Ringing in the New DAR Year

HOW EXCITING IT WAS TO BE IN OUR NATION’S CAPITAL IN JULY for the 113th Continental Congress! Members enjoyed outstanding programs and speakers, wonderful entertainment and took great pride in visiting our magnificent complex of buildings. Those who attended were especially pleased to see the Americana Collection, decorative arts museum and genealogical research library. It was a time to enjoy good friends while conducting the important business of the National Society.

September is here and marks the beginning of a new DAR year. Already, chapters are busy promoting patriotism, education and historic preservation within their communities through our many varied programs and activities. The National Information Packet (NIP), which was mailed to all Chapter Regents this summer, includes directives from your Executive Officers and National Chairman and offers you a variety of activities and options which will help you become more visible and effective in your community. Through our committees there are numerous opportunities for participation in the activities of our organization, and sometimes chapters can feel overwhelmed. By no means are you required to participate in the work of every committee. Choose activities which best suit your chapter’s interests and abilities, and concentrate your efforts in those specific areas. If you should choose to participate in only one or two projects, you are still contributing to the work of the National Society and making a positive impact on your community. Everyone’s participation is important to the overall mission of our Society. All of us at your National Headquarters are ready to assist you in any way we can.

This month we celebrate Constitution Week, September 17-23. It is the perfect opportunity to read and study this great document which is the safeguard of our American liberties. You will be interested to know that the Constitution Week Committee has been reestablished as a separate national committee; and, since the DAR was responsible for a joint resolution of Congress proclaiming a week to celebrate the Constitution, we should make this a major event at the local level, nationwide.

It is important to note that the National Board of Management, at its July 11 meeting, also reestablished A merican Heritage and Conservation as separate national committees and Commemorative Events as a separate special committee. Additionally, the Seimes Microfilm Center, which has been designated the Seimes Technology Center, was reestablished as a national committee and Friends of the Library as a special committee. With Seimes and Friends now functioning as two independent committees, there will no longer be a DAR Library Committee; and, hopefully, greater emphasis will be placed on the importance of support for these specific areas of the DAR Library.

The President General’s Project that was begun in the Millennium Administration will continue to be the President General’s Project in this administration. In compliance with Article I X, Section 3 (b) of the Bylaws of the National Society, the National Board of Management approved the name of the project as “Preserving Our Patriotic Heritage” as well as the receiving and raising of funds for the project. As you are already aware, this project involves digitizing and computerizing our valuable genealogical records and enhancing online accessibility to them.

In October, the National School Tour will visit five of our DAR-supported schools. Following a week of Executive Committee meetings and the National Board of Management meeting on October 9, we will travel by bus to the schools to visit the children whose lives have been touched by DAR members in so many personal ways.

On October 11, the NSDAR celebrates its 114th birthday. On this special occasion, let us pause to

Office of the Librarian General
American Genealogical Research at the DAR Revised!

In 1997, the DAR Library published the very popular book American Genealogical Research at the DAR. Compiled by Library Director Eric G. Grundset, and then-Assistant Director Steven B. Rodes, the book was the first-ever detailed guide to research in the wonderful collections at DAR. In the first couple of years after publication, more than 4,000 copies were sold. The book has been out of print for the past few years awaiting revision.

In June 2004, in time for Continental Congress, the revised second edition of American Genealogical Research at the DAR arrived from the printer. Revisions appear throughout the book, and they were necessary after several years of revisions to procedures, changes in location of materials and updates in the contents of DAR collections. Between the first and second editions, offices have moved, policies have changed and research steps needed to locate materials have been altered. All of these are reflected in the new publication.

For genealogists coming to the DAR for the first time, the second edition of American Genealogical Research is an essential read. For those who have visited the DAR Library and other offices at DAR headquarters, the revision is also an important update of what they may have known about research in DAR collections.

Chapters on each department with resources useful for genealogical research... comprise the first half of the guide. Chapter 13 is an overview of how to find Bible records, cemetery records, military sources and many other topics in DAR materials. Often overlooked is Chapter 14, which provides examples of how to properly cite DAR sources in footnotes, endnotes, or bibliographies.

Copies of American Genealogical Research at the DAR may be ordered from The DAR Store, 1776 D St., N W, Washington, D.C., 20006–5303. The price for a single, softcover book is $25, plus $7 shipping and handling.

Please contact The DAR Store at (202) 879–3218 for additional information on ordering multiple copies or to place credit card orders.

For any genealogist interested in learning more about the essential genealogical materials at DAR, this revision is a perfect gift. Every library in the United States with a genealogical collection should also own this updated guide. Please order your copy today!

Building Improvements

Memorial Continental Hall Elevator

The existing elevator in Memorial Continental Hall is in the process of being replaced. The replacement was needed to bring the elevator up to fire code standards. We are hopeful that work will be completed by October 1. The lovely Josiah Bartlett Plaque will be removed from the existing elevator and placed in the new one, if possible. If it cannot be affixed to the interior of the elevator, the plaque will be displayed on either the elevator door or on an adjacent panel.

New Security System

A new, state-of-the-art security system has been installed at headquarters. Due to the complexity of the DAR building, installation took more than four months. The new system provides greater security for the individuals who work at or visit the DAR, as well as for the National Society's property and extensive holdings. The new system helps DAR in our efforts to reduce insurance costs wherever possible, and it also allows the security staff to be more efficient in its operations. Few people will notice an outward difference when visiting the building, but be assured the system is much more efficient than before.

Carpeting for Constitution Hall

Funds have been set aside for the installation of carpeting in the foyer of Constitution Hall. It will be configured so that the terrazzo floor will be visible on either side of the carpeting, which will run in a U-shape in the foyer from the entrance to the President General’s Reception Room all the way around to the backstage entrance on the C Street side of the building. Besides providing a safer walking surface, it is expected that installation of the carpeting will help suppress a good deal of the noise that often reverberates through the foyer and into the auditorium.

American Spirit Receives Grand Award in APEX Competition

American Spirit magazine has received the Grand Award for Magazines and Journals in the 2004 APEX Awards. This marks the second year in a row that American Spirit has received this prestigious honor.

Steeped in a century-old publishing tradition, this official magazine of the DAR captures today’s growing fascination with historic preservation, travel, genealogy, collectibles and Americana. The publication was also recognized for the quality of its feature writing, design, content and letters pages.

APEX is the Annual Awards for Publication Excellence Competition open to communicators in corporate, non-profit and independent settings.
Getting older has its rewards. For example, consider the way gift annuity rates increase with age. As of July 1, 2004, a 70-year-old person who donates $10,000 to DAR for a charitable gift annuity can receive $650 every year from the annuity for the rest of her or his life. These rates are fixed monthly and change with the age of the donor.

However, if that same person were to obtain a gift annuity at age 85, the payment rates would jump to 9.5 percent and he or she would get $950 each year. So, you see, aging has a silver lining.

Each member can check the various DAR rates currently in effect for selected ages on the DAR Members’ Web Site at http://www.dar.gift-planning.org/gifttree.php. The figures relate to a single-life gift annuity. One may also calculate a dual-life annuity, but as you might expect, rates are somewhat lower when two people receive income from an annuity.

Many of our older donors also appreciate the stability of gift-annuity payments. Once established, the rates are locked in and annuitants can count on receiving the same amount every year. Payments may be received annually, semi-annually, quarterly or even monthly.

Another benefit of a charitable gift annuity relates to taxes. Not only does one receive an income-tax charitable deduction when obtaining a gift annuity, but in most cases there is also the possibility of income that is partially tax-free.

Perhaps the most enjoyable part of a DAR gift annuity is the ability to give without endangering retirement income. In fact, just the opposite is often true: Sometimes our donors actually increase their retirement income by obtaining a gift annuity with low-yielding assets, such as certain stocks or even cash.

If you would like to learn more about giving to NSDAR through our gift annuity program, use the coupon attached to request information, or call our Development Director at (202) 879-3343.

Chapter Development

Enlarge the D A R by taking a deliberate role in forming new chapters. Take the D A R to new places: colleges/universities, corporations, malls, towns, villages, subdivisions and retirement communities. Carry the D A R to where new members are, rather than waiting for them to find us. Make a place for younger members, such as chapters for those choosing to be homemakers, wives and mothers. Provide working women with a powerful new D A R meeting format called “D A R ... The One-Hour Way.” Find new members while resisting taking members from existing chapters. Respond to the American cultural changes without deserting the founders’ intent. Do it all with goodwill!

The difference between the Chapter Development and Chapter Revitalization committees is that Chapter Development creates new chapters by finding new application members. Chapter Revitalization directs its effort toward assisting ailing chapters.

Chapter Development will come to your state to conduct D A R Informational/Genealogy Workshops, using advanced, attractive news releases. The committee will generate a prospective list and then return home to work on applications. Built into this committee are 16 highly trained D A R genealogist members eager to do applications.

We guide our forming chapters step-by-step using a timeline tailored to each specific chapter. Read our Web site and let us work our magic.

Carol S. Rilling
National Chairman

Chapter Revitalization

Even with a net increase in our membership this past year, various chapters have been in a steady decline for a number of years. Sometimes the attendance at the monthly chapter meetings has dropped to the point where meetings have been cancelled. Sometimes, these chapters have only one or two individuals willing to serve as an officer or Chapter Regent.

Members make an effort to keep the chapter going, but it is clear that the chapter is not meeting the needs of the current membership.

If this is your chapter, this may be your call to save your chapter before disbandment. Here are many individuals ready to help you! Contact your state organizing Secretary, your Chapter Revitalization Division Chairman, or the National Chairman to help you take steps back to chapter productivity today!

Constitution Week

The Constitution Week Committee is a National committee and has been reestablished as a separate committee. Constitution Week will be commemorated September 17-23, 2004. This year we will celebrate the 217th anniversary of our Constitution. Fly your flag of the United States of America all week, obtain proclamations from area mayors and ring bells on September 17. Remember this administration’s theme: “The Bell of Freedom... The Sound of Patriotism.”

Please encourage youth volunteers by asking scouts, church youth groups, C.A.R. and others to fly American flags, ring bells and assist with other activities this week.

Poster Contest

This committee will sponsor a contest to design a patriotic poster to promote the celebration of Constitution Week. The entries should be 11”x17” inches, include the words, “Constitution Week, Sept. 17-23,” and “Daughters of the American Revolution.” Posters from the chapters are due to the State Chairman by November 15, 2004. The State Chairmen will select the first-, second- and third-place winners and send them to the National Division Vice Chairman by December 15, 2004. The National Division Chairman will send the first-, second- and third-place winners to the National Chairman by January 15, 2005. Please do not use copyrighted graphics or logos that cannot be reproduced. It is the hope of this committee to be able to reproduce the winning entry for chapters to use to promote Constitution Week next year. The winning entry will be announced at the 114th Continental Congress.

Celebration and Commemoration

Publicity in local papers, church bulletins, or letters to the editor will get the message about Constitution Week to your community. Plan luncheons or teas, etc., with special guest speakers to celebrate. Honor a serviceman or woman, or any other deserving person in your community with a certificate of appreciation. Certificates can be obtained from The DAR Store.

You are also encouraged to contact churches, schools, courthouses and city governments and request them to ring bells on September 17. Ringing the bells at 4 p.m. EDT in all time zones is encouraged so that we may hear the sound of patriotism simultaneously from coast to coast. If your chapter is having a celebration and you choose a different time, that will be fine. Participation, whatever time it is in your area, is the important goal.

Plan now to have a public display in a library, school, city hall, storefront or other public place promoting Constitution Week. Certificates will be awarded for the most outstanding displays and for the greatest number of displays.

Let us all do our part in reminding America that the Constitution is a living document that guarantees the freedoms we as Americans enjoy.

National Chairman

DAR School

The funds raised for the DAR-approved schools are a way of promoting the education and well-being of children. Chapters are encouraged to educate their members about the mission of each school. To do this, every chapter should have a DAR School Chairman. The DAR Schools booklets can be ordered at no charge from The DAR Store. Distribute this booklet to members... and present a program on the schools. If available, call on your State Speaker’s Staff for help with a program.

This year, the committee will sponsor a contest for the “Most Original Chapter Program.” We want to know how Daughters are presenting the DAR Schools to members! This contest is not about how much money is donated, but about how members “Ring the bells for our DAR schools!” Three chapters will be recognized at the 114th Continental Congress and your ideas will also be featured in the Daughters newsletter. To enter this contest, please send a written (no more than two pages) report on your chapter’s activities for the DAR Schools. Send this report to your National Division Vice Chairman by May 1, 2005.

Membership

The Membership Committee challenges you to set SMART Goals (Simple, Manageable, Attainable, Reachable, Targeted). We challenge each of you to be involved with your chapter, to attract, orient, train and activate your chapter and state membership. We will once again recognize chapters that accept this challenge to grow in numbers and to develop new skills to bring about an increase within their chapter and state. As of January 1, 2004, our membership was 167,417.

Membership is our top priority and we must continue to extend invitations to prospective members. The Membership Chairmen are responsible for the growth in chapters and states. Chairmen are encouraged to work closely with the Registrar and Lineage Research Committee. Always have a membership pamphlet ready for chapter meetings, for guest day or when you are out in the community. At the chapter level, make a prospective member list and set up a time and place to discuss the preparation of their papers. We must increase membership to assure the future of NSDAR.

There are many ways to communicate the value of DAR membership, such as developing a chapter newsletter or e-mail; concentrating on a different committee each month; sharing program ideas; working together on a community event; explaining requirements to new members; and listening to new members on what they want from your chapter.

Some members need encouragement within their chapter. Plan chapter meetings to be entertaining, interesting and different each month. Motivating people sometimes is becoming a mentor for the entire membership, new members and seasoned members alike. Change your meeting site, bring a guest; be creative, but also remember to keep the basics for an informative meeting. New members need to be encouraged to participate.

Perpetuate membership by holding and sponsoring genealogy workshops in your community. DAR is a service organization and this is a service to the community. Hold the workshop at a local library and open it to the public. If there is a local genealogy society, ask them to participate. Start with simple “How to Begin,” followed with more extensive workshops, and also a final workshop for the experienced genealogist.

Essay Contest

Participate in the Membership Essay Contest by writing a letter to your Patriot explaining how his service and your membership in the NSDAR have strengthened your patriotism for our country.

The contest is open to all NSDAR members, including Units Overseas and Members-at-Large. Only one essay may be submitted per member. Essays must not be less than 500 words and not to exceed 600 words (a, an, and, the are exempt; names and dates count as one word) and must be typed, double-spaced, with one-inch margins. Three copies of the essay must be submitted, each with a cover sheet, name, national number, chapter name, state, complete address, telephone, e-mail and the Patriot’s name. All entries must be postmarked before February 1, 2005. No entry will be accepted by e-mail or fax.

Send your essay to your State Chairman. The State Chairman will select the best essay and send it to the National Vice Chairman in charge of the Membership Contest. Details and more information will be forthcoming in Daughters newsletter, on the Members’ Web Site, and to the State Membership Chairmen during the summer of 2004. The first-place winner will be recognized at the 114th Continental Congress.

State Chairmen are encouraged to recognize their state winner during their State Conference.

President General’s Project
Theme: “Preserving Our Patriotic Heritage”

The first National Board of Management meeting of the Wagoner administration, held July 11, 2004, officially approved the naming of the President General’s Project, “Preserving Our Patriotic Heritage,” and the receiving and raising of funds for such. This action will be presented for ratification at the 114th Continental Congress. For further clarification, see the amendment adopted by the 112th Continental Congress, N SD A R Bylaws, Article IX , Section 3(b).

Therefore, we shall continue to build upon the technological infrastructure established during the previous administration. Under the leadership of the Wagoner administration, the contributions received for the President General’s Project shall preserve our valuable genealogical records and application papers so crucial to the future of the National Society. In the years to come, access to this information will help to generate the revenue needed to fund the operations of the N SD A R.

Each Daughter and each chapter is challenged to ring “The Bell of Freedom…The Sound of Patriotism,” the theme of the Wagoner administration, by exhibiting the sustaining power that is necessary to provide focus on a long-term project such as this. We must keep up with today’s technology or we will be left behind!

There are a number of ways we can support the President General’s Project, 2004–2007. First, we can purchase the bell items sold in The D A R Store, and second, we can contribute a minimum donation of $50 to the project that will entitle us to purchase the President General’s Project pin when it becomes available. Individuals contributing at least $1,000 are eligible for the Benefactor pin.

A nother significant way to support the project is to continue to respond to the mailings we receive periodically from our N SD A R Development Office. Our donations go directly to the President General’s Project when we respond to the calendar and return address labels we receive.

An additional avenue for giving lies in the $6 each Daughter is asked to contribute voluntarily over the three years of a national administration. Chapters may budget these contributions or each member may decide to give $6, totaling only $2 per year. Chapters that give $6 per member will receive a 100 percent participation certificate. It is important that chapters expecting to receive a 100 percent certificate at their respective state conferences make certain their contributions reach the Office of the Treasurer General by the 25th of the preceding month.

A chapter’s official membership count is based on its membership records as of January 1, 2005, and remains the same throughout the entire administration, regardless of changes in membership following that date. Contributions made from August 1, 2004, through July 31, 2007, will count toward the President General’s Project, unless specified otherwise.

Watch the Members’ Web Site and read the Daughters newsletter! Note any new bell items on sale through The D A R Store. E-mail, call or use the form to order your selections.

Join the Wagoner administration in its belief that our genealogical records and membership application papers must be preserved! Daughters, this is a long-term project crucial to membership growth and revenue development. We must not falter; instead, we must follow our blueprint. Together we can measure accomplishments, create mileposts and focus on our goal!

We thank you in advance for your continued support throughout the Wagoner administration, 2004–2007.

• American Heritage and Conservation was re-established as separate national committees.

• Commemorative Events was re-established as a separate national committee.

• Constitution Week was re-established as a separate national committee.

Chapter Anniversaries

The Betty Martin Chapter, Temple, Texas, recently celebrated the 100th anniversary of the chapter's chartering with a Centennial Tea held in the Parish Hall of Christ Episcopal Church, in Temple.

Organized by Mrs. Huling P. Robertson on April 6, 1904, the chapter was named for the wife of Gov. Richard Caswell of North Carolina. She was a famous belle of ante-Revolutionary War days. She lost one son in that cause, and two of her other sons became governors of North Carolina and Maryland. She died in 1778. Judith Smith and her mother, Caroline Henneberry, descendants of Betty Martin, came from their home in Missouri to join the celebration.

Old Hellebergh Chapter Celebrates 25 Years

On April 24, 2004, Old Hellebergh Chapter, Guilderland Center, N.Y., celebrated its 25th year with a luncheon at the Western Turnpike Golf Course and Country Club.

Merry Ann Wright, NSDAR Director of Development, was the keynote speaker. Her topic was “DAR: Then and Now.” Mrs. Wright was serving the New York State Organization as State Organizing Secretary when the chapter was organized.

Mindy T. Kammeyer, National Chairman of the American Heritage and Conservation Committee (2001–2004), said, “Mr. Michael Steinberger’s leadership led to the purchase and restoration of 40 acres in Malvern, Pa. Mr. Steinberger has established and preserved a wonderful site for thousands of visitors to enjoy.”

Arkansas Valley Chapter Rescues Lost DAR Plaque

The Arkansas Valley Chapter, Pueblo, Colo., rescued a DAR plaque that was removed from an orphanage dormitory in Pueblo. DAR members M. S. Harlowe, Lakeland Chapter, Lake-land, Fla.; Sue Wilson, Second Vice Regent, Fort Frederica Chapter, St. Simon’s Island, Ga.; and Ann Anderson, Smokey Hill Trail Chapter, Denver, Colo., notified Arkansas Valley Chapter of the plaque’s sale listing on eBay. The Insignia Internet Purchasing Committee also played a crucial role in swiftly re-acquiring the plaque.

The chapter traced the plaque to an antique store about 40 miles from Pueblo and contacted the store’s owner, who then donated the brass plaque to the chapter. The chapter is currently having the plaque cleaned so that it can be returned to its original location.

State Regent 2002-2004

Mrs. Mary Margaret Smith, Regent of the Fort Smith Chapter, Mrs. Jean Pollard, State Regent and Mrs. Ruth Oberhelman, Honorary State Regent, stand in front of the Fort Smith Memorial Gate, 3rd Street and Rogers Avenue in Fort Smith, Arkansas. The memorial was built from stones used in a wall of the fort, erected from 1838-1842. The fort wall was razed in the 1880s and the stones were given to patriotic citizens. A campaign by the Martha Baker Thurman Chapter, DAR, collected the stones and raised money for the memorial, built in 1930.

Mrs. Willie Kavanaugh Hocker
Designer of the State Flag of Arkansas

In 1912 the Pine Bluff Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR), decided to present a state flag to the U.S.S. Arkansas, a new battleship. The Chapter was informed that Arkansas had no state flag. They immediately launched a movement to obtain one by asking citizens of the state to submit designs for judging. The design chosen was the work of Miss Willie Kavanaugh Hocker of Wabbaseka, a member of the Pine Bluff Chapter, DAR. The General Assembly passed a resolution confirming the design as the official state flag on February 26, 1913. Miss Willie was born on July 21, 1862, in Madison County, Kentucky. Her parents were Captain William Kavanaugh Hocker and Virginia Frances Brown Hocker. When she was eight years old, she moved with her family to a plantation in north Jefferson County, Arkansas. Miss Hocker was visiting friends in Pine Bluff when she designed what later turned out to be the winning entry for the Arkansas Flag. For the design, Miss Hocker used school drawing paper and watercolors. Miss Hocker was a public school teacher in Jefferson County for 34 years, always stressing Arkansas history. She retired from the classroom to a cottage in Wabbaseka, Arkansas, where she died on February 6, 1944.

A diamond on a red field represents Arkansas as the only place in North America where diamonds have been discovered and mined. The twenty-five white stars around the diamond mean that Arkansas was the twenty-fifth state to join the Union. The top of four stars in the center represents that Arkansas was a member of the Confederate States during the Civil War. The other three stars represent Spain, France and the United States, countries that had earlier ruled the land that includes Arkansas. They also represent the fact that Arkansas was the third state created from the Louisiana Purchase.

State Regent Jean Sanders Pollard is pictured at the gravesite of Willie Hocker located in Pine Bluff, Arkansas. The marker was dedicated in 1986 by the Pine Bluff Chapter NSDAR.

THE KENTUCKY SOCIETY PRESENTS...
Centre College, above, was founded in 1819 by the Commonwealth of Kentucky to provide higher education on the frontier. In 1824 the school affiliated with the Presbyterian Church. Today, Centre is ranked by U.S. News among the top 50 national liberal arts colleges. This academically selective school is located in historic Danville, Ky.

Berea College, left, founded in 1855 by Kentucky abolitionist John G. Fee, was committed to educating black and white students together, making it the first interracial school in the South. Today, it still provides a high-quality, low-cost liberal arts education to needy students of all races. Berea is tuition-free. Every student works 10-15 hours a week while carrying a full academic load. Because of the college’s Student Craft Program and its Appalachian Artifacts Collection, Berea is known as the “arts and crafts capital of Kentucky.”

Georgetown College, below, located in Georgetown, Ky., began in 1787 as Royal Springs Academy, a classical school founded by Elijah Craig, a Baptist minister. In 1829 it was chartered as Georgetown College by the Kentucky Baptist Convention, making it the first Baptist college west of the Allegheny Mountains. U.S. News lists it as one of the top national liberal arts colleges. The Princeton Review ranks it as one of the best Southeastern colleges. Also, the Cincinnati Bengals’ Summer Training Camp will return to Georgetown’s athletic complex in 2004 for the eighth year.
Kentucky Wesleyan College, above left, was founded by the United Methodist Church in 1858 in Millersburg, Ky., but classes didn’t begin until 1866 after the Civil War. The college moved to Winchester, Ky., in 1890, and then to the present site of Owensboro in 1951. In 2003 U.S. News ranked it sixth in best values and 22nd overall in Southern Comprehensive Colleges. KWC currently holds the Division II men’s basketball record, with eight national championships. Union College, above right, the first college in the Kentucky mountains, was founded in 1879 in Barbourville, by a group of progressive citizens who wanted to provide a quality education to the people of the mountains of southeastern Kentucky. The Kentucky Conference of the United Methodist Church purchased the college in 1886. Also, Union College was the founding site for over 500 young people involved with the Appalachian Service Project to rehabilitate homes.

Transylvania University, left, located in Lexington, Ky., was founded by early settlers in 1770, making it the first college west of the Allegheny Mountains and the 16th college in the United States. In 1865 it affiliated with the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ). For more than 200 years, Transy’s mission of offering a high-quality education has remained constant. Today, it is one of America’s top 100 liberal arts colleges.
ABOUT AIKCU

The Association of Independent Kentucky Colleges and Universities (AIKCU) is an organization uniting the Council of Independent Colleges and Universities (CIKCU), founded in 1965, and the Kentucky Independent College Foundation (KICF), founded in 1954. The association supports Kentucky’s regionally accredited, non-tax-supported, non-profit colleges and universities in the areas of government relations, fundraising, research, cooperative programs and public relations.

The association represents the institutions at the federal and state level in policy, legislative and regulatory matters and works closely with the Kentucky business community to raise awareness about the independent sector and make collective fundraising appeals on behalf of member institutions.

Martha Summers Willis
State Regent, 2004-2007

As we celebrate our 100th State Conference, March 2005

Martha Summers Willis stands in front of her home “White Plains” circa 1845, a noted “Stand” along the Walton Road. Both the road, surveyed in 1796 by Capt. William Walton and the land grant itself, given to Lt. William P. Quarles (1809) are directly connected to the American War of Independence.

The love of fine race horses brought President Andrew Jackson to visit on many occasions as he traveled from his home near Nashville to Washington City. It is known that the three U.S. presidents who were from Tennessee have drunk from the well at White Plains.

Jackson encouraged a son-in-law of Lt. Quarles - Adam Huntsman, a prominent lawyer from west Tennessee, to run against and defeat his opponent...a gentleman named David Crockett.

The White Plains settlement was the site of the first post office, school and court (convened in the blacksmith shop). Later it was named the first county seat of Putnam County (named for Lt. Israel Putnam) in 1842.

The DAR marked this site along with hundreds more in Tennessee. It will be this Regent’s pleasure to document the works of the daughters that came before.

A rare 17th-century National Historic Landmark, the Adam Thoroughgood House is located on the founding patent of the resort city of Virginia Beach. In 1635, this land was awarded to Adam Thoroughgood as a headright grant for his recruitment and transportation of 105 English settlers to the Virginia colony. One of his headrights was Augustine Warner, whose granddaughter became the grandmother of George Washington. Thoroughgood's descendants include generations of burgesses and numerous patriots. Foremost among these is George Mason, a founding father.

The Aviary

The Miller Park Aviary is one of Lynchburg, Virginia’s rare architectural jewels. The Aviary was given to the City in 1902 by businessman/philanthropist Randolph Guggenheimer. Designed by Aubrey Chesterman, this unique, eighteen-sided structure has been the cornerstone of historic Miller Park for over 100 years, serving first as home to exotic birds and wildlife. The Aviary has been used as a library and a children’s playhouse.

In 1975, The Lynchburg Council of Garden Clubs leased the Aviary from the city. They renovated it for their use. For over 25 years the council kept the building open for their activities and public use. The council completely renovated the building, new wiring, painting and new lighting, to celebrate the 100th birthday of the Aviary in 2002.

Montpelier, a District VI Landmark, was the home of James and Dolley Madison. Located in Orange County, the simple eight room house was built in 1760 by James Madison’s parents. When James and Dolley married the house was too small to share with his parents, so a thirty-foot, four-room addition was added. A second front door was added and for a short time the home was a duplex. In 1809 construction began to add two wings on either side of the house. When the remodeling was finished the house had a total of 30 rooms. In 1844 the plantation was sold. Over the next 57 years, there were five owners, with the last owner nearly doubling the house in size. In 1983, the last owner, Marion duPont Scott, left Montpelier to the National Trust for Historic Preservation. Montpelier Foundation became stewards of the property. At the present time Montpelier is undergoing a four year restoration to return the mansion to the size, structure, form and furnishings that the Madison’s knew in the 1820’s.

The estate of Paul Mellon is giving $20 million for the project and the federal Save America’s Treasure program will provide $1 million. The Montpelier Foundation will raise additional funds for the project and for more furnishings. Portions of the house will be open to visitors at all times during restoration. In 1998–2001 the VADAR State Regent’s Project was the restoration of the Madison’s obelisks and much of their family cemetery located on the property.

The Carolina Road

Here through the Waid homestead, the Great Wagon Road from Philadelphia to Georgia, known locally as the "Carolina Road", passes through the Blue Ridge.

Originating as the Great Warrior Path of the Iroquois centuries before, the path was frequently used by the Iroquois before being ceded to the whites in 1744 to become one of the most heavily traveled roads in all of Colonial America.

Revolution Newsletter®

On behalf of your newly elected Executive Officers, I wish to express our sincere appreciation for the support you have given us and the confidence you have placed in us to lead our National Society for the next three years.

The theme of this administration is "The Bell of Freedom … The Sound of Patriotism." As members of DAR, we can be extremely proud to support an organization steeped in patriotism and dedicated to preserving our American heritage of freedom. It is our duty to embrace our freedoms and do all that we can to promote the importance of a strong sense of patriotism within our communities.

As we emphasize our American freedoms in our programs and activities, we will continue to focus on membership promotion and revenue development, both of which are critical to our future. We must work diligently to establish new chapters while providing the assistance necessary to strengthen and revitalize our existing chapters.

The President General’s Project will continue to preserve our valuable genealogical records and enhance online accessibility. In the years to come, public access to this information will help to generate the revenue needed to fund the operations of our National Society.

Effective communication with the membership is paramount if we are to succeed in carrying out our mission to promote historic preservation, education and patriotism.

Daughters newsletter provides the members with the most up-to-date information regarding the activities of the National Society, while the magazine, American Spirit, with its many wonderful articles based on our objectives, is designed to project a positive image of DAR to the public. We hope that chapter leaders will make a concerted effort to encourage members to subscribe to and avail themselves of these vital resources.

The 2004–2005 National Information Packet (NIP), with information and directives from the Executive Officers and National Chairmen, will be mailed to every Chapter Regent following Continental Congress. We hope it will be helpful as you plan for the year ahead.

As Daughters of the American Revolution, we have a proud heritage, and it is up to us to protect the legacy we have inherited. Let us work together to perpetuate the efforts of those who have gone before us by building on their accomplishments in positive and productive ways, thereby ensuring an even brighter future for our National Society.

Greetings from the Wagoner Administration
"The Bell of Freedom ... The Sound of Patriotism"

Faithfully,

It's a privilege to report that American Spirit and the Daughters newsletter have won additional acclaim for their content, appeal and beauty. In July, the Public Relations Society of America bestowed upon our publications its prestigious "Awards for Publishing Excellence" (APEX) Grand Award for Magazine and Journals, the second time we have been so honored.

"Spectacular photography and illustrations; appealing heads and eye-catching decks combine with interesting spreads; each different than the last, yet all coming together into a coherent whole to showcase fascinating articles, each marvelously written and superbly researched," wrote the APEX judges about our fine magazines. This accolade is a testament to the creativity and professionalism displayed by your devoted publications team to produce each issue.

Every Daughter should be proud of these outstanding publications, and simply put: more Daughters need to be subscribing to them. Our foremost priority in the months and years ahead is to increase our subscription base. Currently, less than 20 percent of our members receive these fine periodicals. If we are to attract outside advertising revenues to support and sustain the magazine and newsletter, then we must simply increase our circulation.

You can help. Please spread the word about how much you enjoy receiving American Spirit and the Daughters newsletter. Encourage other chapter members to subscribe, and remind them that gift subscriptions are a thoughtful present for anyone interested in history, patriotism and education. Chapters should present gift subscriptions to new members in order to excite, educate and energize them about the work of our National Society. Your chapter should also purchase gift subscriptions for local senior citizen centers, libraries and other public gathering places. This is a great way to tell the public about our National Society, as well as to attract new members.

Remember our motto, “Let’s Gain Five by 2005.” We know that with your help, we can expect that each chapter will reach this goal of raising its total by five net subscriptions within the next year. That would be a giant step toward increasing our revenues and bolstering our circulation strength.

The best news is that we have begun to see a modest increase in the number of subscribers, and that is very encouraging. Thank you, in particular, to the hundreds of Daughters who took advantage of our 113th Continental Congress special discount pricing package to place a new subscription with us. Also, we extend special congratulations to Anne Strong Graves of Long Beach, Calif., and a member of the Los Cerritos Chapter. She was the lucky recipient of our special $100 Congress grand prize for placing a new subscription during the week of Congress (July 5–11, 2004).

I hope that you enjoy reading the articles included within your September–October edition as much as we enjoyed planning and preparing them for you. As always, we welcome your input and suggestions on how to improve both American Spirit and the Daughters newsletter. Please contact me at magazinechairman@dar.org.
