A Spirit of Service

DURING THIS BUSY SEASON OF THE YEAR, it is important that we pause and take time to honor those men and women who have served and who are currently serving in our armed forces. Veterans’ Day is an opportunity to show appreciation for their patriotic service to the nation and to remember their sacrifices, which ensure that freedom and our way of life are preserved for future generations. This year, we especially remember those who are serving in the Middle East. Let us keep them and their families uppermost in our thoughts and prayers.

On September 23, the NSDAR was honored with a Thoth Award at the 2004 Thoth Awards Gala held at the National Press Club in Washington, D.C. The Thoth Awards recognize the premier public relations programs produced in the Washington, D.C., metropolitan area. We congratulate our public relations team on their achievement and commend them for their ongoing efforts to shape a better public image for the National Society.

The DAR Museum’s exhibition, “Home and Country: American Quilts and Samplers in the DAR Museum” opened to the public on October 8 and will run through April 2005. From the DAR Museum’s outstanding collection, 38 samplers and 18 quilts from the 18th and 19th centuries were selected for display. If you are in the Washington, D.C., area, you will not want to miss this beautiful exhibition.

The President General’s Project continues to make great progress. The new scanning center was up and running by the middle of September, and all original applications, as well as the supporting documentation received since mid-June have been scanned and are available online for use by our genealogists. We hope that all applications and supplementals will be moved to an offsite storage facility by the end of the year. Thank you for your continuing support for this ongoing project of preserving our most valuable resource … our priceless genealogical records!

As we prepare to celebrate the all-American holiday of Thanksgiving, let us be grateful for those patriots and pioneers who had the courage to settle this great land and the vision to build a strong nation. We as DAR members have a responsibility to remain steadfast in the effort to protect and preserve the legacy they bequeathed to us.

As we gather with family and friends to enjoy the holidays, let us keep in mind that “it is more blessed to give than to receive.” DAR embodies the spirit of service, having established a tradition of volunteer support for our marvelous country.

With warmest wishes for a happy holiday season,

Presley Merritt Wagoner
President General

Office of the Registrar General

These are exciting times for the Registrar General’s staff! Nearly all of the previously verified applications and supplemental applications are scanned and available to the staff online. The genealogists are using the new OnBase software to verify applications and supplemental applications and we expect that by the year’s end. Record Information and Record Copy staff will be learning the new procedures for scanning, data entry and filling record copy orders.

A bar-coded sheet is included with letters sent to the chapters when more information is needed to process applications or supplementals. Please return it with any correspondence to the RG’s Department.

The revised booklets Application Papers, Instructions for Their Preparation, and Guide for Chapter Treasurers and Chapter Registrars are available from The DAR Store. Unfortunately, we must return far too many applications and supplementals because they are not typed or computer-generated, or because they lack the proper signatures or fees. The National Information Packet contains a checklist to use before sending papers to the National Headquarters. This list is a tool for use by chapters and should not be sent with the papers.

A new record copy security policy is in effect. The first page of the applications and the first two generations on any application submitted after 1944 will not be available to the public. Chapters will still be able to have copies of their members’ papers in their entirety. Please keep in mind that DAR cannot guarantee that previously verified applications and supplementals contain the most current information. We are developing a new letter that will be sent with the record copy when service or lineage is in question.

We encourage chapters to use e-Membership to check the status of pending applications and supplementals. For more information, please contact IS@dar.org.

Improving Donation Procedures for Books, Periodicals and Other Genealogical Sources

A newly revised copy of the DAR Library’s Gift Approval and Donation Form is now available on the Member’s Web Site under “Forms—Librarian General.” There have been a few changes to the details of the form, and the categories of the states for the Librarian General’s Awards during Continental Congress have changed. The back of the form continues to list the types of acceptable books and the types of materials the library cannot accept. The process for making a donation of a book, periodical, CD-ROM, or other published genealogical materials to the library remains the same. To donate manuscripts or unpublished genealogical resources, please contact the Acquisitions Office. A new form for these donations is also available on the Web site under “Forms—Librarian General.”

Another enhancement to the donation process is available on the Members’ Web
Site. In years past, the library staff prepared lists of books needed for the collection. The assembly of such lists was done with typewriters and copy machines and was quite cumbersome. We are now able to offer lists of needed books online to give everyone an idea of materials we need. Soon, a donor will be able to reserve a specific book online and then send the funds or the item itself to the library’s acquisitions office through the usual procedures. Please visit the Members’ Web Site to learn about the final version for these lists. The lists will change as new needed materials are found and as items are removed with the promise of donation. However, the lists do not show the only books the library might want; offers of other books remain essential.

The lists of needed books also include lists of periodicals from each state to which the library subscribes. A donor may provide funds for a subscription to a periodical, journal or newsletter. A donation for an annual subscription counts as the equivalent...
News From DAR Headquarters

Office of the Curator General

The DAR Museum has many activities planned for the next few months. On November 17, Olive Graffam will present a seminar on American samplers in the DAR Museum collection entitled “When this you see, Remember Me.”

On December 8, between 5:30–8 p.m., DAR will host the much-anticipated Christmas Open House. The museum is looking for vintage Christmas decorations from the 1860s through the early 1900s. The museum does have some 1940 decorations. If any Daughters have Christmas decorations that they would be willing to donate, especially early ornaments made of pressed paper or blown glass, it would be deeply appreciated. Please contact the museum office before sending any items at (202) 879–3241 or museum@dar.org.

Our Christmas Crafts program will be held on December 11. You will be able to view a sampling of antique craft ornaments while visiting the period rooms, and then participate in making certain crafts.

Kelli Scott is working with the Neighbors to the President Consortium to develop a Boy Scout program on Historic Preservation. On January 13, 2005, plan to come to an all-day sampler symposium at the museum! Guest speakers will explore a variety of topics, titled “American Samplers: Old Favorites, New Discoveries.” Contact the museum office for further details.

The DAR Museum is an important asset of NSDAR. One of our goals this year is to increase public awareness of the DAR Museum. One way to do this is to utilize the talents of the DAR Museum Docents and Correspondent Docents. They will gladly present a program to your chapter. Please contact your State Museum Chairman for more information on the Docent Programs.

The museum staff has a wish list for each period room, as well as for the general collection. It is important, if your state is financially able, to help maintain the artifacts in our museum.

Museum funds needing support are the Adopt-An-Object Restoration Fund; the Give-A-Book Fund, which purchases books for the Museum’s reference library; and educational programs such as the Camper Buddy Program, seminars and exhibitions.

The Museum Gift Shop’s “Trunk Show” was devised to tour the state conferences and to give Daughters an opportunity to see what is available first hand at the Museum Gift Shop. Profits from Trunk Show purchases go into the Exhibition Fund.

“Home and Country: American Quilts and Samplers in the DAR Museum” is the current exhibit in the museum. Please plan on seeing it upon your next visit to Washington.

DAR Museum Summer Camps Offer Fun-Filled Activities

The lazy days of summer were filled with fun and activity at the DAR Museum. In July, the museum welcomed 18 Colonial campers for a one-week Colonial camp. Campers spent their days learning about Colonial life through on-site activities and a field trip to Gunston Hall Plantation, the home of George Mason.

Living history interpreters gave campers a glimpse of the daily lives of Colonial Americans with activities such as spinning, dancing and cooking. Campers learned Colonial campers enjoyed all the trappings of a day in the 1700s—including long dresses and bonnets. about daily activities of Revolutionary War soldiers from a First Virginia Regiment re-enactor.

Quilt Camp, now in its eighth year, welcomed eight young ladies to the museum. This year, the girls completed a 25-inch square with the design of a flower basket taken from a quilt in the museum collection. Quilt camp followed a two-week format, allowing the girls to complete the appliqué and quilting on the detailed quilt square.

The museum staff is pleased with the success of the camps and looks forward to another camp season next summer.

DAR Recognized for One of Best Communications Programs in D.C.

The DAR Public Relations Department was honored with a Thoth Award at the 2004 Thoth Awards Gala held September 23, 2004, at the National Press Club in Washington, D.C. Named for the Egyptian god of communication, the Thoth (pronounced “tot”) Awards recognize the premier public relations programs produced in the Washington, D.C. area. The National Capital Chapter of the Public Relations Society of America sponsors the Thoth competition to recognize outstanding achievement in public relations.

The DAR’s winning campaign “The New DAR” won the award for the best communications program in the Brand/Reputation Management category. This category, new to the 2004 competition, spotlights programs designed to build or enhance the overall reputation, integrity and/or perceived value of an organization from a holistic point of view. The ongoing public relations campaign strives to shape a better public image for the DAR and rebuild its reputation as a respectable, relevant service organization for today’s world and today’s woman.

The main objective of “The New DAR” campaign is to proactively address controversial issues concerning the organization, as well as create a unified, professional appearance for everything DAR presents to the public. This campaign has helped to better reflect the true nature of the DAR. The winning entry highlights some of the new materials coming from DAR Headquarters, including the DAR press kit and brochures, the redesigned American Spirit magazine and Daughters newsletter, the DAR public and Members’ Web Sites, the Forgotten Patriots exhibition and symposium, and the DAR Christmas Open House.

“This is a great honor which recognizes the diligent work of our Public Relations Department, but this campaign could not have been successful without the help of all of our headquarters departments working together to present a unified image of our multifaceted organization,” said Presley Merritt Wagoner, DAR President General. “Winning such a prestigious award as the PRSA-NCC Thoth Award shows that we are not only getting the message out to the public that the DAR is a dynamic service organization, but we are also producing some of the best public relations work in our nation’s capital.”

There were 118 entries in this year’s competition, with Thoth Awards and Certificates of Excellence being presented in various categories to public relations agencies, corporations, government agencies, and trade and professional associations.

To learn more about the work of the DAR, visit the public Web site at www.dar.org. Visit http://www.prsa-ncc.org/ for more information on the PRSA-NCC Thoth Awards.

DAR MUSEUM FEATURED OBJECT:
FROM THE COLLECTION

THIS BEAUTIFUL JASPERWARE URN WAS MADE ABOUT 1790 BY JOSIAH WEDGWOOD, a famous potter from Staffordshire, England. While trying to produce true porcelain of the quality only achieved at that time in China, Wedgwood developed “jasper,” his name for a fine and dense, white, dry-bodied stoneware considered by ceramic historians to be Wedgwood’s most significant contribution to ceramic art. First developed in the 1770s, the formula for jasper was a closely guarded trade secret. It comprises calcinated flint, Purbeck clay, alabaster and sulphate of barium. Like all stonewares, it is fired at a very high temperature, causing the ingredients to vitrify or fuse together and resulting in a body that is impervious to liquids. Unlike other stonewares, Wedgwood’s jasper was made of refined clays. When thinly potted, jasper can be translucent and ring like a bell, and can be stained a variety of colors with metal oxides. Wedgwood referred to jasper as “my porcelain.” Made in many forms for domestic use, jasper has remained popular to the present day. The scene depicted around the vase’s body is called “blindman’s bluff” and was molded for Wedgwood by John Flaxman Sr (1755–1826) in 1784. FRIENDS OF THE MUSEUM PURCHASE (2003.11.A&B)

Retirement Income
You Can Depend On

With all the fluctuation in the financial markets, many of our members are turning to the National Society’s charitable gift annuity program to create a steady, dependable stream of lifetime income. Our members like knowing that every quarter they will receive the same amount, year in and year out.

They realize there are the other benefits such as a good payment rate (up to 11 percent) and income that is partially tax-free. Participants also like the income tax charitable deduction they receive and the fact that they are helping DAR carry out its mission to promote historic preservation, education and patriotism.

Easy to Do

You can learn more by filling out the form to the right and sending it to the NSDAR Development Office. When we know your age and the size of the gift you want to make, and whether it will be cash or stock, we can prepare an easy-to-read gift illustration that will outline:

• How much you will receive for the rest of your life
• How much of your quarterly income will be tax-free
• How large your income tax charitable deduction will be
• How your gift annuity will benefit NSDAR

Example

Mr. and Mrs. Smith are both 75 years old. They give $50,000 to DAR in exchange for a charitable gift annuity. The DAR payment rate for their combined ages happens to be 6.3 percent, which means they will receive a payment of $3,150 every year, or $787.50 every quarter.*

The Smiths will receive fixed payments for the rest of their lives. When one of them dies, the surviving spouse will continue to receive the same fixed payments for the rest of his or her life. Because the payments are backed by the full assets of NSDAR, the Smiths can be confident that their annuity checks will always be there for them.

You don’t have to be married to obtain a gift annuity. In fact, single-life annuities pay a higher rate. In addition, the older a person or couple is, the higher the payment rate. Why not take a moment to complete and send in the form below? This will allow us to provide a tailor-made illustration that will show you just how well a charitable gift annuity can work for you. You are under no obligation to proceed with a gift.

*Note: The rates vary, depending on one’s age and whatever is currently being recommended by the American Council on Gift Annuities.

Please complete and return this reply form.

American Heritage

The American Heritage Committee was established to preserve our rich American heritage in the fields of art, crafts, drama, literature and music. Honoring participation in historic preservation and American cultural traditions has become one of our goals. Members are invited to participate in the various contests conducted by this committee.

American Heritage Contests and Activities:
Quilter’s S.O.S.: Save Our Stories—Quilt Oral-History Project

A partnership between NSDAR and the Alliance for American Quilts was established to document American Quilters. This quilt oral-history project, called “Quilter’s S.O.S.: Save Our Stories,” is a wonderful opportunity for quilters and quilt lovers to share a part of American culture. The focus is on DAR quilters, though any quilter may be interviewed. This is a great opportunity to involve members who may not be able to attend chapter meetings.

The interviews last 45–60 minutes and focus on a quilt object that the quilter brings to the interview. There is an easy division of labor with this project. Some will only want to do the interviews, while others will prefer to do the transcriptions, and some will want to do both. When a DAR member is interviewed, please retain a copy of the transcribed interview for the NSDAR. For a copy of the Q.S.O.S. Manual, visit this Web site: www.centerforthequilt.org/qso/qso.html, or contact the National Vice Chairman.

This is not an exclusive list. Ongoing projects may be submitted. For the contest, please submit an essay or letter, no more than two pages in length, explaining the project, why it is important and your role in it. You may include any materials, such as photographs, that will help explain or document your project.

• The National Division Vice Chairmen will submit entries to the National Vice Chairman of Historic Preservation no later than May 1, 2005.

A Special Project

We would like to continue documenting every historic site that has been restored, owned or maintained by DAR chapters and state societies—even properties restored by but no longer owned by the DAR. Send at least one color slide of each property to the National Vice Chairman of Historic Preservation. If possible, please send a slide taken of each side of the building and one of each room. With the slides, please include the name and address of the property, the date it was erected, when the DAR took ownership and a brief history. This material will be stored in the DAR archives. Those who participate will receive special recognition.

Historic Preservation

The DAR Historic Preservation Medal can be awarded to any man or woman with a distinguished record in historic preservation. Winning criteria include outstanding efforts in establishing a historic district or preserving a local landmark; restoration or preservation of objects of historic, cultural significance; the establishment of or long-term participation in oral-history projects; or youth leadership or education on the elementary, high-school or college level as it pertains to historic preservation. A chapter or a state organization must sponsor the candidate nominated and should have at least two letters of recommendation written by non–DAR members. Other materials, such as newspaper or magazine articles, must be sent to substantiate the recommendation.

The application and recommendation should be sent to the National Chairman. Allow eight weeks for the application-approval process. Include a check in the amount of $58, payable to J.E. Caldwell, with the application for the Historic Preservation Medal. If the application is not approved, the check will be returned to the chapter. If the application is approved, the National Chairman will forward the check with the approval to J.E. Caldwell, which will no longer send a bill for the medal. The certificate must be ordered from the committee office.

Americanism

This committee oversees the approval process for the DAR Medal of Honor and the DAR Americanism Medal, and encourages Daughters to become involved in their local naturalization process and to assist new immigrants with citizenship.

The DAR Medal of Honor is the most prestigious honor awarded by the DAR. The Medal of Honor is given to an adult man or woman who is a United States citizen by birth and has shown extraordinary qualities of leadership, trustworthiness, service and patriotism. The recipient must have made unusual and lasting contributions to our American heritage by truly giving of himself or herself to his or her community, state, country and fellow man.

DAR Americanism Medal recipients must have shown outstanding qualities of leadership, trustworthiness, service and patriotism. They must have actively assisted other aliens to become American citizens or displayed outstanding ability in community affairs, preferably with emphasis on the foreign-born community.

DAR Service for Veterans

The Department of Veterans Affairs reports that there are approximately 26 million American veterans living around the world, and of those, nearly three-quarters served during a war or official period of conflict. A large number of these individuals will require medical care and other services far into the future, and it is our responsibility as Americans to make sure that our veterans receive that care. These are the people who have rung the “Bell of Freedom” all over the world. As our veterans recover in and utilize VA and state facilities, how wonderful it would be if they could hear the “Sound of Patriotism” coming from enthusiastic DAR volunteers!

Nominate an Outstanding Volunteer

There are three awards for outstanding volunteer service:

• DAR Outstanding Veteran Patient
• Outstanding Youth Volunteer
• Outstanding DAR Service for Veterans Award

Nominees for the DAR Service for Veterans Award are volunteers in VAVS programs or in extended area programs. Please see information contained in the contest documents. Make sure to mark your calendar and meet your State Chairman’s application deadline.

Encourage Youth Volunteerism

There are many ways to involve young people in our efforts to serve veterans. A list of suggested activities is included with the forms in the National Information Packet. The National Chairman is very interested... in hearing how your chapter enlists youth volunteers. Our nation’s children will be taking over where we leave off, so it very important that we inspire our youth to volunteer. If you have any suggestions or creative ways to encourage youth volunteerism, please contact the National Chairman.

Fulfill Your VAVS Representative Duties

All VAVS Representatives are either newly appointed or have had their appointments recently renewed by the President General. Attendance at the Annual Joint Review is required. Please attend all VAVS quarterly meetings and mandatory training sessions at your assigned facility. If you are unable to attend, please make sure that a Deputy Representative attends. If you do not have a Deputy, bring nominees to the attention of your State Regent so that she can recommend them for appointment. Share information from VA meetings with your local chapter. Help chapters find speakers affiliated with local veterans’ facilities to present chapter programs. Advise chapters of any special projects at the VA, and furnish information regarding items needed at the facility. Bring outstanding veteran patients, youth volunteers, and DAR volunteers to the attention of chapters so they can sponsor them for a national award. Recruit DAR volunteers for your facility! Contact the National VAVS Representative for more information.

Support Women Veterans

DAR continues to support the Women in Military Service for America Memorial, and the National Society continues to encourage all eligible women veterans and civilians to register their names with the Memorial. Contact the National Vice Chairman for Women Veterans for more information on how to help women veterans through volunteer service and with donations needed to support needy, disabled, and hospitalized women veterans. Encourage your chapter to adopt a woman veteran.

Help the Library of Congress Preserve Veteran History

Public Law 106-380 calls upon the American Folklife Center at the Library of Congress to collect and preserve audio and video oral histories, letters, diaries, maps, photographs and home movies of America’s war veterans and those who served in support of them. According to the Veterans History Project, we lose an average of 1,700 war veterans each day and their stories along with them. Contact the National Vice Chairmen of the Veterans History Project for information on how you can help preserve veteran history, and log on to http://www.loc.gov/folklife/vets/ for more details.

The Flag of the United States of America

The major objectives of this committee are to keep the flag flying, protect it continuously under all conditions, and educate citizens regarding its correct usage. Familiarize yourself with this committee’s basic information in the NSDAR Handbook. Listed below are activities that can promote the objectives of this committee:

- Review information from your State Chairman, especially reporting deadlines.
- Seek other sources. Learn about the history of the flag, its proper display, the Pledge of Allegiance and the National Anthem (“The Star-Spangled Banner”).
- Become familiar with the Flag Code (adopted by the Congress of the United States, House Document No. 96-144, 96th Congress, 1st Session, April 5, 1979). The DAR publishes excerpts from the official United States Flag Code, in leaflet form, entitled “The Flag Code.” This leaflet can be purchased from Office of the Corresponding Secretary General, The DAR Store.
- Wear a flag pin! The flag pin may be worn on the left lapel when you are wearing your insignia ribbon; however, it may not be placed on the official DAR insignia ribbon.
- Make use of opportunities to talk about the flag. Have flag facts ready to incorporate into a discussion.
- Greet people with “Happy Flag Day” on June 14! Be ready to offer information about the history of Flag Day (found in Flag Minutes).
- Continue your chapter’s involvement in a community Flag Day celebration or cooperate with civic leaders to develop Flag Day events.
- Carry and distribute flag stickers, flag pins, small flags and “Flag Code” leaflets. (Purchasing items in bulk is often more economical.)
- Involve C.A.R., JAC clubs and scout troops in flag ceremonies and parades.
- Present flag certificates to individuals and groups to recognize correct flag usage, Flag Day celebrations and flag dedications.
- Encourage the replacement of worn flags in your community.
- Give programs on the proper disposal of the worn flag.
- Correct, in a tactful manner, improper use and/or placement of the flag.
- Present flags, flag pins and flag history books to Good Citizen winners, essay and JAC winners, and speakers.
- Contact your members of Congress to obtain flags that have flown over our nation’s Capitol.
- Present flags to libraries, schools and other civic institutions as a chapter or a joint chapter project.
- Encourage organizations to include the Pledge of Allegiance during their meetings. Offer a table-sized flag to the group’s President, thereby providing an incentive for the Pledge to be included.
- Recite the Pledge of Allegiance every day. Listening carefully to the words reminds us of our commitment to patriotism.
Committee Corner

There will be space on the Master Questionnaire Form for one of your chapter’s favorite flag sayings or quotes. Please include the source, if known. For more Flag Committee information, log on to the DAR Web Site and the Members’ Web Site.

Junior Membership
Juniors Worldwide Thank You for Supporting This Committee’s Efforts!

Your continued efforts make it possible for this committee to meet its goals of gaining new Junior members and building a well-informed Junior membership, encouraging active participation by these young women in all phases of DAR service, and supporting the National Junior Membership Committee’s official fund-raising project, the Helen Pouch Memorial Fund. All profits from the sale of National Junior Products are directed to the Helen Pouch Memorial Fund, benefitting the children of Kate Duncan Smith and Tamassee DAR Schools. National Defense

The National Defense Committee was created in 1926 to assist members in carrying out the patriotic, educational and historical objectives of the National Society, and to promote an enlightened public opinion. It has always advocated a strong American military defense. The Committee publishes material in support of these positions.

The National Defender is published monthly, September through May, and contains items of national interest for use at chapter meetings. Two copies are sent free to the Regent. Please immediately give one to the Chapter Chairman for use in preparing her three-minute chapter report. Paid subscriptions are available for $4 a year from the National Defense Committee, 1776 D Street NW, Washington, D.C. 20006–5303. You are invited to submit articles of national interest from your local press for possible inclusion. Please include a copyright release when possible.

The Daughters newsletter publishes National Defense articles on a space-available basis.

The medals presented through the National Defense Committee are the Gold ROTC Medal, awarded to a college or university graduate being commissioned in one of the U.S. Armed Services (one medal per unit); the Bronze ROTC Medal, awarded to a high school or junior college graduating senior (one medal per ROTC unit); and the Good Citizenship Medal, for a boy or girl in grades five through 11 (one medal per grade per school). The medal may also be awarded to youth service and patriotic organizations. Please read the DAR Handbook and use the Members’ Web Site for detailed information and instructions. Order medals from The DAR Store, using that office’s order form. When ordering ROTC Medals, give the school name, the chapter presenting the medal and the branch of the Armed Services. Also, please note that recognized, organized U.S. Naval Sea Cadet Units are eligible to receive the ROTC Bronze Medal.

Contributions to “Dollars for Defense” enables the committee to provide materials to schools and libraries. ROTC cash ensures that ROTC medals can be awarded in eligible schools where there are no local chapters. Contributions are welcome. Be sure to report amounts given on the Master Questionnaire.

The winner of a contest for the best National Defense editorial, article or letter to the editor by a state or chapter chairman, or chapter member, will be recognized at the 114th Continental Congress.

Nebraska Bicentennial Rededication

On July 31, President General Presley Merritt Wagoner and First Vice President General Gale Jones Fixmer attended the rededication of a marker at Fort Calhoun, Neb., in commemoration of the bicentennial of Lewis and Clark’s council with the Indians on the Council Bluff.

The monument itself was a 7-ton boulder from a farm in Lincoln, Neb. The inscription reads: “1804–1904 Lewis–Clark” with a DAR Insignia on one side, and “Placed by the Sons of the American Revolution, Daughters of the American Revolution and The Nebraska State Historical Society” on the other.

In 1904, there were four DAR Chapters—the Lewis–Clark Chapter, Fremont; Omaha Chapter, Omaha; Deborah Avery Chapter, Lincoln; and Quivira Chapter, Fairbury; and all were represented at the rededication.

Honorary State Regent Martha Ann Riggs had the idea and made this whole project possible. Co-chairmen were Judy Ekeler, past Regent of Lewis–Clark Chapter, and Sande Spicer, past Regent of Omaha Chapter. Julie Fancher, Nebraska State Regent, presided at the ceremony using the original 1904 script.

Chapter Anniversaries

The Elizabeth Ludington Hagans–Colonel John Evans Chapter, Morgantown, W.V., celebrated its 100th anniversary with a high tea in the ballroom of the historic Clarion Hotel Morgan in Morgantown on June 6, 2004. DAR members from across the state of West Virginia and other distinguished guests were entertained with a variety of music provided by hammered dulcimers, a violin and harp.

The highlight of the afternoon was the announcement of the establishment of an endowed $25,000 scholarship at West Virginia University. The scholarship will be known as the Elizabeth Ludington Hagans DAR Scholarship, and will be available to West Virginia residents who are descendants of DAR members or who are majors in history. The chapter voted to establish this scholarship as a tribute to its namesake, Elizabeth “Bessie” Hagans. She was not only the first native-born West Virginian to join the DAR as a member-at-large, but she was also one of the first 10 women to attend WVU when she enrolled at the university in 1890 at the age of 16. After she died in 1900, four of her relatives helped to organize the chapter in her honor.

Fort Crailo Chapter sponsored Mr. Moore for this honor based on his many hours of service with GE Selkirk, the Bethlehem Volunteer Ambulance Service, as well as countless hours of volunteering for projects to improve the town of Bethlehem. Schuyler Colfax Chapter Uses Skits in Announcements

Schuyler Colfax Chapter, South Bend, Ind., has found a creative way to make announcements at chapter meetings. During each monthly meeting, several important announcements are brought to the members through skits. “It’s a way to put a spark of fun into what are usually mundane announcements,” said Chapter Vice Regent Glenda Erskin.

Each month, a new member is asked to participate in the skits. Topics that have been covered through skits include Insignia regulations, editorial contests, American Spirit subscriptions, a reading of the Constitution, an explanation of first and second presentations of prospective members, Project Patriot and the President General’s Project.

Significant landmarks ranged from public, private, educational and religious facilities to a re-created general merchandise store.

Two of the sites visited are on the National Register of Historic Places: Robertson County Courthouse (1879) and St. Michael’s Catholic Church (1842). Dressed in period costume, two DAR...

Tour proceeds will finance the chapter’s community projects, such as purchasing bronze markers and placing them at the appropriate locations throughout the county.

Colonel John Washington–Katherine Montgomery Chapter Dedications Grave

Colonel John Washington–Katherine Montgomery Chapter, Washington, D.C., joined with Colorado Daughters to honor the late Marlowe Ausen with a grave dedication ceremony at Crown Hill Cemetery near Denver. She rarely missed a meeting and had served the Washington, D.C. Daughters twice as Chapter Regent. Ms. Ausen also served as State Chaplain and State Librarian. The chapter created the Ausen Memorial Library Fund in her honor to provide a source for donations of genealogical books to the DAR Library.

Francis Hopkinson–Monmouth Court House Chapter Joins Dig

The Francis Hopkinson-Monmouth Court House Chapter, Freehold, N.J., received an invitation to join an archaeological dig at the Joseph Murray Farmhouse located in Poricy Park, Middletown, N.J., in November 2003.

Five chapter members arrived without a clue of what the adventure held in store for them. They joined other groups in search of “treasures” from the Revolutionary War farmhouse. Using sonar, three holes were dug when the equipment began to register solid items. The group of five uncovered a garbage pit buried for more than 230 years! Uncovered were shards of pottery, square nails and pieces of brick from the time period.

The other two holes unearthed even more treasures, including pieces of glass and a 3,000-year-old Indian cooling tool. Each chapter member has been presented with a piece of brick unearthed at the dig. The Joseph Murray Farmhouse holds a special place for the chapter since it was home to Joseph Murray himself, an ancestor of the chapter’s oldest member, Madelyn Aumack.

Roger Sherman Chapter, New Milford, Conn., awarded the DAR Medal for Historic Preservation to Deborah Calhoun in May 2004 at the chapter’s Annual Founders Day Luncheon.

Mrs. Calhoun was selected to receive the medal for her ongoing work since 1997 to increase awareness of the contributions of people of African ancestry to New England. Her work has brought recognition to the town of New Milford. Her research culminated in a daylong program in September 2003 with more than 400 participants from Rhode Island, New York, Vermont and Connecticut. The participants joined Mrs. Calhoun on a seven-mile walk, which reinterpreted the historical station stops used in the slaves’ route to freedom.

Mrs. Calhoun hopes to have the Underground Railroad sites recognized as part of Connecticut’s Freedom Trail and listed on the National Parks Service Underground Railroad Network.

Fielding Lewis Chapter, NSDAR
Marietta, Georgia
Celebrating 100 Years
1904-2004

On April 12, 1904, Ellen Lowell Crosby, the great, great granddaughter of Colonel Fielding Lewis and Betty Washington Lewis (the only sister of George Washington), organized the Fielding Lewis Chapter. The first meeting, attended by eighteen charter members, was held in her home, “Forest Hill,” in Marietta, Georgia. The silver tea service that Ms. Crosby used for meetings, and which has been handed down to subsequent chapter regents, is shown in the photo below.

Chapter Members Holding National and State Office: (left to right) Mrs. Peter S. Hanf, Past Treasurer General, Mrs. B. Edward Hale, Chapter Regent, and Mrs. Theodore C. Whitson, Georgia State Regent

Chapter accomplishments for the first 100 years include raising the funds to prevent the Berry Schools from closing in 1915, after a plea from Martha Berry. In 1923, the chapter sponsored the removal of the body of former Governor of Georgia John Clark, son of Revolutionary War hero Elijah Clark, from Florida to Marietta. In 1932, the chapter celebrated George Washington’s Bicentennial with a reception honoring Ellen and Virginia Crosby, descendants of Betty Washington Lewis; this tradition continues with a tea each year. Also in that year the chapter marked the Hightower Trail, an Indian and pioneer trail. And in 1942, our chapter sponsored the Birney Memorial in honor of Marietta native, Mrs. Alice McClellan Birney, the founder of the National Parent Teacher Association.

After 100 years of service, the Fielding Lewis Chapter remains vibrant and active. In 2003, our chapter’s nominee for Outstanding Teacher of American History placed third in the National contest and first in the state of Georgia. During our Centennial year the Fielding Lewis chapter won first place nationally for Chapter Achievement and the chapter was presented with a silver bowl from the Georgia State Membership Committee for having the most new members of any chapter in Georgia. The daughters of Fielding Lewis look forward to another 100 years of service to God, home and country.

Mary Carroll Caton Chapter, Catonsville, MD, celebrated its 65th anniversary at a luncheon on September 22, 2004, Patriots' Day. The honored guest was Mrs. Geri Hastings, NSDAR 2004 Outstanding Teacher of American History, sponsored by Mary Carroll Caton and enthusiastically recommended for recognition by Mr. Robert Tomback, Principal of Catonsville High School in Baltimore County, MD. As Chairperson of the History Department, Mrs. Hastings' accomplishments have included 29 years as a devoted educator, faculty consultant for the College Board in Advanced Placement U.S. History and SAT Preparation, conduction of professional development seminars at ten schools in four states, at three universities and in two countries. She has also taught graduate level courses on teaching Advanced Placement U.S. History. Her students' success on the challenging national AP examination is a tribute to the rigorous course taught to high school juniors and seniors and enhanced by the nutritious breakfast she has personally prepared for them prior to the examination. Mrs. Hastings graciously accepted the National award on July 10, 2004 at Constitution Hall. In attendance were her family, colleagues and members of the Maryland Delegation.

As the Maryland Daughters prepare for their 100th State Conference, they pause to reflect upon the “Grand Old Lady” that has served as their State Chapter House since February 1953.

The first tea to be held in the new home was following the 48th Maryland State Conference with the only furnishings being a rug, a bookcase and an armchair.

Two of the parlors in the house were named in honor of two NSDAR National Officers. The North Parlor was named in honor of distinguished Maryland Daughter, Mrs. Henry M. Robert, President General and later Honorary President General. The South Parlor was named in honor of Mrs. Frank Madison Dick, Honorary Vice President General, who generously started the State Chapter House Fund and whose continued interest helped to make the Maryland State Chapter House an actuality.

New York Daughters Commemorate the 225th Anniversary of the Battle of Stony Point

Stony Point is a peninsula that juts into the Hudson River about 25 miles north of New York City. During the American Revolution, the British constructed a fort to monitor this key bend in a river that General George Washington called “the key to the continent.”

The Battle of Stony Point was fought July 15-16, 1779, when Continental troops—armed with only unloaded muskets and fixed bayonets—stormed the fort at midnight.

Under a plan devised by Washington and led by General Anthony Wayne, the Americans formed two attack columns, one from the north and a second from the south, with a third column positioned in the center, firing shots to divert the attention of the British defenders.

About 1,200 Continentals, most from New York, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Virginia, Pennsylvania, Maryland and North Carolina, waded through the shallow waters of Haverstraw Bay that moonlit night, maneuvering between a series of abatis (protective walls of felled trees with sharpened branches) in the surprise attack. By 1:00 a.m., the garrison was firmly in American hands, where it remained for the duration of the Revolution. Of the 11 service decorations presented by Congress following the Revolution, three were awarded for bravery in this battle (which is often considered the last major battle of the North).

New York Daughters were proud to celebrate the 225th anniversary of Stony Point. In May, State Regent Frances Pattarini donated and dedicated a roadside historic marker as part of her State Regent’s project. Incoming State Regent Elizabeth McKee participated in the formal 225th anniversary celebrations in July.
From neighboring villages these two chapters recently merged; play a strong positive role in their communities.

- For over 60 years after it was donated to the General Winfield Scott Chapter by Lynn B. Wheeler in 1921, the DAR Chapter House (no longer standing) which was located on West Winfield, NY’s Memorial Park was a place for learning and reflection, cherished by chapter members and local villagers alike.

- Richfield Springs is the home of a sulfur spring fountain made possible with the cooperation and generosity of village citizens and the Ganawauges chapter of the DAR. The fountain dedicated in June of 1932 remains as a prominent feature in the Village of Richfield Springs and is enjoyed by many.

HENDRICK HUDSON CHAPTER, NSDAR
CHAPTER HOUSE, LIBRARY AND MUSEUM

Early in the American Revolution, the whale fisheries of Nantucket, at one time the largest in the world, were broken up by the English, and in 1783, a number of the inhabitants decided to leave and make a settlement upon the Hudson River. Brothers, Thomas and Seth Jenkins purchased land at Claverack Landing and returned to Nantucket to persuade about twenty other families to follow them. Additional members of the Jenkins family were Marshall, Lemuel, Charles and Deborah, widow of Benjamin. The Proprietors, as they were known, called their settlement Hudson, and it became incorporated in 1785. Seth Jenkins was appointed the first mayor by Governor George Clinton, and served from 1785 until his death in 1793.

Robert Jenkins (1773-1819), son of Seth Jenkins, built his house in 1811. He served as the third and fifth mayor of Hudson. He was head of the first cotton mill in the state and held numerous civic offices. After the death of Robert Jenkins in 1819, his widow lived in the house until her death in 1858. The house became the home of the Hudson Classical Institute, a school for boys, and was later owned by George Freeborne. His daughter Sara was a well-known sculptor. Afterward, the house was owned by Judge John Cadman, who then sold it to Mrs. Frances Chester White Hartley. She was the granddaughter of Robert Jenkins and Charter Member #686 of the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

The National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution was founded in Washington, D.C., October 11, 1890. The objectives of the Society are “to perpetuate the memory and the spirit of the men and women who achieved American Independence, to promote the development of an enlightened public opinion and to foster patriotic citizenship.” Five years later on December 26, 1895, the Hendrick Hudson Chapter was formed. The chapter set about founding a free public library. In 1898, the Chapter initiated a building fund to provide a permanent home for the free library. Proceeds from the book “Mary and I Go to Europe,” written by Dr. H. Lyle Smith, a prominent Hudson physician, went into the Building Fund and paid for a stained glass window incorporating the DAR insignia. When Mrs. Hartley learned of the library project, she purchased the Robert Jenkins House, her ancestral home, and donated it to the Hendrick Hudson Chapter, May 15, 1900, together with a modest endowment, and the provision that the DAR chapter maintain the house with a museum and library for the community.

The “Free Library”, which was originally established in the old Fourth Street School Building in 1898, was moved, in 1900, to the first floor of the Jenkins House where it remained as the only library in the city of Hudson until 1959. Today, that same library contains a growing collection of Columbia County genealogical reference and cemetery records.

The Jenkins House Museum was established on the second floor as a repository for artifacts connected with the history of Hudson and the whaling industry. Today, the exhibits include: a fine collection of Civil War firearms given by Colonel Henry K. White, brother of Mrs. Hartley; a rare Zouave uniform (one of five known to exist); the three-star flag of Gen. U.S. Grant and his personal table used on the steamboat “River Queen” during the Civil War; paintings by local artists of the Hudson River School (Henry Ary, Arthur and Ernest Parton); Dutch Bibles of the 18th century; Indian artifacts; maps; the jawbone of a whale, and whaling log books.

Tours of the Museum are conducted for school groups, Scouts, and others interested in local history. The public is invited to tour during July and August and by appointment. The Library is available for genealogical research by those desirous of joining the DAR and also by anyone interested in local history. The Hendrick Hudson Chapter House is located at 113 Warren Street in the Hudson area listed on the National Register of Historic Places. –Mary G. Murphy. Photos by Matt Murphy.

More than a quarter century ago, the ladies of Sidney Chapter gathered together in the cherry-paneled upstairs bedroom of #36 Oak Avenue in the small upstate town of Sidney to begin stitching a quilted treasure they hoped would be a lasting tribute to their country and their community. Created in honor of the nation’s and Sidney’s 200th anniversaries, the quilt’s 30 panels represent the town’s historic properties and are centered by the NSDAR Insignia, which is flanked by the flags of the United States of America and the NSDAR.

The quilt was sewn and is still stretched upon an 1867 heirloom frame from the family of Evelyn Stark Smith, the inspiration behind the two-year quilting project. Chapter members were delighted to receive the DAR’s 1976 Fendick Trophy in recognition of the quilt.

The historic keepsake is now on display in the collection of the Sidney Historic Society in the Sidney Civic Center, where it provides visitors with a colorful memory of this picturesque Delaware County community located a short distance from the Susquehanna River.

FIRST STATE PARK IN THE UNITED STATES

In 1883 the state legislature approved a bill authorizing a state reservation at Niagara Falls. Ceremonies on July 15, 1885, with 75,000 people attending, formally recognized America’s first state park. Prior to that, the land along the gorge was privately owned. Factories, mills, taverns, hotels and other commercial entities cluttered what had been natural forests. Access to the Falls themselves was costly and limited. Effort to restore nature’s beauty along the great cataracts took years to achieve. Property appraisals were made and purchase offers presented. Claims totaling nearly $5 million were requested by owners but the state limit was $1.4 million. The Porters, Goat Island owners, received the largest amount, $525,000. In 1869 the idea of a state park had been the dream of three Goat island visitors: landscape architect Frederick Law Olmsted, architect Henry Hobson Richardson, and attorney William Dorschemier. The three men later formed the Free Niagara Association to gain public support for what eventually became the first state park in the nation on July 15, 1885.

Mohegan Chapter held a dedication ceremony on May 30, 2003 of a memorial bench at historic Sparta Cemetery in the tiny hamlet of Sparta in Ossining, New York. The chapter donated the granite bench in memory of the 38 Revolutionary War soldiers who rest there. It is believed that, sometime shortly before the Revolutionary War, land was set apart in Sparta for a burial ground. In 1984, the First Presbyterian Church transferred the ownership of the cemetery to the Ossining Historical Society. The Society has assumed the restoration and care of the cemetery and has tabulated records of its tombstones. Sparta Cemetery is the most complete record of the first families of Ossining. There are 115 known veterans from the Revolutionary War through World War II interred in these hallowed grounds. In 1984 Sparta Cemetery was accepted on the New York State Register of Historic Places. The same year it was nominated and accepted on the National Register of Historic Places.

The Sagtikos Manor property was purchased by Stephanus Van Cordlandt in 1692 from the Secatogue Indians. Shortly thereafter, the original house was constructed and a charter issued by King William III, establishing the property as a manor. The mansion played an interesting role in the Revolutionary War activity that occurred on Long Island. Though General Washington was the most notable visitor (he stayed here during his 1790 tour of Long Island), there were many others, too — and most of them were British! General Sir Henry Clinton commandeered the manor for a time, and as many as 300 British troops were bivouacked here in 1777.

Sagtikos Manor stayed within two families through many generations, and the east and west wing additions were added in the twentieth century. Recent plans to develop the ten-acre property prompted the County of Suffolk to purchase it for a house museum. An historic structure inventory is underway, as are historic landscape and furnishings reports to protect and preserve the building, its walled garden, and its antique collections and decorations.

The Chapters of New York’s Districts X & XI salute this historic preservation success story.

Madam Brett Homestead
Beacon, New York

Nearly demolished to make way for a supermarket in the early 1950s, the Madam Brett Homestead — the oldest building in Dutchess County — was saved by members of Melzingah Chapter with the help of their local community in 1954. The chapter has since operated the Dutch Colonial as a house museum that annually welcomes thousands of visitors, most of them schoolchildren. Built in about 1709 by Roger and Catheryna Rombout Brett, it was home to seven generations of Brett descendants, including a member of Congress. During the American Revolution, supplies for Continental troops were stored in the basement, and military leaders such as Washington, Lafayette and von Steuben met here. Once seat of a nearly 30,000-acre estate, the property now consists of five acres.

Melzingah Chapter received its official NSDAR charter in the house on June 15, 1896, and holds its monthly meetings here today. With more than 150 members, Melzingah is one of the most active chapters in New York State. Its Daughters, who serve as Homestead docents, celebrate a rich heritage and enjoy a special team spirit in their diverse service activities throughout southern Dutchess County.

Dear Daughters: A change of guard is taking place this year. Our club is growing and prospering at a great rate, now that our longevity is increasing. I should mean that more of us will enjoy good health, enabling us to attend Continental Congress and enjoy the comradeship of our meetings. This year Honorary President General Ann Flock was our truly interesting speaker. And we were pleased to recognize our members of sixty-five and seventy-five years of service to NSDAR. Once again, our President General (2001-2004) Linda Tinker Watkins appeared to greet us. The meeting had the largest attendance ever and we hope that many more members will be able to come next year.

Anne Marbury Hutchinson (1591-1643)
William and Anne Hutchinson, William Coddington, John Clarke, Samuel Gorton and Roger Williams purchased Aquidneck Island (Rhode Island) from the Sachems, Canonicus and Miantonomi Indians. Anne’s family settled in Portsmouth, RI and established the colony’s first civil government. She was the first American woman to lead the public fight for religious diversity, female equality and rights in religion. Her criticism of the church was a threat to the leaders of the Colony and resulted in her banishment from Massachusetts. Anne was a skilled midwife, learned in Bible and theology, and a brilliant and articulate debater.

Catherine Littlefield Greene (1753-1814)
Catherine was the wife of Revolutionary War hero General Nathaniel Greene. A heroine of the Revolutionary War, she was present at Valley Forge and various camps of the Continental Army, even while pregnant. She opened her home as a hospital and nursed the troops. She was a significant contributor to the invention of the cotton gin and a business partner of Eli Whitney. Catherine witnessed and participated in some of the most critical events in the history of the United States.

Sarah Osborn (1714-1792)
Sarah was a teacher and an early evangelical. She was a powerful spiritual leader and a committed Christian in the face of extreme adversity during the occupation of Newport by the British. Sarah’s small women’s prayer group grew into a religious movement during that period of time. Although poor and widowed she was greatly respected and was allowed to conduct her services during the occupation. The British nicknamed her “the good woman”.

for Preserving our Local History

Constructed in 1868 by William How, the How-Beckman grist mill stands along Raccoon Creek in Rock County where a distillery and sawmill once were located. In 1882, the Beckman family purchased the property, and German-born August Beckman operated the turbine powered mill. The mill was enlarged in the 1920s and served as the local commercial and social center for Newark Township. Milling operations ceased in 1954.

The How-Beckman Mill was placed on the National Register of Historic Places in 1977. Restoration is now complete and the mill is part of a 50-acre park. All work was done by volunteers.

On behalf of the team that brings you our National Society's wonderful periodicals every other month, thank you. We're grateful for your continued commitment to the American Spirit magazine and the Daughters newsletter. It's rewarding to receive your words of encouragement about these award-winning publications, which play such an important role in promoting our work.

We appreciate your patience when placing advertisements in the Daughters newsletter. We recognize that design issues, submission deadlines and Chapter Achievement Award requirements can sometimes make this confusing. Our objective is to make the advertising process as convenient as possible, and we welcome your suggestions on how to improve the procedures. Please contact me at magazinechairman@dar.org with your suggestions on how to make this experience easier and more enjoyable. Meanwhile, here are a few important items to note:

The 2004–2005 Chapter Achievement Award for the DAR Magazine/Newsletter covers the period March 1, 2004 to February 28, 2005. Chapters wishing to obtain CAA credit for 2004–2005 must send their contributions ($40 per chapter) to the DAR Magazine Office on or before February 28, 2005. While it is our policy to receive full payment for the ad at the time of submission, we understand that some state sponsors whose ads will appear in the May/June 2005 issue (ad submission deadline: March 1, 2005) and all subsequent issues may be affected by the Chapter Achievement period. In this case, those affected states should send their payment on or before February 28, 2005. The ads may be submitted at a later date, and all contributions received will be credited toward the ads.

Incidentally, members sometimes express their concern that the total fee submitted on behalf of a large number of chapters seeking CAA credit sometimes exceeds the cost of the ad. For example, 20 participating chapters contribute $40 each for a total of $800, far above the full-page ad cost of $495. While we recognize this may seem inequitable, per-chapter requirements remain the most effective way that we can allocate credit to all who so graciously support our publications year after year.

Also, the guaranteed number of ad pages for each state associated with their state-sponsored issue is six pages. However, many states are not able to submit that much, and other space usually becomes available for those who desire additional pages. If you have questions regarding ad production or availability, please contact Jackie Garcia at the DAR Magazine Office at jgarcia@dar.org or (202) 879-3284. She will be delighted to assist you with any questions or concerns you may have.

Finally, the blessings of "God, Home and Country" take on special meaning this time of year, as we gather with family and friends to celebrate the joys of the season. I extend best wishes from your magazine staff, as well as our sincere appreciation for all you do to promote the good work of our beloved National Society. Happy holidays!
