Dear Daughters,

Fall is here and DAR chapters are in full swing with activities in communities across the country and overseas. September is a special month for DAR as we promote Constitution Week 2002 (September 16-22). The PR Department at DAR Headquarters has pre-written releases available for chapters to use. Go to the Members’ Web Site at members.dar.org to download a release for your local media or call (202) 572-0563.

The PR Department has worked hard to create new and improved materials that showcase our Society. These wonderful new publicity materials are full-color with photos and interesting highlights about the work of DAR. Appreciation is expressed to April Watkins and Bren Landon for their intensive work developing the press kits and brochures. The PR materials are available for purchase through the DAR Store. Each chapter will receive a complimentary set of publicity materials; see your state regent for details.

The Chapter Development Committee is making a concerted effort to find areas across the country where new chapters can be developed. During Continental Congress, the bylaws were changed to eliminate the status of “secondary” chapters. This means that any chapter may now be organized with 12 members in the continental United States and with 8 members overseas. We hope that chapters and states will see the importance of developing more than one chapter in a city or township in order to make DAR meetings available to women who have busy schedules. Some people will find it convenient to meet during the day, while others will find it necessary to meet during the evenings or on weekends.

The Chapter Revitalization Committee is designed to work with state regents and organizing secretaries in order to bring aid to those chapters that need help with programs, leadership training, and member development. There are volunteers who are ready to come and help those chapters who need assistance.

We have important news about American Spirit magazine and Daughters newsletter. After a year of publishing the new magazine and newsletter, we are making some adjustments in answer to member suggestions. After receiving many requests for options to purchase printed copies of the four newsletters sent only to chapter regents, we have decided to incorporate all editorial content into the regular Newsletter issues. We will no longer publish the four interim issues.

By providing new PR materials and offering hands-on assistance, NSDAR hopes to encourage chapters and states in their quest for new members. Membership is essential in maintaining our organization. We must continue to attract new members and keep current members interested and active. Together, we can make our Society grow and ensure the future of DAR.

Faithfully,

Linda Tinker Watkins
President General, NSDAR

- Legacy Applications

  Applicants may now join the DAR using their mother's, grandmother's or great-grandmother's paper, without having to reprove the line. These papers will be known as "Legacy" apps. Legacies will be allowed only on short form applications and may not be used for supplemental applications. Legacy applications will be approved unless the line is closed or there is reason to believe the lineage is not accurate. When an applicant submits a form citing her mother's paper, the staff genealogist will try to verify it using current genealogical standards of evaluation. Should that approach not be possible, the word "Legacy" will be stamped on the application along with the explanation, "service not verified" or "lineage not verified." The National Society recognizes that the genealogical standards in place at the time a member joined should be honored when looking at the subsequent applications of family members. Members fully expect their descendants to be able to join using their application as a reference. The "Legacy" designation accomplishes several things:

  - It does not introduce additional inaccuracies into our records.
  - It alerts the family that future generations may have to re-document the line. Rather than saying to an applicant, "You can't join unless you do more research," the DAR can now say, "You may join, but your daughter or granddaughter may not be able to join unless she completes a long form."
  - It also indicates lines that may be in question so that DAR genealogists recognize the lines needing further research before digitizing the records. Many established lines have sufficient documentation meeting today's genealogical standards; however, because this information was not required at that time, notations were not made on applicants’ papers that such information was included. This “missing” documentation may very well be found in the massive data files in the basement, but is not easily accessible at this time.

An applicant using a short form must connect within four generations to a previously accepted DAR lineage on the same established patriot, counting the applicant as generation one. All four generations should be completed on the application form, providing acceptable proof of information provided. Please note:

- The short form cannot be used to establish a new patriot or a different child;
- The short form cannot connect to another short form;
- The short form connects to a long form only if at least one generation is identical to that of a previously accepted long form paper.

DAR Well Represented at Genealogy Conference

DAR was well represented this past May at the National Genealogical Society (NGS) Conference in Milwaukee, Wis. A longtime supporter of this prominent genealogical event, DAR sponsored a lecture entitled “How 112 Years of DAR Genealogical Records Can Help Everyone,” given by DAR Library Director Eric Grundset and DAR Staff Genealogist Elsie Harvey. The guest speaker for the annual DAR Luncheon at the NGS Conference was Registrar General Ann Turner Dillon.

The DAR booth was staffed with DAR genealogists, the DAR Library Director, as well as Wisconsin State Regent Beverly West and several

IN TRIBUTE TO PATRICIA WALTON SHELBY, HONORARY PRESIDENT GENERAL

By Linda Tinker Watkins, President General

While our members and chapters celebrated Flag Day, we learned that June 14 also marked another significant day for the National Society DAR: It marked the loss of our Honorary President General, Patricia Walton Shelby (Mrs. Richard Denny Shelby). It was my privilege as President General to attend the graveside services held in Beulah, Miss., on June 16, 2002, and to offer these words of tribute on behalf of the National Society:

Patricia Walton Shelby, Mrs. Richard Denny Shelby, was the first Mississippi Daughter to serve as President General of the National Society Daughters of the American Revolution. Patricia had a long and distinguished record of service, not only to NSDAR, but also to many other patriotic and hereditary societies. Her involvement as a member of the Children of the America Revolution was the basis for a progression of service opportunities, and Patricia was only the second president general to have served as a former member of C.A.R. Even as a junior member, her many talents were recognized when she was elected to serve as state regent of Mississippi, 1965-1968.

Following her term as State Regent, she was elected Registrar General, serving in the administration of Mrs. Erwin Frees Seimes, 1968-1971. Then Patricia served ably as First Vice President General during the administration of Mrs. George Upham Baylies, 1977-1980. In 1980 she was elected President General of the NSDAR after one of the most exciting campaigns in the history of the Society. Patricia was an outstanding leader. She was articulate, poised and equal to any and every challenge. She accomplished every task with grace and perfection. She was, without question, one of the most intelligent women ever to serve the Society. Her knowledge and understanding of the intricacies of the National Bylaws was incomparable and her devotion to the National Society was absolute.

As President General, she had a great vision for the future of the Society. She recognized the need to preserve the wonderful complex of buildings that comprise our national headquarters in Washington, D.C. Her project to restore Memorial Continental Hall was known as “A Legacy Preserved.” This initiative to refurbish our headquarters began a long-range effort to protect the legacy of our founders.

Patricia’s vision for the future of NSDAR was, indeed, her legacy to us. She was an exceptionally talented and devoted Daughter. We will miss her leadership, but her inspiration will live on.

New Items at DAR Museum

The DAR Museum’s glass collection has recently been enhanced by the acquisition of two important items. The first is a blown, molded and pressed white glass kerosene lamp made between 1865 and 1880 by the Boston and Sandwich Glass Co., Sandwich, Mass., or Atterbury & Co., Pittsburgh, Pa. The ribbed decoration on the base, font and shade of this lamp are known as the “Onion” or “Eaton” patterns. “Onion” is a collector term that refers to the font shape, while “Eaton” is the pattern name assigned by the Boston and Sandwich Glass Co. Attribution is vague because both the Sandwich and Pittsburgh factories made similar lamps, making definite attribution of white examples impossible. (Friends of the Museum purchase.)

The second item is a pink or “Flamengo” colored monumental punch set made by A.H. Heisey in the 1920s. The punch bowl on stand with 12 cups features a pronounced Greek key motif around the lip and paneled sides, called “colonial” by Heisey. The free-blown-crystal ladle was made by the same company A.H. Heisey & Co. was founded in 1896 in Newark, Ohio, and is famous for its brilliant, flawless, high-quality pressed lead glass. (Punch bowl, stand and 12 cups are a gift of the Ohio State Society. Ladle and cup plates are a gift of Barbara Bartlett.)

New and Improved Storage

Life for many unique artifacts has just gotten better at the DAR Museum! A second storage area for the collection is being renovated and will contain special bins and cabinets for paintings, needlework and works on paper. A new heating and air conditioning system will maintain a constant temperature and humidity to protect these objects from damage due to climate changes. This renovation, the second of four storage units, is made possible by a generous grant from an anonymous foundation in memory of Mildred Goodwin Dent, a DAR member who passed away in February 2001.

■ New Partnership With the Alliance for American Quilts to Record Quilt History

NSDAR announces the formation of a unique partnership with the Alliance for American Quilts to record the stories of living quilters around the United States through the Quilter's S.O.S.—Save Our Stories (QSOS). The Alliance is a national nonprofit organization that documents, preserves and shares the history and stories of quilts and quilters.

Dr. Bernard Herman, director of the Center for American Material Culture Studies, will work closely with the committee to train DAR volunteers to gather oral histories from the many DAR members and others who make quilts and perpetuate this country's rich quilting tradition. The first training took place at Continental Congress in July 2001.

At the heart of QSOS are 45-minute tape-recorded interviews with quilters, who select a "touchstone" quilt as a starting point for sharing their personal experiences with quilts and quiltmaking. The easy-to-follow online manual provides detailed how-to information that will be available to all DAR volunteers involved in the QSOS effort. Once recorded, QSOS interviews are transcribed, edited and posted along with photographs on the QSOS Web site—part of the Alliance's Center for the Quilt Online, which can be found at www.centerforthequilt.org.

■ Plant a Tree for America

Fall is the time to plant trees in many areas, so it is a good time to remind you about a special project of this committee: "American Heritage Tree Planting." The tree is the symbol for the Millennium Administration, so this committee encourages every chapter to plant a tree representing our American heritage.

A great resource for information about historic tree seedlings is the American Forests' Historic Tree Nursery at 8701 Old Kings Road, Jacksonville, Fla., 32219, (800) 320-TREE (8733) or www.historictrees.org. You can choose from many historic trees, including seedlings grown from a tree at Mount Vernon or Independence Hall, or from the Charter White Oak. When you plant a tree, you may want to use the tree planting ceremony found in the DAR Ritual.

JUNIOR MEMBERSHIP

Peter Minuit Chapter held its third annual Juniors' Tea on March 23, 2002. Over 25 members and prospects (including three C.A.R. members) attended this popular event, which celebrated the chapter's success in attracting Juniors to DAR. The Tea tradition was established in 2000 to provide an opportunity for busy Juniors to relax together outside of chapter business meetings. One of the fastest growing chapters in New York State, Peter Minuit Chapter was organized in 1969 specifically to accommodate the schedules of working women. The chapter is proud to continue that mission today, meeting on weeknights in midtown Manhattan. As a result, 35% of Peter Minuit chapter members are Juniors, and half are under the age of 40.

1999 Northeastern Division Outstanding Junior Dee Dee Scarborough, now New York State Director of the districts that encompass Manhattan, Brooklyn, Staten Island and the Bronx, credits the chapter for encouraging Juniors to lead Peter Minuit's activities. "We're saying loud and clear that Junior members are welcomed, valued and given the chance to lead the chapter in directions that interest young women," states Scarborough.

OLD NORTH STATE CHAPTER
Winston-Salem, N.C.—A silver tray found its way halfway across the United States to be reunited with the Old North State Chapter. Elizabeth Dixon Ball, former Regent of the Old North State Chapter of Trammel’s Trace (Texas), bought it. Mrs. Kennedy hoped to return it to its original home one day. Later Regents, Jean Gilley, Ann Nassits and finally Kathy Peacock inherited the tray. Mrs. Peacock contacted NSDAR to identify the chapter named on the tray, then contacted Anne Richards, current Regent of the Old North State Chapter, and the tray’s return was underway. Members of the Old North State Chapter celebrated the tray’s homecoming with a reception on January 11, 2002.

OLEAN CHAPTER
Olean, N.Y. elected a new Regent in June 2001. Mrs. Myra Bledsoe is a 50-year member and she replaces Mrs. Coradean Simon, who served four terms. This chapter has asked its Regent to speak at any event where she is welcome in order to raise interest in the DAR. Former Regent Coradean Simon assisted another DAR chapter to mark the grave of a Revolutionary War Patriot. Mrs. Simon also serves as VAVS for District VIII and was honored at a luncheon by the state, district and chapter for her years of service and dedication to the DAR.

SARAH BARTON MURPHY CHAPTER
Farmington, Mo., honored veterans November 8, 2001, with the dedication of a Crimson King maple tree and DAR marker at the Mineral Area College Community Center entrance in Park Hills. State Representative Tom Burcham spoke on the valuable service of all veterans, and then the maple tree was dedicated as a living memorial to the nation’s veterans. The inscription was recited: “This maple tree is dedicated to American Veterans since 1775. Marker placed 8 November 2001 by Sarah Barton Murphy Chapter, DAR.” The ceremony concluded with a reception in the Community Center.

SEMINOLE CHAPTER
West Palm Beach, Fla.—Regent Sharon J. Hillebrandt presided over Dedication Ceremonies December 2, 2001. A grave marker and DAR emblem were placed on the grave of the chapter’s organizing Regent, Mrs. Edna Ellis Oaksmith. Seminole Chapter was organized December 5, 1922. After research, Mrs. Oaksmith was found to be in an unmarked grave in Woodlawn Cemetery, West Palm Beach, Fla. This was the Regent’s project and clues were found paper by paper. Two national historians were involved. Members, guests, speakers, a Navy ROTC Color Guard and a bagpiper attended the wonderful ceremony, which included a wreath laying.

STAMP DEFIANCE CHAPTER
Wilmington, N.C. held its evening meeting March 21, 2002, with 27 ladies in attendance. The guest speaker was Dr. Jim Parnell, Professor Emeritus from the University of North Carolina at Wilmington, who brought a slide show on birds of this area. The chapter awarded him the DAR Conservation Medal and certificate.
ARKANSAS STATE SOCIETY NSDAR—The 94th Annual Arkansas State Conference was held March 7-9, 2002, at the DoubleTree Hotel in Little Rock. State Regent Susan Page Veal presided over the conference, whose theme was “It’s a Grand Ole Flag.” Distinguished guests included Peggy S. Hurd, State Regent of Arizona and Joann Winters, State Regent of Oklahoma. During the opening ceremony, Arkansas Lieutenant Governor Winthrop P. Rockefeller brought greetings to the assembly. Colonel Bob G. Jolly, State President of Arkansas SAR, presented, “The Never-Ending Defense of Our Patriotic Heritage.” At the “Journey Began in Arkansas” luncheon, Jane Gardner Jones, DAR representative for the Louisiana Purchase Bicentennial Committee of Arkansas, announced there would be a rededication of the DAR Louisiana Purchase base line marker May 10, 2003, as part of a statewide, yearlong commemoration for the Bicentennial of the Louisiana Purchase. The Anguille Chapter originally placed the marker in 1926. Highlights of the conference included a slide presentation titled “The Social and Cultural History of Colonial Women in Arkansas,” workshops on women’s issues and volunteer genealogy, and the “Stars and Stripes Forever” banquet featuring the Hot Springs Village Men’s Chorus. The Outstanding Junior Member was Mary Elizabeth Mulligan from Tate’s Bluff Chapter.

CALIFORNIA STATE SOCIETY NSDAR held its 93rd annual State Conference at the Radisson Hotel and Conference Center in Fresno March 8, 2001, with over 400 Daughters and guests in attendance. The grandchildren of State Regent Linda Calvin charmed everyone in their Colonial dress as they presented flowers from the Fresno Society, C.A.R. State awards were presented to California’s Outstanding Teacher of American History and the Good Citizen contest winner. The Outstanding VAVS Volunteer award went to Mrs. George T. Gentry. Mrs. James Reese of Katuktu Chapter was named Outstanding Chapter Regent and Miss Kimberly Ann Faraday was named 2001 California Outstanding Junior Member and Southwest Division winner. The evening’s program was “A Patriotic Musical Salute to America,” a multimedia presentation by Doug Scarbrough. Other conference highlights were: the presentation of the national winner of the American Heritage Contest for Music, Mrs. David Kirkey, who delighted us by singing a stirring rendition of her winning entry, “Sally Ann”; the school supper featuring greetings from the DAR schools; the costumed Past and Present Regents Club Breakfast with the theme “An American Jamboree”; the American Indian Breakfast and a beautiful memorial service. The formal Debutante Banquet presented four lovely C.A.R. members stepping up to membership in DAR. On Friday night, Daughters enjoyed a reception held in honor of Mrs. William W. Belcher, candidate for Vice President General at the 110th Continental Congress.

NEW MEXICO STATE SOCIETY NSDAR held its 82nd Annual State Conference at the Hilton Inn in Las Cruces, March 14-16, 2002. The theme for this year’s conference was “Education for American Indians.” Ms. Susanne O’Malley, State Regent, presided; Southwest District Director Anita Worthington, with advisor Blanche Goldsmith, served as conference chairman. Honored NSDAR guests included Isobel Peden, Past Vice President General and Honorary State Regent of Mexico; Betty Wallace, Past Vice President General and Honorary State Regent of Iowa; Carol Wilson, National Chairman, American Indians and Past Vice President General and Lee Ramell, Past National Vice Chairman, Units Overseas Committee UK and committee liaison to seven countries. Documenting Supplemental Applications
NSDAR members know that supplemental ancestors are a reaffirmation of our lineage. When we first become members, most of us are delighted to have found a single ancestor. After a few months in the society, we have already met members who seem to have a limitless supply of ancestors who fought or gave sustenance to the Revolutionary cause, and these members proudly display their heritage with the numerous ancestor bars on their DAR ribbons. Naturally, we become more interested in our own genealogy and begin looking for another ancestor of our own and begin working on supplemental forms.

If we are lucky, we may find that other members have either joined the society using this same ancestor or that a supplemental application has established this patriot. If the ancestor is not yet established, it is necessary to provide documentation for the ancestor's service and prove his place of residence during the Revolution.

There are now more than 4,600 supplemental applications waiting to be verified. Daughters will be delighted to know that the Genealogy staff worked from July 15 through the end of August to verify the supplemental papers that have accumulated. Volunteer genealogists will work through the first week of October in order to continue verifying supplemental applications.

At their own expense, experienced “Volunteer Genies” went to NS DAR Headquarters in D.C. this past April to work on the supplemental backlog. They came from all over the country and spent an average of $600 each to provide this volunteer service to DAR.

Approximately 200 supplementals were verified because of their diligence. They verified supplementals for new ancestors or established ancestors with a child who had not been previously verified. But had more applications been properly prepared, they should have been able to verify at least 600 applications!

None of these volunteers are complaining about the cost of their week in Washington. However, they are complaining about the poor quality of the supplemental applications being received. Many of these volunteers spent too many hours looking for documentation that had not been provided. Letters were written to 65 members requesting additional information in order to complete the verification process. At least one supplemental was for a “new” patriot who had died even before the Revolution started!

Chapter Registrars should check supplementals as closely as they do new member applications before signing their names to the supplemental application. When submitting a supplemental application, there are ways to make the process easier for yourself and for the genealogist verifying your application. Send a record copy of your own application or the supplemental you are using as a reference with your completed application. Every member should obtain a record copy to see if the genealogists have added additional information that will assist in future research. If you include this copy with your supplemental application, then the genealogist verifying it does not have to search for the information herself. You should also include a record copy of any other application you are citing in your references.

Some additional hints:
• Include copies of all documentation you cite. For example, if you are citing a death certificate, enclose a legible copy of the death certificate with... verify something they can't read! This is your application. The genealogists can't read it, the genealogist can't either.

- Include documentation that connects each generation to the one above and below it. This means you have to prove the parent-child relationship for each generation.
- As a rule, NSDAR does not accept undocumented family genealogies or county histories as proof for an application or supplemental. If a family genealogy makes reference to a will, deed or other document, get a copy of that document to include with your references.
- If you are proving a new child for an ancestor, you must include documentation. A will or estate administration naming all heirs is an excellent source.
- Each applicant must provide proof of residence during the Revolution for each patriot ancestor, since there were many men with the same name living in different parts of the colonies. It is necessary to place your ancestor in the proper location for the service cited. Tax lists or deeds are good sources to prove residency.
- Don’t forget to include the proof of your ancestor’s service!

The genealogist verifying your supplemental application shouldn't have to do your research for you. Make it easy on them and include all the necessary documentation. Keep the supplements coming. But be sure they are properly completed and documented!

At a special awards luncheon, American History Chairman Nancy Santheson presented essay contest winners and their supporting chapters, including the winner of the DAR Good Citizen Award, Kacie Kinzer, sponsored by Dona Ana Chapter. Douglas Blech, Sandia High School in Albuquerque (sponsored by Lew Wallace Chapter) was named Outstanding American History Teacher. The formal banquet was held Friday evening, and guest speaker Bill Fife of Bacone College highlighted the accomplishments of Bacone and its students. Voting was held on Saturday and State Regent O’Malley was enthusiastically endorsed as a candidate for Vice President General at the 112th Continental Congress.

Members Committee

Endeavors Around the Society
States in the Southwestern Division are developing task forces to determine their membership needs and how to create projects that will bring in new members. These task forces will also seek out current members who can work with prospects. Genealogy is the key word. There are states receiving numerous e-mail inquiries from prospective members. These inquiries should generate membership workshops, but often there is a lack of trained members able to help. Some Southwest Division states are hosting NSDAR Volunteer Genealogical workshops to train our current members in how to correctly complete applications.

Dawn F. Hines
Vice Chairman, Southwestern Division

The Northwestern Division is bringing DAR into the 21st century. One innovative idea that has proven successful is having a membership committee keep in touch with prospective members. Other ideas include having Chapter Registrars who are dedicated to the needs of new members, making sure chapters stay visible in their communities by participating in local parades and getting covered by local newspapers. The DAR Good Citizens Contest and American History Essay Contest are two great ways to generate interest in your community, and genealogy workshops are always successful.

Billie Jo McIlwain-Westby
Vice Chairman, Northwestern Division

National Defense Committee

Books from the National Defense Library have recently been moved to the National Defense Office, Room 304-A on the third floor of the DAR Administration Building. Members are invited to visit the National Defense Office and use the books while at National Headquarters. There are a variety of titles covering issues such as the Cold War, the United Nations, the Panama Canal and U.S. citizenship, to name a few. Please feel free to take advantage of this collection.

It is not too late to mail in your check to the National Defender for the upcoming September 2002 to May 2003 subscription year. Send a check for $4.00 made payable to Treasurer General, NSDAR, to NSDAR, National Defense Committee Office, 1776 D Street NW, Washington, D.C. 20006-5303.

This magnificent tree is ancient, and has witnessed much history. Treaty Oak is one of the most beautiful live oaks in Florida. It is the subject of many local legends that claim treaties with Indian tribes were signed under its spreading limbs. The property was acquired by the late Jessie Ball duPont and given to the City of Jacksonville along with additional acreage to be used as a park. The tree overlooks downtown Jacksonville, on the south side of the Main Street Bridge. Regents' Council of Northeast Florida is proud to honor this charming and timeless landmark of Northeast Florida.

Honors its Indian heritage

Indian operated stores and taverns were built throughout the Cherokee Nation. The Vann Tavern is an original Cherokee tavern built about 1805 by James Vann, a wealthy Cherokee plantation owner. It served travelers on the Federal Road as a restaurant, store, and inn. An outside staircase on the rear of the building served as an entrance to the guest rooms. A small opening under the stairs served as a "take-out service" for those whom the innkeeper would not allow inside. A Vann plantation house still stands as an example of the position and wealth of the Cherokee planters.
Honors its Colonial fort

Fort King George was built by Col. John Barnwell of South Carolina under British Royal orders in 1721 to watch over the inland waterway and St. Simons Island. It was the first of the British 18th Century scheme of posts built to counteract French expansion in America and a flagrant trespass upon territory claimed by Spain. This tiny fort was the first English settlement in the land which is now Georgia. During its six-year existence, more than 140 British soldiers lost their lives in the effort to hold the old Southeast for English-speaking people.

Honors its opera house

Constructed in 1871 by Francis J. Springer, the opera house in downtown Columbus, Georgia, hosted some of the finest entertainers and public figures. Among the celebrities appearing on its stage were Edwin Booth, Oscar Wilde, John Philip Sousa, Will Rogers, Irving Berlin, and Franklin D. Roosevelt. The building was restored in 1965 and named a National Historic Landmark in 1978. It is still in use today.

The chapter has presented Dr. Bamford with a bronze plaque, as lettered above, to be placed at the North Wilkes Library/Museum.

After retiring from medical practice in 1979, Dr. Bamford applied to the Georgia Humanities Council, the National Endowment for the Humanities, and through the Georgia General Assembly for grant funding to present the Georgia Humanities Adult Lecture Series. Beginning in 1995, she has planned five series of seven lectures each, featuring a total of 35 outstanding speakers from Georgia colleges and universities.

1. The first series in 1995 was titled Creek and Cherokee Indians and the First Settlers of Georgia. Its seven lectures were:
   c. "The Creek Nation," by Dr. J. Richard Persico, Georgia Southern University.
   d. "The Quaker Settlement: Wrightsboro, Ga.," by Dr. Sue Moore, Georgia Southern University.
   e. "Georgia's Broad River Valley — Cradle of White Culture and Indian Compromise," by Dr. Sophia B. Bamford, series director.
   f. "The Cherokee Response to the White Man's Challenge," by Dr. John Tate, Kennesaw State University.
   g. "The Discovery of Gold and the Trail of Tears," by Dr. Max E. White, Piedmont College.

The other series titles are:

SOPHIA BOYD BAMFORD M.D. was born January 7, 1913, in the Broad Community of Wilkes County, to Emory Fortson Boyd and Rosa Lee Wright Boyd. She graduated from Tignall High School in 1928 and went on to the University of Georgia, where she earned a BS degree (1932) and an MS degree in plant cytology (1933). Dr. Bamford was married to Les Bamford, a public school music director who in the mid-40s directed the Washington (Ga.) High School Band at the same time his wife taught science there. They have one daughter, Sarah B. Pelot, of Washington, D.C. In 1952 the Bamfords moved to Boston and she became involved in cancer research at Tufts University. Realizing that she needed a Ph.D. or M.D. to obtain research grants, at the age of 42 she enrolled in Boston University to qualify for medical school. She graduated from Tufts University School of Medicine in 1961, obtained her medical license, and continued her research at the New England Medical Center. In 1973, the Bamfords returned to Wilkes County and Dr. Bamford became associated with Doctors Clinic PA in Washington. Les Bamford died in 1977 only weeks after being diagnosed with pancreatic cancer. Dr. Bamford is now retired and living near her beloved Tignall, where she maintains an active schedule of civic projects in beautification, revitalization, cultural enrichment, and general improvement.

Kentucky Is My Land
by Jesse Stuart
(1906-1984)

Kentucky is my land.
It is a place beneath the wind and sun
In the very heart of America.

Kentucky is neither southern, northern, eastern or western.
It is the core of America.
If these United States can be called a body,
Kentucky can be called its heart.

The heart of America...
A land of even tempo,
A land of mild traditions,
A land that has kept its tradition of horse racing.

Ballad, song, story, and folk music.
It has held steadfast to its pioneer tradition
Of fighting men, fighting for America
And for the soil of Kentucky.

DAR #0762358

Thelma could have been an ambassador. She lived in many states and under many different conditions. When she moved to Michigan in 1990, she began her quest for membership in the DAR. She just knew that “some of my people” did their part to help in the cause of freedom. Her ancestor, William Toney of Virginia, opened the door for her. Always enthusiastic about whatever she attempted, she became very busy with the local chapter, planning meetings, planning locations, doing crafts, researching and living the life of an Ambassador of Goodwill. She was American Heritage Chairperson. Today she is buried in Virginia and her beloved DAR medallion adorns the gravestone. A true Southern lady, she set an example for others to follow, and she will always be loved and remembered for her dedication and service to the local chapter.

REGENT’S COUNCIL OF NORTH FLORIDA NSDAR SALUTES OUR ARMED FORCES

CAMP BLANDING MUSEUM AND MEMORIAL PARK

Camp Blanding was planned in 1938 to train the National Guard of Florida and other southern states. It was taken over in 1940 by the U.S. War Department and increased in size. Famous World War II infantry divisions were trained here plus the 508th Parachute Infantry Regiment. They also supplied replacements throughout the world from their Infantry Replacement Center.

Florida's fourth largest city, Camp Blanding operated health clinics, hospitals, bus transportation system, railroad depot, housing, water, sewer and electric utility operations, military police, service clubs, theaters, guest housing, post exchanges, commissary, mess halls for feeding cadre and trainees — a city unto itself touching the lives of almost one million people.

To remind us Today, of gallant SOLDIERS of Yesterday, in Service and Sacrifice for our Tomorrow!

The Ohio Society DAR Supports the Restoration of the Madonna of the Trail Statue

The Madonna of the Trail Statue endured last winter wrapped in foul weather gear. Unwilling to chance another winter assault of snow, rain, ice, and cold, the Ohio Society had her wrapped in a protective plastic cover to protect against further damage. This brought her plight to the attention of many who called to ask what was happening, and how could they help to preserve this statue.

Spring arrived, along with the scaffolding and expertise of sculptor and restorer, Mike Majors. With her nose rebuilt, her arm repaired, all cracks filled, a new refurbished base, all repairs completed, she is getting a new protective dressing to seal her surface, restore her color, and get her ready for her 75th Birthday Party in 2003. Beginning in spring she will stand in daffodils, progress to cone flowers, and end the blooming season with black eyed susans. All summer long the bush roses planted along the serpentine wall will be a blooming accent for her beauty.

to “Affirm Their Legacy of Service” to Local History

Four generations of Master Masons have worked to preserve the serpentine wall surrounding the Madonna of the Trail Statue. In 1928 Elding Lee built the original serpentine wall. In 1956 nephew Elza (Bud) Cannady rebuilt the wall when the statue was moved to a new location. In 2001 great-nephew Bruce Edwards, Jr. and great-great nephew Bruce Edwards, III repaired and restored the serpentine wall as part of the Madonna of the Trail Restoration Project. The bricks in the wall were used in both locations.

Originally brought to this country as ships ballast, they have become a part of the historic site marked by the Madonna of the Trail Statue. The statue is located along side the National Pike in Springfield, Ohio, at the 1840's terminus.

"Working With Our Veterans"

George Marnell, Director of the Roseburg VA Medical Center, wrote:

"Mrs. Coffie has been a volunteer at our Veterans Administration (VA) Roseburg Medical Center since 1978. She has donated over 27,000 hours while providing comfort, care and support to our veteran patients, through our Voluntary Program at this facility. Although she is nearing the century mark in age, Mrs. Coffie has chosen to contribute her time and talents on the average of five hours a day, four days a week."

"The majority of Mrs. Coffie's service has been in the pharmacy department, where her skills, attention to detail and contagious, pleasing personality are appreciated and respected. When she is not in the pharmacy area, she can be found visiting with patients and staff in her genuine, friendly and humorous manner."

"Mrs. Coffie is a role model not only for our new volunteers, but also for the youth volunteers who enjoy working with her, as well as other volunteers and staff who have known her for many years."

Chris Pollock, author of a recent newspaper article, quoted Fern Coffie as saying:

"I'm a person that can't sit around and do nothing. I like the people here and I appreciate their friendship. I like to feel like I can do something for them."

“My State Project: Up until recently, local schoolchildren enjoyed tours of the Butteville schoolhouse in Marion County, Oregon. Without the restoration efforts of both C.A.R. and D.A.R., this historic building may not be open to the public for years.

This year’s president’s project for Oregon State C.A.R. gives its members a chance to get their hands dirty and make a difference. Through fund raising and work parties, members can learn about their own local history while gaining an appreciation for the time and effort our forefathers put into providing education for their children.

After restoration, the Butteville schoolhouse will display a classroom and teacheneage typical of the late 1800s, complete with a 38-star flag. I’d like to thank D.A.R. for all their support thus far, and I’m looking forward to a very productive year.”

Lillian

“Butteville Schoolhouse Part of the Newell House Museum Complex”

In the past, visitors have glimpsed what it might have been like to attend an early pioneer school, but now the building is closed to the public because it is unsafe. If you wish to help with this restoration, please mail your check to Senior State Treasurer O.S.S.C.A.R., Ruby Pantalone, 3856 Third Avenue N., Keizer, OR 97303-5969. “Our Family Tree...Roots From The Past, Linking To The Future”
The West Virginia State Society Congratulates Chapters Celebrating 100 Years of Service to God, Home and Country!

James Wood Chapter 4025WV
Parkersburg, West Virginia

The James Wood Chapter was organized on December 23, 1902, and was awarded National Affiliation on January 21, 1903. The Organizing Regent was Mrs. Baldwin Day Spillman (Ann Camden). Mrs. David Lucas currently serves as Regent and the chapter has sixty-seven members. With monies from the Ellen Scott Stewart Memorial Fund the chapter has been a community leader in patriotic and educational philanthropy.

The chapter was named for James Wood, Jr., who was born in Winchester, Virginia in 1747. As a captain in Lord Dunmore’s expedition curing Pontiac’s War he saw the shores along the Ohio River of the land which was to bear his name - Wood County. He was commissioned a colonel of the 12th Virginia Regiment of the Continental Establishment, was commended for conspicuous gallantry at Brandywine and survived the bleak winter at Valley Forge. In 1783 he was commissioned a brigadier general in command of the State Troops of Virginia which guarded frontier settlements. General Wood became Governor of Virginia in 1796, and remained a member of the Executive Council until his death in 1813.

Elizabeth Zane Chapter 4021WV
Buckhannon, West Virginia

The Elizabeth Zane Chapter was organized on July 21, 1902. The Organizing Regent was Mrs. John R. Ritzinger (Frances Mabel Hart). The chapter was named for the young woman who became a heroine on September 11, 1782 at Fort Henry. Elizabeth Zane was born in 1759, and died in 1823. She was the daughter of William Andrew Zane, and great-granddaughter of Robert Zane of Salem, New Jersey, who first organized the “Friends” meeting in 1676.

Elizabeth Zane Chapter was the owner of one of the first chapter houses in West Virginia. This house, located on Island Avenue, was the oldest house in Buckhannon, reportedly built shortly after the Revolutionary War. It was built by the Jackson family, prominent in the early history of Western Virginia.

The chapter currently has forty-five members and the Regent is Mrs. Virgil Greenleaf.

We salute the Elizabeth Zane and James Wood chapters as they carry the legacy of their famous ancestors to a new century.

Important Newsletter Information

In order to better serve DAR members, the Daughters Newsletter is making two important changes.

Genealogy Queries:

Queries will now cost $1.00 per word, a pricing structure more in line with other genealogical magazines. All words count for pricing, including names and addresses. Anyone doing genealogical research—including non-DAR members—may submit a query for publication.

Chapter and State Activities:

We have changed the format and pricing of these two columns. You will no longer be charged for submissions, including photos, to “With the Chapters” or “State Activities.” We hope to make these two sections a true reflection of what DAR accomplishes on both a state and chapter level. Send us interesting information that your chapter or state organization would like to share with the membership. We hope to hear from you soon.

Dear Daughters,

Congratulations to all the chapters and states winning subscription and advertising awards at the 111th Continental Congress. It is support such as this that has helped sustain the DAR magazine the past 110 years. Special appreciation is also extended to all donors to the DAR Magazine Endowment Fund.

We listened to all the feedback from subscribers this past year concerning both the magazine and newsletter and have tried to make changes accordingly. One of the requests we received the most was that everyone wanted to receive all copies of the DAR Newsletter and this will now occur with a total of six issues of the newsletter being published annually in the future and mailed out with American Spirit magazine. There will no longer be four single issues of the newsletter published.

In addition, the DAR Magazine Office is again accepting two-year subscriptions for the DAR magazine. To expedite receipt of the National Board of Management Minutes by the members, the Minutes will in the future just be carried in their entirety on the DAR Members' Web site and newsletter information at the DAR Members' Site-Committee Directory.

Upon request, these Minutes can also be ordered from the DAR Magazine Committee Office of the Recording Secretary General for $10. A summarized version of the National Board of Management Minutes will continue to be published in the newsletter.

National Defense articles will be printed in the newsletter and magazine when submitted. The popular feature listing New Ancestors approved by the NSDAR Board of Management will be carried in American Spirit only. Continue e-mailing your letters to the editor for the magazine to DARMagazine@aol.com, and e-mail your newsletter comments for Talkback DAR! to newsletter@dar.org—we want to hear from YOU. We also encourage you to check the DAR Magazine Committee Web site for the latest magazine and newsletter information at the DAR Members’ Site-Committee Directory.

The DAR Magazine Committee and Staff will gladly continue this coming year to try to give you the best service possible. Enjoy your summer with American Spirit.

Beth Bugbee
National Chairman
