Montpelier, a 5,000 acre land grant along the Rapidan River in Virginia, was the home of James Madison, fourth President of the United States. He became the sole owner of the estate upon the death of his father in 1801. Madison, greatly influenced by his close friend, Thomas Jefferson, soon began to put his stamp on the house.

Although Madison served eight years each as a member of the U.S. House of Representatives, as Secretary of State, and as President, his principal contribution to the founding of the United States was as "Father of the Constitution." He played the leading role in formulating this document and was its leading defender and interpreter for 50 years.

Madison took the lead in calling for the Convention of 1787 and arrived in Philadelphia that summer ready to take a prominent role in framing a government to replace the Articles of Confederation.

Montpelier has become the property of the National Trust for Historic Preservation. The Trust plans to preserve the house, but, at the same time, to look at the possibility for historical renovation. It will be open again to the public in 1987 in commemoration of the Bicentennial of the Constitution of the United States.

Montpelier, James Madison’s family home in Virginia, is the March feature. Shown here: A tempietto of Jefferson design—the only unchanged structure remaining on the property.
Dear Friends:

Was thrilled to make my official visit to Australia and Hawaii and am now looking forward to being with many of you at your State Conferences. Know you are working hard to make the Conferences meaningful and successful.

The climate control work is nearing completion. Am happy to inform you that the company doing the work has been given a national award for the fine work done in our buildings. The pipe survey has been completed and plans are underway to begin the tremendous task of modification of existing structural building equipment to be known as "Pipes and Drum." In April, you will be voting on this national project.

"Montpelier"—the home of James Madison, signer of the Constitution, will be officially opened to the public on March 16th. It is now owned by the National Trust for Historic Preservation.

Many hours have been spent planning the events and meetings for Continental Congress. May what we do be significant and enjoyable for all. Look forward to seeing you in April.

Sincerely,

PRESIDENT GENERAL’S MESSAGE
THE MADISON ERA (1723-1844). The history of Montpelier begins with a 5,000 acre land grant along the Rapidan River in the Piedmont section of Virginia. Early land records are in the Spottsylvania County Court, as the present County of Orange had not been formed at that time.

The property was patented in 1723 by Ambrose Madison and Frances Taylor. The location of the first Madison home has yet to be determined.

However, when their son, Colonel James Madison, married Nellie Rose Conway in 1749, he built a two story brick house with exterior chimneys on their 2,800-acre estate. This house became the nucleus of the present home. Two years later, as she was expecting her first child, Nellie returned to her parent's home. Thus, on March 16, 1751, James Madison was born at Port Conway on the Rappahannock River, rather than at Montpelier.

It is unclear who named the place Montpelier. Some think Jefferson may have suggested it. In any event, the name probably came from Montpellier, a city in southern France, which derived its name from the now obsolete word Montpellierians, meaning Pilgrims' Mountain. Although a pilgrim usually refers to one who travels to distant shrines, it also refers to a person who passes through life in search of some high goal, such as truth. This last interpretation clearly describes our fourth President James Madison, who was a diligent searcher for truth and justice.

Madison was an avid reader and a dedicated scholar. “Unprepossessing in appearance—he stood only five feet six inches tall—and often in ill health during his early years, Madison lacked the majestic bearing, physical prowess, and martial skills of George Washington. In an age when public speaking was a highly prized political tool, Madison was plagued by a weak voice and hobbled by self-consciousness.”

Yet it was Madison above all of the founding fathers who shaped our system of government. Indeed, during this year of the commemoration of the bicentennial of the Constitution, his is the name which deserves our special recognition. From 1785 to 1791, Madison's thinking and scholarship were reflected again and again in our documents of freedom. Much of his research and study was done in the library at his beloved Montpelier.

His Memorial and Remonstrance, written in 1785, helped propel Jefferson's Statute for Religious Freedom through the General Assembly of Virginia. This was the first time in western civilization that religious liberty was established by law. At the Annapolis "convention" in 1786, his participation in discussions with those who had come to talk of interstate trade helped produce the Report, which set the place and date for the Federal Convention the following year. His contributions in shaping the Constitution in 1787, his writings in The Federalist for its ratification and his continued efforts in the ratification convention in Virginia in 1788 and in Congress in 1789, culminating in the ratification of the Bill of Rights in 1791, clearly have earned him the name "Father of the Constitution."

In 1794, Madison married the widow Dolley Todd and brought her and her son to live at Montpelier. In 1797, thinking he was retiring, he expanded the house thirty feet to accommodate both families. His parents then had their own entrance and lived on one wing of the house while his family had another entrance on the other side. It was at this time also that the imposing portico of modified Palladian design was added and stucco was applied to the brickwork.

When his father died in 1801, Madison inherited Montpelier. Within a few years he began making further changes in the house. Some of Madison's remodeling was done by skilled carpenters who had worked at Monticello, thirty miles away. During the forty years of construction on his home, Jefferson had recruited skilled workmen and master-builders from other states. Two of these carpenters, James Dinsmore and John Neilson, remained in Virginia and worked on buildings of the University of Virginia and later on the Madison home.

"At Montpelier, the residence of Jefferson's personal and political friend, James Madison, Dinsmore and Neilson renovated the mid-18th century house in major remodeling of..."
1809–1812. Although the workmen had left Jefferson's employ, they still maintained contact with him. In September, 1808, Jefferson wrote to Madison, "Dinsmore has suggested a very handsome improvement to your house and I think the easiest by which you can make a fine room. . .It will be somewhat in the manner of my parlor." By the time the two carpenters had completed their work at Montpelier, much of the remodeling had been influenced by their work at Monticello. This is especially evident in the interior woodwork, triple-hung sash windows, rear porch, and classical garden temple, the later being among the finest of its type for this period in Virginia." It was during this period that the rear colonnade was added.

James and Dolley spent their retirement years at Montpelier; Dolley continued to maintain this home for eight years following Madison's death in 1836. Unfortunately for posterity, she was often in need of funds. Thus, she sold most of the Madison furnishings. Finally, in 1844 Montpelier was sold. But the "great little Madison" and his wife still sleep at his Pilgrims' Mountain retreat as the Madison cemetery is on the grounds.

UNDER VARIOUS OWNERS (1844–1900). During the next fifty-six years, the property changed hands six times. Since little is known of these short-term title holders, this is a time period which may provide a gold mine for future researchers.

One piece of information has recently come to light. In a letter to this wife in 1864, Captain Benjamin Justice, a member of a Georgia Regiment of the Confederate States of America, described a visit to Montpelier and commented on the recent changes to the portico made by the then-owner, Frank Carson.

THE DUPONT ERA (1901–1983). In the late autumn of 1900, William duPont became interested in the estate. Once he viewed the historic home from the crest of a hill, he knew he wanted to own it. On January 9, 1901, the deed to the house and 1,240 surrounding acres was transferred to him. At that time, the house was almost exactly the way it had been when the Madisons had owned it. However, drastic changes were made by William duPont and his wife, Anne Rogers duPont. The house was transformed from a country home into the mansion it is today. Some believe that Mrs. duPont wanted to recreate her home in England, Binfield Park. Second stories were added to the wings and two massive additions extended from the rear of the house. The duplex also expanded the gardens and added numerous outbuildings, such as the general store, the private Norfolk Southern railroad station and siding plus a bowling alley.

In 1928, their daughter, Marion duPont Scott, became the owner. She was a noted horsewoman and for years ran a successful stud farm. During her ownership, the racetrack and steeplechase course were added to the estate. Perhaps the high point of her life was the day her stallion Battleship won the Grand National at Aintree, England, making her the first American to win this award. Mrs. Scott established the second cemetery on the property and the tombstones to Annapolis, Accra and Battleship are visible from the house.

Marion duPont Scott's will, read after she died in 1983 at the age of 89, included provisions that her five nieces and nephews give or sell their interests in Montpelier to the National Trust and stipulated that Montpelier be preserved as a shrine to our fourth president and that two rooms be dedicated to her father, William duPont.

NATIONAL TRUST FOR HISTORIC PRESERVATION (1984–present). The National Trust for Historic Preservation acquired the peach-colored stone mansion along with 2,700 acres of land in October of 1984. The vast house contains 55 rooms with 12 bathrooms. There are 35 dwellings and 30 barns with stalls for 175 horses, a 10,000 square foot greenhouse, 10 miles of paved roads with three bridges, a two-acre walled formal garden, and an Olympic size pool.

The Trust plans to preserve the house as it is but, at the same time, (Continued on page 164)
The President General recently began her official visits to the Units Overseas. The trip began in Sidney and Melbourne, Australia. Mrs. Fleck captured one of the churches (left) in Melbourne during her tour.

An important but less well-known aspect of the National Society is the program for members living outside the United States. This program currently counts eight chapters in five countries: Australia, Canada, France, Mexico and the United Kingdom. The subject of this article is one of the newest chapters, the Captain James Cook Chapter, located in Australia which was visited by the President General and this National Chairman from November 18–26, 1986.

National Society activities overseas have a history almost as long as the society itself. The first overseas chapter was formed in Hawaii in 1897, a year before Hawaii became a territory of the United States. This chapter continues today as the Aloha Chapter in Honolulu. Chapters followed in Cuba in 1907, the Philippines in 1913, Paris in 1923, Shanghai, China in 1924 and London in 1925 to name just a few. The Units Overseas Committee was formed in 1940 for the purpose of aiding and encouraging chapters overseas and for providing a link between the National Society and overseas members. At the time the committee was formed, there were 23 chapters outside the United States. World War II and its aftermath and statehood for Alaska and Hawaii dramatically reduced the number of chapters overseas to the present eight. Today these chapters, together with the Members at Large overseas total over 300 members.

The Captain James Cook Chapter was organized in 1984 with members in Sydney and Melbourne. The President General and this National Chairman, along with their husbands, visited both cities so as to reach as many members and prospective members as possible.

The party arrived in Sydney late on the evening of November 18th. Mrs. Graham Bradley, Regent of the Captain James Cook Chapter, greeted the party. The next day was spent adjusting to the 14-hour time change and touring the near-by Blue Mountains. The trip included a visit to see koalas, kangaroos, wombats, wallabies, emus, dingos and other Australian native animals.

The Sydney members of the Captain James Cook Chapter gathered at the home of Mrs. Bradley for a dinner meeting. Mrs. Bradley welcomed the President General and this National Chairman. She remarked that it was a unique experience for such a small and remote chapter to talk to the President General around the dinner table. The President General's remarks covered the service goals of the National Society and described its commitment to a number of educational and historic programs. The President General held the group spellbound with her speech.

The President General also noted the progress underway in the DAR Buildings with the Climate Control work nearing completion. But, she noted the need for repair and replacement of the old galvanized pipes. Leaks and blocked pipes require immediate replacement to protect the valuable items displayed in the building.

This National Chairman reviewed the history of the Units Overseas Committee, emphasizing that Daughters overseas may be far from the United States, but their involvement in National Society activities has a long and distinguished record. In keeping with the goals of the National Society, chapters overseas can work most effectively in the historic and educational areas. Most relevant is the opportunity to promote an improved mutual understanding of the history and traditions of the host country and of the United States.

A slide program illustrating the DAR buildings and showing scenes from the DAR Museum and from a number of the state period rooms was presented. These rooms, which represent styles, furniture and decorations from the colonial and early years of the United States, drew special interest.

A number of prospective members in attendance found the President General's description of the goals of the Society an encouragement to move forward with their applications for membership.

The President General and the National Chairman reviewed the special effort the National Society is making to accommodate the unusual circumstances of chapters overseas. Exchange rate disparities, membership which includes non-US citizen, difficulties in effecting US dollar transactions and duty restrictions which impact the purchase of items such as the DAR insignia all require special efforts by overseas chapters to accomplish tasks which are relatively simple in the United States. Notarized signatures on an application can be difficult if not impossible in many places outside the United States.

A working lunch with two prospective members featured an extended discussion of the National Society and its possible participation in activities of the American community in Sydney especially in the Australian Bicentennial.

Mr. and Mrs. Graham Bradley and the visiting party enjoyed a dinner at the Seymour Centre Theater where the Nimrod Theater company's presentation of "All's Well that End's Well" in a contemporary setting was
The day continued with a visit to the U.S. Arizona Memorial in Pearl Harbor. The party noted the recently refurbished DAR plaque at the visitors center. The party took the launch out to the Arizona Memorial where the President General spoke briefly.

After traveling over 20,000 miles, the President General and this National Chairman are pleased to report that the National Society's programs are active and productive in the Captain James Cook Chapter. We are looking forward to its continued growth. The Hawaii State Society continues to be a vigorous and active unit with a fine genealogical library and program.

The President General was extremely well received at every stop. Her interest and dynamic energy carried the message to all that the National Society has a leader who is dedicated to the objectives of the DAR.
Advocacy journalists in the national news media showed their bias against a strong U.S. national defense and also against President Reagan by "reporting" on November 28, 1986 that the United States had "broken" the SALT II "Treaty." On that day a B-52 bomber, equipped with cruise missiles, was put into active service.

Newspapers and network television laced their reporting with emotion-charged terms calculated to lead the American people to believe that the Reagan Administration had violated a treaty. The page-one story in the New York Times was headlined "U.S. exceeds limit set in 1979 accord on strategic arms." The national network newscasts repeatedly used such terms as "violated" SALT II and "exceeded the SALT II limits." To give verisimilitude to this false reporting, CBS-TV showed old news clips of Jimmy Carter signing the SALT II Treaty with Communist Party chief Leonid Brezhnev on June 18, 1979. This type of news reporting is dishonest, biased, and reflects the desire of the national media "elite" to achieve their liberal and disarmament policy goals by the way they select and "frame" the news.

The U.S. Senate refused to ratify the SALT II Treaty signed by President Jimmy Carter, just as the Senate refused to ratify the Versailles (League of Nations) Treaty signed by President Woodrow Wilson. The Senate's bottom-line reason was the same in each case: the treaty was harmful to the best interests of the United States.

It is true that Jimmy Carter and Leonid Brezhnev signed the SALT II Treaty and sealed it with a kiss in a famous news photo taken in Vienna on June 18, 1979, but a kiss simply won't substitute for two-thirds of the Senate. Under the U.S. Constitution, a treaty is not a treaty unless it is signed by the President AND ratified by two-thirds of the U.S. Senators. Under U.S. law, the SALT II "Treaty" is NOT a treaty at all.

Article 19 of SALT II states that the Treaty "shall be subject to ratification in accordance with the constitutional procedures of each Party." Clearly, the Soviets were on notice that anything Jimmy Carter signed was NOT a treaty unless the Senate ratified it, so it was disingenuous of Mikhail Gorbachev to attack Reagan for ignoring SALT's so-called "limits," and it was mischievous of the media to give him air time to act out his tantrum.

Pretending that the United States should obey the terms of SALT II is like a woman demanding that a man be faithful to her even though he never married her. If the marriage ceremony was never completed, she is just shouting in the wind. The United States doesn't have a shred of obligation under the SALT II Treaty.

The news media try to rationalize their proposition that the United States has some kind of obligation to abide by the SALT II terms by saying that the Soviet Union declared it would abide by the treaty anyway. So what! That's like the woman who was left standing at the altar saying that she will be faithful to the man who got away. That doesn't create any obligation on him.

When Ronald Reagan campaigned for the Presidency, he labeled SALT II "fatally flawed." Newspaper stories should have been headlined, "Reagan fulfills campaign promises to reject SALT II."

There are so many reasons why SALT II was opposed by Ronald Reagan, the U.S. Senate, and the American people, that it is no wonder Gorbachev is eager to lock us into its unfavorable terms. Let's examine some of them.

WHY SALT II IS A BAD DEAL. SALT II defined "bombers" so as to include our B-52s but to exclude the new Soviet Backfire bomber, which is 15 years newer. Under SALT II, the Soviets can keep building as many new advanced bombers as they want, but the United States would not be permitted to do likewise unless we scrap an existing bomber or missile launcher for every bomber we build.

Article V set up a phony "equality" by creating a sublimit of 1,320 MIRV-equipped ICBM and SLBM launchers plus cruise-equipped heavy bombers, but not limiting the "carrying capacity" of either the individual weapons or the total weapons force. That is like agreeing to limit two cross-country trucking firms to a fictitious equality of 1,320 "delivery vehicles," even though one firm has all 50-ton tractor-trailers and the other has only one-ton pickup trucks.

Within this so-called limit of 1,320, the Soviets have 820 "heavy" ICBMs (many of which can deliver 50 times more bang than our ICBMs), whereas our ICBMs are all defined by SALT II as "light."

The Soviets have 308 SS-18 monster ICBMs, each with a carrying capacity of 50 megatons. SALT II allows the Soviets to keep all their 308 SS-18s. We have nothing comparable, and SALT II forbids us to build any.

SALT II prevents the United States from catching up with the superior numbers of the Soviets' land-based missile force even though the Soviets admitted in a SALT II "Memorandum of Understanding" that they have 344 more ICBMs than we have, most of which are vastly more powerful than ours.

The counting of weapons in SALT II is disadvantageous to the United States in other ways, too. The treaty terms apply to "launchers" instead of to missiles or to megatonnage. The Soviets have rapid reload and refire capabilities for their ICBMs, but we do not; so they can fire more missiles from the same number of launchers.

SALT II set warhead limits so high that, since SALT II was signed, the Soviets have increased their total from 4,750 to at least 8,500. Since there is no way to verify how many warheads are on a missile anyway, the Soviets can do whatever they want with...
SALT-free America is the only healthy prescription for our body politic. But, even if we cleanse ourselves of SALT II, we still have the poisonous substance of SALT I in our system. The SALT I Treaty was signed in Moscow by Richard Nixon and Leonid Brezhnev and, unfortunately, was ratified by the U.S. Senate on August 3, 1972. It is even more dangerous to our health than SALT II.

SALT II allows the Soviets to retain their massive superiority in throw-weight by "limiting" each side to the maximum missile throw-weight it had in 1979. That’s another phony "equality" because it grants the Soviets an advantage of at least two-to-one over us, and locks us in an inferior position.

The SALT II Treaty accords the Soviet Union superiority in almost every category of strategic nuclear weapons. It allows the Soviets to build everything they need to achieve a first-strike capability and decisive nuclear superiority, while SALT II forbids the United States to catch up. The Soviets do not need to cheat; they can do it all legally under SALT II.

Although the Soviets do not need to violate the terms of SALT II in order to maintain a massive superiority over us, they cheat and violate SALT II anyway because it’s their nature to cheat on treaties. Our government has confirmed 22 SALT II violations by the Soviets.

In January 1980, candidate Ronald Reagan said, “The Soviets only see weakness in a President who clings to the unilateral observance of the fatally flawed SALT II Treaty.” In June 1984, the Senate affirmed by 99-0 that nothing in international law requires the United States to comply with a treaty which the Soviet Union violates. President Reagan took a righteous and courageous stand when he put our national security ahead of paying homage to a treaty that was flawed when it was signed, failed in achieving its goals, and foolish to adhere to now.

OLD SALT IS UNHEALTHY, TOO. A SALT-free America is the only healthy prescription for our body politic. But, even if we cleanse ourselves of SALT II, we still have the poisonous substance of SALT I in our system. The SALT I Treaty was signed in Moscow by Richard Nixon and Leonid Brezhnev and, unfortunately, was ratified by the U.S. Senate on August 3, 1972. It is even more dangerous to our health than SALT II.

For nearly two centuries, the Federal Government’s greatest power and highest responsibility to our nation, our states, and our people has been to “provide for the common defense.” Regrettably, the SALT I Treaty guarantees that our government will refrain from providing for the common defense. SALT I explicitly and specifically prohibits our defending ourselves against the most massive and imminent threat of total destruction ever faced by any nation in world history.

The only defense permitted us under SALT I is uncommon, indeed, and highly discriminatory. The original SALT I Treaty limited us to two missile defense sites of 100 anti-missile launchers each. The 1974 Moscow Summit Protocol cut this in half, to one site with no more than 100 ABM launchers. We built our one site at Grand Forks, North Dakota, where it gave limited protection to 150 Minuteman missiles, but this was dismantled the day after it went into operation under terms of a law sponsored by Senator Edward Kennedy.

Just imagine that you and your family were selected by the government to be turned over to the Kremlin to be held as hostages. How would you take the news that the Politburo bosses would hold the unchallengeable power of life or death over you? Since the Senate ratified the SALT I ABM Treaty, all of our more than 200 million Americans have been held hostages to the Kremlin.

Even Senator William Fulbright, then chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, conceded the accuracy of the term “hostage” to describe our status under the SALT I Treaty, but he tried to make it sound more palatable by assuming that there will be effective mutuality. He admitted that “the central fact” of SALT I is that “the United States and the Soviet Union are indeed each other’s hostage for reasonable behavior in the nuclear era.” That is the theory of Mutual Assured Destruction (MAD).

Even under ideal hypothetical conditions, the MAD assumption is dangerous and immoral. It becomes suicidal, however, if the element of “mutuality” is absent or eroded later. To make the MAD concept work, even in theory, each side should be capable of accomplishing “unacceptable” and equal damage on the other, regardless of which strikes first. Mutuality disappears if either side has a striking force more powerful than the other, or is more capable of knocking out the other’s weapons, or if either side cheats. If mutuality disappears, then the government of the defender nation has set up its own people as undefended and helpless victims of calculated mass-murder.

Without actual mutuality in MAD, the MAD arrangement commits us to having no defense for our 200+ million hostages, to having no effective deterrent, and therefore to having no rational alternative to surrender if the Soviets threaten us. Since SALT I was signed, the Soviets have continued to build weapons of mass destruction at a crash wartime rate, while we have been in a virtual weapons freeze.

Even if weapons were comparable, two other factors make mutuality impossible. The Soviets have 8 million square miles in which to disperse population, cities, industries, and weapons (and efficient methods of maintaining secrecy), while the United States has only 3-1/2 million square miles in an open society. We would have to have six times as many warheads as the Soviets in order to have destruction “parity” with them. Secondly, the Soviet civil defense capability of strategic evacuation of cities is a pivotal and staggering advantage. This, plus the massive Soviet shelter program, would enable them to save their entire...
government, military, and industrial leadership.

The SALT I Treaty was written by the Soviets and Henry Kissinger in a period of euphoric detente and foolish faith in treaties. It is time to flush the SALT out of our system and make America SALT-free. Fortunately, there is a way to achieve this.

Article 15 of the SALT I Treaty assures each side "the right to withdraw from this Treaty if it decides that extraordinary events related to the subject matter of this Treaty have jeopardized its supreme interests. It shall give notice of its decision to the other Party six months prior to withdrawal from the Treaty." It is clear that the Soviet missile force built since 1972 does jeopardize our supreme interests.

SDI IS THE SOLUTION. The best way out of our hostage predicament is to deploy the Strategic Defense Initiative (SDI). SDI is a defense that would really defend us. It is a defense that would really defend us. It was Eisenhower warned us in his Farewell Address of 1961 against "the military-industrial complex." That's a classic case of taking a quotation out of context. The principal message of Eisenhower's Farewell Address was his warning against the Soviet military threat. In that 1961 speech, Ike said: "We face a hostile ideology—global in scope, atheistic in character, ruthless in purpose, and insidious in method. . . . A vital element in keeping the peace is our military establishment. Our arms must be mighty, ready for instant action."

In his famous Farewell Address, Eisenhower also warned us about an entirely different group of powerseekers. "Yet in holding scientific research and discovery in respect, as we should," Ike said, "we must also be alert to the equal and opposite danger that public policy could itself become the captive of a scientific-technological elite."

Eisenhower was prophetic. At the time he spoke, that scientific-technological elite was meeting in little seminars such as the annual Pugwash Conferences bankrolled by Cyrus Eaton. Their constant theme was detente, disarmament, and accommodation of the Soviet Union.

As soon as Ike left the White House, this scientific-technological elite flooded into the Pentagon under Defense Secretary Robert McNamara and his Whiz Kids. U.S. public policy did, indeed, become the captive of this elite group. They abandoned the Eisenhower strategy of defending America through military superiority, blocked all programs to build new or additional weapons systems, and scrapped thousands of our existing missile, bombs, and bombers. The scientific-technological elite is the group that masterminded SALT I and SALT II.

At the time Eisenhower left the White House, the United States enjoyed an 8-to-1 military superiority over the Soviet Union. After the scientific-technological elite had managed our policies for 12 years, the United States admitted to a 3-to-2 inferiority in the SALT I Agreement of 1972. By the Geneva Summit of 1985, the Reagan Administration had to admit that the Soviets have a hard-target kill advantage of 3-to-1.

The scientific-technological elite doesn't control our national policies today, but its current spokesmen are still trying. They are the ones who are saying that SDI "won't work," that it will "escalate the arms race," that the Soviets can easily "overwhelm" it, that Reagan should "use SDI as a bargaining chip," and all the other deceits and diversions designed to kill the only plan that can shoot down enemy missiles before they kill millions of Americans. They don't offer a substitute defense; they just offer a MAD-induced surrender.

Yes, Eisenhower did give us an important warning in his Farewell Address. He told us to look out for the pseudo-scientists who are trying to keep America defenseless against a ruthless enemy. That's still good advice today.

offer glimpses of its expansion from phase to phase. In the coming years, there will be "structural exploration." One of the two wings added by President Madison will be exposed completely inside the existing house. Portions of interior walls that were once exterior walls will be uncovered. Some rooms will be restored to their original appearance.

Of the things that remain from Madison's time, there is the central part of the mansion and a massive cedar of Lebanon, which was probably planted by Madison himself. In fact, the landscape will be thoroughly researched as to age of trees and agricultural uses of the property.

Fittingly, the mansion will be open to the public as a historic house museum on Madison's birth date, March 16, 1987. It is especially appropriate that Marion duPont Scott's generous bequest of the house and grounds will enable the National Trust to open this landmark property to the public during the bicentennial year. Many events are planned for 1987 to allow Americans to share in the life and historic importance of Madison, the man, and his great legacy, the United States Constitution.

The National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution suffered a tremendous loss on August 27, 1986 when Allene Wilson Groves “Crossed the Bar.” Serving as the twenty-second President General, from 1956 to 1959, she graced the office with dignity, charm, patriotic zeal, and executive ability.

Born in Cape Girardeau, Missouri on May 24, 1896, she was the daughter of Judge Robert Love Wilson and Jane Allen Wilson. She was descended from prominent families who migrated from Virginia and Maryland to Kentucky and on to Missouri. The motto of these early pioneers became hers: “Nothing is impossible if no one seeks the credit.” Deeply ingrained in her were love of country and respect for, and knowledge of, our heritage.

She joined the Nancy Hunter Chapter, with National Number 298262. Allene, like her mother, served as regent and her daughter, presently a member, provides the third generation of service to the Society. Allene Groves held many chapter offices and chairmanships and was an Honorary Member of the Big Cypress Chapter in Naples, Florida, where she spent the winters. She became State Regent of Missouri in 1950, culminating her service as State Registrar, State Vice Regent, and State Chairman of Membership. The accomplishments of her Administration brought the Missouri Society to new heights of excellence. The Genealogical Guide, a Master Index of Genealogy, was compiled as was the Missouri State Directory; the restoration of the
ALLENE WILSON GROVES
President General 1956–1959

By Sarah McKelley King, Honorary President General

Old Arrow Rock Tavern was one of her major projects.

Allene Groves was elected Vice President General of the National Society in 1952 and served as Organizing President of the Vice Presidents’ General Club. She also served as a member of the Clearing House Committee.

During her term as President General two important special committees were authorized, American History Month and Friends of the Museums. She was deeply interested in history and established the Award of Merit, recognizing patriotic service directed toward the preservation of our Constitutional Republic, and the Americanism Medal, presented to outstanding Naturalized Citizens.

The efficiency of operations in DAR Headquarters was enhanced through an Insurance Survey and professional analysis of work and business procedures.

Throughout her career work with young people had occupied a great deal of her attention and she had taken special interest in the Children of the American Revolution in Missouri. Through her energy and concern this organization acquired a sound financial position and new growth and visibility. Following the fourth DAR School Bus Tour the Allene Wilson Groves Cottage for little girls was approved and built. This important addition to the Tamassee DAR School Campus has been the recipient of bequests from Frederic Alquin Groves, Mrs. Groves, and, as memorials to this beloved Honorary President General, from her daughter, her granddaughters, and other family members and friends.

One of the outstanding acquisitions of our Century of Service in DAR came into our possession through the efforts of Allene Groves. During her administration a collection of manuscripts, letters and documents bearing the signatures of all of the seventy-four Framers of the Constitution of the United States of America became a part of the Americana Collection. This autograph collection of the Framers, an exceptionally fine one, is of special significance during this year of celebration of the Constitution’s 200th birthday.

Allene Groves became President of the National Officers’ Club in 1970 and, during her term, participated in ceremonies in which the United States Treasury Department presented the Minute Man Award to the National Society. As Honorary President General she served as Advisor to the Museum.

Mrs. Groves held membership in a number of patriotic organizations, including the National Society of Colonial Dames of America; the Colonial Daughters of the 17th Century; the Huguenot Society of the Founders of Manakin in the Colony of Virginia; the National Society of the Founders and Patriots of America; the Daughters of the Barons of Runnemede; the Order of the Crown in America; the Daughters of the Colonial Wars; the Society of Maureen Duvall’s Descendants; the Order of the Crown of Charlemagne; and the Order of the Three Crusades. She served the Daughters of the America Colonists as state treasurer, state vice regent and national vice president.

A charming, elegant, gentle-lady, Allene Groves displayed the steel of authority when it was demanded. The executive training experienced through her association with the affairs of business and management in Cape Girardeau was of great benefit during her years in the highest office of the Society. Her life and her service to DAR exemplified the warm, quiet charm, patriotism, and versatility which reflected her family, her education, and her experience. She and her husband called the the family residence “Home-wood” and these qualities, embodying the finest of American womanhood, emanated, through her, from that home, to all of those who lived within the wide circle of her love—and her influence.

Graveside services were held on August 30, 1986 at the Lorimer Cemetery in Cape Girardeau. “As parting with a long embrace She enters other realms of love; Her office here to rear, to teach, Becoming as is meet and fit A link among the days, to knit The generations each with each; And doubtless unto thee is given A life that bears immortal fruit In such great offices as suit the Full-grown energies of heaven.” Tennyson, In Memoriam
TIPS ON PR

Mrs. M. Curtis Chianese, National Chairman

THE 96th CONTINENTAL CONGRESS . . .

Time is fast approaching when we will be in Washington for the 96th Continental Congress. This first Congress of the "We The People" Administration promises to be an exciting one. Those of us who are actively involved in PR during Congress want to help you in any way we can. The members of the committee are easily recognizable by their badges, their warm and friendly smiles, and their helpful attitude. They can be found every day and in the evening in the Lafayette Room—just at the end of the C-Street corridor opposite the Business Office.

If you should desire press releases sent to your hometown papers, please come to the Lafayette Room and complete the form requesting the necessary information. A committee member or a press page will be more than happy to assist you. Photographs submitted should be clear black and white glossies with all persons properly identified. You must provide the name, address and contact at your paper. The release will be written mailed for you.

As in years past, the Congress Herald will be published daily. Issues are free. However, should you wish to order an entire set to be sent to you, another member, or a friend after Congress, you can place your order at our table in the C-Street Corridor next to the House Committee. The price is $2.00 per set.

It is a pleasure to announce that this year, the Congress Herald will have a brand new editor—Miss Kathryn L. Harvey. Kathy will welcome news for this year's Herald sent to her at home prior to April 1st. Her address is 31 Zummo Way, Norristown, PA 19401. It is preferred that information be typed, but if written, it must be legible with names and titles printed in block letters. News is definitely welcome anytime during Congress and can be given to a committee member, press page or delivered to the Lafayette Room. Again, legibility is very important.

General Crittenger and I will be on hand to assist you and answer any questions you may have. General Crit's office is located in ante room of the Chaplain General's office off the atrium on the second floor of the Administration building. You can find the National Chairman on the third floor just above the Chaplain General's office. We look forward to meeting many of you.

PLAN NOW TO ATTEND THE PUBLIC RELATIONS CLINIC, 10 a.m., Monday, April 20th, in the National Officers Club Room, second floor, Constitution Hall. We have exciting plans for the morning. Your presence is welcomed, your participation encouraged, and your ideas greatly desired.

A REWARDING WEEK WILL BE THE BOTTOM LINE
LOCATED GRAVES

As reported to the Office of the Historian General

Locating graves of Revolutionary Soldiers was started by the National Society Daughters of the American Revolution in 1897-98. A card file of these located graves is maintained in the Office of the Historian General. During the first year 32 graves were reported. This task is continued yearly through reports compiled by each State Historian and submitted to National Headquarters. This alphabetical list will be continued in subsequent issues.

Between March 1, 1985 and March 3, 1986 NSDAR located 48 graves in 14 states. Data on those graves are provided in the following tabulation.

FORT SULLIVAN (Charleston, SC) met in August to welcome to Charleston, Madge D. Stevenson of the Ponce de Leon Chapter, Winter Haven, Florida and her sister, Irene M. Stem of the Matocshoning Chapter of Metuchen, New Jersey. The sisters are in Manor Care Nursing Center. Members of Fort Sullivan honored Mrs. Stevenson as she celebrated her 100th birthday on August 21, 1986.

In the early 1900s Mrs. Stevenson taught school at Fort Klock, a Revolutionary Fort in New York State. The sisters are descendents of Job Wood.

Pictured with Mrs. Stevenson and Mrs. Stem are: Shelby Yost, Mrs. Francis M. Harleston, Mrs. Carrie Phillips, Mrs. E. C. Jones, Mrs. Archie Muckenfuss, Jr. (Regent of Fort Sullivan) Mr. Richard C. Stem and Mrs. Stem.

MARY BALL (Tacoma, WA). A lace cap and three teaspoons of the American Revolutionary period were presented by member Beverley Bills, Washington State Regent (1984–1986) to Curator General, Mrs. Gabriel Suavedra (1983–1986) at the 95th Continental Congress. They were found in old Chapter archives. (Mary Ball Chapter founded in 1894 is the oldest in the state).

The Tudor Great Hall at Anns Wright School, the oldest private girl's school in the Northwest, was the beautiful setting for the annual Christmas Tea for 20 Good Citizens. Shannon Woodall, sponsored by Mary Ball Chapter, became State and Western Division winner.

The two annual scholarships, Ada L. McCleary and Alida Abbott Moir, totaling $780.00 were presented to graduating high school students. The Frank McCleary Medical Scholarship Corporation awarded 20 scholarships to medical school students totaling $54,000.

The 36th JAC George Washington Birthday Party was given for 57 children at Remmann Hall. The chapter endorsed Beverley Bills as candidate for Vice President General for 1987–1990.

We were a hostess for the 85th State Conference in Tacoma. Our honored guests were President General, Mrs. Walter H. King, and First Vice President General, Mrs. Eldred M. Yokim. Mary Ball presented Col. (USAF Ret.) Thomas Schaecher, leader of hostages of 444 days in Iran, the DAR Medal of Honor.

The chapter has two National Vice Chairmen and three members that are helping form the Washington State Chapter Regent's Club.

At Continental Congress a special recognition award was presented for articles published coast to coast on DAR Family, Tree Genetics Project written by Myra Vanderpool Gormely, syndicated writer and Chapter member.—Barbara R. Carlson.

EAGLE ROCK (Montclair, NJ). Jerry Alice Hoyt Hagerty, Historian, spent many months researching her ancestor, Capt. James Brown Sr. He was in the 4th Massachusetts Regt. commanded by Col. James Reed. Capt. Brown was born 1743 in Kensingston, NH and served in the Battles of Lexington, Concord and Bunker Hill. He pioneered to the Northwest Territory now Ohio, to Waterford Township, Washington County where he received donation land from the Ohio Company and later received a deed from President James Madison for military land in Muskingum County, Perry Township, Ohio where he died in 1816.

Mrs. Hagerty contacted Muskingum County genealogist, Teresa Klaiber and Sylvia Hargrove, Regent of the Muskingum Chapter, and planned a memorial ceremony to place a memorial marker in the Crooked Creek Cemetery, New Concord, Ohio. The ceremony was held August 30, 1986. Jerry Alice Hagerty, her husband and sons traveled to New Concord, Ohio. The invitation was given by the National Chaplain SAR, Rev. Kenneth Kettlewell and many local service clubs were represented.

SHAWNEE MISSION (Kansas) toured a series of Santa Fe Trail markers placed by the Kansas Society DAR in 1906. The red granite markers in the area toured show where the two historic trails known as the Santa Fe Trail and the Oregon Trail separated from the Oregon Trail proceeding north and the Santa Fe Trail turning towards the south. Amid the native prairie grasses, the ruts (swales) made by the wagons can still be seen in an area adjacent to Battle of Black Jack Park near Baldwin. A visit to see the Quayle Bible Collection and the Castle Museum at Baker University (the oldest school of higher learning in Kansas—founded in 1858) was also included in the tour. Mrs. John W. McGuire, Jr, Honorary State Regent, and Mrs. Bruce Cochran, Past State Historian, are pictured with one of the markers. The trail markers across Johnson County were toured by chapter member last year. This year’s tour followed markers across Douglas County, and a tour of Osage County is planned.

DAR grave markers were dedicated for three members; Octavia Hind Voegtli (Mrs. T. H.) past Chapter Regent; Jean McKinley Hutchison (Mrs. Roy L.) and Jo McKinley Wady (Mrs. Clyde Harman), past Chapter Officers.—Nan Crouther.

FRANCOIS DELEY (Arabi, LA) awarded a Conservation Medal to Lynn B. Dean. Among the letters recommending him was one written by a fourteen year old student, Delena Dileo, pictured with the recipient, Lynn Dean, and the Regent, Gloria Marcotte.

Excerpts from her letter: "Way down south in Louisiana there is a small parish called St. Bernard. It is an old parish with a lot of history running through its veins. There are many big oak trees hanging full of gray moss. Its leves are tall and run along the banks of the Mississippi River. About 60,000 people live in our boundaries, but one of them has been very generous to everyone, especially the youth. His philosophy is if you leave the world a better place than you have found it, you have accomplished something in your lifetime. Mr. Lynn B. Dean’s foresight to preserve nature and its beauty prompted him to donate 350 acres of land that became the St. Bernard State Park. You must respect him for his will to give so selflessly to the people, the parish, and the state of Louisiana. Very few people have the foresight to preserve. In our haste to be bigger in the name of progress, we often destroy nature and do not protect it.

Our Chapter, State and National Chairmen were impressed by DeLena’s insight into the need for the conservation of natural areas and we were pleased to honor her as well as Mr. Dean at our annual luncheon.

MOUNT ROSA (Littleton, CO) proudly introduces the 1986 Outstanding Junior for Colorado, Sherry Meals Olree. This young lady captivated the chapter with her high spirits and enthusiasm from the day she joined Mount Rosa in 1982. She has served as Corresponding Secretary, and as Chairman of JAC, Junior Membership and Conservation Committees, as well as taking part in several special programs and projects for DAR.

GOVERNOR OTHNIEL-LOOKER (Harrison, OH) took a historical trip to Richmond, Indiana. There were nineteen members and guests enjoying the tour. Upon our arrival in Richmond we were met at the Historical Museum by Mrs. Chas. Ronan, Regent and Mrs. Dorothy Maier, Chaplain of the DAR chapter there. We saw many artifacts from all over the world as well as from the Richmond area. There is a village green behind the museum, an old log cabin where the picture was taken and a building with antique farm tools. Mrs. Ronan then took us to the Old Richmond Inn for a delightful lunch. After lunch we visited the Hayes Regional Arboretum. Through the “bird watching window” we saw a raccoon feeding as well as the birds.

The very month Sherry became a DAR she paged at Conference and has done so four other years, also acting as delegate in 1983. Involvement in her community shows her very real commitment to her church; she has been a teacher and Bible class leader while serving on social and service projects. She is a trained Den Leader of Cub Scouts, now serving as Den Leader Coach; also is a Club Leader of Campfire Bluebirds. Liberty Love Day saw her rallying her neighborhood behind her to help Mount Rosa achieve one of the highest totals gained in Colorado DAR for the Lady’s refurbishment.

Sherry was born in Kansas City, KS where she lived for six years. Her family moved to Connecticut and then to Illinois. Attending College at Greeley, CO, she later earned her associate degree in Science from Metro State College in Denver, 1973, becoming a registered nurse. Her husband, Doyle Olree Jr., is a drilling engineer for Chevron Oil. Married in 1971, the Olrees have three children, Kyle, Rebecca, and Jeffrey.—Mary Linke.

There were many interesting displays of native trees. We rode through the Park and enjoyed the Rose Garden in memory of Mr. Hayes.

It was on to Glen Miller Park and the Statue of the Madonna of the Trail. Mrs. Ronan gave us the history of the Statue erected in memory of the Early Pioneer Women of America who blazed the trails west. The DAR at Richmond has planted blooming shrubs around the Statue of the Madonna in their care.—Burdette King

MICAJAH PETTAWAY (Rocky Mount, NC). An informal afternoon reception was hosted by the chapter honoring distinguished out-of-state guests attending the state DAR Day in Nags Head. The reception was held in the historic Elizabethan Gardens at Manteo on Roanoke Island which is a memorial to the first English colonists in America—The Lost Colony.

Distinguished guests at the reception with State Regent, Mrs. Joseph K. Showfety, and State Officers, included Mrs. Raymond F. Fleck, President General; Mrs. Walter H. King, Honorary President General; Mrs. Richard P. Taylor, Librarian General; Mrs. Joseph W. Tolwe, Curator General; Mrs. Winifeld C. Llewellyn, Delaware Honorary State Regent.

Greeting guests were Mrs. J. B. Daughtridge, Elizabethan Gardens Board of Governors, and Mrs. Leon W. Robertson, District VIII Director. Other members assisting were Miss Laura Boice, Regent, Mrs. Robert Anderson, Mrs. John Barnes, Jr., Mrs. Braxton Bunn, Mrs. David Harris, Mrs. Reginald Stancil, and Mrs. Herbert Taylor.

The gardens superintendent conducted a private tour, narrating the colorful gardens' history, many unique features, plants given by present English royalty, trees of the 1500s, and an English gazebo on the site where ill-fated colonists came ashore in 1585 to build a nearby fort.

The four-day DAR Day bus tour, a part of America’s 400th Anniversary commemoration, visited Wright Brothers National Memorial, The Lost Colony drama production, and numerous eastern state historic sites concluding in New Bern with a tea hosted by Miss Gertrude Carraway, Honorary President General. Over 200 participated in four days itinerary of events.

CAPTAIN JOSHUA GRAY (Massachusetts) celebrated its 25th Anniversary at the Sentry Bank Common Room in South Yarmouth, Massachusetts. A covered-dish supper and a beautiful appropriately decorated Anniversary cake were enjoyed by all.

Regent, Mrs. Harold E. Merriman, presided over the business meeting. Mrs. James A. Meekhan, Constitution Week Chairman, gave an excellent report, and read an inspirational article by James Michener, "The Secret of America." Mrs. Joseph E. Wood, Recording Secretary, gave a brief history of the chapter and copies of a July 24, 1961 news article were rolled and tied with red-white-and-blue ribbon as Anniversary favors. There are ten Charter members still living. Mrs. Donald T. Baker, Massachusetts State Treasurer, was Chairman for the celebration.

MARY TYLER (Tyler, TX). An informative meeting was held for our members and invited guests from twelve Texas Chapters at the Willowbrook Country Club. More than two hundred people attended.

In recognition of the 199th anniversary of the drafting of the Constitution, the occasion was uniquely meaningful and signifi-
The speaker revealed an amazing depth and breadth of subject matter knowledge. We who have followed her early career closely know that her intense interest in history, politics and world affairs came from her everyday association with members of her family and many books in her lawyer father’s library.

For many years Ms. McClendon’s role has been as a Washington journalist and correspondent. Television has enabled the public to follow her ongoing career which has moved concurrently with nine presidents of the United States.

Regent, Mrs. Gunby Anderson, welcomed guests who represented Chapters: Daniel Mahon from Athens; Trammell’s Trace from Atlanta; Mary Isham Keith from Ft. Worth; Cherokee Trace from Gladewater; Major Thaddeus Beall from Jacksonville; White Oak from Irving; Captain William Young from Longview; Aaron Burleson from Longview; Anthony Smith from Lufkin; Nacogdoches Chapter from Nacogdoches; Joseph Ligon from Paris; and Old Chisholm Trail from Duncanville.

AUGUSTA (Augusta, GA), in observance of Constitution week, held a wreath laying ceremony September 16 at the grave of William Few, Jr., signor of the U.S. Constitution, who is buried at St. Paul’s Episcopal Church in Augusta.

Ulmer P. Savage, president of the William Few Chapter of the Sons of the American Revolution, gave an address on the life of William Few, Jr.

Laying wreaths on the grave site were Mrs. James J. Leitch, Regent of the Georgia State Society, Mr. Savage, Mrs. Walter W. Leroy, Regent of the Edmund Burke Chapter from Waynesboro, Mrs. Robert Thiele of the Governor Jared Irwin Chapter from Sandersville, Mrs. T. P. deTreville of the College Hill Chapter in Augusta and Mrs. Guy F. Davenport of the Hancock Chapter from Spartanburg.

After the welcoming by Mrs. Harold S. Smith, Regent of the Augusta Chapter, Mrs. Ulmer P. Savage, Augusta Chapter Chaplain, gave the Invocation. Mrs. Erwin N. Kinne, Northeast District Director, led in the preamble to the Constitution. Mrs. Jerido Ward, Chaplain of the Georgia State Society, gave the Benediction.

Col. Few, one of Georgia’s two signers, died in Beacon, New York in 1828, and was buried in the Reformed Church of Beacon until 1973, when his remains were reinterred at St. Paul’s Church in Augusta.

The six-foot-tall monument describes Col. Few as a “Soldier, Patriot, Statesman, Banker and Humanitarian.”-Norma Ellen Malchow.

HERITAGE (Calgary, Canada), elected a new executive with Mrs. Ruth Morgan as Regent. Mrs. Morgan’s goal for her term in office will be to increase public awareness of DAR in Western Canada.

Heritage Chapter held a delightful tea at the American Women’s Club, whose members share our American Heritage. The charter was displayed with Canadian and American flags and portraits of Queen Elizabeth and President Ronald Reagan.

More than fifty people were entertained at a bridge luncheon to raise funds for our various activities and to spread the word about DAR and Heritage Chapter.

With Calgary destined to host the 1988 Winter Olympics, Heritage Chapter is starting to make plans for the event. Several members have offered rooms in their homes for visitors in OCC ‘88. Any DAR members planning to attend and who would like information, bed and breakfast or Calgary hospitality are invited to contact the Regent at 403-288-6053. There will be a charge for accommodations with the funds to be used to establish an education award for high school students.

A commemorative brick has been purchased with our inscription and will be placed in the Olympic Square. Proceeds of all sales will be used to erect the Commemorative Site.

Heritage Chapter members participated as volunteers in the Calgary Convention and Tourist Bureau Stampede Dollar Sales in an effort to promote awareness of DAR in Calgary and to welcome visitors to our city.

We have obtained a flag which was flown over the United States Capitol, courtesy Senator Pete Wilson of California.

Heritage Chapter is marching smartly on to the beat of Mrs. Fleck’s drum.

HANNAH GODDARD
(Brookline, MA). At the 92nd Fall State Meeting of the Massachusetts Daughters of the American Revolution, the Hannah Goddard Chapter awarded the DAR Medal of Honor to Anne Wight Phillips, M.D. Mrs. Raymond F. Fleck made the presentation. This award is given to an individual who has given outstanding service which has contributed to the betterment of the community.

A native of Brookline, Dr. Phillips received her education at the Winsor School (Boston), Bryn Mawr College and the University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine with graduate studies at Harvard, Bryn Mawr, Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies and the Atomic Energy Commission Fellowship course at Duke University. She served as Atomic Energy Commission Fellow before joining the staff at Harvard. She was the first woman to perform major surgery at the Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston where she did outstanding work on the burn research team with Dr. Oliver Cope.

In 1971, President Nixon appointed her to represent the medical profession on the National Commission on Fire Prevention and Control. This exposure to her to the nation’s fire problems and was instrumental in changing her career. She became one of the most eminent burn surgeons and researchers of our time.

She realized that smoke inhalation, which results in respiratory damage, was the leading cause of death in burn victims. She initiated the school smoke drill, teaching children to stoop low when they saw a “smoke” sign, and to stay low until they reached a “no smoke” sign, or if possible, to go out an alternate route. She taught fire prevention in schools, clubs and to underprivileged groups which are especially prone to fire.

She is Vice President and Ex-
Trinity Church 1784–1786. Shortly after signing the Declaration of Independence his Whitestone Long Island home was destroyed by the British and his wife taken prisoner and died in 1779. Loosing his home and much of his wealth to the cause, Lewis retired with families of his sons until his death in his ninetieth year in 1803.—Sue Beth Carter

DISTRICT IV (Louisiana): Gloria Marcotte, Regent, Francois deLery Chapter; Ada Ehhardt, Louisiana State Registrar; Donna Morgan, Regent, Louisiana Chapter, and Lee Barry, Spirit of '76 Chapter, sponsors of the Bienville Society, C.A.R. are pictured.

District Four, Louisiana, consists of nine DAR Chapters in and around the New Orleans area with a combined membership of over one thousand. Chapters in the district are Bayou Lafourche, Bayou St. John, Francois deLery, Louisiana, Metairie Ridge, New Orleans, Robert Harvey, Spirit of '76, and Vieux Carre. A luncheon began the observation of the Fourth of July, celebrating the rededication of the Statue of Liberty with the Louisiana State Historian, Kathleen Stagg, as guest speaker.

To continue the tribute to our country, District Four members joined with members of the Bienville Society, Children of the American Revolution, and members of Freedom's Foundation at Valley Forge in sponsoring an "American Art Weekend" at the New Orleans Museum of Art during the July Fourth weekend. Throughout the weekend, children under 12 were given free admission to see the "American Masters" exhibit. Approximately 1200 visitors including 156 children visited the exhibit during the weekend.

Flags of the sponsoring organizations were colorfully arranged in the museum rotunda where volunteer hostesses from the nine DAR chapters, C.A.R. and Freedom's Foundation members greeted incoming children. Through the combined efforts of these three patriotic societies many young children were introduced to their American Heritage through art.

TOMBSTONE (Arizona) took the lead in Southeastern Arizona and called a joint meeting of civic leaders to combine all efforts to celebrate the Bicentennial of the U.S. Constitution.

By order of the Secretary of the Army all U.S. Army posts around the country will play a major part in bringing the Bicentennial Celebration to the attention of the public. In keeping with DAR Bicentennial of the Constitution Committee goals and a strong desire to bring the U.S. Constitution closer to everyone, the Tombstone Chapter was inspired to initiate the meeting and take an active role in the community. As a result of the meeting there is a close spirit of cooperation, and plans are underway to pool efforts and concentrate imagination and skills on the project.

The Tombstone Chapter was also proud to host the 85th State Conference in Sierra Vista. The Conference Committee members were: Mrs. Adolph Fejfar, Mrs. Bruce McClain, Mrs. Jack Pistole, Mrs. Ewing Steele, Mrs. James Cooper, Mrs. Robert Fankhouser, Mrs. Henry Rilling and Mrs. Bob Crooks.—Carol Rilling

WAUKESHA CONTINENTAL (Wisconsin) enjoyed patriotic fellowship by holding their meeting at Summit Town Hall followed by picnic lunch, then parading to the grave of Mary Fiske Neff. The parade was led by the Revolutionary War Commander in Chief's Guards dressed in full regalia.

The group included Mrs. Kenneth Baumgartner, 2nd Vice Regent of Wisconsin, Sue Hopfensberger, Regent of Oconomowoc, and past Regents, Isabel Wray, Claudine Wagner and Mary Hedgcock of Waukesha. Foggy Springs Society C.A.R. was also there. Everyone marched to the Summit Cemetery to recognize a "real daughter" of the Revolution, Mary Fiske Neff. Warren Neff of Dunedin, Florida and Alice Neff Schafer of Pewaukee unveiled the bronze plaque identifying the grave that had been donated by the Waukesha Continental Chapter.

The welcome and dedication was led by Regent Paulette Browning, whose three children, Charles, Elizabeth and Benjie, Foggy Springs Society C.A.R. presented a bronzed wreath in recognition. Charlie Browning's inspiring speech brought tears to the eyes of many. The words and deep humility of the crowd will long be remembered honoring this "real daughter" of American Revolutionary days.

STATE ACTIVITIES

New Mexico

The Northeast District hosted the 66th annual State Conference in Los Alamos, New Mexico at the Los Alamos Inn. The theme chosen for the conference was "Old Trails to New Frontiers," very appropriately selected since new frontiers were launched in this location some forty-five years ago—that being the Atomic Age. During the informal evening prior to the opening day of the conference, recognition of the members who had served in the Armed Forces was celebrated. It was interesting to see just how many Daughters from New Mexico had served in both wartime and peace in our services. Entertainment for the evening was music by the Rainbow Ringers Bell Choir and the viewing of the film "The Town That Never Was" which depicted the first days of the settling and establishing the town of Los Alamos some forty-five years ago. The group enjoyed one of Los Alamos' own members giving her account of her first days in the settlement as a bride, Mrs. Elizabeth Gray.

The opening of the conference is always inspiring; Los Alamos Naval Junior ROTC color guard presented the colors and we were fortunate to have our State Regent, Mrs. Harold A. Newlander's granddaughter, Miss Diana Marie Newlander, resident of Los Alamos lead the assembly in the Pledge of Allegiance. An enjoyable awards luncheon was held at noon honoring all the recipients of the contests followed by the afternoon session of the conference.

Following the afternoon session a beautiful Memorial service was held for those members throughout the state who will no longer be joining us. A special thanks was noted for Ms. Gloria Streit for her lovely vocals. Mrs. Carl Lindahl, State Chaplain, was in charge of the beautiful service.

The banquet held on Thursday night is the climax after a full day spent in session. The speaker for the evening was Stephen D. Jamison. Mrs. Maxwell Hunt, past Vice President General; Mrs. Fred Fricke; Mrs. Harrison Miller; Mrs. Betty Swenson; and Mrs. Charles Jamison. Mrs. Maxwell Hunt, past Vice President General; Mrs. Fred Comstock, past State Regent of New Mexico; Mrs. George Wan- lainen, Mrs. Rob Phillips, and Mrs. Don Bymaster, visiting DAR Daughters were all introduced.

These same Distinguished guests were present at the 254th Commemoration of George Washington's Birthday held at the foot of his statue in Chapultepec Park. This Ceremony is held annually under the auspices of the local American Legion Post. Mrs. William Watson, State Regent, spoke briefly on the virtues of George Washington. Mrs. Richard Greeden and Mrs. Gabriel Saavedra took part in the memorial wreath laying ceremony, as did members of the John Edwards Chapter, local school children, and the local Boy Scouts.

The Tenth Annual Mexico State Conference opened after the procession and called to order by the State Regent. Mrs. Watson presented Mrs. Raymond Franklin Fleck, Recording Secretary General and Candidate for President General; Mrs. Edgar Weir, Candidate for Historian General; and Mrs. Richard Taylor, Candidate for Librarian General; along with the other visiting distinguished guests. The American's Creed was led by Mrs. Richard Smith, Honorary State Regent of Mexico. The Memorial service honoring Mexico's six deceased Daughters was under the direction of Mrs. Robert Rae, State Chaplain. State Officers reported on the year's activities and the retiring State Officers gave their reports.

The new State Officers were selected as follows; State Regent—Miss Clara Mas; State Vice Regent—Dr. Susanne Escobar; State Secretary—Mrs. Georg Rackebrandt; State Treasurer—Mrs. Vidal Macias; State Registrar—Mrs. Robert Smith.

Mexico Good Citizen, Robert Lehmann, of the American School Foundation, was presented his medal and monetary award, for his essay on "Our American Heritage and My Responsibility to Preserve it."

After a delightful comida, the afternoon session was called to order and an inspiring informative address was enjoyed, given by Mrs. Raymond Franklin Fleck. Mrs. Richard Taylor spoke concerning the pressing needs of the DAR sponsored schools. The personal pages were Ginna Saavedra de Saldaña and Lisa Cum Chruch.

By unanimous acclaim Mrs. William A. Watson was made Honorary Past State Regent. With the joining of hands and singing the Benediction, the State Conference was adjourned.

DAR guests—Mrs. William Decker, Corresponding Secretary General; Mrs. Richard Creeden, Treasurer General; Mrs. Owen Gauthier, Librarian General; and Mrs. Gabriel Saavedra, Curator General and Honorary State Regent of Mexico. The National Chairmen present were: Mrs. Clifford Schexnayder; Mrs. Martin Mason; and Mrs. Henry Lichtefeld. The Vice Chairmen introduced were Mrs. Fred Fricke; Mrs. Harrison Miller; Mrs. Betty Swenson; and Mrs. Charles Jamison. Mrs. Maxwell Hunt, past Vice President General; Mrs. Fred Comstock, past State Regent of New Mexico; Mrs. George Wan- lainen, Mrs. Rob Phillips, and Mrs. Don Bymaster, visiting DAR Daughters were all introduced.

United States Constitution Bicentennial

The District of Columbia Daughters are learning and sharing in preparation for the United States Constitution Bicentennial. The Blessings of Liberty, a series of twelve posters from Project '87 of the American History Association and the American Political Science Association was purchased in quantity by the District of Columbia Daughters and presented to the students at each of the fifteen high schools in the city. Each poster series teaches the origin of the Constitution, the issues of the debates and the ratification process.

Presenting the Posters for the United States Constitution Bicentennial are (left to right) Mrs. Stanley T. Heflin, State Treasurer; Mrs. Gary R. Meeds, State Vice Regent; Mrs. May Day Taylor, State Regent; Mrs. Dorothy Brown, Woodrow Wilson Senior High School Vice Principal; Dr. Joan R. Challinor, Chairman of the Exhibit Task Force for "The Blessings of Liberty" Poster Project for "Project '87"; Mrs. Edward L. Kimes, State Corresponding Secretary and Mrs. Kirk D. Riley, State Chairman District of Columbia DAR Magazine Advertising Committee.

Mrs. May Day Taylor, District of Columbia State Regent, discusses the plan for Washington City as it reflected the plan of the Federal Government. A lively question and answer period followed the presentation of the posters. A teachers manual and other supporting materials on the Constitution were also presented with an outline of the life of Abraham Baldwin, the only signer of the Constitution buried in the District of Columbia.

District of Columbia
Daughters of the American Revolution
Honor
Abraham Baldwin
Signer of the Constitution of the United States of America

In preparation for the Bicentennial of the signing of the United States Constitution, the District of Columbia Daughters are honoring Abraham Baldwin.

Abraham Baldwin was the Connecticut born son of a blacksmith. He was educated at Yale Divinity School, joined George Washington's Army as a chaplain and, after the Revolutionary War, he studied law. He was persuaded to go south where he founded the University of Georgia and then entered politics. He travelled to the Philadelphia Convention in 1787 as delegate from Georgia and distinguished himself with his vote favoring equality of state representation and with his service on the Committee for Postponed Matters where he diplomatically effected many compromises. After signing the Constitution, Abraham Baldwin was elected to serve in the House of Representatives and then in the Senate. He died while in office and his remains are now resting in historic Rock Creek Cemetery in Washington, D.C.

It was a long, hot summer in Philadelphia in 1787 and the Constitution that was written has changed the world. One hundred forty miles away and 199 years later, during another long hot summer, the District of Columbia Daughters worked diligently to remind their community of the blessings of that earlier document. Posters were made for all D.C. Libraries and notices were written for church bulletins. Our own "Rising Sun Times" prepared members so that all could answer "Who is Abraham Baldwin?" The Constitution Week Service brought the community together with Mrs. Randolph Adams Frank, speaking on "Abraham Baldwin and our Local Constitution Connections."

On Constitution Day, the State Regent attended a special Naturalization Court at the National Archives with Mrs. Warren C. Foster, State Chairman of Americanism and DAR Manual Committee, and proceeded to Rock Creek Cemetery for a tour and the Rededication of the grave marker. Honorary Pages were Mrs. Arthur Sanders and Miss Mildred Sherman who served at the original ceremony 43 years ago.

Within the past year, District of Columbia Daughters researched the life of Abraham Baldwin and traveled to the homes and grave sites of other signers of the Constitution. The Dolley Madison Chapter toured Montpelier, the home of James Madison, and the Sarah Franklin Chapter attended the Annapolis Convention Bicentennial Celebration. Mrs. Thomas O'Malley, the District of Columbia State Historian, planned a trip to Philadelphia for 46 District of Columbia Daughters to see the Rising Sun Chair.

The District of Columbia Daughters now enthusiastically promote the service rendered by Abraham Baldwin and they wear the Rising Sun Pin to tell the story of the United States Constitution Bicentennial.
Constitution Week

Abraham Baldwin Grave

Tree Planting

As part of the "Living Legacy" program proclaimed by former Chief Justice Warren E. Burger, the State Regent and Mrs. John W. Buchanan, District of Columbia State Conservation Chairman (right), planted a Yoshina Cherry Tree in the cemetery in memory of Abraham Baldwin.
Benjamin Franklin summed up his feelings toward the work of the Constitutional Convention with his famous anecdote on the rising sun carved on the back of the chair that President George Washington had occupied during the deliberations of the hot summer of 1787. As James Madison recorded the story, Franklin “observed to a few members near him, that painters had found it difficult to distinguish in their art a rising sun from a setting sun. ‘I have... often and often in the course of the session, and the vicissitudes of my hopes and fears as to its issue looked at that behind the president without being able to tell whether it was rising or setting. But now at length I have the happiness to know that it is a rising and not a setting sun.’”

—Madison’s Notes
September 17, 1787

Mrs. May Day Taylor, District of Columbia State Regent, beginning her Rising Sun Administration, presents the first of her Rising Sun Pins to Mrs. Raymond Franklin Fleck, President General, April 1986. Money raised from the sale of the Rising Sun Pins contributes toward the purchase of an object of the Constitutional Period for our DAR Headquarters. Anyone interested in obtaining a Rising Sun Pin should write to the District of Columbia State Regent at the D.C. DAR Chapter House, 3000 Tilden Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20008, and enclose a check for $5.00 payable to the D.C. DAR State Treasurer.

Busy District of Columbia Daughters

-BIG ACCOMPLISHMENTS-

Busy District of Columbia Daughters are welcoming new citizens at Naturalization Court, subscribing to the Centennial Call, cleaning out attics and celebrating Founders' Day, sending out contest forms, preserving Bible records, practicing Parliamentary Law, marking graves, attending safe-driving classes, presenting flags, learning National Defense, filing copy requests in the NSDAR Library on Sundays, raising wampum for Bacone College, decorating the Chapter House, working on Lineage Research and volunteering at the Seimes Microfilm Center, playing bridge for the DAR schools, collecting bingo prizes for the Veteran-Patients and watching video tapes on their new VHS equipment. The Juniors hosted a get-acquainted Apron Party for the new Chairmen of the State Committees and raised money for the Helen Pouch Memorial Scholarship Fund through their Junior Christmas Bazaar. Throughout, the telephone is busy and the "Rising Sun Times" publishes the news for all - all of this and more for our membership, our prospective members and our goals of historic, educational and patriotic accomplishments.

"LADY LIBERTY" LETTER OPENER
A Limited Edition Created In Fine Pewter By LIBERTY MINT

LIBERTY MINT pays tribute to "Lady Liberty's" one hundredth birthday by issuing this fine pewter letter opener in honor of this once in a lifetime event. "Miss Liberty" is a solid well detailed pewter sculpture. The letter opener blade is crafted of pewter-toned stainless steel. This allows for the engineering and design of a thin and properly shaped, but strong blade often lacking in many letter openers. Most "Statue of Liberty" memorabilia will be stored away and forgotten, but the "Lady Liberty" letter opener is a truly "day-to-day" usable high quality commemorative of America's cherished symbol of freedom.

Each letter opener comes in an attractive gift box and is accompanied by a certificate of authenticity and a history of the Statue of Liberty. This is a limited edition and will only be manufactured in 1986. Since this is a dated item, it makes an excellent 1986 Christmas gift. See below for our quantity gift discount.

Our Guarantee: Because we believe you must see this letter opener to appreciate its beauty and craftsmanship, we offer this no risk, guarantee. Return your letter opener anytime and receive a full refund.

To order, send $15 plus $2 shipping and handling for one letter opener. Order 2 or more and we pay shipping.

MARCH 1987

Dear Daughters,

As you read this issue the deadline is fast approaching for placing ads in the special August/September issue celebrating the Bicentennial of the Signing of the Constitution. The date by which all advertising for this issue must be in the Magazine Advertising Office is Friday, March 13. If you have any last minute questions please call the office immediately. The response has been overwhelming, and as the staff begins to prepare the issue it is obvious that this tribute will be a very special one indeed!

Attention State Regents and State Magazine Advertising Chairmen! Magazine Advertising Honor Roll Reports are in the mail along with special instructions for making corrections and additions. No additions can be made after the indicated date. Please examine all materials carefully and contact the Magazine Advertising Office immediately with any questions. None of the special prizes mentioned in the July Chairman's letter will be awarded until the entire Honor Roll process has been completed. My special thanks and good luck to all States and Chapters who participated in the 1986-1987 Honor Roll Year, and best wishes to all those who will participate in the new 1987-1988 Year!

Sincerely,

Marjorie Giinther

Cancer Threatens Us All ...

Don’t Face That Threat Without High-Limit Protection From NSDAR

Cold, Hard Statistics Show Cancer Is A Very Great Risk

Cancer is always a threat. No matter how careful you are, it can strike at any time without warning. And there’s very little any of us can do to prevent it.

According to the American Cancer Society, cancer will eventually affect nearly one out of every three Americans... in approximately three of every four families.

Thankfully, there is a lot that can be done to treat this dread disease once it is diagnosed. Early detection, radiotherapy, chemotherapy, surgery, and other unique forms of treatment can help beat cancer. However, it takes time and money.

Long term cancer care can cost well beyond the limits of many basic health insurance plans. That’s the whole reason behind special cancer expense policies.

The NSDAR High-Limit Group Cancer Expense Protection Plan can provide you with the kind of supplemental benefits you’ll need if you ever have to fight cancer. Benefits are provided for covered hospital confinement, drugs, surgery, therapy, nursing care, blood, and even ambulance service.

In all, you and your eligible dependents can each receive up to $250,000 in total lifetime benefits, on a scheduled basis, from the NSDAR Cancer Expense Plan. And your benefits are payable regardless of any other insurance coverage you may have.

Act Today To Learn More About The NSDAR Plan

None of us likes the thought of cancer striking someone within our own family. Yet it pays to plan ahead for the extra insurance protection you may someday need for cancer treatment. So get the facts about NSDAR High-Limit Cancer Expense Protection.

Just complete and mail the convenient coupon below for information about benefits, features, cost, renewal—as well as those situations not covered—without obligation.
