4) The nuclear war curricula. These are courses, exercises, games, and materials which instill the child with fear about the future of our country, guilt about America, and despair about the prospect of nuclear war.

5) The drug curricula. Parents complained that these courses do not discourage the use of illegal drugs but, on the contrary, actually induce experimentation with them and tolerance about their use.

6) The depressing materials. Parents presented dozens of examples of classroom materials which emotionally depress the child and give him a negative attitude toward life, instead of inspiring the child with faith, hope, and ambition to succeed.

7) The anti-parent and anti-religion materials. These are pervasive elements in classroom materials. The child is led to believe that parents are old-fashioned and out of date, that religion is irrelevant and unscientific, that family values must be changed to meet the modern world, and that behavior should be guided by peer pressure and situation ethics.

The Law Against Classroom ‘Therapy’

By 1978, the protests of parents about such ‘therapy’ in the classroom had reached the point that Congress amended the General Education Provisions Act by a section which was officially labelled the Protection of Pupil Rights Amendment, and became informally known as the Hatch Amendment. This statute provided that no student shall be required (under any federal regulations) by a school principal, academic psychologist, or counsel of the U.S. Department of Education to undergo any procedure, or a place for citizens to file complaints; or a remedy for violations. (There were some general administrative regulations for the Department of Education; but they merely restated the language of the statute and did not provide any enforcement mechanism, procedure, or penalty.) Some Congressmen said that the federal bureaucrats did not issue regulations because they did not like the statute and did not intend to enforce it.

Consequently, all citizens who were brave enough to try to file complaints when the schools violated the Pupil Rights Amendment, or to protect their children against psychological abuse in the classroom, were given the royal run-around. Their attempts were futile and frustrating. Local schools denied that the law was relevant or even that it existed, evaded and equivocated, stalled and stonewalled, harassed the parents who complained, retaliated against their children, and arrogantly continued psychological ‘therapy’ in defiance of the parents.

Finally, in response to a crescendo of complaints, the Department of Education published proposed regulations in the Federal Register on February 22, 1984, and announced that it would hold seven days of Hearings across the country to receive public comments.

The proposed regulations set forth the procedures to enforce the Protection of Pupil Rights Amendment, to handle violations, and to withhold federal funds as a penalty for noncompliance with the federal law. However, the proposed regulations, as published in the Federal Register, had some very curious defects. They specifically exempted the federal programs administered by the National Institute of Education (NIE) and the National Center for Education Statistics (NCES). This exclusion was an attempt to permit loopholes large enough to evade the intent of the law because those two agencies are the reason why the Protection of Pupil Rights Amendment was enacted in the first place. Regulations would be worthless unless they include all offices and programs of the Department of Education and all federally-funded ‘therapy’ programs and materials.

The fact that there was no Congressional intent to exclude those agencies, and that there is no legal justification for doing so, is shown by a January 14, 1981 legal opinion on Department of Education letterhead written by Theodore Skol, then deputy general counsel of the U.S. Department of Education. His Memorandum stated that, for the purpose of this statute, the term administrative head of an educational agency means the Commissioner of Education and the Director of the National Institute of Education.

It is curious that not a single teacher, school principal, academic psychologist, or author of a ‘therapy’ program came forth during the seven days of Hearings to defend the theory, the practice, or the purposes of any of the various psychological curricula. Many public school teachers testified, but they were all on the side of the parents and against therapy in the classroom.

The National Education Association did not send any representative to testify at the Hearings even though the NEA is bitterly opposed to enforcement of the Protection of Pupil Rights Amendment. The NEA Weekly Newsletter to NEA Leaders, dated April 16, 1984, gave the reasons why ‘the NEA is opposing the regulations’:

‘Enforced as currently written, the Reagan Administration’s ‘child privacy’ regulations would mandate that all instructional material—including teachers’ manuals, films, and tapes—must be made available for parental inspection.’

But, why shouldn’t all teaching materials be available for parental inspection? How can NEA members deny parents the opportunity to inspect the materials being used on their own children?

There is no answer to that question. That is obviously why no NEA spokesman appeared at a single one of the seven Department of Education Hearings to oppose the regulations, or to defend the ‘therapy’ treatment that is going on in the classroom. The NEA hopes to continue the use of such curricula by ignoring complaints and continuing in the future exactly as in the past.

Recommendations for Regulations

Here is a concise summary of the testimony recommending the content of the proposed regulations for the Protection of Pupil Rights Amendment (the Hatch Amendment): Regulations for the immediate, aggressive enforcement of the Protection of Pupil Rights Amendment must be issued immediately. They are already six years overdue, and there is no excuse for any further delay. The law should apply to all programs which receive, or did receive, federal funding or federal approval.

The National Institute of Education and the National Center for Education Statistics must be included in the enforcement. The NIE is the fountainhead of most of the federally-funded ‘therapy’ which is masquerading as education. The NIE has spent millions of taxpayers’ dollars on controversial, unnecessary, and objectionable programs in the sensitive areas of curriculum development and teacher training, which are not appropriate areas for the Federal Government at all.

The American people do not want federal agencies to develop textbooks and curricula for local schools; that kind of federal thought control is simply not consistent with a free society. We are much better off if private publishing houses offer their wares, and then local school boards make their own selections of textbooks and curricula from a wide selection without pressure to use federally-written or ‘federally-approved’ materials.

The new regulations for the Protection of Pupil Rights Amendment should also include the other programs which were excluded in the proposed regulations when they were published on February 22, 1984, namely, the High School Equivalency Program, the College Assistance Migrant Pro program, the Rehabilitative Services Administration Programs, and the Transition Programs for Refugee Children. These groups are among the most helpless and vulnerable, and they need the protection that this statute can give. The statute certainly does not discriminate against any child, minor or adult; and the regulations should not discriminate, either.

Appropriate publicity should be given to the Protection of Pupil Rights Amendment and to the implementation of regulations so that schools will understand their obligations, and parents and pupils will understand their rights. The final text of the regulations should be distributed to all principals and teachers, and published in the regulations handbook of all public schools and of any private schools which are recipients of public funds, directly or indirectly.

A copy of the handbook should be available in the library of each school for the information of all pupils and parents. The complaint procedure should be incorporated into the students' rights and responsibilities statements, and copies made available to all pupils and teachers.

When a teacher intends to use materials or classroom practices covered by the Protection of Pupil Rights Amendment, the materials and a description of the practices should be available for parental inspection in accessible places for at least a month before their intended use. The parental consent form should contain a specific description of the materials and practices, and should make it clear that they are to be used in the classroom (so that the parent is not misled into thinking that it is individual counseling). This will assure that the prior consent of a parent is informed consent.

Such written approval should be placed in and remain in the school file at least until the end of the academic year. Such record-keeping is for the protection of pupils, parents, teachers, and schools.

Children whose parents do not give consent for participation in such programs should be provided with an alternative academic educational program. They must not be punished, harassed, or embarrassed by teachers or pupils because of their parents' decision, or have their grades reduced.

Incidentally, the Protection of Pupil Rights Amendment does not stop any federal funding or censor any program—it merely requires parental consent before objectionable programs are used. How could anyone object to that? The time has come for parents to assert their rightful authority over the education of their children.

Ronald Reagan showed his concern about the problem of classroom therapy, and about the role of the Federal Government in dealing with it, when he said in an address on August 22, 1980: "As government has become morally neutral, its resources have been denied to individuals professing religious beliefs and given to others who profess to operate in a value-free environment. Many of you, I'm sure, remember the controversy over the federally-funded textbooks known as MACOS (Man: A Course of Study), which indirectly taught grade school children relativism, as they decided which members of their family should be left to die for the survival of the remaining ones. I don't recall the government ever granting $7 million to scholars for the writing of textbooks reflecting a religious view of man and his destiny. . . .

"The office of the Presidency must ensure that the awesome power of government respects the rights of parents and the integrity of the family. If a President can propose taxes, regulations, controls and embargoes, he can propose, as well, ways to keep big government out of the school and the neighborhood and above all—the home. . . .

"And most important, we can get back to the idea that, in a struggle against totalitarian tyranny, traditional values based on a religious morality are among our greatest strengths."

START PLANNING FOR THE 94TH CONTINENTAL CONGRESS

APRIL 15-19, 1985

Chapter Regents are reminded that the Chairman of Credentials mails a special packet in early November to each Chapter Regent. In addition to the credential forms and instructions, this packet also includes the Honor Roll Questionnaire to be completed and returned to the Chairman of Honor Roll. If a Chapter Regent does not have this packet in hand by 16 November, she should immediately contact her State Regent. The State Regent would then contact the Chairman of Credentials so that a duplicate packet might be sent.

The Credentials forms must be completed, signed and returned to the Chairman of Credentials to be received no later than 15 February. Time needs to be allowed for slow mail delivery in order to assure receipt of the completed credential form before the stated deadline. The duplicate form is to be mailed to the State Regent.

Chapter Regents are urged to read carefully all data pertaining to the credential forms and the procedures for registering, and to follow instructions as given.

A review of the National Parliamentarian's article on page 155 of the March 1984 issue of the DAR Magazine might prove helpful.

Members of the National Board of Management, Chapter Regents and Delegates planning to attend Congress may register in advance. Advance registration closes 1 February, 1985. Alternates, even if they know they will be taking the place of a voter, may not advance register. Remember that alternates who will be voters must have a letter so stating, or a notation included on the credential form which designates the alternate as a voter who is taking the place of a specific Chapter Regent or delegate who will not be attending Congress.

There is also a deadline for sending the completed Honor Roll Questionnaire, and this date is vital for the Chapter to be eligible for Honor Roll recognition.

NATIONAL CONTEST CHAIRMAN
Mrs. James S. Mergedant, 428 S. Alvord, Evansville, Indiana 47714
The Monument

One hundred years ago on August 12, 1884, the crowning figure of Liberty was set atop the shaft and the Victory Monument was officially completed. It had taken over a hundred years for Congress to carry out its resolve.

When news of the British surrender at Yorktown reached Philadelphia, Congress hurried to pass a Resolution, dated October 29, 1781, authorizing a monument to commemorate the great event.

That the United States in Congress assembled, will cause to be erected at York, in Virginia, a marble column, adorned with emblems of the alliance between the United States and his Most Christian Majesty; and inscribed with a succinct narrative of the surrender of Earl Cornwallis to his excellency George Washington, Commander in Chief of the combined forces of America and France; to his excellency the Count de Rochambeau, commanding the auxiliary troops of his Most Christian Majesty in America, and his excellency the Count de Grasse, commander in chief the naval army of France in the Chesapeake.

Congress was painfully slow in implementing this Resolution. When no action had been taken by 1834, the citizens of Yorktown became understandably impatient. They sent a memorial to Congress reminding those gentlemen that "no event in our history is more worthy of commemoration than that which crowned the American revolution with success and triumph." Still no positive action was taken.

Many individuals were concerned that the site had not been marked for posterity, though it had been marked on military maps of the period and recorded by eyewitnesses. One of the latter, Dr. Thatcher, a surgeon in the Continental Army, had written detailed observations in his Diary. Later, a well-known historian, B. J. Lossing, was taken to the spot by Governor Nelson's descendant, William Nelson, who had personally planted four poplar trees to identify the area. Mr. Lossing recorded the information in a book he was writing.

On October 29, 1859, a white marble shaft thirteen feet high was erected by the 21st Regiment of Virginia Militia of Gloucester and other volunteer companies. However, this monument disappeared. It is believed that it was vandalized by soldiers from both armies, who may have carried away pieces as souvenirs during the War Between the States.

Years later one other unofficial monument was erected. Mr. Shaw, one time custodian of the National Cemetery at Yorktown, thought he had found the stumps of the four poplar trees marking the site of the surrender. Some time between 1905 and 1907, at his own expense, he built a pointed-shaft monument ten feet above a stepped base. In 1934, when it was determined that his research was inaccurate, the monument was removed.

Finally, June 7, 1880, Congress passed an Act to carry out the Resolution of 1781. "After taking exactly one hundred years to brood over the matter, Congress failed to share the opinion of the earlier Yorktown intelligentsia. When the former august body, after its century of mulling, finally stirred into its customary ponderous motion, the result was an appropriation of $100,000 and a monument erected high on a bluff overlooking the York River just one mile from the scene of the surrender."

A Commission of House and Senate members, representing the original thirteen states, was formed to select the site for the monument and begin plans for the Yorktown Centennial. Now speed was essential. Miraculously, the site was selected and the cornerstone was laid October 18, 1881 to open the four day Centennial celebration. Several thousand attended, including the President and foreign dignitaries. Music was provided by the famous United States Marine Corps Band under the direction of John Philip Sousa.

Three artists were commissioned by the Secretary of War to recommend a suitable design for the monument. The Chairman was R. M. Hunt. Serving with him were J.Q.A. Ward, an architect of New York, and Henry Van Brunt, a sculptor of Boston. These artists followed the directives, specified in the original Resolution, relative to emblems, inscriptions and symbols.

Architecturally, the monument was planned and constructed in three parts: the base, a sculptured podium and a column. The base carries an inscription on each of the four sides. The North side carries the dedication of the monument; the East commemorates the Treaty of Alliance of 1778 with France; the South carries the narrative of the Siege; and the West tells of the resulting treaty of peace with England. The pediments, which are a part of the base, carry emblems of nationality, war, alliance and peace. Thus, the base makes an historical statement.

The podium is a symbol of the birth of freedom. The thirteen female figures are dancing hand in hand. This represents the unity of the thirteen original colonies. The inscription beneath their feet proclaims: One Country, One Constitution, One Destiny.

The column symbolizes the nation's century of growth. There is a star for each of the thirty-eight independent states which made up the Union at the time the monument was designed. Atop the shaft is the figure of Liberty, but this is not the original figure.

The 98 foot monument has stood intact for a hundred years, except for the figure of Liberty, which lost her head in an electrical storm in 1942. When the new figure, created by the Charlottesville, Virginia sculptor, Oaker Hansen, was put back in her lofty position, a lightning rod was also installed. The new Liberty was in place in time for the 1957 Yorktown Day Observance.

YORKTOWN DAY OBSERVANCES

Credit and praise is due the Comte de Grasse Chapter of Yorktown for planning and promoting the annual observance on October 19 of the Victory at Yorktown. This was one of the stated goals of the chapter when it was organized February 2, 1922. The organizing regent, Mrs. George Durbin Chenoweth, and the twenty members carried out this mission within nine months.

The Chapter conducted the first observance of Yorktown Day October 19, 1922 with appropriate ceremonies beside the Victory Monument. In attendance at this historic event were the delegates to the Virginia DAR State Conference, meeting that year in Yorktown. This created widespread interest in Yorktown Day and the Virginia Society returned five years later for the 1927 state meeting.

Ten years later, Mrs. Chenoweth reported "the usual exercises of Patriotic Societies were conducted on the lawn of the Custom House. These exercises were followed by the hallowed ceremony of placing wreaths at the Victory Monument." The Customhouse had been purchased in 1924 by the Chapter, which has restored and maintained this historic landmark to the present time. Mrs. Chenoweth's report continued: 'A large detachment of Marines fired a salute and "Taps" by a Bugler from the Marine Corps closed this impressive ceremony.' (3,4 = VA DAR Proceedings, 1938, pg. 161)

The Chapter faithfully continued to sponsor the annual observance of Yorktown Day, celebrating the 25th anniversary observance in 1947. On that occasion, other patriotic societies expressed an interest in becoming more involved in planning the commemorative services. Thus, the Yorktown Day Association was born in 1949. It was decided that there would be only one representative from each of the patriotic and historical societies wishing to join. Of course, the Comte de Grasse Chapter became the charter member representing the DAR.

Today there are eleven members of the Yorktown Day Association. Each takes its turn in assuming the responsibility for the event. In 1984, the DAR is in charge and Mrs. Walter Hughey King, President General NSDAR, has been invited to give the main address.

Inasmuch as our Society was organized in October, this month is an appropriate time to take note of our Seal. On the very day the National Society Daughters of the American Revolution was founded—October 11, 1890—a Committee on a design for the Seal was appointed. They found the idea for the design in a letter Abigail Adams wrote to her husband, John: "As for me, I will seek wool and flax, and work willingly with my hands; and indeed there is occasion for all our industry and economy." The model for the figure sitting at the spinning wheel was a great-granddaughter of Thomas Jefferson, Esther Alice, or her sister Ellen Wayles, Meikleham and the sketch was made by James H. Moser, Washington artist.
When ceremonies commemorating the two hundred and third anniversary of the victory at Yorktown take place at the Colonial National Historical Park October 19, 1984, Mrs. Walter Hughey King, President General NSDAR, will present two bronze tablets embedded in granite slabs. This event will take place at 2 PM and will be followed by the traditional Wreath Laying Ceremony, arranged by the Yorktown Day Association. Later, at the Patriotic Exercises, Mrs. King will give the address at the invitation of Mrs. Harold Story, regent of the Comte de Grasse Chapter, member of the YDA.

One tablet will be a duplicate of the tablet placed in Independence Square in Paris to commemorate the bicentennial of the signing of the Definitive Treaty of Paris, September 3, 1981. The inscription on this tablet is in both French and English and states:

On September 3, 1983, The Bicentennial of the Treaties of Paris and Versailles
Which Secured the Peace and Established
The Independence of the United States of America
This Tablet was Offered by the National Society Daughters of the American Revolution
As a Grateful Tribute to the Architects of these Treaties
Who Dedicated Themselves to "The Best of All Works—The Work of Peace."
(Benjamin Franklin)

The other tablet recognizes the significance of the Treaty of Paris. Its text follows:

WE ARE NOW FRIENDS WITH ENGLAND
AND WITH ALL MANKIND.
Benjamin Franklin, 1783
American Peace Commissioner

Horace M. Albright, 1931
Director, National Park Service

THE TREATY OF PARIS WAS THE FIRST STEP TOWARD AN ALLIANCE WITH GREAT BRITAIN WHICH HAS GROWN STRONGER THROUGH THE CENTURIES TO BECOME ONE OF OUR MOST IMPORTANT ALLIANCE RELATIONSHIPS, POLITICAL, CULTURAL, ECONOMIC, AND DEFENSE TIES BETWEEN OUR TWO NATIONS ARE FIRM AND LASTING.

Ronald Reagan, 1983
President, United States of America

The quotations used in this text are from various documents. The first line was written by Benjamin Franklin in a letter, dated September 11, 1783, to his old friend Josiah Quincy of Boston just a little over a week after the signing of the Definitive Treaty of Paris.

The second quotation comes from a speech delivered by Horace M. Albright, a Co-Founder and second Director of the National Park Service. The remarks were made on October 19, 1931 during the Yorktown Sesquicentennial as he stood beside the Yorktown Victory Monument to accept the first two bronze tablets placed there by the Daughters of the American Revolution. These tablets list the names of the French and Americans who gave their lives at Yorktown. A duplicate of the French Tablet was placed the following year in Independence Square, Paris.

In the same speech, Mr. Albright stated, "... had it not been for the years of discussion and persuasion and other determined efforts by the Daughters of the American Revolution, this battlefield of Yorktown would not now be authorized to be a part of the National Park system, to be forever preserved as nearly as possible as its terrain appeared in 1781... It is our good fortune in taking over the administration of the Colonial National Monument to have the active support of this patriotic organization. In fact, throughout the Nation we find the National Park Service and the Daughters of the American Revolution working together in marking and preservation of historic spots." (The Virginia DAR Proceedings, March 1938 p. 165-166.)

In 1980, Mr. Albright was awarded the Medal of Freedom, the nation's highest civilian honor, for his work in the cause of conservation in America. It is an honor for the National Society DAR to recognize his service in the field of historic preservation as well.

The final quotation is taken from the Proclamation by the President of the United States issued on the occasion of the two hundredth anniversary of the Signing of the Treaty of Paris, September 3, 1983. This tablet is dedicated during the bicentennial year of the ratification of this important peace treaty, which established the sovereignty of the United States of America.

Mrs. Walter Hughey King, President General, opened DAR Day at the Louisiana World Exposition in New Orleans on Flag Day 1984! In keeping with tradition, she presented on behalf of the National Society a Flag of the United States of America to be flown at the Fair site.

The mighty Mississippi River, Father of Waters, provides a backdrop for the United States Pavilion and highlights the theme of the Exposition: "The World of Rivers: Fresh Water As A Source of Life." The Pavilion is painted in waves of various blues and occupies 96,000 square feet. The colorful display of flags in its front court represent each of the fifty States and two territories.

In addition to the President General, members of the DAR Executive Committee and of the National Board of Management were present. Members were present from California, Florida, Illinois, Indiana, Maryland, Michigan, Mississippi, Mexico, Tennessee, Virginia as well as Louisiana. The National Society Children of the American Revolution was represented by members from the Rienzi, Captain Edward Jordan and Jean Baptiste Le Moyne Sieur de Bienville Societies. The nine DAR Chapters in District VI, LSDAR (Bayou Lafourche, Bayou St. John, Francois de Lery, Louisiana, Metairie Ridge, New Orleans, Robert Harvey, Spirit of '76 and Vieux Carré) worked long and hard to make the Day a success.

In this impressive setting, Mrs. Victor H. Schiro, wife of the former Mayor of New Orleans, past Regent of the New Orleans Chapter and Chairman of the Day, served as Master of Ceremonies for DAR Day along with Mr. Mark Romig, Director of Protocol, Louisiana World Exposition.

Mrs. James L. Robertson, Chaplain General, gave the Invocation. Mrs. Owen V. Gauthier, Librarian General, led the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America, and Mrs. Eldred M. Yochim, First Vice President General, led The American’s Creed which was translated into American sign for the deaf by Mrs. Richard Kerr of the Spirit of ’76 Chapter. Accompanied by the U. S. Navy Band, Mrs. Gabriel O. Sanvedra, Curator General, led the singing of our National Anthem. The U.S. Coast Guard presented the colors. Mrs. Neil Mott, Second Vice Regent, LSDAR, represented the host state, and State Regents from California, Florida, Indiana and Mexico were introduced. Representatives of the Consular Corps of Canada, France, Mexico and Spain brought greetings.

The Honorable John Weinman, Commissioner General of the United States of America, welcomed Mrs. King and the members
From Governor Edwin W. Edwards, who appointed Mrs. King the rank of Colonel and Aide de Camp on the Governor's Staff. Mrs. "Discovery" carrying with her the DAR banner and Insignia. Mrs. Sybil Haydel Morial, wife of the Mayor of New Orleans, welcomed Mrs. King and the Daughters to the City, the first fair in which the DAR has participated in New Orleans. She presented Mrs. King with the official proclamation setting aside June 14, 1984, as DAR Day in New Orleans.

Mrs. Schiro introduced Mrs. King as the lady in the beautiful white hat. Mrs. King thanked all who had arranged the day, noting the National Society’s participation in Worlds Fairs through the years. In her remarks she stated that the DAR strives to promote respect and honor for the flag and to build citizenship in the young. She noted that the flag has rallied people to achievements beyond their fondest dreams, that many an American has followed the flag from Lexington to New Orleans with Andy Jackson, from Shiloh to San Juan Hill, from Normandy to Iwo Jima, in Korea, and in Vietnam. She pointed out that a DAR member, Dr. Margaret Rhea Seddon, MD, was scheduled to fly aboard the space craft "Discovery" carrying with her the DAR banner and Insignia. Mrs. King recalled that the flag is the emblem of our unity and our progress; although the flag is silent it speaks to us of the past sacrifices of men and women who fought, bled and died for it.

In his closing remarks, Mr. Romig thanked all the DAR for attending and gave Mrs. King a key to the Fair so that she may return. He invited all DAR in the nation to visit the Fair. Rendering the benediction, Father Val Mclnness, representing the Vatican Pavilion, prayed.

"Father, this flag is the sacred symbol of our country and our state. Like all symbols it represents the people of the United States who enjoy the freedom of the land for which we have become famous. Let not tyranny rob us of our greatest right to live in freedom. Let this day remind us of the greatness of our land and the responsibility we have to one another and to the world in which we live. May our flag always fly, as the symbol of freedom for all. Amen."

Following Mrs. King’s remarks was the presentation of special DAR gifts to the Fair. Mrs. Alex W. Boone, Ambassador of Goodwill, Treaty of Paris Bicentennial, speaking in French and then in English, presented a copy of the 1783 Treaty of Paris to the Fair to be displayed in the Commissioner General’s Office on the Fair site. Misses Barbara and Ashley Ingraham and Joseph Ingraham in colonial costumes, members of Captain Edward Jordan Society, N.S.C.A.R., presented a ceremonial flag of the United States of America to the Fair. A braille flag of the United States of America was presented by a local JAC member, Jacques Jumonville, a blind student at the Edward Douglas White Public School. The braille flag enables the blind to see their national emblem through their fingertips. The raising of the flags was accomplished by the Fair’s mascot in pelican costume, Seymour D. Fair, to the tune of “It’s a Grand Old Flag” by the U.S. Navy Band.

Following the flag ceremony the Daughters and guests gathered for a luncheon at the “River” club dining room in the International Pavilion. The entourage then visited such exhibits as the Vatican Pavilion, the Wonder Wall, the Coca Cola Aquacade, the U.S. Corps of Engineers paddleship, “Kennedy,” and the space ship been an inspiration to millions of Americans. Men have followed me into battle with unwavering courage. They have looked upon me as a symbol of national unity. So long as men love liberty, more than life itself, they can treasure the priceless privilege of truth, justice, and charity. All of these were recruited in the heart and guts of loyal and patriotic Americans. I shall continue to be the enduring banner of the United States of America.”

May God Bless each and everyone.
“Enterprise.” Of special interest in the Great Hall was a display of recently located Louisiana Purchase documents which relate to the financing of the purchase by the Dutch and English. A Holman Bible exhibit featured Bibles which were displayed at the 1884 Cotton Exposition in New Orleans.

Mrs. King was honored as Grand Marshal in a five o’clock parade throughout the Fair grounds. Her attire included a cape of light blue with silver and white design, and atop her head a glittering crown. She rode on the back of the lead Chrysler convertible. Following her car were four other convertibles in which rode Mrs. Mott, Mrs. Schiro, Mrs. Fysh, Mrs. Yochim, Mrs. Robertson, Mrs. Hamm, Mrs. Saavedra, Mrs. Boone, Mrs. Gauthier, Mrs. Kemper of California, Mrs. Fitzgerald of Indiana, Mrs. Watson of Mexico and Mrs. Foster of Florida. Next came colorful Mardi Gras mini-floats with costumed riders, a Walt Disney horse-drawn calliope, a streetcar design float with jazz band, marching bands and groups.

A fireworks display followed dinner. The beautiful starbursts of red, white and blue were accompanied by the song “Old Man River” and the “1812 Overture.” What a grand end to a wonderful day.

Friday continued the DAR weekend in New Orleans with a tour of some of the historical sites and colonial homes in New Orleans and a bus trip to near-by plantations ending with lunch at the “Hermitage,” plantation home of DAR member, Mrs. Susan Burke Judice, whose graciousness and planning had made this possible.

Saturday continued with Breakfast at Brennan’s, a New Orleans tradition. That afternoon Mrs. King and Mrs. Russell were given a walking tour of the Vieux Carré by DAR Committee members. The tour included a visit to the Amistad center and the Beauregard home. Not only did General Beauregard live there, but it was the home of Frances Parkinson Keyes (noted author and former Editor of DAR Magazine) during her years in New Orleans.

During the weekend Mrs. Saavedra made a Spanish language broadcast on station KGLA. Mrs. King spoke on WWL-radio about Flag day and the DAR. Margaret Kersh and Bonnie Cook made an appearance in connection with DAR Day at the Fair on WDSU-TV “Today at the Fair.”

The purposes of DAR participation in World’s Fairs since the 1893 Columbian Exposition in Chicago has been to show women’s progress. The DAR participated in the 1895 fair in Atlanta, 1900 in Paris, 1939 and 1964 in New York, 1967 in Montreal, 1982 in Knoxville. It should be noted that the history of fairs in the United States dates back to colonial days with the first held at New Haven, Connecticut in 1644 featuring agricultural products and livestock. The first fair held after the formation of the United States of America was in 1804 in Washington, D.C., sponsored by William Thornton, First Commissioner of Patents.

Glass has been around since the beginning of time. Nature made glass during lightning storms and volcanic eruptions before man learned the secret.

Glassmaking began in the first permanent English colony of Jamestown in 1608. It was the first real industry of our country. All of the materials for glassmaking were available near Jamestown. There were sandy beaches and a large amount of wood. England was running out of wood and did not allow the use of wood as a fuel for the English glass factories. The first glass plants in Jamestown failed, however, because of a famine and an Indian massacre. Thus the industry in Virginia did not have a successful beginning.

The process, the ingredients, and the tools for making glass have not changed in 2,000 years. Sand, soda ash, borax, and limestone were melted in clay pots which were heated by wood fires to temperatures of 1200 degrees.

A hollow iron blowpipe, four to five feet long, was dipped in the molten glass, which was gummy and thick. The worker blew gently into the blowpipe to expand the glass and to form a bubble. Approximately every two minutes the glassblower reheated the glass to keep it soft. He squeezed, stretched, and twirled the glass. When the still red-hot glass was given its final shape, it was cut from the pipe.

Next the glass had to be annealed. This was done by cooling the glass very slowly in an oven so that the glass did not develop internal stresses that caused it to shatter.

A glassmaker in colonial times only made glass six to nine months of the year because the blowing was bad for his heart; also, the hot air was bad for his lungs. Glassmaking was very hard and took skill and practice.

More than a hundred years passed after the Jamestown efforts before the first really successful glass plant was established. In 1739, Casper Wistar built a glassmaking plant in Salem County, New Jersey. This plant operated until 1780. The glass produced by Wistar was used in making bottles and was green or amber. It was decorated with bands, swirls, and threads of applied glass. But Wistar’s most profitable product was window glass. That glass was scarce and expensive to import from England. When a colonist was

The Treaty of Paris 1783 was one of the most important stepping stones in the history of our nation. It dictated that the United States was truly free and responsible for its own actions and fate. The future of the new nation was now and forevermore in the hands of true Americans.

Continental Congress selected Benjamin Franklin, John Jay, John Adams, Henry Laurens, and Thomas Jefferson to represent our country in the negotiations. Thomas Jefferson never participated because of his wife's grave illness. Although Jefferson was missing, the remaining four carried out their task well.

Three of these negotiators are fairly well known, while the fourth one's name has been lost in the mists of time, not for the lack of participation, but for the lack of signature. Henry Laurens participated in, and contributed to, the writing of the Treaty. He signed the preliminary agreement in November of 1782. This document was then sent to the British Parliament and the United States Congress to be approved. Their approval was not received in Paris until late 1783. Only then could the negotiators make a few changes and re-copy the document which was formally signed on September 3, 1783.

Because he was not present for the signing of the formal document, history has forgotten Henry Laurens. Some people have called him "The Neglected Negotiator."

Although not well-known today, Henry Laurens was recognized as a statesman and patriot during his own lifetime. Despite his tragic personal life, which included the loss of all but four of his children in their early childhood, and later, the loss of his wife, Henry Laurens served his country in many ways for many years.

After a successful career as a merchant, trader, and plantation owner, Henry Laurens began his career in politics. He served on many important committees in the colonial government, including a term as vice-president of the colony of South Carolina. In 1777, he was elected to the Continental Congress, and later was unanimously elected president of the Continental Congress when John Hancock resigned. Mr. Laurens later resigned the presidency over a matter of principle, but remained as a delegate.

In 1779, he was appointed minister to Holland, and was sent there (Continued on page 580)

September 3, 1983, marked the bicentennial of the signing of the Treaty of Paris. This treaty officially ended America's eight-year struggle for independence and the thirteen colonies officially became a nation. The peacemaker chiefly responsible for writing the Treaty of Paris and signing it on September 3, 1783, was Benjamin Franklin.

The accomplishments of Benjamin Franklin in his eighty-four-year lifetime are almost unbelievable. No other American living during the American Revolution era was more respected or better known than Benjamin Franklin. He was an accomplished printer, writer, philosopher, scientist, inventor, statesman and diplomat.

Franklin was born in Boston, Massachusetts, on January 17, 1706, into a poor soapboiler's family. At the age of ten, with only two years of formal education, Franklin began to work in the soap and candle business. From that point on, it was his intent desire for reading and learning which led Franklin to become one of America's greatest and most learned men.

Had Franklin done nothing else but write, publish, and philosophize, he would have become famous. After learning the printing business as a teenager, he successfully printed The Pennsylvania Gazette from his own print shop in Philadelphia, where he had settled. However, even more successful was his writing and publishing of Poor Richard's Almanack from 1733 to 1758. Franklin, under the name of Richard Saunders, wrote a yearbook consisting of standard almanac material plus essays and sayings based on his moral philosophy.

Franklin's sayings, such as, "Never leave that till tomorrow which you can do today," epitomized his strong convictions on self-improvement, thrift, and honesty.

For his inventive scientific works, Franklin became an honorary member of the Royal Society of London and the French Academy of Science. Franklin received these high honors because of his findings on electricity; inventions of the lightning rod, Franklin stove, and bifocal eye-glasses; and his studies of weather.

Although Franklin's scientific thoughts never stopped, his thoughts gave way to public affairs. Because of Franklin's hard work, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, became the most advanced city in the

A plaque will be placed outside the Office of Student Affairs at the Health Science Center and the winner's name will be added each year. An appropriate certificate along with the monetary award of $200 will be presented to the recipient.

The 1983 winner, Miss Linda Nan White, graduated from Methodist Hospital School of Nursing in Dallas in 1962. Since 1975 she has been Nursing Supervisor at M. D. Anderson Tumor and Cancer Hospital. While employed full-time, Miss White completed her studies at the University of Texas School of Nursing. She has many publications and community service projects to her credit. She has demonstrated excellent leadership qualities in both school and work related activities.

Mrs. Charles H. Fay, Chairman of the Scholarship Committee, has been searching for a suitable scholarship award program for several years, and with the helpful assistance of The University of Texas Health Science Center, she has brought the project to fruition.—Jane Pardo.

GENERAL JOHN A. SUTTER (Sacramento, CA). R. Burnett Miller, Mayor, Sacramento, California, presented to Mrs. William B. Alexander, Regent, two proclamations, one proclaiming the observance of Constitution Week, and the other proclaiming the observance of the signing of the Treaty of Paris.

The chapter observed Constitution Week with a buffet supper and program devoted to the Constitution. Ms. M. L. Robertson, Attorney in Sacramento, gave an address on “The Constitution as Guardian of our Freedom.” Miss Mariah Robertson represented the C.A.R.

The chapter prepared a display exhibited for the month of September at the Carmichael Library in observance of Constitution Week and the signing of the Treaty of Paris, using pictures and pamphlets from the Constitution Week Committee, articles and illustrations from the DAR Magazine, and the proclamations issued by Mayor Miller.—Carolyn Marran. leadership, Nancy Horton Davis has reported a total contribution of over $1,000 dispersed yearly to Veteran Hospitals, Disabled Veterans, American Veterans, Blinded Veterans, Paralyzed Veterans, the Vietnam Memorial, and the canceled "Stamps for the Wounded" Program. Our chapter is proud of the men and women in the armed services standing ready today. May we never forget the dedication and service of those who have fought to defend our freedom and their families. We are also proud of Lin, who keeps us aware of the needs of those who have given our country so much.

JEAN MARIE CARDINELL (Des Moines, IA) sponsors the JAC Contest in ten Des Moines area schools each year under the direction of Helen Niffenegger, Chapter JAC Chairman. Student entries in 1983 were excellent—many winning at the State level, and concluding the year by winning several top prizes at the National level.

Among the First Place winners in 1983 National JAC Contest was the essay of thirteen year old Rusty Talerico, a 7th grade student at Callanan Junior High.

Rusty’s winning essay was printed on Veterans Day programs distributed at the Veterans Memorial Service in Des Moines on November 11, 1983.

Also, the essay was copied on ribbon-tied scrolls by Carmelita Abrams, Chapter Chairman Service to Veteran Patients, and her committee. These were placed on 225 meal trays at Des Moines VA Hospital on President’s Day, Feb. 20, 1984.

For her work in the JAC Contest, Mrs. Niffenegger was named recipient of the Thatcher Award Pin and Certificate of Merit for outstanding service, at the Eighty-fourth Annual State Conference ISDAR, held at Hotel Fort Des Moines. Presentation was made by JAC State Chairman Mrs. Norman Anderson of Iowa City.

With the able direction of Regent Mabel Jones Klobnak, our chapter has been successful in advancing DAR goals. —Janet James Markley.

MARY TYLER (Tyler, TX). An official Sons of the American Revolution grave marker has been placed on the grave of Thomas Hogg, located at the Jim Hogg State Park near Rusk, Texas.

The historical marker was placed by the Captain William Barron chapter of the Sons of the American Revolution.

Connally Powell, president of the William Barron chapter, Tyler, Texas, who conducted the ceremony was assisted by Mrs. Gaither McElroy, Regent, Mary Tyler Chapter. The Texas State Park Ranger of the Jim Hogg State Park, chapter members and visitors were present for the dedication ceremonies.

Thomas Hogg was born in 1765 in South Carolina and performed patriotic service during the American Revolution by hiding cattle and grain from British troops.

Following the war, Hogg began a career as a planter and lawyer. His public service was noted by his election to serve in three different state legislatures in Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi.

In 1848, Thomas Hogg and his wife came to live on his son’s plantation in Cherokee County, Texas. The Revolutionary War veteran died the next year, 1849, and was buried in the family’s plantation cemetery.

His grandson, James Stephen Hogg, was to become Texas first native born governor.

SOUTHAMPTON COLONY (New York).

The new Southampton Town Historian, having gone through old Town records, found and presented to the current Town Board, a resolution that had been presented in Dec. 1929. This 1929 resolution was the recommendation of the Southampton Colony Chapter for the adoption of an official flag for the Town of Southampton. The 1929 Board voted to adopt this recommendation and the design so submitted by the Southampton Colony Chapter. Action on this resolution was never taken. Fifty-four years later, on the advice of the Historian, the Southampton Town Board took action. The Board created and purchased the official flag—its first in 343 years.

A flag dedication ceremony was scheduled. The members of the Southampton Colony Chapter were invited and presented with a proclamation, thanking and acknowledging their roll in the creation of an official flag. Pictured in the enclosed photo is Mrs. Morgan MacWhinnie, Regent, Southampton Colony Chapter, receiving the proclamation and a copy of the new official flag. —Gerroette MacWhinnie.

PAUL REVERE (Muncie, Indiana). celebrated the Treaty of Paris with the Muncie Symphony Orchestra who had dedicated their fall concert to this momentous historic event. A re-enactment of the signing of this famous treaty was presented on stage just prior to the concert by a group from Bloomington, Indiana. It was headed by William Kinzer who portrayed Benjamin Franklin (shown in picture). The Franklin appeared in Parisian court dress of the period along with John Adams, John Jay, David Hartley and Count d’Vergennes. After dialogue, the Treaty was again signed at a desk recently produced for the Bicentennial celebration earlier.

Mrs. John Beekman and Mrs. Gordon Sleeper diligently worked with the MSO committee in planning the historical activities in the community. Two weeks before the concert Mrs. Beekman led a group who raised the Betsy Ross flag over City Hall for the period. The flags were presented to a contingent of the American Legion by “Little Hoosiers,” a historically active group of children sponsored by member, Miss Patricia Denker. The Mayor of Muncie read a proclamation proclaiming the significance of the Treaty of Paris to the group assembled.

Regent, Mrs. Donald Milheim, was among those present along with representatives from the Continental Chapter SAR and the MSO.

Several window displays were prepared with historical and patriotic memorabilia. Mrs. Sigmund Greicus authored an article for the newspaper and Mrs. John Beekman appeared on two radio stations providing background on the Treaty and NSDAR. School children were given complementary tickets to attend the concert in preparation for writing in the American History Essay Contest. Special inserts were included in the program summarizing the Treaty.

The night of the concert, large flags from Great Britain, France and the Betsy Ross were hung above the orchestra shell. The lobby of the auditorium was decorated with 13 large, eye-catching, Bicentennial posters depicting major events of the American Revolution.

Paul Revere was proud to be asked to take part in this community activity. The irony of the project was the fact that the conductor of the MSO who dedicated the concert to the Treaty of Paris, is from England!

GENERAL THOMAS MIFFLIN (Mifflintown, PA) celebrated its 75th Birthday at Zimmies Restaurant, Walker Township, Juniata County, Pennsylvania.

The charter states that this chapter was organized on October 7, 1908 and chartered on November 11, 1908 in the city of Mifflintown, with Miss Louise Jackman as Regent.

General Thomas Mifflin was born in Philadelphia in 1744 and died in Lancaster in June 1800. He was a General in the American Revolution, and held many offices of trust and influence. He was a member of the Legislature and of Congress and president of the Executive Council of Pennsylvania. He was a signer of the Constitution of the United States. He also was the first Governor of Pennsylvania from 1790 to 1799.

Mrs. Jay Kipp, Regent, introduced the guests which included members from the chapters of Kishacoquillas, Conrad Weiser, Bellefonte, Perry County and Fort Agusta.

Mrs. Waltanna Shank, South Central District Director, was the honored guest and speaker. Information which is pertinent to the operation of a successful chapter was given by Mrs. Shank.

The cutting of a beautifully decorated anniversary cake, the reading of the list of past Regents, rendition of special music, and the reading of a brief history of the chapter climaxed the memorable occasion which commemorated 75 years for General Thomas Mifflin Chapter.

OREGON LEWIS AND CLARK (Oregon). Nature played her cruelest trick on Jimmy Reynolds, who was born with the “elephant man” syndrome. His eyes were like a bird’s and spread far apart so that he could not see straight ahead. Almost the entire front of his face was covered with a “nose.”

He became a virtual recluse because of the taunts. Only his grandmother, Eula, remained steadfast. She adopted him after his mother abandoned him. The townsfolk at Veneta/Elmira became interested in getting something done for him when surgical techniques were developed that seemed to be helpful for his particular problems. This group of men and women became THE POWDER RIVER GANG and set up a corporation using their name and the BIRTH DEFECTS FUND. They raised money doing anything from car washes to major actions until a fund of over $70,000 was raised. The first major surgery was scheduled before Jim’s 21st birthday so he was to be eligible for children’s services funds. Doctors in Portland and San Francisco became interested in the reconstruction and so the last two major surgeries repositioned his eyes and gave him eyelids, and repositioned the brain and built a skull. Jim understood that his chances were very very small that he would survive the first surgery. But, he has survived both of these major reconstructions. From the last surgery, however, his hands were “clawed” so he could not straighten out his fingers or type. With the last surgery scheduled for the 19th of January for the “finishing touches” of the cosmetic surgery to redefine the nose and remove some scar tissue, Jim is hoping to be able to devote himself to his employment training at the Eugene Business College.

The Eugene Business College is owned and operated by Dr. Mary Kay Crumbaker, a member of Oregon Lewis & Clark Chapter of DAR. She told the POWDER RIVER GANG that she would contribute employment education as her contribution to his life. She has no time limit for Jim and the goal for however long it takes is EMPLOYABILITY. One day he will be able to graduate from the accounting program into the business community and make a life for himself.

We members of Oregon Lewis & Clark Chapter of the DAR believe that this is love and service in action.—Halie Huntington.

LOUISIANA (Algiers, LA). In 1894, Ruth Bradfield Slack joined DAR in La Grange, Georgia as a charter member of the Troup County Chapter. An active chapter of fifteen ladies in the beginning, interest gradually waned, and Mrs. Slack was instrumental in revitalizing it in February, 1920 at which time her daughter, Louise Slack, was installed as a new member. Louise served as delegate to the Continental Congress three different years. Having consistently main-

Also attending: Mrs. Robert Smith, Past Vice President General; Mrs. John Dressler, Director District I; Mrs. William Collins, Vice-Director, District I; Mrs. William Wingo, Past Regent, Great Bridge Chapter, and Mr. Greg Glassner, Editor, Chesapeake Post.

The Organizing Regent presented to the chapter a gavel made from an ancient Chesapeake deadora tree.

The Hampton Roads Naval Museum displayed the only known model of the frigate U.S.S. Chesapeake.

Officers installed: Regent, Mr. Lawrence Hanbury, Sr.; Vice Regent, Mr. James Olds; Recording and Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Durwood Curling; Treasurer, Mrs. Willie Snell; Registrar, Mrs. Charles Cross, Jr.; Historian, Mrs. Gary Woolard; Librarian, Mrs. V. Thomas Forehand; Chaplain, Mrs. Phillip Enlow.

YPISILANTI (Ypsilanti, MI) held a ceremony in October dedicating the planting of a blue spruce on the lawn of the Ypsilanti Historical Museum. This planting commemorates the Bicentennial of the Treaty of Paris and the chapter’s 87th birthday.

This site was chosen because many members serve the Historical Society. Two are on the Board of Directors and 16 serve as guides. Pictured below are (l-r): Mrs Alan Hartwein,加入 the Louisiana Chapter in New Orleans and is wearing the same pin her mother and grandmother wore. Regent, Mrs. Marjorie H. Lessentine, is pictured at right.

The chapter was founded in October 1896, with three Real Daughters among the charter members. “Ypsilanti” was chosen as a name in honor of the Greek General Demetrius Ypsilanti who, inspired by America’s fight for liberty, fought for the freedom of the Greeks from the Turks.

The chapter’s activities are many and varied. Three members serve as state chairmen and one serves as a volunteer at the Veterans Administration Hospital. The John Terhune Society, C.A.R., is co-sponsored Ypsilanti wife.

The chapter commemorated the U.S. Bicentennial by donating 29 scenes of clothespin dolls, depicting three Revolutionary War eras, to the Ypsilanti Historical Museum. The complete groupings were the featured display for two months. Since then appropriate scenes have been displayed to celebrate holidays and/or historical events. The settings, props and figures were all hand-made by chapter members.

O'L SHAVANO (San Antonio, TX) established on November 14, 1958, celebrated its 25th anniversary by conducting a poster contest at several public schools during Constitution Week. An exhibit concerning Constitution Week was also on display at a local library. The Chapter donated money to a local library for landscaping, and also donated to the State Regent's Project.

On November 12, 1983, O'I' Shavano Chapter hosted a luncheon at Los Patios Restaurant to recognize and honor all chapter members and those members who had belonged to NSDAR for twenty-five years. The Chapter Regent, Mrs. Mildred Foster, introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Wayne Tiner, State Regent. Mrs. Tiner presented all members being recognized with a certificate acknowledging their service. Members from other local DAR Chapters also joined O'I' Shavano in the celebration. Mrs. Tiner spoke of the accomplishments of O'I' Shavano in its twenty-five years of service, and of the State Convention held in San Antonio in March.

To celebrate the Bicentennial of the signing of the Treaty of Paris, Mrs. Julie Aue wrote several poems, one of which was included in the Silver Anniversary celebration of O'I' Shavano Chapter.

TOMAHAWK (Prairie Village, KS) presented Mr. Audley W. Porter with the NSDAR American History Medal by our Regent, Mrs. Stanley A. Hamilton (Jo). Vice Regent, Mrs. Frank Jochems (Isabel), was looking on. We were honored to have State Regent, Mrs. Billie P. Compton, come from Wichita, Kansas for the occasion.

Mr. Porter is a well known historian in Johnson County, Kansas, and our chapter was very interested in his stories of the early history of the area. The Porter School was named in the family honor, and his ancestor, James Chapman, was an officer in the Revolutionary War. He belongs to Shawnee Mission Indian Historical Society doing much of their photography. In addition he has been writing articles for the Sun Publications of Johnson County Landmarks. He traces the history of each landmark from the time land was deeded from the government to the Indians up to the present. Mr. Porter is active in the People to People Program of the Greater Kansas City Chapter, and has conducted tours for foreign and state visitors.

—Marion Goodwin.

MALCOLM HUNTER (Moore, OK). Mrs. William H. Hunter, Jr., Organizing Regent, is shown inspecting the gondola of the hot air balloon, Treaty of Paris, recently in Oklahoma City for the celebration of the Bicentennial of Flight at the FAA Center.

Typical of the wholehearted enthusiasm she shows for every thing DAR, Mrs. Hunter had waited a half day for the Oklahoma wind to abate so the balloon could fly. When told that it would not, she and Mrs. Denzil E. Gates, Public Relations Chairman, had to be content with hangar pictures of the gear and souvenirs for the chapter members. The Treaty of Paris was celebrated at each chapter meeting this year, and a full program was given by Dr. Lee A. Carter in January, coincidental with the month of the Treaty’s ratification by the Continental Congress.

The four-year old chapter celebrated its birthday in February with a party. This was also the time that the winners of the American History Month essay contest, their parents and teachers were honored. Some 150 fifth and sixth grade students at Red Oak School in Moore wrote essays. Approximately the same number are members of the JAC Club the chapter sponsors there.

Historical presentations by costumed chapter members are made in elementary and middle schools in Moore and Mustang, as a means of making history more interesting for these students.

DAR Good Citizen Awards and National Defense Good Citizenship Medals have been given each year to the appropriate levels in schools in South Oklahoma City and Moore. Mustang Middle School was added this year.

The chapter has given a Medal of Honor and has had the State American History Teacher of the Year. Membership has grown from twenty organizing members to the present forty-five.

COUSHATTI TRACE (Willis, TX). The Texas State Conference was highlighted for this small chapter, when, for the second year in a row, a Coushatti Trace member was named the State Outstanding Junior. Pictured is Mindy Kammeyer (Mrs. Calvin) our Regent and Outstanding Junior. Mindy proves her love for DAR by the time she devotes to it from a very busy schedule. The mother of two children, Bryce and Shelby, she is an active Junior League member. She was listed in the 1981 Outstanding Young Women of America Publication and named Woman of the Year for Montgomery County in 1982. Her Church has selected her to many responsible positions including pledge chairman and Junior Warden of the Vestry. Now in her first year as Regent of Coushatti Trace, Mindy has helped the chapter grow and become more a part of the community activities. Always willing to speak about the DAR, Mindy became a Correspondent Decent in 1982. She continues to lecture about the Museum, bringing the DAR story to many people.

Having paged at Continental Congress for four years, Mindy enjoys her appointment as a National Vice Chairman of Pages for 1984-1986. We, the members of the Coushatti Trace Chapter, look forward to many more years of DAR work with this Outstanding Junior.

INDEPENDENCE PIONEERS (Independence, Missouri) participated with the City of Sugar Creek, Missouri in marking the Wayne City Landing, commemorating the Santa Fe, California and Oregon Trails.

We were hosts to the Midwest District Conference at Howard Johnsons Inn. Mrs. Ollie Tracy, District Director, and Mrs. James L. Riggs, Regent, presided at the meeting.

For the second year we participated in the Victorian Christmas Tree display at the Historic Bingham Waggoner Home. The trees were decorated in Victorian style by many local civic groups. Proceeds from the display will be used for additional restoration work.

Through the efforts of Mrs. Jack Huff, Vaile-DeWitt board member, we have acquired a room at the Vaile-DeWitt Museum. The memorial room will be furnished with donations by members and friends.

A highlight of 1984 is our participation in the Independence Truman Centennial Celebration honoring Harry Truman. We gave merit awards for the best research paper written by Independence High School Seniors concerning the life and contributions of Mr. Truman. Merit plaques were awarded at a special program held at the Truman Library, with the public invited.

Independence Pioneers celebrated their 70th anniversary at the Geo. Washington Tea. Good Citizen, Good Citizenship and American History awards were presented. Jacqueline Everett, Good Citizen recipient, reported on the Presidential Classroom in Washington, D.C. Miss Everett’s trip was sponsored by the Chapter.

"What DAR Means to Me." The following is the reply of the member named at end of parchment.

Chairmen named were Mrs. Sidney H. Cooper, Public Relations; Mrs. Glen Aulds, American History, and Mrs. John W. Smith, National Defense.

Other members present were Mrs. Kent Babb, Mrs. Herbert Green, Mrs. Robert Jackson, Mrs. Horace Nolan, Mrs. Frank Phinizy, Mrs. A. F. Rabun, Mrs. Paul L. Read, Mrs. R. P. Shelley, Mrs. Ray Stewart and Mrs. James E. Wiley.

In this group, OUR ancestors survived encounters with Indians; with wild animals; with disease; with bitter cold; with floods or every possible freak of nature—every hardship or lack—lack of food; lack of medicine; lack of transportation; lack of light—or lack of insect repellent. Was it these hardships that made OUR "Vikings"?

This gives us appreciation for the past and a screeching shock in asking ourselves if future generations will consider US “courageous and indomitable,” or if “soft and weak” from the very opposites—too much food (or preservatives); too much medicine; too much nature destroyed; too much television, bringing us bad news or irritating programs that worry us; too much repellent or too much exhaust!! Are we, as from First Timothy 6:20 in our DAR ritual—guarding that which is committed to our trust?

Will those to come say, “Yea, we have a goodly heritage?”

This is the meaning of DAR to me.
—Julia Anderson Holmes.

D’ARBONNE (Farmerville, LA) gathered in the reception room of Tall Oaks Lodge to install its first slate of officers and receive official confirmation of its membership in the National Society.

Mrs. James Buatt, Organizing Secretary, installed the officers and administered the oath of fidelity, including all members. She then gave a brief history of the chapter’s name, that of an area explorer in 1700.

She presented an American flag and a DAR flag to the chapter.

Miss Frances Flanders, Honorary State Regent and Past Vice President General, related the origin of the DAR.

A buffet luncheon was served.

Organizing and Charter Members are: Mrs. Thomas K. Doles, Organizing Regent; Mrs. Robert L. Smith, Vice Regent; Mrs. Frank Yelton, Chaplain; Mrs. Larry A. Lough, Recording Secretary; Mrs. Billy H. Till, Treasurer; Mrs. Thomas J. Miller, Registrar, and Mrs. John W. Smith, Historian and Librarian.

Biloxi (Mississippi) is very proud of its light. . . . A brightly-glowing candle was held high, representing her life and a solo was sung, “. . . It is better to light just one little candle, than to stumble in the dark. . . .”

A teary-eyed Mrs. Gamble listened as words of praise were given about her many years of loving and dedicated service to the Daughters of the American Revolution. She has truly brightened our lives by her presence and we are made richer by her love.
ABIGAIL ANN BERRY CHESLEY (Abilene, TX) met in the home of Mrs. Morgan Jones, Jr., for a covered-dish luncheon and Christmas program.

The festive surroundings, wonderful hospitality, and good fellowship made it a happy occasion.

Before going to the buffet table, members stood for the invocation, given by our Chaplain, Mrs. C. E. Botkin.

After feasting on special food treats, we assembled for our meeting. Mrs. Bernie Chesley McCrea, Regent, presided. The formal DAR Opening was followed, including National Defense.

Mrs. Ellen Graves introduced our guest speaker, Mrs. Ola Richardson, local artist. "Let's Keep Christmas," by Peter Marshall, was used for the program. Correlated with the narration, eight Christmas Carols were used. Mrs. Clara Weir served as pianist. Each member had a song book and program to follow; so all participated. This lovely program, with its scriptures, joyous carols, and true meaning of Christmas, made a memorable impression on all.

After the program, business continued.

Our miniature DAR Christmas tree was decorated with tiny red and white Christmas stockings, which held our special donations to be sent to our DAR schools. Our Regent, Mrs. Bernie McCrea, made us very proud with the announcement that our chapter was the first one in Texas to be 100% for the President General's Project.

WARrior RIVERS (Oneonta, Alabama) held a ceremony celebrating the signing of the Treaty of Paris and honored Blount County's war dead. Several guests met with members of the chapter at the Blount County Courthouse celebrating the Bicentennial of the Signing of the Treaty.

Pictured are Mrs. Earl D. Askew, Regent, and Mrs. E. N. Vandegrift, Organizing Regent, who placed a wreath inside the lobby of the courthouse at the marble marker that honors Osmond Kelly Ingram, Blount County native, who was America's first World War I casualty. His ship, The Cassin, an American Destroyer was hit by a German torpedo on October 16, 1917.

Others taking part in the brief ceremony were Mrs. Roger Ledlow, Vice Regent, Mrs. C. Y. Linder, past Regent, the Reverend Pete Tcherneshoff, Friendship Baptist Association Missionary, Mrs. Jack Cornelius and Mrs. T. H. Estes, DAR members and Warren Weaver, President of the Blount County Historical Society.

Thirteen talls of the clear-toned bell on the courthouse lawn honored the country's original colonies and concluded the meaningful ceremony.

A cabinet display was arranged in the Blount County Memorial Museum showing photographs, postcard folders of Paris, memorabilia and many interesting items pertaining to the Bicentennial of the treaty that granted the United States of America freedom from Great Britain and the rights and privileges it desired as a free and independent nation. The exhibit remained six months in addition to the permanent cabinet display of DAR memorabilia from the Revolutionary War Bicentennial. The historical museum maintains a collection of Genealogical volumes and DAR publications which are frequently used in research.

Seven DAR Good Citizens selected by the High Schools of Blount County are honored each year by the chapter with a tea at one of the high schools in the county at which they are presented pins, certificates and copies of Washington Landmark. A special award is presented to the county winner.

He served during the Revolutionary War as a private in the Bergen County Militia under Col. Edward Thomas, serving tours from 1778 to 1782. He is the ancestor of Laurie Post Forbes, a new junior member who did the research to establish this line.

Mrs. Orvis L. Henke, Quakertown Regent, presided at the ceremonial program. Mrs. Thomas H. Forbes gave a brief history of the soldier. Mrs. C. Harold Dolph, State Regis-
An interesting note was the presence of two three-generation families of DAR-C.A.R. members. Mrs. Anna F. Hogue, past Regent of the David Allen Chapter 1978-80, her daughter Mrs. Mary Osborne, past Regent of the David Allen Chapter 1980-83, and presently Fourth District Director KSDAR and Mrs. Osborne’s daughters Shannon Lynn, President of the David Allen Society, C.A.R. 1983-84 and Anna Laura, Treasurer of the David Allen Society, C.A.R. 1983-84. CAPTAIN JACOB WARRICK (Boonville, IN) had the honor of conducting a grave marking ceremony for a Revolutionary War soldier. Daniel Cook at Selvin Cemetery, Selvin, Indiana. Several of Cook’s descendents came from four states to attend the ceremony, including a great-great-great grandson, Archie Cook of West Memphis, Arkansas, who read a brief history of his ancestor. Archie Cook, with the help of Frances Ambrose and Opal Phillips of Boonville, found that Daniel Cook was born in 1760 at Wilmington, North Carolina, and served in the N. C. Militia under Capt. Joseph Bridger. He moved to Indiana about 1800, married Nancy McNeeley and they had four children. He died in 1840.

Pictured at the podium is Mrs. Jacob Bracher, Chaplain, delivering the invocation for the dedication. Chapter Regent, Mrs. Rick Nelson, stands next to the American flag. On the Chaplain’s left are Mrs. Charles Jamison, who gave the dedication speech, Mrs. Roy France, Chapter Historian, and Mrs. Herb Hart, Registrar. Credit for the picture goes to Mr. D. Glen Cardenas.

At the end of the ceremony Chris Ingram and Jeff Lochmueller, trumpeters, played “Taps.” In the military tradition, one of them played a single verse at the gravesite, while the other moved to a nearby ravine to play a distant echo refrain.

Then, something happened that even surprised the ceremony’s organizers. As though perfectly planned, a single shotgun blast sounded between the first and second lines of the echoed “Taps.” Hunters in a nearby woods had unknowingly offered a salute to the long unrecognized veteran, Daniel Cook.
Mrs. Kirby, steadfast in her dedication to DAR activities, has held numerous chairmanships in her chapter, among them regent. Her wisdom and ideas have been of great value. She has seldom missed a meeting.

Mrs. Dudley has served faithfully and well in all aspects of chapter work, three times as regent. Her well planned contributions resulted in many chapter achievements. She has been faithful in attendance.

Mrs. Dunn, as a superb leader, an organizer and publisher, is well known throughout the state. Her book, Allen and Allied Families, is a much sought after genealogical work.

Special recognition was given to Mrs. Maxie K. McMillan, a gracious hostess for so many special DAR occasions. Also, especially recognized, was Mrs. Crawford for honoring the chapter by her presence.

The tea was held at the Nye home with over two-hundred guests meeting and greeting friends within the DAR organization who have traveled from many parts of the state. Invitations were extended to Honorary State Regents, State Officers, State Chairmen and all members of the Sixth District. —Margaret R. Fowler.

MARY BRYAN (Greenwood, IN). Regent, Mrs. John A. Hiatt, announced at the Fifth Anniversary Dinner, "Our membership has doubled. We now have 52 members. Seven new members this year alone." The four newest members were installed by the chapter's guest of honor, State Membership Chairman, Mrs. Carl W. Bastian. Vice Regent, Mrs. Stephen J. Zavadny, read her original poems about the accomplishments and the history of Mary Bryan Chapter. The anniversary cake was cut by the two past Chapter Regents, Mrs. Carl C. Cowen and Mrs. Duane A. Widdifield. Then Mrs. John Hiatt praised the members for the chapter's five-year excellent history in receiving over seventy high rating awards.

At the Indiana State Council Meeting, Mrs. Hiatt accepted ten new awards for 1983-84 accomplishments. The chapter earned its fifth Gold State and Tri-Color National awards for the Yearbook; remain Gold in Honor Roll; First Place for the Treaty of Paris; First Place for Pressbook; and Second Place for recorded genealogy pages. The chapter's 7th grade American History Essay Contest winner placed third in the State.

New projects which began in the chapter's fifth year are: to "Help Save the Statue of Liberty," and to organize and sponsor a new C.A.R. Society.

One most recent project was derived from the chapter's presentation of two U.S. Braille flags to blind students on Flag Day. The chapter's Flag Chairman made a color code for thirteen different textures of fabrics, using the red, white, and blue of the Braille flags as her beginning coded textures. This developed into Picture Books for the Blind. The first book was presented to blind students at Christmastime.

FORT MIRO (Monroe, LA) participated in the local Ouachita Parish Bicentennial. This event honored the founder of this city and parish, Don Juan Filhiol.

A Marker Rededication Service was held by the Junior Members of the chapter, Mrs. Ray Berry, Chairman. The original marker, placed there in 1964 by Fort Miro Chapter, is on property donated as a seat of justice by Don Juan Filhiol in 1816 out of his plantation at the Prairie Des Canots. The Ouachita Parish Courthouse stands there today. Another historic building on this property is our Fort Miro Chapter House, which is the oldest public building in the parish. The Rededication Service at 300 South Grand Street was held to honor and to give recognition during this Bicentennial Year to the founder of the city.

Mrs. Paul J. Bonin, Regent of Fort Miro in 1983, presided. After presentation of colors by the U.S. Navy ROTC of Ouachita Parish High School, the Invocation was given by the pastor of St. Matthews Catholic Church, Msgr. George W. Martinez. Miss Frances Flanders, Honorary State Regent, and past President General, gave a brief introduction concerning the marker and the original dedication.

Among local dignitaries who offered remarks were the president of the Police Jury, the Mayor of the City, and the Chairman of the Bicentennial Commission, Mrs. Carter Ackel. Mrs. Ackel, member and past Regent of Fort Miro, was selected by the City Council to serve as chairman for this year-long event. —A. John.

JOHN MACDONALD (Miami Springs, FL) honored its State Officer, Mrs. Anthony Dobrzanski, with a festive Holiday DAR-SCHOOL tea at the Wesley Foundation, University of Miami, Coral Gables. Pictured from left are Mrs. Carolynne Cobb James, official tea hostess and Chairman of American History Month, greeting Mrs. Theodore P. Schoonmaker, Regent of Golden Anchor Chapter; Mrs. William M. Jones, past President of the Regents' Council of Greater Miami; Lt. Col. William M. Jones, President of the Miami Chapter of Sons of the American Revolution and the honoree, Second Vice Regent of Florida State Society.

Miss Edna Mae Everitt, Chairman of the tea poured and Mrs. W. D. Fabing, Regent, served the cake, a "Little Red Schoolhouse" on white frosting with all the school activities represented on the school ground which was the original creation by a new member, Jo Ellen Morgan, Vice Mayor of Miami Springs. Mrs. Dobrzanski is Florida State Society DAR School Chairman and National Vice Chairman (Southeastern Division), DAR School; also a member of the Endowment Committee, Kate Duncan Smith DAR School. Mrs. Dobrzanski collected over 25,000 Campbell Soup labels for Tamassee School this year.

At Florida State Conference, Jacksonville, John Macdonald won first prize for scrapbook and scrapbook cover; first prize for Yearbook; Mrs. William D. Bordeaux, Charter Member and Chairman of JAC received first prize for having the most clubs (61) with 1,688 members; first place for most publicity; certificate for 100% dues payment and Mrs. Dobrzanski named "First Lady Docent in the State of Florida."

LOS ANGELES (California). "One of the most important honors conferred by The Daughters of the American Revolution, given to a naturalized citizen for their exemplary citizenship and community service, is the DAR Americanism Medal. This award has been given to Dr. Changsoo Lee by the Los Angeles Chapter. The Regent, Mrs. Arnold H. Bachmann, sponsored Dr. Lee when he became a United States citizen in 1974. Dr. Lee directs the Korean Methodist Self-Help Center, is President of the Korean Symphony Society and is a faculty member of the University Southern California. Dr. Lee is married and has two sons. This is the first Americanism award given by the Los Angeles Chapter. The award was being presented at the Southern California Council meeting in The Red Lion Inn, Ontario, California. Mrs. Bachmann made the presentation."
LEXINGTON (Kentucky). Mrs. R. Fred Flege, Past Regent of the chapter, has received the LOV Award for outstanding volunteer service in Lexington, Kentucky. This award is given annually to an individual for sustained and current work in volunteer service.

Mrs. Flege has been a volunteer at Lexington's Veterans Administration Hospital for twenty-nine years and has amassed over six thousand volunteer hours. She serves as Lexington Area Representative for the Kentucky Society.

Along with her volunteer work Mrs. Flege currently serves as State Chairman for American Indians. She has held many State Chairmanships and has served her Chapter in various capacities. In all that she does Lois brings dedication and a special cheerfulness. Mayor Scotty Baesler presented the award and said of Mrs. Flege: "you can pay people to do a lot of things, but you cannot pay people to feel."

NANCY ROBBINS (Frankford, MO) celebrated its 70th Birthday with a look back at 70 years of service to God, Home and Country. Founded on January 22, 1914, under the aegis of Mrs. George Macfarlane, Missouri State Regent, this chapter has continued to provide a source of inspiration to the local students with awards for history, good citizenship, patriotism. In 1929 it was returned enthused about the Society and reported: "... and has always given a cash prize of $2.50 in gold, annually, to the student making the highest grade in American History, until the last few years, when $5.00 has been given for the purchase of books in the school. . . ."

The Organizing Regent was Mrs. Laura Thomas Wasson Turley, who had been inspired by her daughter, Mrs. V. Maibelle T. Lemon, to join the NSDAR after Mrs. Lemon (at that time Miss Turley) had met many of the DAR ladies when on a visit to Washington, D.C. in April of 1909, and returned enthused about the Society and anxious to join. She related this interest to her granddaughter Wasson who said, that "there was no problem the old gun up in the barn had been carried by her great grandfather in the Revolutionary War and he was buried up to Pleasant Hill Church."

Sixteen ladies were presented and became the Organizing Members of the Chapter, although there were seventeen present, one of them had not received back her approved papers. These papers were approved in February 1914, making her the first charter Member of the Chapter. For many years this member had been under the impression that she was not a Charter Member, and was completely surprised when a Charter Member certificate was read and presented to her, honoring not only her original membership, but also seventy years of continued service to the Chapter as Regent, Vice Regent, Treasurer, Secretary, Registrar, and Chaplain. Mrs. Katie Ruth Douglass Graves is the only living Charter member of the Chapter. The granddaughter and great granddaughter of the Organizing Regent are members, Mrs. Devine being the first member to serve as a Page at Continental Congress from the Chapter, and her daughter Laura Thomas following in her footsteps. Mrs. Devine, and her mother Mrs. Lemon before her, have served the chapter yearly as delegates to Continental Congress; Mrs. Graves' daughter is also a member of the Nancy Robbins Chapter.—Turley Devine.

SAN FRANCISCO (California) celebrated its 50th Anniversary honored by the presence of California's State Regent, Mrs. Donald Douglas Duncan, and State Vice Regent and National Chairman of Units Overseas, Mrs. Charles Keil Kemper. Many other State Officers and Chairmen were present.

An ROTC Color Guard from McAteer High School carried in the Flags and everyone participated in the DAR Ritual. The Regent, Mrs. Mary Cornelius Sweetman, spoke of the Organizing Regent of San Francisco Chapter, Mrs. L. Marshall Duncan, who served as the first Regent in 1933-1934. One of Mrs. L. Marshall Duncan's sisters, Mrs. Frederick F. Gundrum, was the California State Regent at that time and was present at the organizational meeting. Our Chapter was the 83rd Chapter organized in California.

Mrs. Kathryn Durning, First Vice Regent, and a past Regent, presented twenty-nine members with 25-year DAR Certificates, some of these members having been DARs up to 48 years. We have one 50-year member, Mrs. Andrew Ross (Aileen), who was a Charter Member. The Chapter honored her by presenting her with a DAR Charter Member pin and a 50-year DAR pin. The Program Chairman, Mrs. J. Harold Jenkins (Susie), a former First Vice Regent, spoke of early Past Regents not present and told of their activities and accomplishments, reviving and recalling many happy memories. Past Regents who attended had previously been invited to speak for four or five minutes, giving highlights of their terms.

A new gavel inscribed "Honoring our Charter Chapter Member, Mrs. Andrew Ross, 1933-1983" was handed to Mrs. Ross who, after tapping it once on the podium, handed it to the Chapter Regent, Mrs. Sweetman.

The Board of Directors had unanimously voted to present five DAR Awards of Appreciation Certificates for outstanding, devoted service to our Chapter.

SOUTH BRANCH VALLEY (Petersburg, W. Va.) It was a banner occasion for the chapter when three generations of the Gamble Family, descendants of Col. William Lowther, attended a recent chapter meeting.

Mrs. Mortimer Williams Gamble, III (Virgie Ireland) is currently serving as Chapter Librarian. Chairman of various committees over the years including immediate past chairman of Veteran-Patients Committee for six years, she was Regent for five years, Treasurer for three. Also she was chairman of the State Conservation Committee and of the Museum Committee.

Mrs. Gamble's daughter, Mrs. Lewis Silliman (Carmen Gamble), is serving her third year as Chairman of the American History Month Committee with emphasis on the essay contest offered to grades five through eight in Grant, Hampshire, Hardy and Pendleton counties. First place chapter winners read their essays at the March luncheon meeting in the Old Stone Tavern, Moorefield, where they and their mothers were guests of the Regent.

Mrs. Gamble's granddaughter, Mrs. Timothy Hardy (Katherine Silliman), enjoys DAR when she is able to attend meetings.

The three Daughters promote DAR objectives by opening the Gamble-Silliman Home, Moorefield, for guest tours during Hardy County Heritage Weekend, the last weekend in September each year.

The photograph, taken in the home shows Mrs. Gamble seated; Mrs. Silliman, left; Mrs. Hardy, right.

Observing this Independence Jubilee Administration, the chapter was fortunate to have Mrs. H. J. Maxwell, Regent, present at.

Mrs. Vincent M. Mahoney, District of Columbia State Chairman of the American Indians Committee, promotes D.C. DAR activities on July 4, 1984, on the Mall at the Washington Monument with Mrs. James H. Cox, District of Columbia State Regent.

For three days at the beginning of July, the District of Columbia Daughters distributed information from the Bureau of Indian Affairs to Native Americans and visitors alike in our Nation's Capital. NSDAR scholarship forms were also distributed and much conversation centered around the activities of the District of Columbia Daughters which benefit our American Indians. The State Regent's Project for this year focuses attention on the need for salaries to pay tutors at St. Mary's School for Indian Girls in South Dakota. Mrs. Cox has chosen for her scriptural theme 1 Timothy 4:14.

the September meeting a slide program complemented by her eyewitness account of the NSDAR Celebration of the Bicentennial of the Treaty of Paris in Paris. Enthusiasm mounted as Daughters and prospective members were thrilled to receive her gift: copies of "Treaty of Paris, Paris, September 3, 1783."

Media used for publicity include a newspaper in four different counties and Radio Station WELD.

Recent chapter gifts include 250 Flag Codes to area schools, $560.00 to the Anna Jarvis Memorial Project and books to Hardy County Public Library as memorials for deceased members.—Edna S. Pratt.

FOURTEEN FLAGS (Oklahoma City, OK) held its annual Guest Luncheon at the Oklahoma City Golf & Country Club, with 41 members and guests attending. The tables were decorated with white azaleas, philodendron and silver shamrocks. Mrs. Charles G. Anderson, Jr., Chapter Regent, presided.

Since its organization in 1974, Fourteen Flags has honored three outstanding native-born citizens by presentation of the DAR Medal of Honor. At this luncheon, the DAR Americana Medal was presented to Oklahoma State Supreme Court Justice Marian P. Opaia. Justice Opaia, born in Poland, came to the United States following World War II, and applied for citizenship as soon as he was eligible. His love for the United States was born of the patriot placed a wreath at the grave. They were: Mrs. Joy Buckner, State Librarian; Mrs. Everett Geisleman; and Mrs. Marks. Mrs. Ferol R. Burns was Indiana Northern District Director at that time and was instrumental in organizing the chapter.

The topic presented by the State Regent, Mrs. Thomas J. Fitzgerald, was "History of NSDAR."

Fifty-three members and guests were present representing the following chapters: Agnes Pryun Chapman, Anthony Nigo, Col. Augustin de la Balme, Frances Slocum, 19th Star, Samuel Huntington, Seek's Village, and the host chapter, Dr. Manasseh Cutler.

FORT HARTFORD (Hartford, KY). The newest member of Fort Hartford Chapter is Rebecca Ellen Moore (papers pending).

Rebecca, fourth generation active family member of this chapter, is the daughter of Mrs. Judith Bartlett Moore, grand-daughter of Mrs. Lawrence D. Bartlett (Martha), and great-grand-daughter of Mrs. Clarence Bartlett (Willye).

Mrs. Judith Bartlett Moore is Corresponding Secretary for the Chapter and serves on the Membership and Program Committees.

Mrs. Lawrence D. Bartlett is serving her second term as Chapter Regent and has held various offices in the past.

Mrs. Clarence Bartlett attends many meetings and has served on various committees through the years.

Fort Hartford Chapter DAR points with pride to having Four Generations from this family as active and devoted members.

JACOB FLOURNOY (Fulton, KY). The toppled tombstone of John Carter, Revolutionary War soldier, was discovered last fall by Mrs. Felix Gossum, DAR member and genealogy buff.

On April 12, 1984, members of Jacob Flournoy Chapter braved a windy, wet spring day to gather at the site in rural Fulton County, Ky., for dedication ceremonies. They were joined by a number of descendants and interested citizens.

Children of the ninth generation of descent from the patriot placed a wreath at the grave. Pictured above they are, from left to right, Scarlett Rudolph, Jessica Coleman, Clint Moon and Brent Moon.

Miss Trudy Thompson, past Regent, was chairman of arrangements and led the ceremony dedicating the special marker. Acceptance comments were made by James Everett, county Judge-Executive. Mrs. Charles Moon, chapter member and seventh generation descendant, gave a resume of the life and service of John Carter. Others taking part were Mrs. Ernest Cardwell, Chaplain, and Mrs. Vyron Mitchell, Regent.

Carter was born in Dec., 1747 in Chester County, Pa., and married Patsy Clark. Their children were Henry, Jane, Martha, Ezekiel, John Jr., William, Dorcas and Polly. Carter died Sept. 4, 1839.

He was first drafted in the South Carolina militia in 1778, and discharged after a few months combat. He was subsequently drafted for three additional enlistments. He and his family moved to western Kentucky in 1800. PROVIDENCE (Fairfax Station, VA) voted to take on a 2-year project concerning the Fairfax City Cemetery which is located on Route 236 next to Everly's Funeral Home. This cemetery was made the official city cemetery in 1890 and has changed names and hands over the years. Approximately 50 years ago another DAR chapter went through this cemetery recording names and dates but so many people have been laid to rest here during the intervening years that we felt it was time to go through once more.

We wanted to make this as complete a job as possible and decided to include complete inscriptions, lot numbers, a map of the cemetery and copies of legal documents and newspaper articles that were applicable. The work was divided into two one-year sections. The first year was spent recording the inscriptions and the second year acquiring the additional information, organizing and typing of the data acquired.

With map in hand we advanced on the cemetery only to discover a flaw in the map. In the beginning the cemetery was laid out with walkways between the rows and with a nice roadway winding throughout. But over the years the walkways had been replaced with small lots and the roadways changed to allow for even more burials. Further, the cemetery is divided into an old section and a new one. The new section was no problem but the old section proved to be quite troublesome in that not all the rows were laid out straight. In addition, some stones were missing and in some cases trees and bushes have been planted directly on top of the graves, growing in such a way as to make it extremely difficult to read these stones.

Soon after finishing the old section vandals went through the cemetery damaging 98 stones. On checking the damage we found that at least one of the stones we had recorded had been broken in such a way that the last digit of the death date was no longer readable. How fortunate we had started our project when we did. We completed this part of our project on October 23, 1983 having recorded one dog and 2,598 people (including one Revolutionary War soldier).

It was at this point that we planned to attempt to copy the written records of the cemetery but unfortunately the vandals had burned the building containing these documents. The ledgers had originally contained only the names of those who purchased the lots, not who was buried in them. This Regent does know of another book which is privately owned containing names of purchasers of these lots. An attempt to copy these will be made in the future.

So far copies of our book have gone to the DAR Library, the Virginia State Library and the main branch of the Fairfax County Library. More copies are to be made and presented to other libraries and interested groups. We have spent almost 300 hours on this project and learned a great deal about researching cemeteries.

This project became a very personal one for this regent when last March following an accident my eldest son was laid to rest in this very cemetery. For it was then that the Providence Daughters said that if I felt unable to continue this project that they would finish it for me. It has been an honor to serve as their regent these past two years for these ladies have never failed in their duty to the DAR, to the Chapter or to each other.

—Diane E. Swartz.

PIANKESHW (New Albany, IN). The Richard Lord Jones Society, Children of the American Revolution, was organized in New Albany, Indiana on December 11, 1983. Special guests at the Organizing Ceremony were Tim Jones II, President I.S.C.A.R.; Rebecca Jones, Chaplain I.S.C.A.R.; Mrs. Arthur F. Beinke, Senior President I.S.C.A.R.; Col. Benjamin H. Morris, Chancellor General, SAR; and Fletcher L. Elmore Jr., President of the Louisville-Thurston Chapter, SAR. There were twenty-three charter members. Twenty-two more members were approved at the February 1984 National Board meeting in Washington, D.C.

The new society was named for Richard Lord Jones who was supposedly the youngest soldier on the payroll of the U.S. Army. He enlisted in Hartford, Connecticut at the age of ten in 1777. An accomplished fifer and drummer, Jones performed for the troops and even sang for Martha Washington and General Marquis de Lafayette. An article written in 1884 by W. W. Crannell told about Jones being with the troops in New York when the British spy, Daniel Taylor, was arrested. Captured by the British, young Richard was taken to Newport R.I. and was forced to engage in a fist fight with an older and larger British soldier. The smaller boy won and because of his young age was set free by the British. He joined his regiment at West Point and marched over two hundred miles over frozen ground to join General George Washington at Morristown, N.J. Richard Lord Jones was honorably discharged after three years service and again walked over two hundred miles home. In later years, he and his family came to New Albany, Indiana. He farmed there until his death in 1824 and is buried in Fairview Cemetery, in New Albany. The grave marker of Richard Lord Jones has been badly damaged by vandals and it is the hope of the new society to restore the marker as a project.

The Richard Lord Jones Society has already distributed their first newsletter called "The Drummers Dispatch."

PATHFINDER (Port Gibson, MS) celebrated its 70th anniversary with a silver tea at Oak Square, the ante bellum home of Mrs. Martha Brady Lum, chapter parliamentarian.

Though the actual date for the event was January 16, 1984, the chapter members planned the celebration in May when the State Regent, Mrs. William E. O’Hare, would be in attendance.

Organized by Miss Harriette A. Person, Pathfinder Chapter was named to honor the Natchez Trace, which passes close to Port Gibson. A picturesque, modern highway today, the Trace was begun as a path by Indians and was later followed by many early settlers into the old Southwest. Some of those who traveled down the Trace were Meriwether Lewis, Lorenzo Dow, and Andrew Jackson.

Though all the charter members of Pathfinder Chapter are now deceased, some of their kinswomen are still active in our organization.

We are glad that Pathfinder Chapter has reached its 70th year in Port Gibson. And our hope is that this chapter will continue to do much good for our town, our county and our nation.

OLD FEDERAL ROAD (Monroeville, AL) was organized February 3, 1984 with 14 members.

The chapter takes its name from a road which ran through the county and established a land route from Washington, D.C. to New Orleans following the 1803 purchase of the Louisiana Territory. The land route was particularly important to the young nation for the movement of troops and supplies from Washington to New Orleans should the sea lanes in the area be disrupted. The proposed road would cross lands owned by the Creek Indians and it was necessary to obtain permission from them to build the road. Representatives of The Creek Indian Nation and the U.S. met in Washington, D.C. Nov. 14, 1803 and the Creeks granted permission for the road. The original horse path road eventually developed into the federal road and was extremely important to the development and growth of all of south Alabama as well as Monroe County. The road was Alabama's first improved highway, has been in continuous use and is currently referred to by area residents as "the Old Federal Road."

At a Program of Installation, held February 24, 1984 at Monroeville Presbyterian Church, Alabama State Regent, Mrs. James P. Lynch, administered oath to Organizing Officers (from left) Mrs. H. R. Carter, Registrar, Mrs. D. R. Andress, Treasurer, Mrs. D. E. Frost, Rec. Secretary, Mrs. C. S. King, Chaplain, Mrs. W. J. Andress, Vice Regent and Mrs. L. E. Dees, Regent. Seven members have been added making 21 members in the new chapter.

going on a long journey, he would take the valuable panes out of the windows and store them.

Another important glassmaker was John Frederick Amelung. He made goblets, bottles, and bowls for everyday use. Amelung is best known for the elegant engraved glass he created with crests, mottoes, monograms, and flower wreaths.

Henry William Stiegel was a third important American Glassmaker. He made glass from 1763 to 1774 at his glass plant in Manheim, Pennsylvania. Stiegel made clear glass, colored glass, and engraved and enamelled glass. He also produced the first lead glass in America.

Stiegel made glass for only ten years, but that decade was an important one for the new American glass industry. It proved that America could produce glassware as delicate and lovely as any that was being made in Europe at that time.

Glass in 1738 was important to the colonists. It played an important part since they made glass for a living and because it was needed.

ity with his kite fly in 1752. He tried to find ways people could work together for improvement in their living conditions. Inventing the lightning rod brought his witty saying, “An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.”

In 1727 he organized the Junto Club, which later became The American Philosophical Society. Through his dedication, Philadelphia became the most sophisticated city in the colonies. His discovery that poor ventilation caused the spread of disease improved the colonists’ life.

Benjamin Franklin was active in politics. He quickly rose from clerk of the Pennsylvania Assembly (1736) to Postmaster of all colonies in 1753.

The French and Indian War was a great threat to the colonies. Franklin obtained and paid for wagons and supplies. He organized many volunteer armies and was the colonel of his Philadelphia militia.

In 1757 he was sent to England by the Pennsylvania Assembly to settle a quarrel between the colony and its proprietors. He was the perfect ambassador. Franklin stayed there almost eighteen years. His greatest victory was the repeal of the Stamp Act. He returned to Philadelphia in 1775 and learned about the death of his wife. He then became even more involved in his country’s problems.

When the Revolutionary War began, he immediately attempted to strengthen and protect the colonies. His salaries, as a delegate in the Second Continental Congress and Post Master General, were given for the relief of wounded soldiers. He took charge of printing a newspaper for the colonies and new paper money. He was on a Congressional committee to plan the reorganization of George Washington’s army and revised the Articles of War.

Franklin helped draft the Declaration of Independence and later was one of the signers.

Benjamin was sent to France. The American colonists knew French officials admired Franklin for his wisdom, patience, understanding, and humor as well as his knowledge of politics. This aided Franklin in obtaining the much needed supplies, money, and men from France.

In 1782 the British Parliament named a new Foreign Minister, William Petty, Lord Shelburne, who immediately sent a personal representative to Franklin to tell him that England wanted peace. Franklin wanted a negotiated peace. Some Americans refused to negotiate with the British until they formally recognized independence for the American Colonies. The Colonies ended up settling for all the territory between the seacoast and Mississippi River with the north and south boundaries as they are today. There was much disagreement about paying the loyalists for farms, houses, and estates. Franklin wanted the British to pay for the looted and burned towns. He was happy to eventually win the independence for the Colonies. The Treaty of Paris was signed later by the British, French, and Americans.

When Franklin returned home, he had hoped he could then live his last years quietly. However, his country once again asked for his help in drawing up the Constitution.

Even though he was old, his goal was always to improve his country. He felt very strongly against slavery and became the president of the Abolition Society.

Franklin never finished a promise to write his autobiography. He died April 17, 1790, at the age of eighty-four. He was a great patriot, statesman, scientist, inventor, writer, and editor.

Benjamin Franklin’s life should be an example to us all. With so many opportunities available to us, we should seek and strive to obtain as many of them as humanly possible.

Henry Laurens

to make a treaty with the Dutch. On his way to Holland, he was captured by the British and imprisoned in the Tower of London under accusation of treason. He was offered King’s Pardon if he would renounce his allegiance to America. He refused. After nearly four years of semi-starvation and maltreatment, he was exchanged for General Cornwallis.

Mr. Laurens arrived in Paris just in time to add two important items to the Treaty: boundaries for fishing rights, and a provision preventing the British from carrying off American property.

Mr. Laurens did not sign the final Treaty of Paris 1783 because he was carrying out other duties for his country. At the time of the formal signing, Henry Laurens was in London meeting with Prime Minister Fox, discussing the possibility of an Ambassador to England. After completing his final mission, Mr. Laurens returned home to live the remaining seven years of his life in retirement. He continued to receive honors even after he returned from Europe. A county in South Carolina is named for him.

While Henry Laurens may have been in the wrong place at the wrong time to be remembered in history, we are lucky that he and his fellow delegates were the right men with the “right stuff” to do the right job protecting the freedom of our country.

Benjamin Franklin

thirteen colonies. Philadelphia’s first public library, fire department, paved and lighted streets, city hospital, and higher education were dreams Franklin turned into realities.

When Franklin was no longer young, he became one of the most important American statesman who ever lived. Franklin’s diplomatic services for the colonies began during the French and Indian War in 1754, when he was instrumental in trying to unite the thirteen colonies. In 1757, Franklin was sent to London where he stayed until 1775, speaking in Parliament for the colonies concerning tax disputes and the way the colonies should be governed. His accomplishments impressed everyone, and his reputation as a diplomat was established.

In 1775, Franklin returned from Britain and was elected as a delegate to the Second Continental Congress. Franklin not only helped write the Declaration of Independence, but also signed it on July 4, 1776. This was the first of our important documents leading to the creation of the United States of America that Benjamin Franklin signed.

Perhaps the most challenging task of Franklin’s career began in 1776, when he was seventy years old. Franklin was appointed by Congress to act as American minister to France. His main goal was to win French support for the colonies during the Revolutionary War. The war was not going favorably for the colonies and Congress realized that an alliance with France would help. Franklin convinced the French government that the British would be entirely too powerful if the colonies were to lose the war. He stressed to French businessmen the importance of being able to trade with a free America. The Treaty of Alliance with France on February 6, 1778, was the second important document signed by Benjamin Franklin. The Treaty provided for money, supplies, warships, and French troops to be sent to aid the colonists in their fight against the British. Franklin’s diplomacy won the French government and perhaps because of French aid, the Americans were victorious over the British in the Revolutionary War.

Although the fighting of the Revolutionary War ended in 1781, there were still conflicts between Great Britain and the colonies to be resolved before the colonies could truly be considered the United States of America. Once again, Benjamin Franklin proved extremely diplomatic in resolving these conflicts with the help of two other American commissioners, John Jay and John Adams. With the signing of the Treaty of Paris in 1783, America won the major terms needed in order to become a new nation. It was not an easy task for Franklin to satisfy everyone while bringing a close to the conflicts of the Revolutionary War and confirming new boundaries for the United States. The Treaty of Paris guaranteed the withdrawal of British troops from America and granted America complete independence from Britain. The treaty also established new borders for the United States and established fishing rights. After the signing of the Treaty of Paris, Franklin said, “We are now friends with England and with all mankind.”

Franklin’s career as a statesman and diplomat continued after his return to Philadelphia in 1785, when he served as President of the Executive Council of Pennsylvania. In 1787, Franklin served as a delegate to the Constitutional Convention which drafted the Constitution of the United States. The Constitution was the fourth important document signed by Benjamin Franklin which led to the making of the United States of America.

Benjamin Franklin’s accomplishments and service did not go unnoticed. George Washington wrote in a letter to Franklin in 1789, just one year before Franklin’s death, “If to be venerated for benevolence, if to be admired for talents, if to be esteemed for patriotism, if to be beloved for philanthropy, can gratify the human mind, you must have the pleasing consolation to know that you have not lived in vain.”

The ARNOLD house, home of the Warwick Historical Society was built c. 1760 on the site of an earlier house. The grounds are part of the former Israel Arnold’s 57 acre farm. Stephen Arnold one of the first settlers in Pawtuxet, bought this land from the Indians in 1660. This one plot of land, where the house stands was passed down from father to son for six generations. John W Arnold, Israel’s son, was the last, of the family to live here. The old Arnold burial ground is located within the Pawtuxet Memorial Park, next to the Arnold house.

The outstanding characteristics of this typical two-story clapboard farmhouse with central chimney is its beehive oven, paneled doors with H and L hinges and the fireplace paneling in the dining room. The ell was added at a later date.

Adding charm to the barn-red house is a colonial garden enclosed with a white picket fence.

The house is on the National Register.

Miss Delila Mildred Baird, National Number 512183, became a member of Nancy Harper Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, Sweetwater, Texas in 1964. She was Regent of this Chapter 1969-1972; Organizing Regent of Anne Pettus Shelburne Chapter of Rotan, Texas, 1972; assisted in organizing two other area chapters, Abigail Ann Berry Chesley Chapter, Abilene, and Martin Preuitt, Jr., Snyder, Texas. Deeply interested in the Youth of our Country, she had held the office of Senior President Anne Pettus Shelburne Children of the American Revolution; and for the past seven years, including up to the time of death, she had served Texas State Senior Chairman of CAR.

Aside from the Chapter Regent's offices held, Delila had held several Texas State Vice Chairmanships, has been Texas State Chairman of Motion Pictures—receiving an award for the work she did in that position; Texas State Society Chairman of Constitution Week; and National Vice Chairman, Southern Section, Constitution Week.

Ancestors accepted by National Society Daughters of the American Revolution are, Thomas Pettus, Burgess, VA; Rev. James Shelburne, VA; John Crafton, VA; William Renfro, VA & SC; Jeremiah Selmon, SC; William Miller, SC & GA; Major Ignatius Taylor, MD; Joseph Sprigg II, MD.

Other interests than her DAR work included several early colonial and heraldic hereditary societies—she held a National Office in one at the time of her death.

were consulted. The president of Impact Media Corporation, Bill Brose, became so enthused that he volunteered his photographic services for two days. He supplied his time, cameras and expertise and became a working member of the project team.

In the process of preparing for the selection of the objects it was discovered that some of Mrs. Brown's holdings had been photographed and identified by the Museum of Early Southern Decorative Arts as being both rare and in good condition. These included seven small wax portraits, two blue/gray crocks which were marked by their makers, and several pieces of early furniture, in addition to the 1790s oil painting of "Mt. Walla" which "has always been in the house."

The staff spent several days at Mount Walla working long and hard to accomplish a great deal in a few days. As selections were made, each object identified, given a number, photographed and set aside. On May 21st the registrar and a team of fine art movers delivered the selection of objects to 1776 D Street in Washington. Here, in the nation's capital, it is anticipated, they shall have a permanent home, to be enjoyed by future generations of DAR members and by all Americans. The gifts, which are presently on loan from Albemarle Chapter, are many and varied. They include a carved wooden eagle shown here, fourteen powder flasks (shown on cover) decorated with a variety of designs, four Shaker chairs, ranging from a size 0 to a size 7, an early dough table, pewter plates, spoons and tankards, as well as a slant front desk with secret drawers, beautiful samplers, needlework and quilts. Have you ever seen a knife sharpener holder? This collection contains two, one of which still holds the knife sharpening stone. This piece of worn stone was a clue to the enigma of these conical shaped wood and horn containers. It is interesting to note that each one is fitted on the back with a clip to hang over a belt or the top of an apron. There are other fascinating puzzles in the collection — pieces that were made by unknown craftsmen and brought together by Millie Brown. This makes the identification of the objects a challenge because no genealogy or family history accompanied these gifts beyond an occasional purchase receipt or entry in one of Mrs. Brown's three ledgers.

The objects from the Millie Brown collection will be taken care of, researched and exhibited with the thoroughness, skill, resources, and appreciation which they deserve. Selections from the collection will be exhibited in the DAR Museum Gallery in 1985. Extensive research of a gift of this type is as important to the staff as it is to the public. We look forward to learning what this gift has to teach us.

Mrs. Brown would certainly be pleased and delighted to have her possessions enjoyed by generations of Americans who will be able to see and learn from them in the future. And, although we don't usually allow animals in the Museum, if Jimminy Cricket would like to visit during the Mount Walla exhibition, we would certainly be able to accommodate one little Scottie dog.

Heart Attack and Stroke Combatted by New Pill
There now is an effective, non-drug treatment for plugged arteries, and bypass surgery is not the only alternative to heart attack and stroke. This is the startling position advanced by Dr. Kurt Donabach, Chairman of the National Health Federation and founder of the Donabach University, School of Nutrition. The real cause of atherosclerosis, says Dr. Donabach, is not cholesterol but a group of chemicals called free radicals which cause tiny lesions in the artery wall. The body responds by covering these lesions with fibrin and calcium which then attract cholesterol as a last step. Cholesterol, therefore, is not the cause of atherosclerosis but merely the result. The way to prevent plaque is to control the free radicals, and this is done with new other substances called free-radical scavengers. Fortunately, these are inexpensive and can be taken orally. Dr. Donabach's lecture, delivered at the World Health Expo, is entitled NUTRITION FOR YOUR ARTERIES. Available on audio cassette for $7.95.

Aluminum in the Brain Cause of Poor Memory?
The medical name for loss of memory and other symptoms of advanced senility is Alzheimer's Disease. Dr. Richard Casdorph, a leading authority on circulatory disorders, says that Alzheimer's Disease is caused by a lifetime accumulation of aluminum in the tissue of the brain. In a lecture before of the National Health Federation, he identified the consumer products, from cooking pots to deodorants, that are probable sources of this aluminum. Most of these products have come into use only in the last few decades and, consequently, Alzheimer's Disease, which once was rare except among the aged, now is found among those in middle age as well.

Many people suffering from forgetfulness, weak concentration, and irritability may actually be experiencing early symptoms of this condition. Dr. Casdorph described the therapy that is most effective in removing aluminum from the system. His lecture is entitled NEW HOPE FOR ALZHEIMER'S DISEASE. Available on audio cassette for $7.95.

Dear Daughters:

I would like to join each and every Daughter in ushering in yet another proud and successful year for our National Society.

The National Society is a living entity. It works hard to sustain itself, and is always proud of its accomplishments. Thanks to you, the Daughters, the National Society has weathered many trials which have threatened it. Many times the need for change has been encountered and accepted. One thing, however, has remained constant. The Daughters have never waivered in their desire to perform to the best of their abilities for their National Society.

This is especially evident in the interest that individual Daughters, Chapters and State Societies have shown in obtaining advertising for the DAR Magazine. More and more, commercial advertising is being sought, bringing not only welcome support to your magazine, but also revenue to Chapters whose members have extended themselves just a little farther in the name of their National Society. By selling commercial ads, Chapters increase their own treasuries.

Each and every Daughter should, on this anniversary, make a resolution to serve the DAR in any way possible: attend your Chapter meetings; become as informed as possible about the National Society and its workings; and always be on the alert for possible advertisers who would benefit from exposure in the Daughters of the American Revolution Magazine. I wish you all much happiness for the coming year.

Enthusiastically,

Mrs. James M. Anderson, Jr.
National Chairman

Ancestry, Inc. has created what is certainly the single most useful publication for undertaking genealogical record searches. The U.S. Vital Records Catalog fills a long-existing niche in research aids. You no longer have to rely on busy or unskilled clerks to fulfill your search needs, nor do you have to travel great distances to do it yourself. By ordering your searches through our catalog, you are assured that they have been conducted by a member of Ancestry's trained, professional staff.

The U.S. Vital Records Catalog will add new dimensions to your family research. For one thing, it is the most inexpensive way to have a surname searched in the myriad of vital records on file at the Salt Lake library. All searches are between $5 and $9.00. Nowhere else can you have a professional search conducted for so little. And another new dimension is speed—turnaround time now averages only two weeks.

By consulting the catalog you will know what records are available for searching, and can request that specific records be examined. There is no hassle or lost time because you will know what records exist. Ancestry's staff spent months compiling these records, and the unique classification system allows our researchers to do a quick, efficient, and inexpensive search for you. What the Sears & Roebuck Catalog is for the consumer, the U.S. Vital Records Catalog is for the genealogist.

The U.S. Vital Records Catalog is only $4.00 + $1.25 shipping. Order yours today!

Ancestry wants you to get a free copy of the Ancestry Newsletter.
